Annual Report of the Secretary, Board of Education, Charlevoix Public Schools
July 11, 1938

July 1, 1938 ended another fiscal school year. You will find that in spite of existing uncertain conditions that our school district is in a very satisfactory financial condition. Our bonded debt has been reduced to $41,000.00 and in 4 years or January 1, 1942 all principle and interest should have been retired. Due to our excellent record Charlevoix School bonds are held at a premium.

All school buildings and property are being maintained in good condition and we respectfully invite your inspection. Repairs to the roof of the new grade school have been made, bleacher seats are getting a coat of paint and plans have been made to clean, paint, and decorate rooms in the grade, high school, and library. This program is being carried out by a budgeted plan so only a part of the rooms are covered each year. Bids are being let to thoroughly repair or replace the furnace in the library building. Other plans include improvements to the gym by placing a ceiling of sound proof material thus aiding lighting, appearance, and acoustics.

The County Tax Allocation Commission has allowed us 4 mills on our equalized valuation. This can be estimated at about $11,000.00 based on a 100% collection. The rest of our income is alloted by the State. With our state deeply in the red and the end not in sight, it is very uncertain just how the schools are going to fare. Some school authorities are now planning on only 7 months of school during the year 1938-1939. Our very modest cash surplus now on hand will be a great help, in the endeavor to maintain the standards of the Charlevoix Public Schools.

C. B. MEGGISON, Secretary.

Don't particularly care about digging up buried bones, but here's a challenge which is hard to ignore:

"To the Editor of the Charlevoix Courier:

"All my life I've heard of 'Charlevoix-the-Beautiful' and the marvelous tourist camp on the shores of Lake Michigan. This year I took the family there and I want to say that in all my travels north, east, south and west, I've never seen such a filthy camp! The toilets are not fit for human use, and I won't go further into details, but am wondering where your health officer is.

"Charlevoix had better wake up and clean up before they are entirely 'out'. Take a visit to some of the other neighboring camps and profit thereby.

"Hope you are 'big' enough to give this letter space in your paper. My first and likewise last trip to Charlevoix's tourist camp.

Just a Wandering Tourist."

It is to be hoped that the person responsible for the above communication will read this column and be informed that the conditions referred to are being rectified.

VISITORS' DAY AT BIOLOGICAL CAMP

PUBLIC INVITED TO U. OF M. CAMP NEXT SUNDAY

Annual Inspection Day Provides Public Opportunity to View Work of University Station

The general public is cordially invited to visit the biological station of the University of Michigan at its eleventh annual visitors day on August 7, 1938, from 2 to 5 p. m. eastern standard time.

Educational exhibits illustrating the work of the classes and scientific investigations will be on display. All those who wish to learn more of the plants and animals of northern Michigan as well as those who want to become acquainted with the type of work done at the biological station will find the displays of value. Members of the faculty will be glad to discuss rare plants and animals and biological problems with visitors.

The biological station is located on the southeast shore of Douglas Lake, Cheboygan county, on the Cheboygan-Petoskey road thirteen miles southwest of Cheboygan. The roads from Cheboygan, Topinabee, Brutus and Pellston will be posted with signs directing visitors to the station. Ample room has been provided for parking cars. There will be help in parking and guide service. There is no charge for admission to the grounds and to all places of interest. It is suggested that readers of this notice bring this event to the attention of their friends and neighbors, and especially to the attention of summer residents. Come and see what this division of your state university is doing in your midst.

The biological station was established in 1909 and has held an eight weeks' session every summer since that time. Its founders had two principal objectives, namely, to investigate biological problems and to bring students and teachers into direst contact with living animals and plants in their natural surroundings. These still remain the chief objectives of the station, and northern Michigan has proved to be very well suited for this work. Many lakes of all sizes, bog lakes, bogs, brooks and rivers as well as large tracts of unoccupied wild lands including pine and jackpine plains, hardwood forests, fir, spruce and cedar swamps, sand dunes along the shores of the great lakes, and farm lands furnish an extraordinary variety of conditions for the study of animals and plants. In fact, no other part of the state can offer a better variety of biological or climatic conditions for summer study. The work of both staff and students has been furthered by the kindly assistance of property owners who have given permission to collect upon their property and have given information regarding plants and animals.

This summer 120 students are enrolled, four more than last year's high registration. Of this group 100 are graduate students, and many have their master's degrees. There are 74 men and 46 women. During the school year 68 are teachers and 52 are registered as students at various colleges and universities. Twenty-one married student couples are in attendance. The students come from 23 states and the District of Columbia.

WATER CARNIVAL A SUCCESSFUL EVENT

RECORD ENTRY IN WATER CONTESTS, VENETIAN BOAT PARADE MARKED INTEREST IN ANNUAL FEATURE

Robert Bergman Winner of Feature ½-Mile Swim; Forty Boats Entered in Venetian Boat Parade—City Packed to Overflow With Spectators Gathered to Witness Event

Perfect weather, a well conducted program and a large and appreciative audience combined Sunday to make the Charlevoix Marine Club's 4th annual water carnival the most successful event of its kind ever staged here.

The afternoon program of swimming and diving contests drew an entry far in excess of any previous year and the large crowd which witnessed these events was but a very small portion of the thousands who heard the evening's band concert and special attractions and witnessed a Venetian boat parade which drew the unreserved praise of everyone.

The many points from which contestants entered swimming races gave an indication of the interest in water sports. Robert Bergman out-distanced a field of a dozen contestants to win for the third time the ½-mile swim, feature event of the program. He was winner in 1935 and 1936.

Spectators saw a champion in action when Willard Harris took the 1-mile canoe race. Harris, a counsellor at Camp Hay-O-Went-Ha on Torch lake, is the champion of Canadian Province of Saskatchewan. He paced the field by a wide margin.

Contest results:

Junior boys, 25-yard swim—1st, Gene Bridge; 2nd, Donald North.

Men's ½-mile swim—1st, Robert Bergman; 2nd, Norman Ance.

Judges were Mrs. Tom Darling of Grand Rapids, and Al Rogers, Chicago, swimming instructor at Camp Hay-O-Went-Ha, who at the close of the program gave a most interesting diving exhibition of professional merit.

The water program was in charge of Stewart Coleman. Assisting were members of the local WPA recreational staff. Don Campbell, commodore of the Charlevoix Marine Club, presented trophies to the winners. Dean Davenport announced the events and winners.

Johnny Kamona provided a special program treat with two dives off the highway swing bridge in late afternoon. The former Hawaiian swimming and diving champion was given a big hand.

The evening program opened with a concert in East Park by the city band. All available space was occupied by the crowd gathered for this program. Especially appreciated were the special numbers which included a selection of chanties (sea songs) by a group from Camp Charlevoix and camp songs by girls from Camp Valhalla on Walloon Lake.

Boat Parade Colorful

Surpassing in its grandeur and in the number of participants any previous event, the Venetian boat parade climaxed the day's activities.

RIVIERA TENNIS TOURNEY MONDAY

13TH ANNUAL EVENT AT THE INN CLAY COURTS

Northern Michigan's Only Sanctioned Tennis Event Expected to Attract Large Entry

Sponsored by the Charlevoix Tennis Club, the 13th annual Michigan Riviera tennis championships, one of this city's major summer sports events, will open Monday, August 8th, at The Inn clay courts.

The tournament is sanctioned by the Western Lawn Tennis Association and provides events in men's, women's and junior singles, men's, doubles and junior doubles. William Novak, appointed official umpire by the W.L.T.A., will act as official referee.

Due to the elimination of player expense through a new tournament policy adopted by the Charlevoix Tennis Club, no announcement can be made regarding nationally prominent stars because of the absence of customary pre-arrangement with them. Officers of the Club feel, however, that a larger entry than in previous years from the northern Michigan resort region will result from the new policy and that keener local competition for the sanctioned titles will result.

Arthur Kaiser, former Chicago city champion, and twice Charlevoix open champ, will enter, also Harold Kaplan, Detroit, former Riviera junior title holder, and other previous tournament entries.

Entries, to be made with Gordon B. Todd, secretary, Charlevoix Board of Commerce, close at noon, Monday, August 8th.

DADS GUEST AT CAMP CHARLEVOIX

ANNUAL VISIT WAS EVENT OF LAST SATURDAY

Ninety-Four Parents and Friends Went Through Camp Routine—Baoquet, Guest Speakers

(By Herbert W. Johnson)

Camp Charlevoix played host to ninety-four parents and friends of the campers on Saturday. The event was primarily for the Dads of the boys, many of whom are outstanding men in Michigan and surrounding states.

The boys and their fathers had breakfast together in the attractive camp clubhouse after which they went to their various activities; with the boys and dads rivaling in sailing, riflery, football, tennis, swimming, boxing, wrestling, photography and many others.

In the afternoon the annual baseball game was played between campers and dads, with the dads winning in the junior and senior sections. The camp "cowboy" then staged a riding show which was well received by the guests, and gave the boys opportunity to display the many skills they have developed under the new "Dude Ranch" features of the camp. Later a show was presented by the boxing department featuring many of the camp boxers.

A banquet in the evening for over 200 people was given, presided over by Clyde Vroman of Ann Arbor, who introduced Lewis Reimann, the camp owner and director, who spoke of the spirit and traditions of the 12 year old camp. He was followed by Coach Charles Bachman of Michigan State College, who spoke on "A Layman's View of Camp Charlevoix". Bishop L. B. Whittemore of Grand Rapids, spoke of the camp's strengthening of family ties and then introduced Bishop Essex of Illinois, who was also a guest. Geo. E. Lackey, of Detroit, represented the dads present and thanked the boys and staff for one of the finest days of his life. Mr. Lackey humorously remarked that "it was the first day in the past few years that someone has not taken time out to bemoan the New Deal". Mr. Lackey was elected chairman of the Camp Charlevoix Fathers Committee.

Campers and counsellors enlivened the program by singing a special version of "Under the Old Apple Tree" in the manner of Kentucky hillbillies.

GRAND RAPIDS SLOOP DISABLED, TOWED HERE

Coast Guards Brought Baxter Boat In; Broken Shroud Let Mast Down

Her mast down, caused by a broken shroud, the sloop Siren, owned by Robert K. and Howard F. Baxter and Siegel W. Judd of Grand Rapids, was towed to this harbor by Charlevoix coast guards at noon Friday.

The sloop was making port under jury rig and storm tri-sail when sighted 10 miles out from the coast guard look-out. An entrant in the Chicago-Mackinac race, the Siren was enroute from this port, which she left early this morning, to Grand Haven. Aboard her were Howard F. Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baxter, Jack Uhl and Richard B. Crowe, all of Grand Rapids. None of the party was injured as the mast fell clear of the deck when the accident happened.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

Haven't seen any cars in that new city parking lot at the corner of State and Mason streets yet, so just thought I'd drop the information that it is free and designated for public use, in case you didn't know it. It's less than a block from the parking lot to Bridge street.

Theodore (Ted) Kibbe, wife and son, have departed for the west after a vacation visit at home. Ted, recently promoted to supervisor of a section of Glazier National Park by the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries, goes to Kalispell, Montana, where the job of superintending the construction of a huge fish hatchery system, including dwellings, ponds and hatchery buildings awaits him. Ted has made rapid strides in his chosen profession. Before departing he informed this writer that he will always have plenty of room at his home for visitors from Charlevoix and urged they visit him and his family if ever making a western trip.

Have no intention of belittling Harbor Springs, our beautiful neighbor resort city to the north, by making a comparison of the yachts visiting our own and their harbor. It is merely to bring to the attention of local citizens how popular Charlevoix's harbor really is. A Petoskey publication last week remarked that 10 yachts had registered at Harbor Springs between June 28 and July 27. That's a lot of yachts, but just want to mention that I personally

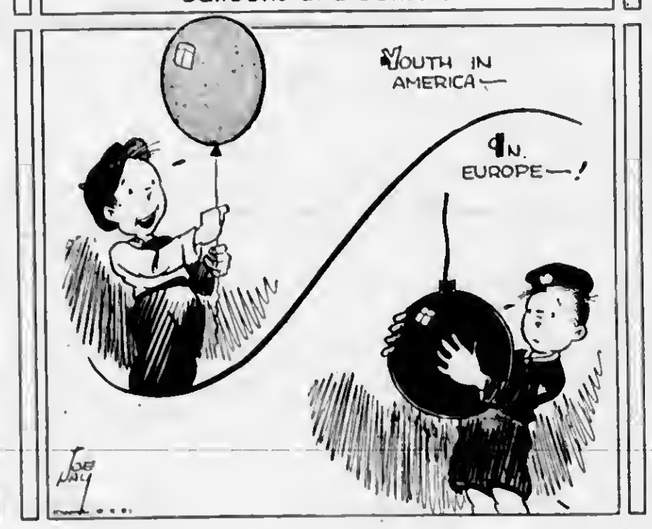
Balloons and Bombs!



LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

Michigan is beginning to catch up with New England in summer theaters.

Two playhouses are thriving this summer in the north Michigan tourist belt around Charlevoix and Mancelona. Keyed to the fact that summer residents want night entertainment as well as day-time outdoor sports, the Ironton Playhouse near Charlevoix has presented two New York dramatic successes, "Double Door" and "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" while the Portage Point Players near Mancelona opened their season with "First Lady" by George Kaufman, being followed with "Yes, My Darling Daughter" by Mark Reed. Other plays at Portage Point are "Meet the Wife" by Lynn Starling and "Private Lives" by Noel Coward.

Whether it is a barn dance or a Broadway comedy, people crave the enjoyment of self expression and the vanity of recognition.

Summer theaters are a healthful development in our 300-million-dollar industry—the tourist business.

51 Acres of Certified Seed Potatoes Being Grown This Year

This year two new growers of certified seed have been listed for inspection with the Michigan Crop Improvement Association. This makes six growers as compared with four last year. A total of fifty-one acres is being produced and at the present time the outlook for a fine crop is exceedingly good.

The abundance of rainfall plus a cool temperature goes to make a fine crop. Also, very little disease has been noted in the fields.

Lawrence Straw, Charlevoix, Irish cobblers, 9 acres; LeRoy Hardy, Boyne City, russet rurals, 2½ acres; Ed. Jensen, Walloon Lake, russet rurals, 12 acres; Lee Snenthen, Charlevoix, russet rurals, 8 acres, Irish cobblers, 8 acres; Paul Clark, Boyne City, russet rurals, 6 acres; H. C. Stephens, Charlevoix, russet rurals, 8 acres.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

Except for blueberries, the berry season is practically over. With new apples to supplement them, bountiful supplies of peaches and plums, seedless grapes and Bartlett pears, they should not be missed. The watermelon season is winning but cantaloupes and honeydew melons are plentiful. Oranges and lemons are both inexpensive for the season.

Peas and spinach are the only expensive vegetables as neither flourishes during hot weather.

Meats are again somewhat higher, particularly beef, lamb and smoked meats. Young chickens and ducklings are very reasonable in price.

Here are three seasonable dinner menus.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Car Titles Necessary Before Plates Can be Purchased

In the preparation to serve the public before the August 31st deadline, department of state officials are asking those who intend to purchase plates to locate their car titles before applying for plates.

It is necessary to have a car title before the department can issue plates. Car owners are deprived of exercising their ordinary legal rights in connection with their motor cars, if they lack titles. They may not sell them, trade them, or even give them away, without titles to prove their ownership.

If a title cannot be found, the owner must make application for a duplicate title. Care should be taken that the motor and serial numbers on the application correspond with those on the car, and the signature of the applicant are the same as those on the former application, as these items particularly are checked.

Application blanks for duplicate titles are available at all branch offices of the department of state, or for those who do not live near a branch office, by writing directly to Leon D. Case, secretary of state, Lansing, Michigan.

Duplicate titles cost $1.00, or the same as original titles. Every application for a duplicate title must be accompanied by a statement as to what happened to the original.

Your Michigan Motor Vehicle Certificate of Title is a valuable document, "Keep it in a safe place".

AT THE MOVIES

Lamour and Milland Head "Holiday" Cast

One of Hollywood's best-liked romantic teams, Dorothy Lamour and Ray Milland, joins forces with an equally famous comedy pair, Bob Burns and Martha Raye, to bring to the screen a new kind of musical romance in "Tropic Holiday", which has its first local showing August 9 at the Palace Theatre. And if most of the spectators do not depart immediately for Mexico, distance must be blamed, and not Paramount, which has reproduced the most charming locale of the season.

Set to the rhythm of clicking castanets and merry marimbas, "Tropic Holiday" is the disturbing adventure of a restless young Hollywood writer in unspoiled rural Mexico. The author, played by Milland, and his secretary, Miss Raye, find the land of the Aztecs far more romantic than they expect when he sits under the palm trees with a native daughter, Miss Lamour, and she listens to the sweet nothings of a local serenador, Tito Guizar.

"Professor Beware" Lloyd's Latest Film

Harold Lloyd returns to the screen, his last appearance was over a year and a half ago in "The Milky Way", in the new comedy that opens August 11 at the Palace Theatre, "Professor Beware". He introduces a new leading lady, as has been his custom in years past with each new film, in the person of Phyllis Welch, lovely young graduate of the legitimate stage and radio stations.

The picture, a typical Lloyd story, the like of which has made him world famous, deals with his mad dash across the continent to arrive in New York in time to catch a boat sailing to Egypt. Broke, and out of a job, he starts the trip with Miss Welch at his heels, and arrives at his destination, after a myriad of dizzy adventures, still broke, but now pursuing Miss Welch.

Breathless Experiences in the Land of the Gorillas

An intrepid adventure of Jeuan Du Berrie, famous naturalist and explorer who tramped into the dark, dank, African jungle, naked, unarmed and unafraid, and invaded the tree-top homes of gigantic apes will be described in The American Weekly, the great weekly magazine with The Detroit Sunday Times, starting with the issue of August 7. FRED BRADLEY CAN CANVAS DISTRICT SPEEDILY

Uses Plan for Campaign Work in 11th Congressional District

Fred, Bradley, the splendid young business man of Rogers City, that early tossed his hat in the ring for the republican nomination for Congressman of the Eleventh District of Michigan has long been an active airplane enthusiast, and has been in possession of a pretty good type of plane, but that one was not good enough and fast enough to enable him to reach all parts of the district quickly in his campaign, so he buys a brand new plane, a handsome Waco Custom Made plane, powered with a Jacobs motor of 285 h. p. The plane is a five passenger job and will be used by Mr. Bradley for his personal use and will also be available for charter trips. It has a cruising speed of around 150 miles an hour. Mr. Bradley made a business trip to the upper peninsula last week end, flying some 700 miles between one-ten and seven-thirty in the evening, which is covering the ground in quick time. Numerous stops were made.

Therefore if that plane comes swooping down in your pasture lot or out on the front lawn, don't get scared, it is friend Bradley looking for your vote this fall, and carrying on in the manner that he has learned to follow, not allowing any grass to grow under his feet, and if elected he threatens to serve our big part of Michigan in that same splendid, businesslike way.—Cheboygan Observer.

When an investment proves successful, government steps in and helps itself to a liberal cut. When it is unsuccessful, the investor is not only required to shoulder the entire loss, but is regarded with suspicion by government as having probably conspired to bring about his own ill fortune.—Portland Oregonian.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Herbert W. Johnson

Saturday was Dad's Day, and what a day it was! Ninety-four parents were in camp, and the first ones arrived even before the boys were awake, to start the day of fun. Clyde Vroman and his capable committee did a splendid job with the program so that the Dads had an excellent opportunity to get into the spirit of our camp and learn some of the crafts and skills the Charlevoix fellows finally master. The baseball games in the afternoon were very successful in the face of a really hot sun, and the boxing matches were greeted with enthusiasm and interest by the spectators. The banquet was a primary event and along with the specialties was a speech by Bishop Whittemore, Charles Bachman, Mr. Lackey, newly elected Father's Committee head and Bill Hart who represented the campers. "Chief" Reimann's welcome to the parents, his flattering remarks about the star and his words of affection and interest to the campers helped make the finest speech we have heard for a long while. And then, when it came time for the gathering to break up everyone lingered as long as possible, goodbyes were said and everyone knew it was just the best Dad's Day ever.

And now the fellows are getting ready for the main trips of the season one of which is to Beaver Island in Lake Michigan and the other to the Tahquamenon Falls near Lake Superior. The boys who left on Tuesday morning early and will not be back for about four days include Dave Bennett, Clyde Talbot, Walter Fader, Bill Smith, Tom Bennett, Kunrad Matthaei, Ned Greenthal, Guy Greene who packed their packs and went to Beaver Island; and Dave Hunting, Dixon Jarvis, Hen Wandel, Dick Koelbel, Johnny Squier, Howard Fritzgerald and Fred Matthael who are by this time somewhere in the wilds of the north country down the Tahquamenon River.

On last Wednesday afternoon the Juniors, seniors and intermediates were guests of the high school in Charlevoix where Coach Bachman showed some talking pictures of baseball—its history, outstanding players and proper technique of playing. The fellows enjoyed it immensely, especially Dixon Jarvis, Ralph McReynolds, Dick Gillette, Charles Marcus, Don Blue and Doug Stock.

A Music Nite was also held on Wednesday and all kinds of instruments were given a chance. Steve Julia gave a specialty dance and song from his native Porto Rico, Alex Galton helped with some cowboy music and Berger Larson gave one of his unique performances on the harmonica.

Quite a few of the parents came over on Sunday morning for the church service at our outdoor chapel in the woods. Fred Gillett had charge of the service with Bob Wieman reading the scriptures. Mr. Reimann gave a short talk and the choir sang a special anthem. Fred and Conrad Matthael acted as "deacons" greeting the guests and taking up the collection which is turned over to the University Fresh Air Camp for underprivilaged children at Patterson Lake.

We are pretty proud of the fact that the fathers were so enthused over camp when they visited. "Chief" Reimann reports that there are nine enrollments for next season, more than any other year. The first 20 campers will be chosen for the Beaver Island and Tahquamenun River trips during season of '39.

IRONTON PLAYERS ROUTED REAL BATS IN "DRACULA" REHEARSAL

Bats, in the mythology of the theater, are a sign of good luck. Bats, in Bram Stoker's world famous play "Dracula", are agents of evil and death. Live bats, flying unexpectedly into the middle of a "Dracula" dress rehearsal at the Ironton Playhouse threw an element of surprise into the cast that was not hargained for. The mechanical stage "bat" was dropped, the scene disrupted, while the crew routed the uninvited guest.

"He was probably there all the time—hiding out. The stage bats annoyed him and he came out to laugh at them. Nevertheless, I think the visit an auspicious one." This was the opinion of Vincent Donahue, who plays the part of the Dracula in the play.

Dracula, considered the greatest of all thrill plays, is the fourth production of the Ironton Playhouse during the present season. It has been consistently popular with stock companies and summer theaters throughout the country ever since its two year Broadway run with Bela Lugosi in the title role.

HUNTING, FISHING LICENSES, ALL INCREASED

Tremendous Raise of 1936 Shown by Sales During 1937 Season

Those are the increases now being revealed by the tabulation of fishing and hunting licenses sold in Michigan in 1937 compared to the number sold in 1936.

Sales accountings are still being received by the department of conservation from dealers and already the number of fishing licenses sold last year stands at 708,059 compared to 889,216 in 1936. Resident fishing licenses increased from 520,860 to 586,909, temporary non-resident permits from 76,009 to 92,583, annual non-resident licenses from 35,524 to 43,517 and non-resident permits for wives from 36,823 to 45,050.

The record up to the first of this month showed 487,653 resident small game hunting licenses sold last year compared to 434,153 in 1936. Non-resident licenses for small game declined from 5,522 to 1,663 because of the increase in fee for this class of permit.

Resident deer licenses jumped from 136,681 in 1936 to 157,504 and the same license for non-residents from 845 to 1,216.

Similar increases are being recorded for the number of trapping licenses issued, the gain being from 12,375 in 1936 to 21,437 last year.

The deer license total sales is likely to reach the 160,000 predicted by conservation department forecasters before the start of the season last fall.

VOTE ON THREE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Decisions on three constitutional amendments and one important legislative measure will face Michigan voters November 8, it was known definitely today.

A fourth constitutional issue may yet be certified for referendum vote in November, although deadline for filing petitions with the secretary of state was 5 p. m. yesterday.

Petitions bearing 210,000 signatures for an amendment providing for exclusive use of gasoline and weight taxes for Michigan highways were filed two hours before deadline.

A week ago an amendment seeking appointment instead of election of state supreme court justices was filed. First to be submitted was the one asking that terms of county officers be extended from two to four years.

All bore more signatures than the 175,000 required—ten per cent of the vote cast for governor in the last election.

The legislative measure is the welfare reorganization act which was passed in the 1937 session but forced to a referendum vote shortly before it was to have gone into effect January 1.

The proposed amendment pending in the Supreme Court for clarification of phraseology was approved by the 1937 legislature (the second method of putting an amendment on the ballot) and seeks to raise the governor's salary to $15,000 a year from the $5,000 salary and $5,000 maintenance he now receives; the lieutenant governor's from $3 a day to $5,000 a year; other officer's wages from $5,000 to $7,000.

Secretary of State Leon D. Case refused to place the issue on the ballot until the wording was clarified.

NEW CITY PARKING LOT IS ESTABLISHED

Accommodation for 36 Autos at Corner of State and Mason

Directed by the city council, City Superintendent Ilon Herrick has established a parking lot at the corner of State and Antrim streets.

Located on city-owned property, the parking lot provides space for 36 automobiles. Hewn guard rails surround the lot on the west, north and east sides and divide it into three sections. Access from Mason street is provided by slanting planks along the curbing.

The parking lot should provide convenience especially for merchants and their employes, whose cars must necessarily be parked for long intervals.

DAIRY EXPERT ADVISES FEEDING WHEAT TO COWS

Simple arithmetic proves that feeding the new wheat crop to dairy cows at present prices makes a saving of about 25 to 30 cents a hundredweight for all that can be substituted in the dairy ration.

A. C. Baltzer, Michigan State College extension dairyman, suggests the new wheat crop thus offers a chance, until the new corn crop matures, of producing milk more efficiently.

$25 LICENSE REQUIRED TO MAKE SWEET CIDER

Agricultural Commissioner Cites Necessity for Havlog License

Apple cider and its manufacture attracted the attention of the Department of Agriculture officials during the past week, two revised orders having been promulgated by Commissioner John B. Strange, with requests from manufacturers in nearby states indicating that there is to be a demand for Michigan's cider apples. The first signed order classifies apple cider as a soft drink and as such makes its manufacture subject to $25.00 license fee while the second order prohibits the use of dried peels, cores, apple waste, apple chops or apples found to be diseased, decomposed, putrid, infected, tainted or rotten.

The second order cites the provisions of Act 384, P. A. 1917, establishing standards for cider vinegar, and prohibiting use of other than pure apple juice. The order, according to Commissioner Strange, is designed to strengthen the act by making it necessary to use only sound apples in the manufacture of the original cider.

JOHN E. BAKER VICTIM OF HOLD-UP SATURDAY

Relieved of Billfold Containing $145 by Large Colored Woman

Charlevoix's first hold-up occurred Saturday evening and John E. Baker was the victim to the tune of $145.

Mr. Baker reported that a large colored woman, who approached him with the request for money to buy a drink, frisked him of his bill fold containing $145 in bills as well as operators' and trailer license, and silenced his protests with a threat to "knife him".

The incident, Mr. Baker reported, occurred at 10:30 Saturday evening near the alley running from Park avenue north to the channel. When he refused the woman's request for money, she encircled him with her arms and frisked the bill fold from his pocket before he hardly realized what was taking place. Baked notified Police Officer Harry Powers immediately, but search for the culprit failed.

CHANGE LOCATION OF BAND CONCERT PROGRAM

August 10 at East Park, August 17 at Municipal Dock Park

Max Smith, director of the city band, has announced that the concert program for August 10th will be given in East Park, and the program for August 17th at the municipal dock park.

This change in location of the concerts is being done to determine by popular opinion the most suitable location for a massed concert by Charlevoix and Petoskey bands, scheduled for August 24th, and planned as the outstanding band entertainment feature of the summer season.

A vocal soloist will be featured on concert programs during the remainder of the summer season and August 31st will be "request night", at which time selections named by the public will comprise the program.

FARM TOPICS

VITAMIN A AID TO GROWING CHICKENS

Alfalfa Meal One of Most Economical Sources.

Supplied by the United States Department of Agriculture.—WNU Service.

Growing chickens need some form of vitamin A to make satisfactory growth. Birds allowed to range about the farm during the growing season usually pick up sufficient quantities of green feed, but birds confined or unable to get green feed should have some feed that is rich in vitamin A, say poultry specialists of the United States bureau of animal industry.

Alfalfa-leaf meal is one of the most economical sources of vitamin A, when all feeds must be purchased, and may serve as the sole source of this vitamin for growing chicks. Other common sources of vitamin A, in addition to green feeds, are yellow corn and milk.

The percentage of alfalfa-leaf meal required in a diet, which contains no appreciable quantity of vitamin A from other sources, depends on the ability of that diet to support growth when vitamin A is adequately supplied and on the vitamin A potency of the alfalfa-leaf meal itself. This potency is influenced by factors such as the method of preparation, variety, soil, weather, and cutting. Of these, the first is by far the most important.

The best criteria of an alfalfa-leaf meal's vitamin A potency are: Age, color, and "brightness." Unfortunately, it is seldom possible for the purchaser to ascertain the age of the meal he buys. Although the color of an alfalfa-leaf meal is a fairly good index of the meal's vitamin A content, the potency decreases more rapidly than the greenness of the meal changes.

Although as little alfalfa-leaf meal as 1.5 per cent of the total ration may supply an adequate quantity of vitamin A to maintain chicks in good health and enable them to grow, it is unwise to depend on less than 5 per cent of an alfalfa-leaf meal of unknown potency.

Selective Logging and Cutting Brings Returns

"Selective logging and cutting" should be the rule followed by the owner of the farm woodlot when he harvests his timber crop, stresses Parker O. Andersen, extension forester, University farm, St. Paul.

Selective cutting is one of the basic reasons for greater logging returns, besides being one of the methods by which future timber returns with even greater dividends are built up, states Anderson. To get the greatest value and returns, the farmer should cut the more mature trees, leaving the smaller trees to grow until they mature and multiply their value.

The larger, commercially mature trees over 16 inches in diameter, breast high, will produce more lumber of higher quality and financial returns as well as economy in logging. Harvesting the larger trees will double, and even quadruple returns per thousand feet as compared to the logging and cutting of the smaller sizes. Selective logging and cutting provides for greater value, increases volume and reduces losses and handling costs.

Trees will continue to have an important role in the wise management of idle land, Anderson observes, and offer a source of future and annual income if properly handled. Trees and forests are a physical protection to certain lands in addition to being capable of yielding economic returns.

The farm owner is in a better position than the large timber company because he can harvest his crop when it will bring the highest market returns, and by watching the timber market he can adjust his cutting operations in proportion.

HALF-YEAR LICENSE PLATES NOW ON SALE

First Half-Year Plates Expire on August 31—Sale Started Saturday

Half-year automobile license plates went on sale last Saturday instead of August 1, as originally planned, Secretary of State Leon D. Case announced.

The first half-year plates, with black letters on a white background, expire August 31. The regular full-year black on green tags will be sold for the second half of the year.

A total of 597,689 half-year plates were issued this year for $3,871,675, setting an all-time record. The first half of 1937, when stickers were used 437,924 were sold for $3,049,799.

Up to July 1, 942,996 full-year plates brought in $10,808,632 compared with 1,127,662 for $13,121,333 during the same period of 1937, Case said.

WEIGHT TAX FUNDS ARE CUT 9 PER CENT

Highway Department Revenue First Six Months Is Reduced

Weight tax revenue for the first six months of 1938 was nine per cent less than during the same period last year, Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner reported today.

The highway department turned over $4,526,112 to the auditor general as the second quarter payment of weight tax returns to counties. Last year the corresponding payment was $5,497,881.

Local governmental units during the first half of 1938 received $14,749,875 in weight tax for road purposes. Last year they received $16,096,326.

Charlevoix county will receive $17,768.08 in the distribution, Van Wagoner announced.

The throng witnessing the spectacle, estimated as high as 10,000 persons, occupied every vantage point around Round lake harbor. Parking space was occupied several blocks away from the lake in every direction. Many had driven from distant points to witness this event, which won the acclaim of being the most beautiful ever staged here.

The entry of forty boats, ranging from large cruisers and sailboats down to small launches, eclipsed that of any previous year. The boats, lighted with colored Japanese lanteras and made more beautiful by displays of colored flares, sparklers and Roman candles, entered Round lake from Lake Charlevoix in three strings, circling the harbor several times. The scene was climaxed by an over-head display of fireworks.

Those entering boats were John Nordrum, Arthur Wexstaff, Harry Lesser, Clarence Wood, Don Clothier two boats, Arthur P. Taylor, C. S. Webster, Ray Hamilton, Max Scamehorn, Charles and Will Bellinger, Allen Campbell, Ray Kipke, Don Herrick, W. H. Wallace, Bruce Withers, Henry Partridge, Bill Novak, Milo Todd two boats, Charles Heise, Culver & Beaudoin five boats, Fred Bergman, Howard Davenport, Don Campbell, Tim Whitley, Beraie Ward two boats, Norman Ance, Dr. F. W. Young, Ken Usher, Robert Gerrie and two others whose names were not obtained, entered boats from Boyne City.

Suggested for your week-end vacation are three points of interest and pleasure, at least one of which is near enough your home to be easily reached by car at low cost.

Huron County—No. 1

With its ninety miles of beautiful shore line, its eleven parks open to tourist-camper and trailerite, and its many delightful resort colonies, good hotels, and golf courses, this vacationland is one of the most populer in eastern Michigan. The angler, too, is offered the best of pike, bass, and perch fishing. Take U.S. 25, or Mich. 53 or 83.

Benzie County—No. 2

Within the boundaries of this famous resort area lies sandy-shored Crystal Lake, on the edge of which the towns of Beulah and Benzonia offer splendid accommodations to the week-end or all-summer visitor. Scenic highways lead to Frankfort on the shore of Lake Michigan and to the many attractive inland lakes, streams, and communities. Take U.S. 31.

Graud Rapids and Environs —No. 3

As the hub of Kent County, this hospitable city is close to some 250 lakes and trout streams and many summer colonies. The tourist should not miss the new Furniture Museum, where examples of the world's finest furniture are on display and where one may actually see how furniture is made. Consult road map for route.

How to Estimate Your Driving Costs

Computed by Standard Oil Company (Ind.)

First cut out the scale along the dotted line and place it on the map with the "starting point" on the town nearest your home. Then swing the scale around until its edge touches the place you wish to visit.

From the figures on the scale you can determine within about 10% what the drive will cost you. To get the cost of a round trip simply double the figure. The amounts shown will be correct for the great majority of cars, although naturally the cost will be slightly more for the largest cars

Festival Spirit

That Michigan is festival-minded has been long recognized.

Communities first sponsored festivals in thanksgiving for bountiful harvests. The "Blossom Time" and "National Cherry" festivals are two illustrations which prove the point. Rapidly they have grown to be tourist attractions of the first magnitude, appealing to the universal love of beauty.

Whether it be at Interlochen where band concerts are held or near Hartford where church musicians gather for summer institutes, you will find Michigan a bee-hive of festival activity during the summer season.

One of the most unique festivals, however, is the "Showboat" at Lowell, August 3-6. Staged on the bend of a river within a stone's throw of Main Street, the Lowell entertainment attracts thousands of people for hundreds of miles. It recaptures the beauty and thrills of a Mississippi river show boat, gayly illuminated, as it docks at the landing and presents old-time minstrel entertainment, modernized only by the conveniences of radio amplifiers and spotlights.

Chesaning's "Showboat" in its second season this year, demonstrated again that people not only like to be entertained but are willing to help the other fellow's "home town", as many in the cast were from neighboring communities.

Rivers' "Who's Who"

With more than 5,000 lakes inland, Michigan had to be blessed with many beautiful rivers.

The St. Joseph, our oldest river, once drained to the Kankakee and the Mississippi, while the Raisin and the Huron were once its headwaters.

The Grand river is the longest, its valley being the channel of a mighty glacial torrent.

The Muskegon has the longest and narrowest valley, 45 miles long, with only one stream of any importance entering from the south.

The AuSable, noted for trout, is the swiftest river in the southern peninsula with a fall of 649 feet.

The St. Clair is the only river in the world which flows from a lake and yet is building a delta. And the Detroit river, although the widest, 2,200 feet at Woodward Avenue in Detroit, is the youngest in the state.

World's Longest Esker

That Michigan possesses the "world's longest esker" may be news to you. In fact, we'll confess we never heard of an "esker" until this summer.

In the good old days when ice glaciers covered Michigan, the melting ice formed rivers which flowed in tunnels in the ice. Gradually these tunnels became choked with gravel waste. When the ice finally melted away, long steep sided sinuous ridges or "hog-backs", called eskers, were left as distinctive features of land topography.

The longest esker in the world extends from a few miles north of Lansing through Holt and Mason almost to Leslie. It is called the Mason "Hog-back" or esker.

Michigan's "Hing Line"

Again we can thank the ice glaciers for most of our 5,000 lakes which have contributed so much to Michigan's resort popularity.

The lakes are the remnants of larger glacial lakes. Many of them represent hunks of glacial ice which became detached from the main mass and were left buried in the land.

And again the geologists bring us news that all the lake beaches north of a line extending from near Port Huron to Manistee are tilted upward like a trap door and that this line is called the "hinge line". The reason? Merely the action of the earth in seeking equilibrium from terrific pressure exerted by the ice glaciers which were from two to six miles thick.

The first effect of this land tilting was to spill waters of the great lakes back into the Erie basin through the St. Clair and Detroit rivers. Then the present Great Lakes came into existence.

Measurements of Michigan beaches show that North America is rising at the rate of one inch every ten years for each 100 miles north of the hinge line. In fact, according to Helen Martin, research geologist of the state department of conservation, from whose studies the above facts were obtained, the great lakes region may have earth shocks for many years to come, but they will not be serious enough to be disturbing.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Health Protection and Supervision by Parents Influence Child's Future Life

The safety and well-being of a small child are obligations that every parent must meet, because the child has not yet learned to look after himself to any extent. When he is in the house, yard, or on the street he must be watched constantly since constant supervision of a very active individual is the only way to be sure that he is safe. Many things are necessary in order to protect these children from harmful influences:

Among the most important things, every child, even though he seems well, should have a health examination once yearly by a doctor. If the child has been sick, he should be examined during illness, and after recovery, to see that there are no unfavorable physical conditions.

The young child should have sufficient amounts of sunshine, cod liver oil, and orange juice to help build good bones and teeth. All foods should be well chosen, prepared and served in order that his nutrition may be kept at a high level. The child's gain in growth should be watched and if, for any reason, no progress is made during a period of three months the doctor should be consulted.

Furniture, clothing and play equipment should be selected to suit the child, in order that good posture may be encouraged. The child should be protected against strains by such measures as plenty of sleep, much natural play, a happy atmosphere and little visiting and excitement. The habits of a child should be watched, and undesirable ones checked promptly. The good ones should be encouraged.

The child should be protected against smallpox and diphtheria thru immunization, and other infectious diseases by being guarded against contacts with sick people, and by developing the habit of washing his hands. The youngster should be guarded against accidents by supervision of environment and activities. He should have prompt first-aid care or medical attention in case of injury.

Through parental cooperation in establishing a set rule of at least one yearly medical examination for the young child, many of the defects would be discovered before any harm had been done the child. As the time approaches for the preschool child to enter school this fall every mother should make sure that her child is in such good condition that he will be physically capable of profiting by the best that the schools can give. If she can answer all of these questions by "Yes" she may know that her child is well prepared to begin his education.

1. Does my child see and hear well?
2. Are his teeth sound and well kept?
3. Are his nose and throat in healthy condition?
4. Does the doctor consider his weight right for his height and age?
5. Are his eyes bright, his cheeks rosy, his muscles firm, his posture correct?
6. Has he been vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diphtheria?
7. Has he good habits of eating, sleeping, bathing, elimination, self control, and obedience?

It shall be the duty of the bank to post a copy of this section in a conspicuous place in such bank at least thirty days prior to July one, nineteen hundred thirty-seven. As respects banks which have not secured the express or implied assent of depositors and creditors herein provided for, a copy of this section of the law shall be sent, postage prepaid, to each depositor and creditor of said bank not so assenting at his last known address according to the records of said bank not less than sixty days prior to July one, nineteen hundred thirty-seven. RURAL ELECTRIC SEEKS MORE LIFE

APPLICATION IN TO REA FOR 350 MILES WIRE

Completion Present Project Will Serve 60% of Farmers in Four Northern Michigan Counties

Approval of 350 additional miles of rural electrification lines in this district is expected in Washington this week end, Leon Miller, attorney for the Top-O'-Michigan Rural Electric company, revealed today.

The approval of these applications will mark the second major step in rural electrification of Emmet, Antrim, Charlevoix and Otsego counties and will provide 600 miles of transmission lines serving approximately 1,900 farmers in that area.

Installation of another 400 miles of lines in the next two or three years will afford complete rural coverage of the four counties, Miller said.

Work is to be started next week on the stretching of a power line from Boyne City to Walloon Lake, first part of original 250-miles contract in this district. This line is expected to be completed in about 10 weeks, said Miller. It will afford electric service to about 800 farmers.

Branches of this line will run from Boyne City to Walloon Lake, through Resort and Bear Creek townships to Pickerel Lake, around the north end of Walloon Lake to the Petoskey Portland Cement company plant; through Charlevoix, Antrim and Otsego counties to Elmira; and others that will cover the west ends of Charlevoix and Antrim counties to Torch Lake village, serving all farm communities between Boyne City and Ellsworth.

When the 350-mile line is completed, approximately 80 per cent of the farmers in this area will be able to buy electricity at the low REA rates, Miller estimated.

The Top-O'-Michigan company is purely a cooperative membership organization, established in line with the REA policies of supplying electricity to rural areas at low rates and without charge for installation, which had previously made use of electricity prohibitive in many areas. Installations are made free of charge to member farmers within 1,000 feet of the transmission line. Those living further than 1,000 feet from the line may obtain the service by paying for the extra line required for a connection.

TONY was no Italian. He was as much of an American as though he had worn the star-spangled raiment of Uncle Sam himself. His barbershop had prospered grestly, and the hand-book that he made on the races became more profitable every day. So why shouldn't he lie in bed for an extra hour if he wanted to?

Tony's bachelor quarters, over his shop, were separated from the next apartment by a partition so thin that it allowed every sound to come through. Tom and Kitty, with Tommy Junior, aged five, lived in that other flat. They knew Tony only as their smiling landlord, never dreaming that he had adopted them; but that was the fact. In his own way, Tony was both lonely and diffident. During the morning hour he entered their family life, so to speak, by ear. It was the only family life he ever had known, and it meant much to him.

As Tony awoke he lay quiet and listened shamelessly. Experience had taught him to interpret each sound from next door so that his mind visualized the scenes there. Thus he knew that Tom, in accordance with an astonishing habit of his, was splashing in the bath while Kitty dressed their small son who, as usual, wriggled like a pollywog. Then came the trill of their electric doorbell.

Kitty answered the summons, and Tony knew that she wondered who would call at that hour; but even so she wondered no more than he—Tony—did. Therefore he listened so hard that, to quote his own phrase he "almos' sprains da ear." Yet the noise of a passing truck drowned the first words spoken, but could not drown those that followed.

"You know what I come for," hawled a strident voice. "Time's up today, an' he ain't got the money. So I want a quit claim on that patent and want it now! See?"

Before Kitty could reply, Tom had splashed forth from the tub. Bare and dripping he must have been, yet there was a clean "smack" as his fist met the visitor's face, causing Tony fairly to hug himself with delight. In quick succession there followed an obscene curse, another and more emphatic smack and then the soft thuds made by a half-senseless human body that is thrown down a flight of stairs.

"Oh, Tom, what have you done?" cried Kitty, as her lord re-entered the apartment.

"Licked Pinchley—and glad of it," was the reply. "He knows perfectly well that the money can be paid at any time up to three o'clock this afternoon. But he hoped that we didn't know, and so tried to bulldoze us, without marked success."

"But will the money come in time?" pursued Kitty, anxiously.

"Clinton's bringing it," answered Tom. "His train is due at the Grand Central Station at two-twenty-eight. Yes, there's time—with luck."

Tom's voice was troubled. Tony's mind was troubled no less, for previous morning conversations overheard through the partition, had given him a very fair knowledge of that little family's affairs. Also he knew the individual whose body made those soft thuds.

Pinchley was a loan shark, with an office in one of the old houses on Tenth street, opposite Jefferson Market court house which, as all the world knows, is in New York. In order to perfect an invention of his, Tom had borrowed money of Pinchley, giving the patent as security. This invention now bade fair to make Tom's fortune, but if the borrowed money was not repaid before three o'clock, he would lose everything. All rights in the invention should lapse to Pinchley.

Thoughtfully, Tony rolled out of bed and dressed. He still was thoughtful as he went out for breakfast and afterward returned to his shop, which was on Sixth avenue, just below the corner of Tenth street, so that it commanded a view of Pinchley's dingy office. Patrons of Tony's hand-book began to drift into the shop, but he accepted their wagers mechanically; his mind was on this matter that so vitally concerned Tom and Kitty.

The train that would bring the money wasn't due until two-twenty-eight, and the payment must be made at three. Thirty-two minutes at best was none too long for a journey from the Grand Central to West Tenth street—and suppose the train were a little late! Pinchley was not the man to waiver at a false oath as to a few minutes of time.

Time passed and Tony's suspense grew harder and harder to bear as he vainly watched Pinchley's office for some sign of Tom's appearance. At last the clock that hung on the barber shop wall announced the fatal hour of three and Tony's heart flopped into his boots.

The telephone jingled; Tony listened to its message without interest. It was only the detailed report of a race. Glancing up, as he replaced the receiver, he saw one Michael Hennessy jump down the court house steps, sprint across Sixth avenue and burst like a human cyclone into the barber shop.

Tony never was anxious to accept his wagers. In the present instance he had an excellent reason for declining, for this was the race, supposed to be started at three o'clock, which had just been reported by telephone. Without troubling to speak, Tony pointed to the clock, which proclaimed that the hour had tossed seven minutes before.

"That ould coffee-mill!" scoffed Mike. "Sure it's fast by almost half an hour! Look at the court-house clock wanst, ye wop, an' see fer yerself!"

Angry but curious, Tony did as suggested and found—wonder of wonders!—that Mike had spoken truly. The great dials in that beautiful tower, the unquestioned standards for all that part of the city, registered eighteen minutes of three!

A gleam of joy shot across Tony's mind; Tom might yet be in time. But the joy was almost strangled by suspicion that instantly followed it. He glanced at his watch, which he knew was right, and it agreed perfectly with the clock on his wall. That gave the clue.

Learning that Umiak was first at the finish, Mike had retarded the great clock in order to slip a sure-thing bet over on the "wop." He would brag of this if he succeeded. Also he would wrongfully acquire a hundred or more of Tony's dollars. But, on the other hand, Pinchley had no watch; he depended wholly upon the Jefferson Market clock, which he could see as he sat at his desk. Mike couldn't set that clock right while he was there in the barber shop. And—eighteen precious minutes to the good!

Tony's soul was American, but his Latin brain nevertheless could work at lightning speed on occasion. It did so now, and without appreciable loss of time arrived at a decision that must have caused the Recording Angel to drop tears of joy that blotted out many sins. Loss and—worse still—ridicule might be his portion, but for the sake of Tom and Kitty, who never would know, he would brave them both.

The telephone jingled again as he took down the receiver with one hand and extended the other for that twenty-dollar bill. Mike handed it over with such self-satisfied glee that he failed to note the grin of perfect beatitude that appeared on Tony's face. This grin was caused in part by the sight of Tom, accompanied by a stranger, bolting from a taxi into Pinchley's office; partly by the message that he received over the telephone. Tony's enemies and his own were delivered into his hands!

The message just received was a short one, yet Tony still held the receiver to his ear. Time—just a little time—was all that was needed now. Therefore, as well as he could do it from memory, he began to repeat the report of that bygone race, as though it still were coming over his 'phone, in disjointed sentences, with long pauses between them.

"Off in a bunch . . . Tomboy in de lead, Miss Giggle secon', den Umiak . . . Miss Giggle comin' up, Umiak lappin', da rest trailin' . . . Shaw, on Tomboy, goes to da whip . . . Miss Giggle passin', Umiak brushin' her haunch . . ."

Tony's bestifle grin grew broader; Tom and the stranger emerged from Pinchley's office, re-entered the taxi and were whirled away. No need to waste more time. One enemy was foiled; now to demolish the other!

"Da finish," continued Tony. "Umiak first—"

Mike was waiting for this; he burst into a raucous crow of triumph. He must, of course, have had reason to believe that the regular telephonic reports of the races would be delayed, but what that reason might be Tony neither knew nor cared. Now for that final, short message—the one that caused the heppy grin! Pretending to listen to the silent 'phone, Tony spoke once more.

"Umiak disqualifi' for da foul," said he. "Miss Giggle she win, Mike, he lose. An' say! You foreigners giv'a me da pain. Get outa here!"

Treating shortsighted obstinacy as the unreasonable cause of retarded recovery, the Omaha World Herald concludes: "We cannot help feeling that when, in wiser days, the history of our time is recorded, the names of a good many now exalted will be written down pretty middling low."

county 35 visiting boats tied up to our own docks last Saturday morning. Could have counted considerably more than that number Thursday night when boat of all sizes and descriptions sought this harbor for shelter during the heavy blow of that nfternoon and night. Yachts visiting Charlevoix harbor during the present season will no doubt run into the hundreds.

Not everybody is as lucky as Orvie Snyder, who lives in the old Newman place on Sheridan road. Orvie will have all the honey his family needs for next winter's pancakes and it isn't going to cost him a cent, for a swarm of bees chose the partitions in the wall of the back shed at his house for a hive and are now just as busy as bees can be storing up honey.

It makes this writer very happy, indeed, to do a little boasting for a change about Charlevoix's auto camp. Clarence (Buster) Bartlett is certainly putting things ship-shape out there. The grounds have taken on a new appearance and the toilets are fit for a queen. It's comforting to know that the city is not fooling about this job and will end up with a camp that has everything in a modern way that's needed.

President Roosevelt's swing out through the southwest and west, intended principally to lend greater atrength to those New Dealers who had fallen for his dictatorial policies, didn't change the political picture a bit. It did however, create a determination among those that had taken an independent attitude in Congress and did not become rubber stamps that they should try harder than ever to hold their jobs and will be right back in Congress again to maintain an even stronger front against political regimentation than before.—Cheboygan Observer.

In case you don't know it, Charlevoix now has the best organized WPA recreational program since this Federal facility was made available. With Norman Ance at the bend of the program, practically every recreational feature in this city is now under the direction of WPA leaders. It is worthy of note that four bathing beach guards are on duty and each and every one of them has passed the required Red Cross examination. Bill House was the last addition to the staff. He has passed his Red Cross exam and, in addition, is supervising tennis, at which he is very efficient. Public encouragement of this work would be an admirable thing to do, for after all, it is the public these workers are serving.

Frank Bonthron of Chicago, and his son-in-law, Clarence Gerard of Niles, were with Brother Bob Bonthron over the week end. They had a swell time while here and Gerard took home a nice mackinaw trout he caught and was mighty proud of.

RURAL ELECTRIC CONTRACTS ARE AWARDED

Work for Top 'O' Michigan Electric Will Be Started at Once

According to Leon Miller, project counsel, the REA has approved a contract between the Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Company and the Monroe Electric Co., Chicago, to build two sections of transmission line.

The successful bid of $245,735.01 provides 250 miles to serve 945 customers. The bid included materials and labor. Work has been ordered started at once and the contract calls for completion by early fall.

The Republic Creosoting Company will furnish 64 carloads of poles, General Cable Corporation will furnish about 625 miles of wire, and the Kuhlman Company will ship 796 transformers. Construction of these lines will provide nearly 40,000 man hours of employment in direct labor. There is between 50 and 60 miles of poles set at the present time.

CHURCH OF GOD CAMP MEETING AUGUST 4-14

The Church of God of northern Michigan will hold their annual camp meeting at the camp grounds located south of Charlevoix, from August 4th to 14th, inclusive. Rev. J. C. Thompson of Chicago, will be the evangelist, and several state ministers will be present.

DETROIT-SOO AIRMAIL SERVICE IS STARTED

Brings Northern Michigan Region Closer to Large Cities

The entire upstate area of Michigan, southern peninsula and northern peninsula alike, will be brought closer to the rest of the world on July 20 when regular air mail service is opened between Detroit and Sault Ste. Marie by the Pennsylvania-Central Airlines.

What is even more important to the State of Michigan is that the rest of the world, by the same link, will be brought closer to the fairyland of Michigan summer resorts. The way to northern Michigan will be blazed by the Pennsylvania-Central for hundreds of thousands of prosperous citizens along the Atlantic seaboard, who heretofore realized only vaguely, if at all, that there were such places as Charlevoix and Mackinac Island, for instance.

The Pennsylvania-Central runs to Buffalo, Cleveland, Harrisburg, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Baltimore, Washington and Norfolk, among other cities. All of these will be linked with Sault Ste. Marie and all of northern Michigan by the fast, twin-motored Boeing plane which the PCA will fly from Detroit to the Soo country.

BERGREN-TAYLOR WEDDING SATURDAY EVENT AT SEQUANOTA RESORT

At a very beautiful garden wedding, solemnized on Saturday, July 30th, at four o'clock, Miss Grace Genevieve Bergren, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Bergren of Chicago, was united in marriage to Frank Flagg Taylor Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flagg Taylor of Oak Park, Ill., who are summering at their cottage at Sequanota.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Buttrick of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church, New York City, in front of a huge fountain completely surrounded by flowers. The attendants were the bride's sisters, Luann and Dorothy of Chicago, and the groom's brother, Price Taylor, and his brother-in-law, John Voelker of Ishpeming, Mich. The ring bearer was the groom's brother, David, and Miss Elizabeth Voelker acted as flower girl.

The bride was charming in a gown of pale pink lace with a finger tip veil. She carried a bouquet of lilies and sweet peas. The bridesmaids wore pink gowns and carried bouquets of pink and white phlox.

A reception for 185 guests was held immediately following the ceremony on the beautiful lawn and garden surrounding the Taylor cottage. A bridal dinner was served for the bride and groom at the Dilworth hotel, Boyne City. They left for a short honeymoon trip and after the middle of August will be at their home in New York City.

RIVIERA TOURNEY GETS UNDER WAY

PLAY IN 13TH ANNUAL EVENT OPENED TUESDAY

Arthur R. Kaiser, Charlevoix Open Champion, Is Favored in Men's Singles Division

Due to an entry lighter than previous years, Charlevoix Tennis Club officers have confined play in the 13th annual Michigan Riviera tennis championships, scheduled to open Monday at the Inn courts, to afternoons during the balance of the week.

When play opened Tuesday afternoon, post entries had brought the field up to around 80 players in all divisions. Arthur R. Kaiser, Chicago veteran and for two years Charlevoix Open champion, heads the draw in men's singles. Other favorites include Henry Balaban, another Chicagoan, Harold Kaplan, Detroit, former Riviera junior champion, and Sam Tack, a Detroiter who consistently has reached third round play in previous Riviera tournaments. The men's singles division has an entry of 26 players.

Comparable to the annual Open event in number of participants and largely a field of summer residents of the northern Michigan resort region, the tournament promises to be a fine entertainment event. Play will be run off in easy stages during the balance of the week with finals Sunday.

Mixed doubles promises to be one of the best features of the tournament from a standpoint of player interest. Over a dozen teams have entered this division.

William Novak, recently given the status of official referee by the Western Lawn Tennis Association, which sanctions the Riviern event, is in charge of the tournament.

Tuesday's results:

Men's siogles, Ist round—Wendell Chapin, Bay City, d. Jack Jacohs, Chicago, 6-4,6-2; Oliver Cunningham of Harbor Pointe, d. Julian Samuels, St. Louis, Mo., 6-3, 4-6, 6-0; Adolph Baron, Detroit, d. Jerry Dodge, Detroit, 6-1, 6-2; William Toylor, Saginaw, d. John Straus, Chicago, 6-0, 6-0.

Junior singles—Bill House, Charlevoix, d. Pete Sudlitz, Harbor Pointe 6-2, 6-4; D. LeBlond, Horbor Springs, d. Henry Loeb, Cincinnati, 6-2, 7-5; Wilbur Kaiser, Oak Park, Ill., d. Robert Lesser, St. Louis, Mo., 6-2, 6-1; James Ewing, Louisville, Ky., d. Ted Russell, Harbor Springs, 6-4, 11-9.

PWA GRANTS FUNDS FOR LOCAL PROJECT

AWARD $65,690 FOR ELECTRIC LIGHT IMPROVEMENTS

City's Share of $127,000 Program to Be Placed Before Voters at Special Election Soon

A telegram from the Public Works Administration announcing grant of $56,690 for extension and improvement of the Charlevoix municipol electric light system has been received by city officials, and arrival and acceptance of the officiol offer is now awaited.

The city's project applicotion, submitted by Supt. Don Herrick, outlined additions and improvements covering the entire electric light system at an estimated cost of $127,000 in round figures. The city's shore of the cost will be approximately $70,000, to be raised through issuance of either revenuo or general obligation bonds. The required bond issue must be approved by electors. A special electioo at which the proposal will be placed before voters, will be held at a date to be decided by the city council, probably late in August or early September.

Approval of the PWA grant pavos the way for a renewal of efforts to enlarge the electric light system to meet current demands. Voters early this year approved a bond issue of $98,000 for the same purpose, only later to turn the proposition down by failure to approve a franchise required to legalize the bond issue.

Under the proposed new set-up, tho government shares $65,690 of the expense by direct grant, leaving approximately $70,000 as the city share. The proposal provides a $28,000 savings to taxpayers over the previous proposition for a broader and more comprehensive program.

Included in the program is addition of a new diesel unit, building addition to house the unit, switchboard additions and improvements, improvements to the present steam unit, a new high tension line between Charlevoix and Bellaire hydro plant and improvements at the hydro plant. It would place the electric light system in A-1 condition throughout.

The trolling camp operators and everybody that likes to fish are happy again! The mackinaws are really "hitting" in Lake Michigan after several weeks of inactivity. Warm weather has driven the "big ones" down and practically every boat out for the past week has brought in fish. Even this writer managed to get a couple and you can figure the famine is over when such a phenomenon happens.

Charlevoix hit a high spot in national publicity when Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., in a recent Liberty article entitled "Advice to Fortune Hunters and to Barbara Hutton" gave this city the classification of being among the leading resorts of the United States, including us in the category with Bailey's Beach, Malibu in California, Lake Forest in Illinois, Newport and Palm Beach. The "Fortune Hunter and Barbara Hutton" aogles mean very little in our simple lives, but as a resort city, we are quite elated over heing classed with the swanky. One local fellow kicked because Vanderbilt didn't use the name.. "Charlevoix - the - Beautiful". That's spunk for you, alright.

Charlevoix was visited Monday by none other than Governor Frank Murphy, who stopped at a local service station and at the Belvedere hotel with his police escort. Any community terms it quite an honor to be favored by a visit from the Governor. Doubt whether Murphy would stop

Field Maoager, Michigao Press Associatioo

Roger Babson's latest forecast, "I look for the sharpest increase in business this fall in many years", is good news in Michigan where 90 per cent of the world's automobiles are made.

Because automobile manufacture is the nation's key industry, Michigan occupies a strategic spot on the economic map today.

In this pivotal industry General Motors manufactures and sells every year through its five car divisions in Michigan—Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac-LaSalle, as well as GM trucks—approximately 10 per cent of all the passenger cars and trucks made in the United States. And yet, unlike the Ford Motor Company, its eggs are not all in one basket.

The story of General Motors is fascinating. And with business again reviving, payrolls of its eight Michigan plants will affect the butcher, the baker, and even the candlestick maker.

CENTRAL LAKE

Shower, Sunday night, little better than a dew, revived crops some.

Rev. Lawrenz was up for a short visit from Detroit last week, and returned with his car.

Miss Beulah Hooper is employed for the month of August, assisting at a resort near the Bay.

Edmund Wilson's people have beautified their residence by a new coat of paint. They now have a beautiful home.

The Morse boys of Central Lake have been picking beans for James Dawson the last two weeks, of which he has a fine crop.

Clare Triplet and family of Detroit, returned home last week after a short visit with the John Triplet family at Eastport.

Chas. Dawson and family, up from Detroit, where he has a postoffice job yet, is visiting James Dawson family at Bay View this week.

Fred Price of Detroit, came up Saturday afternoon on hearing of his father's serious illness. He will stay until Mr. Price is better.

Dan Babcock of Detroit, was shaking hands with relatives and friends here this week while up from Detroit to visit his wife and other relatives.

Mrs. Helen Underhill and son of Detroit were visitors Sunday at Grand View Sunday school, where he has been ably assisting in the Sunday school work.

Mrs. Grace Hooper of Eastport, is preparing quite voluminous write-up of old settlers of this vicinity which will include also Joseph Burkholder of Twin Bridges.

Chas. Morse, Mrs. Florence Zook and baby, and Mrs. Cora Dunlap returned Friday from a visit with relatives in the Upper Peninsula, and also a huckleberrying trip.

Mrs. Pete Openo's condition remains about the same. Dr. Wessels of Muncelona has been attending her. The Harold Openo family from Flint and the Ivan Whiberk family have been helping to care for her.

Lee Donelson and family called on Rev. Harry Batterbee's family last Sunday, on their way to attend Green River Sunday school. Mrs. Batterbee is very much improved, we are happy to note, and wish her a full recovery.

Little Eugene Dawson, son of Maurice Dawson, was returned last Friday from Charlevoix Hospital after an operation a week ago for appendicitis. He is feeling much better, and says he wanted to get home and get something to eat.

The time of the Turner Sunday school has been changed from three o'clock p. m., to 1:30 p. m., and Grand View to 3:00 p. m., in order that Mr. Morse can attend Creswell, Grand View and Turners, the same Sunday. Creswell is at 10:30 a. m.

Rev. Guy of Bruce, U. P., is the new F. M. pastor of the local church, and is expected to occupy the pulpit here next Sunday. A truck will move two pastors from different places near here to the Upper Peninsula, and bring Rev. Guy's household goods back with them. They have two children at home.

Many friends and relatives will sympathize with relatives in the death of Mrs. Otto Salchow, Sr., which occurred at Central Lake Saturday noon. She was an old-time resident, and her husband, who preceded her death, was the one-time manager of the Cameron Lumber Company here several years ago.

Mrs. Will Marcus of Grand Rapids, with her daughter, are visiting the Lee Hodges family east of Central Lake, and the Lambert Marcus' at North Holland neighborhood. She ran her hand through the wringer, and thought she would take a vacation by visiting relatives here. The next time she gets mixed up with the wringer, she will probably come again. She had not been here for several years. Her children were former pupils of the writer's.

Chas. Price, a long time citizen of northwest of Bellaire, suffered what was almost a stroke of paralysis last Saturday afternoon while at the Wm. Cary shoe shop at Central Lake. He was immediately rushed to the Hodges home, where the local physician administered to his ills. At present time (Monday), he appears to be a little improved. Mrs. Price and son Fred were immediately summoned, and Mrs. Price is still with him. They have the sympathy of many friends. Mr. Price has been a respected citizen of Forest Home township for many years, and it is hoped he will soon recover.

The Twin Bridge's picnic and rally was attended by about a thousand people this year, the most ever, and we think Rev. Weaver was pretty well satisfied with the outcome of the affair. He had labored hard to make the program, as well as the grounds attractions, one of the best. The Alba band did themselves proud in dispensing fine music throughout the day. Rev. Rector, Congregational minister from Central Lake, and Albert Smiseler, the six foot skier from Bay View Sunday school, took a hold with zest to get acquainted and have a good time with those in attendance. Mr. Smiseler is known throughout the county, and never misses a chance to joke with everybody. The Sunday school people did splendidly in their speaking and singing and Robert Brown from Jordan River gave an excellent oration.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Editad by Herbart W. Johnson

Time is going much tuo fast for us here at Charlevoix, and frum a look ut the many things yet on the program the rest uf the time is going to go hy in u "whizz"!

The big specialty of this week is the Carnival and Parade this coming week end on Saturday. Then on Sunday is to be staged the long awaited for Rodeo and Horse Show in the afternoon. All the parents and friends of the campers are invited to come up and be with us for both events and help to make them the big affairs they always are.

On Friday the boys on the Beaver Island trip arrived back in camp after four days of adventure and fun. Dave Bennett and his brother Tom huve been very anxious to tell everyone about their voyage on the "Mary Margaret" through Lake Michigun to the Island. "Skipper" Talbot is more interested in the daily allowance of candy which brought him much joy —and almost a stomach-ache.

And then from the trip to the Tahquamenon Falls came weary campers who had tales almost unbelievable of the many deer, porcupines, and lake trout they saw on their trip through the north country by foot and canoes. Lucky campers they were, to be able tu take the trip, and all the fellows here seem pretty anxious that they are signed up with the first 20 so that they may go next year.

While we are speaking of trips we might include the overnights that went out of camp this week. Jim Voyce took his cabin of seniors on a sailboat trip on Wednesday with campers Charles Bachman, Stacey DeCamp, Dick Toncray and Bob Armstrong uboard. The skipper was Trumbull and the boys had a difficult time convincing him to leave Kamp Kairphree, the girls camp and first stop on the voyage.

Steve Julia, John Avis, Philip Worcester and Jimmie Robinson were the boys who made up the horse trip on Wednesday to Mt. McSawby.

Meanwhile, the boys who remained in camp have been having a pretty gay time uf it with many special events. The first was the Venetian Night held in town on Sunday evening at which some of the boys sang. It was a very magnificant affair to witness and boys who sung were well received by the audience and sang some extra camp and college songs for encores.

On Wednesday evening we held an All-Cowboy Sing. The campers dressed as cowboys and many of them were "star-attractions". Cowboy Tom Hurt sang "My Old Banjo" and "Hand Me Down My Walking Cane". Cowboy Jack Daw gave a fine selection on his banjo-uke and Joe Blake, Chet and Nelsun Opper sang some songs from the old southwest which is a familiar section to these fellows. After the singing, the seniors and intermediates paired up for some square dances and the Virginia Reel.

Thursday night was gala for the older campers for they were the guests of Kamp Kairphree at a party and dance. If we wanted too, we could tell a lot of tales about how "Don Juan" some of these boys can he on occasions like this gathering, but Bernard Nulting, Alex Galton, Bob Weiman, Joe Luckey, Ted Ashby, Dick Toncray would prubably deny it anyhow . . .

On Saturday afternoon was held a swimming meet between the "Greens" and the "Greys". In the free style relay the Grays won with Bill Hart, Stacy DeCamp, Jim Rohinson and Charles Helmick swimming. In the same relay for the Juniors the Greens won with Albert Loeb and Jim Kendall swimming.

In the next event, Bell Tag, the Senior Greens, won with Bruce Richards swimming, the Intermediate Greens won with Bill Wilson swimming and the Junior Grays won with Ned Greenthal in the water.

The breast stroke was won by Bill Sill, Don Blue and Charles Bachman in the senior section; by Dave Bennett, Jimmie Robinson and Tommie Hunter in the intermediate section. Seniors Bill Hart, Ken Vincent and Stacey DeCamp won for the seniors in the free style relay. Intermediates Jason Bloomberg, Tommie Hunter and Jimmie Robertson came out first in the same event in their competition. Juniors Ned Greenthal, Tom McNamara, George Osborn won in their section.

And the final egg race was won by Seniors Vincent, Armstrong und Lackey, by Intermediates Wheeler, Whittemore, Bennett; by Juniors Kendall, Bennett and Cole.

Many other exciting things are happening here, and too numerous too mention. Let it simply be said, that the boys are not at all anxious for the final banquet on August 23rd which will mean the close of the best season ever.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

Wood Improvement Demonstrations Announced for Aug. 17, 18, 19

Plans have been definitely made to hold three woodlot meetings to acquaint farmers with all requirements necessary for payment in the soil conservation program. Charles D. Shepard, president, announces that this year no visits by the field men can be made to inform farmers of what practices to adopt in order to receive payment in the county soil conservation program.

Thus these three demonstrations have been arranged to enable farmers to receive instruction on approved practices in improving their woodlots. It is especially necessary for all applicants for woodlot inspection tu attend the nearest demonstration.

The first meeting will take place at Henry Korthase's, Boyne City, on Wednesday, August 17th, at 1:30 p. m. At this demonstration you will have the opportunity of seeing the rapid growth in the last five years of trees that have been marked and mensured. The second meeting will be at Eveline Orchards, East Jordan, on Thursday p. m. at 1:30 promptly. Here will he found a woodlot that has been properly improved, a stand of evergreens planted some years ago, as well as a large acreage of fine woods not, as yet, thinned out. The third meeting will be at Paul Skornia's ,about three miles northeast of Horton's Bay, on Friduy afternoon, August 19th, also at 1:30.

Considerable improvement has been noted in the management of woodlots in this county during the last two or three years. Many planting demonstrations have been incorporated in the program this spring as well as many improvement demonstrations during the last two years. It is hoped that all farmers who have a woodlot will attend their nearest meeting and spend an enjoyable afternoon in discussing practices and improvements that may be made throughout the county. Don't forget the three afternoons, August 17, 18 and 19.

Two Half-Day Poultry Schools Scheduled on Thursday, August 18th

All folks interested in poultry will be interested in the announcement that O. E. Shear, extension poultryman, Michigan State college, will conduct two half-day poultry schools in Charlevoix county. This will he a regular short course on all poultry problems. It will be held right out in the poultry yard where the birds muy be handled and practices noted.

The first meeting will be held at the farm of Don Fox, about three miles north of Horton's Bay on the Carpenter Road at 10:00 a. m. Thursday, August 18th. The second meeting will be at Hiram Potter's, one mile southeast of Barnard, on Thursday afternoon, August 18th at 2:00.

This year a lurger number of baby chicks have heen purchased than the previous year. The summer season makes an ideal market for poultry and poultry products. If you have uny particular problems bring them to the nearest session. You may even bring any diseased birds thnt you wish to have diagnosed. Briefly all poultry problems of interest will be discussed. Thursday, August 18 is the day.

SICKLY CHILDREN DIM PARENT PRIDE

To bring a bahy to healthy and happy adulthood is no simple job yet parents should be no more proud of a sickly and puny child than they should of a poor peuch or a poorly developed flower.

Suggestions for aiding children to get a better start toward a healthy life are offered by Theodora Peck, instructor in foods and nutrition at Michigan State College.

Prime importance is the foud the child gets, suys Miss Peck.

Other factors include sufficient sleep, out of doors play, protection from disease, not too many emotional struins, that he keep clean and not have too many or unreasonable work demands.

Variety is essential in foods. One of the pointers outlined by Miss Peck is that no one food is sufficient to provide all the essential needs of the body of a growing hoy or girl.

Milk is the basis for u good start. A quart a day is called a good quantity either in fresh milk or its equivalent in canned or dried milk. This liquid supplies the necessary lime for building straight bones and attractive teeth. Even with babies, however, this milk is supplemented often within the first month with orange or tomato juice and codliver oil.

Two vegetables and two fruits daily is another rule as the children get into more standard foods. Green leafy vegetables, some of them eaten raw, are recommended for healthy bodies.

Whole grain cereal is another suggestion for increasing the supply of minerals and vitamins. An egg a day is desirable and not less than two a week is considered essential.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.
Sunday school, 12 o'clock.
Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Soul" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 14.

The Golden Text, (Ps. 143:7,8), is "Hear me speedily, O Lord: . . . cause me to hear thy loving kindness in the morning; for in thee do I trust: cause me to know the way wherein I should walk; for I lift up my soul unto thee."

WORRY

"It's not work that kills men; it is worry. Work is healthy for you can hardly put more upon a man than he will bear."
—Henry Ward Beecher

And the best thing for worry is a reserve that grows a little each month —in our bank.

NEW COLOR SCHEMES FOR 1938-39 LICENSE

Small Game Licenses Blue; Deer License Color Is Yellow

New color schemes will greet the eyes of hunters when they get around to purchase their licenses for the coming seasons. Changes were necessary to distinguish the 1938-1939 licenses from last year's.

Resident small game hunting licenses will come in blue and resident deer licenses in yellow. Five dollar non-resident small game permits will be tinted green while the $15 variety of the same license will be canary. Non-resident deer licenses will be orange. Resident bow and arrow deer licenses will be green and non-residents will get blue. A salmon hue has been selected for trapping permits.

Approximately the same number of licenses have been ordered as were printed last year—600,000 resident small game licenses; 200,000 resident deer; 50,000 trapping; 15,000 $15 non-resident small game; 10,000 $5 non-resident small game; 3,500 non-resident deer; 1,000 resident bow and arrow; 100 non-resident bow and arrow.

Last year 210,000 resident deer licenses and 600,000 resident small game licenses were printed. About 160,000 of the deer licenses and approximately one half million resident small game permits were sold, both figures being the largest in their respective classes in the history of the state.

CHARLEVOIX INDIANS LOST TO GAYLORD "9"

Defeated in Initial Tilt Sunday Afternoon at North Side Field

The newly organized Charlevoix Indian baseball team, playing their initial game at north side pork Sunday afternoon, lost 7 to 4 to Gaylord Independents.

Amos and Guy John formed the Indian battery. Amos pitched well but had poor fielding support, accounting for most of Gaylord's runs.

Efforts are being made to schedule Mancelona for a contest here next Sunday.

Batteries charged by Gamble's slow process method last longer and give better service. 6-volt 35c; 2-volt 25c.—Adv. 32t1.

LOCAL COAST GUARDS WIN FESTIVAL RACE

Beat Tawas Crew in Feature Event—Go to Grayling for Rifle Practice

Charlevoix coast guardsmen are off to Grayling for target practice following their successful participation in the annual water festival program last week at Grand Haven.

The Charlevoix crew, composed of Quinten R. Duhm, Theodore Jacobson, William P. Woods, Warren H. Wilmot, Fred Looze, James Marsh, Ira Weeden, Robert Somerville and Earl Boileau, defeated the Tawas crew from Lake Huron in a grilling 2-mile rowing race which was a feature of the festival program last Thursday. The contest was a neck-and-neck affair with the local crew winning by half a boat-length in the last 200 yards.

Charlevoix crew members did not participate in the district championship race held Friday and won by the 11th district crew.

Half of the Charlevoix crew and half of the Beuver Island crew are at Grayling for a week or ten days for target practice. Those leaving Saturday were Quinten Duhm, William Woods, Frank Noonan, Lloyd Hulett, Fred Looze and Earl Boileau from the Charlevoix station, and William Ludwig, commander, John A. Gallagher, Ernest N. Yaroch, Willard J. Barrett, George L. VanErkle and John A. Brocket from the Beaver Island station.

The other half of the crews of both stations go to Grayling following return of the members now there.

Kill Calculated on Basis Hunters' Reports Already Filed

A comparison of deer hunters' reports now being tabulated by the game division of the department of conservation indicates that last year's kill of slightly more than 51,000 bucks is the largest on record.

The kill is estimated on the basis of computations made from a 20 per cent sampling of the reports. The total compares to an estimated kill of 44,867 in 1936 and 30,216 in 1935. These figures give a kill of 1.14 deer per square mile in 1935, 1.30 deer per square mile in 1936 and 1.48 for 1937. The number of hunters was approximately 93,733 in 1935, 136,081 in 1936 and 157,349 in 1937.

By the same method of computation, the percentage of successful hunters was 32 in 1935, 33 in 1936 and 32.5 in 1937.

Game investigators believe that prospects are bright for a good season next fall. They believe the comparatively mild winters of late have permitted a considerable increase in the size of the deer herd in certain sections of the state, although approximately 10,000 are estimated to have starved to death last winter because of scarcity of feed in some areas.

The kill, of course, depends upon more than the number of bucks at large. The number of hunters and weather conditions during the hunting season are also factors which must be considered. Poor hunting weather will naturally reduce the kill.

Michigan's deer herd has been estimated as numbering all the way from 500,000 to a million animals. Census drives are now being conducted in several parts of the state with aid of CCC crews, during which monthly tallies will be made of the deer seen in each area. Conservation officers also keep a record of deer seen on their regular patrols.

FAIR COMMITTEE LISTS FEATURES

DATES FOR 53RD FAIR SET FOR SEPTEMBER 6-9

Many Entertainment Features Are Arranged — Exhibits Promise Best Exhibition in Years

Charles P. Murphy, secretary of the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society, announced Wednesday that the fifty-third annual Charlevoix county fair will take place at the East Jordan fairgrounds on September 6-7-8-9. It is expected that the premium lists will be ready for distribution next week.

Murphy says that the traditional horse races which have always been one of the main attractions at the Fair this year promise to be better than ever before. All of the veteran drivers will be there along with newcomers who may furnish plenty of excitement.

Many exceptional acts and fentures have been signed for this season—among them a high pole act during which acrobats will do their stunts at the top of a pole seventy feet in the air. On the second evening of the fair, the well-known WLS Barn Dance performers will stage a new and exciting show—and in addition to this the services of a first-class contortionist and acrobat have been secured for the event. On the final night of the occasion, Wild Bill Welch and his Motor Maniacs will present a thrill show featured by a "Dynamite Drive" in which "Wild Bill" will explode sticks of dynamite by driving over them with his automobile.

All during the four days of the exhibition and carnival, a clown who has appeared with the Ringling Bros. Circus for eight years, will present his laugh-provoking antics in front of the grandstand and up and down the midway.

The fair committee is also rounding up the best baseball teams in this section to give baseball fans fine exhibitions of the national game and there will be games each day of the fair.

The parade of livestock entered by the farmers of the area will take place on Thursday, September 8th, the third day of the fair.

The midway promises to be larger than ever this year, and there will be merry-go-rounds, whips, ferris wheels and many other rides as well as a large number of side shows and concessions.

MURPHY IS ACCUSED OF A SPENDING ORGY

Toy Hits at Democratic Administration in Cadillac Talk

The state administration was accused in an address at Cadillac, Wednesday by Harry Toy, Republican candidate for governor, of "the wildest spendy orgy Michigan has ever known".

Toy criticized Governor Murphy "for taking money set aside for old age assistance and using as part of his profligate spending".

"Money was laid aside for our aged and infirm," Toy said, "but beneficiaries have been notified that the allowances have been cut. The administration said this was necessary in the name of economy. What actually happened was that in the wild spending this pension money went for other purposes. In civil and legal life we call such procedure by an ugly term, but in politics they call it economy—a strange kind of economy."

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through this office. Charlevoix Courier.—Adv.3tf.

EXTRA LEGISLATIVE SESSION IS PLANNED

Welfare, Housing Projects and Mortgage Laws Considered

Relief needs, housing project legislation and extension of the mortgage moratorium will be the three principal subjects in the call for a special session of the legislature late this month, Governor Murphy has announced.

He said other less important subjects may be included in the call which he is preparing, but those three problems will be pushed into the forefront. He has not decided on the exact time for the session.

Scenic Week-end Trips at Low Cost—No. 5

Make up your mind to take a week-end vacation at one of the many beauty spots in Michigan. Here are suggested three delightful places, at least one of which is not so far from your home, and may be reached by car at little expense.

South Haven and Environs—No. 1

Long popular as a summer playground, this lake shore resort city is now even more the choice of the week-end vacationist since a large state park has been opened in the near-by dunes. Good fishing is found in the inland lakes and streams of Van Buren and Allegan counties near Bangor and Allegan. See road map for best route.

Arcadia County—No. 2

An appropriate and beautiful place to stop for a week-end is this picturesque county where Mich. 26 joins U.S. 23 at the city of Standish, with its splendid tourist camps, hotels, and restaurants. Many fine resorts are located on the near-by shores of Lake Huron, and the Rifle and Au Gres rivers are popular with trout fishermen.

Livingston County—No. 3

As a mecca for summer visitors, this area offers many advantages for a week-end outing. The towns of Howell and Brighton are but a few miles from some fifty fine lakes, many of which are well stocked with fish, and where swimming and boating are popular sports. The Deerfield Township deer herd is the only one in southern Michigan. Take U.S. 16.

How to Estimate Your Driving Costs

*Computed by Standard Oil Company (Ind.) ©

First cut out the scale along the dotted line and place it on the map with the "starting point" on the town nearest your home. Then swing the scale around until its edge touches the place you wish to visit.

From the figures on the scale you can determine within about 10% what the drive will cost you. To get the cost of a round trip simply double the figure. The amounts shown will be correct for the great majority of cars, although naturally the cost will be slightly more for the largest cars.

LANSING LETTER

Big Business

Started in a humble fashion in 1908 with the purchase of five automobile factories at a capitalization of $12,500,000, General Motors has grown to be big business on an international scale.

Through its research division, the corporation developed the electric self-starter, four-wheel brakes, "turret top", automatic choke, no-draft ventilation, synchro-mesh transmission and many other improvements.

General Motors possesses an 80 per cent control in the Adam Opel Motor Company in Germany, producers of about 45 per cent of the motor cars made in that country.

It controls the Vauxhall Motors, Ltd., of England.

It owns 50 per cent interest in the Ethyl Gasoline corporation whose product has added much to engine efficiency.

Aircraft, Radio

General Motors has a quarter interest in Bendix-Aviation Corporation and a 10 per cent interest in the Fokker Aircraft Corporation of America, now the General Aviation Corp.

It organized the General Motors Radio Corp., having a 51 per cent interest therein.

It controls the Fisher Body Corp., the Delco Light Company, the Frigidaire Company, the Winton Engine Corporation (now the Cleveland Diesel Engine Division), the Electro-Motive (diesel railroad engines) Corp., General Motors Acceptance Corp., the Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing Company, and has 807,951 shares of common stock in the National Bank of Detroit.

About 50 per cent of GM income is now derived from activities other than automobile production. Among the non-automotive products are air-conditioning units, refrigerators, locomotive engines, radios, and airplanes.

Furthermore, the corporation has a definite decentralization program, as the 1937 annual report explains in these words: "on every count its (GM) policy should be to operate in the smaller communities and in as many communities as is economically sound and desirable."

Labor's Earnings

What has labor got out of all this?

Get ready for a surprise!

Wages in the automobile industry during the sit-down strike year were 30 per cent above 1929 when allowance is made for the changes in the cost of living. The average hourly earned rate for all manufacturing industries in 1937 was approximately 64 cents, while in the automobile industry it averaged 87 cents per hour and in GM was even higher.

Put on an annual earning basis, since seasonal unemployment makes the hourly rate an unfair basis for comparison, General Motors hourly-paid factory workers received an average annual wage of $1,618 in 1937. And that in spite of the adverse influences of labor troubles. This amount would have been higher if workers had not lost time due to numerous wildcat strikes. In 1936 GM workers received $1,587 for at least 46 weeks' work.

"Annual Wage"

From time to time, you hear statements in Michigan about an "annual wage".

Consider this: In spite of the automobile industry's seasonal layoff for a large proportion of its workers, the annual earnings of the factory workers are much greater than those of the average full-time employed factory worker in the country as a whole. Statistically speaking, GM workers earned $1,618 for 46 weeks or more in the 1937 model year, as compared with an average of approximately $1,200 a year for the full-time (52 weeks) industrial workers of this country during 1936.

Since the cost of living was 15 per cent lower in 1937 than in 1929, when the comparable average earnings of such employees were $1440, it will readily be seen that the worker's average annual real income was approximately 32 per cent greater in 1937 than in 1929.

Killing the Goose?

Why then all the strike trouble?

In its quest for more golden eggs, is labor likely to kill the goose?

The automobile industry has prospered, by following the formula of giving the consumer more for his money through research and lower prices and giving the worker a high wage and a short work week through mass production methods. You can't laugh off the fact that we Yankees, even in the depression year of 1933, possessed 72 per cent of the 33,330,000 automobiles used in the world.

Furthermore, according to the Department of Labor in its November 1937 monthly labor review, the automobile industry is unique in having an actual increase in labor cost per unit of 9 per cent since 1929, while all other industries studied show either no change or an actual decrease in labor cost running as high as 48 per cent.

These are cold facts, but they ignore the prevalent distrust of big business, fanned into hatred by politicians. Depression, bank failures, and home foreclosures, cut deep wounds in human emotions.

Forgotten during this period of disillusionment was the reality that payrolls constitute about 75 per cent of the selling prices of goods and services. Or, phrased another way, labor's wages come out of the consumer's pocket. When the consumer doesn't buy, the worker gets no pay check.

Wages and Taxes

And so the worker is affected directly by factors which increase the cost of the product. If costs rise in excess of the consumer's ability to buy, the worker suffers in loss of wages. The economic equilibrium must be kept balanced.

One unbalancing factor is taxes.

General Motors' 1937 tax bill was $444 per worker, an increase of $106 in TWO YEARS. It was 53.4 per cent of earnings, or $2.45 per share of common stock. Of the total tax bill of $73,734,000 in 1937, only $13,741,000 went for social security taxes as compared with $3,722,000 in 1936.

High taxes penalizes everyone—consumer, labor and investor alike. Reduction of the tax load would greatly speed recovery which Babson foresees for the coming fall months.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Cora Anthony

Buy sparingly so long as the weather is abnormally hot to avoid wastage and spoilage. In normal weather perishable foods may be bought for several days at a time, but it is not to recommended with the thermometer at ninety or above. Even automatic refrigerators balk at too heavy a load at such temperatures.

The fruit and vegetable markets continue to be well supplied with inexpensive and appetite arousing merchandise. Meat and poultry prices are a trifle off, fish is plentiful and cheap, butter prices unchanged and eggs a little higher.

Three seasonable dinner menus follow:

Low Cost Dinner

Cream of Potato and Onion Soup
Cold Corned Beef
Cabbage, Carrot and Bean Salad
Sliced Tomatoes
Bread and Butter
Apple Betty
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Cold Chicken Mixed Vegetable Salad
Tomatoes and Cucumbers
Hot Biscuits and Butter
Snow Pudding with Custard Sauce
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner

Melon
Roast Lamb with Minted Pineapple Gravy
Boiled Rice Succotash
Avocado Salad
Hot Rolls Butter
Coffee Ice Cream with Chocolate Sauce
Coffee

AT THE MOVIES

Gay, Surpriseful Shirley Temple Is Surrounded by Stellar Cast in New Hit, "Little Miss Broadway"

"Little Miss Broadway", Shirley Temple's latest starring picture has been completed and is scheduled for its opening August 13, at the Palace Theatre.

Of "Little Miss Broadway", the previewers say that Shirley dances and sings with greater ease and talent than she has in any previous film, and her rare dramatic ability continues to amaze her audiences.

The cast which supports Shirley is headed by George Murphy, Hollywood's ace acting-hoofer; Jimmy Durante, a droll comic who needs no introduction; Phyllis Brooks, the rapidly rising young blonde beauty who appeared with Shirley in "Rebecca", and Edna Mae Oliver, who is known to myriads of fans as the austere old maid.

The cast also includes two dozen big names, notable among them Geo. Barbier, Edward Ellis, Jane Darwell, Donald Meek, Patricia Wilder and Claude Gillingwater, Sr.

New Adventures of Hardy Family on Palace Screen

Judge Hardy's family is turned loose for the fourth time in "Love Finds Andy Hardy", which opens on Thursday, August 18 at the Palace Theatre.

The same group which won wide recognition for its work in "Judge Hardy's Children", is found in the new episode, with important additions to the cast in Judy Garland and Lana Turner, making this the most pretentious of the series.

Of interest is the debut of Lana Turner, sensational new discovery under the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer banner. The supporting cast includes Cecilia Parker, for the fourth time daughter of the family, Fay Holden as the mother, Betty Ross Clarke as Aunt Milly, Gene Reynolds, Ann Rutherford, Mickey's "steady" girl, Marie Blake, Don Castle, Mary Howard, George Breakston and Raymund Hatton.

TIMELY ADVISE IS GIVEN SWIMMERS

BILL BELLINGER, RED CROSS CHAIRMAN, GIVES TIPS

With Drowning Emminent During Summer Season, "Don't" for Swimmers Are Outlined

With 7,000 death-by-drowning warrants signed and sealed, delivery awaits only the right combination of sweltering days and careless swimmers, according to the American Red Cross life saving service, which has done more than any single agency to reduce the annual occurrence of water accidents. Last year approximately this number of drownings were reported in the United States.

Bill Bellinger, chairman of the Red Cross life saving service in Charlevoix county, suggests the following tips to prevent drownings during the summer months:

"Do not dive into water that is muddy or of unknown depth without first exploring the bottom with your feet.

"To keep the feet from sinking in a vertical position when floating, relax elbows and knees and open arms and legs to the sides. As the arms are brought sharply to the side and held there, the legs should be pressed together, forcing the water out. If this is done slowly and smoothly, it is possible to stay afloat for hours.

"When wading breast-deep in a stream, go against the current and not with it to avoid being swept into deep holes. If you lose your footing, swim with the current, making for the shore at an angle, instead of fighting the stream.

"If you come up beneath a float, hold your breath and open your eyes. There is probably ample air space there, and if you don't give way to panic you will be all right.

"It is best to wait at least an hour and a half after eating before going into the water, to insure against cramp.

"When boat or canoe overturns, stay with it. Any rowboat has the buoyancy to support its regular load of people whether rightside or bottom up. Bottom up it furnishes a floating air chamber that will sustain the heads of more people above water than could have possibly been in the boat before it capsized. Right side up and full of water the boat will sustain the heads of its passengers above water if they will sit on the floor and not try to rise as the water creeps toward their chins.

"Do not try to show off skills which you do not possess. Statistics show me and boys are usually at fault here. About ten males drown for every female. No one is superior to safety regulations.

"Do not use a large water playball if there is an off-shore breeze. Poor swimmers have been lured into deep water without ever catching up with the ball. When the ball starts drifting off shore, children should be cautioned to let it go. Let some one chase it in a boat.

"The once stable canoe has become ticklish to handle because paddlers insist on sitting on seats with their knees in the air and three-quarters of the weight of the body several inches above the water-line. A kneeling pad for bow and stern paddlers makes all the difference in the world. A pad of sponge rubber from the dime store, or salt bags stuffed with cotton, will do.

"Surf bathing may be safe today and dangerous tomorrow. Consult a life guard about local conditions. If he says a bad surf is developing, don't go out beyond the waves which come up around your knees.

"A non-swimmer can save a drowning person nearby if the former keeps his head. Throw out a ring buoy or a life line, use a row boat or canoe."

To train the experts who train the life guards and swimming instructors, Bill Bellinger said, the Red Cross conducts during the summer months 14 aquatic schools in 13 states, each with an enrollment of more than 100 persons. Students range from novices to trained swimmers, he added. Many are people responsible for the public safety at swimming places, while others are safety directors at parks and waterfronts who have already qualified as experts.

Numbered among Red Cross instructors at the schools are former Olympic swimming champions, Bill Bellinger added. The majority are men with an impressive record of Red Cross experience in teaching others the safety measures and skills found most effective by the organization during nearly a quarter-century of "waterproofing" America.

Branch Offices Getting Ready for the Rush

Branch managers throughout the state are preparing for the rush to purchase license plates, when some 600,000 motorists will trade their black and white half year plates for the black and green full year plates.

In the past more plates have been sold in the last three day period before the dead line than in the whole period allotted for the sale of license plates at half price.

Motorists are urged to purchase their plates as early as possible. They will not only benefit themselves by not having to stand in the line but will enable the department to operate without hiring extra help.

Every rush means the spending of hundreds of dollars for extra clerk hire.

Eclampsia in Pregnancy

During the developmental period of the baby there is being sent back into the mother's blood an increasing amount of waste matter.

If the mother's elimination is imperfect, so that she has difficulty in getting rid of her own as well as the baby's waste products, a toxic, or poisoned, condition may result which will be more or less serious for both the mother and the child. This condition is spoken of as toxemia, and if allowed to continue may cause eclampsia or convulsions. Eclampsia, and the forms of toxemia associated with it, cause, anually, about 30 per cent of the approximately 15,000 maternal deaths in this country. There are many of the women who survive the convulsions and acute stages, or who recover from severe nonconvulsive forms of toxemia and have permanent blood vessel or kidney injuries which impair their health and shorten their lives. In a large measure, the heart-kidney and blood vessel injuries and deaths attributed to severe nonconvulsive toxemia and to its convulsive culmination, eclampsia, constitute preventable disease.

Prevention rests on careful observation and management of pregnancy, to which the term antepartum care has been applied. The incidence of nonconvulsive or pre-eclamptic toxemia is apparently lowered by means of systematic application of some of the simple principles of prenatal care. A number of observers have reported series of cases in which adequate antepartum care has been given and in which the occurrence of convulsions is appreciably less than it is in series composed of like numbers of pregnant women who lack such care.

Three instruments available to any physician who is caring for any pregnant woman are the apparatus for determining blood pressure, scales for weighing the patient, and the test tube, which is used as a routine for detecting and estimating roughly the amount of albumin in the urine. There is almost invariably a slight but distinct rise in both systolic and diastolic blood pressures several weeks before any appreciable amount of albumin can be detected in the urine of a woman who has slow, nonconvulsive toxemia. It has also been shown that women who do not gain during pregnancy more than 20 to 25 pounds over and above their normal weight are rarely subject to the development of severe toxemia. These statements rest on proved evidence.

At the prenatal visit the reasons for proper elimination and diet are explained to the patient. She is instructed to eat a general diet, including a requisite amount of foods containing protein and the vitamins, and a reduced amount of the weight producing foods, fats and carbohydrates; to drink at least 3 pints of water daily and to use salt sparingly. Some physicians urge removal of foci of infection as a prophylactic measure. Every two to four weeks, if possible, from the third month of gestation to the seventh, and from then on at least every two weeks, the pregnant woman visits the office of her physician. At each visit a record is made of her blood pressure, weight and results of urinalysis. Care that the patient should receive on other visits to th physician are told in the booklet "Prenatal Care" distributed by the District Health Department.

It is generally considered that toxemia of the later months of pregnancy may proceed from milk to severe stages and finally to a climax of eclampsia with convulsions. In all cases of mild toxemia, treatment should be efficient, for in any case the condition may become severe. As the disease progresses in severity and duration, the risk to both mother and unborn babe is increased. Long continued toxemia is more productive of chronic arterial or renal injury than is a shorter, possibly more severe, toxemia state. Fortunately, in few cases of acute toxemia does the condition become severe prior to the period at which a living child can be expected. However, in the interest of the mother, pregnancy should be terminated if and when it is found that the toxemia cannot be controlled.

Mr. Weber's remark followed this thought: "John Luecke may not be the best Congressman sent to Washington from the 11th district, but we'll give him credit for keeping his constituents informed about his activities in their behalf." There is never anything that happens in Washington of interest to the 11th district, whether its approval of PWA and WPA projects or otherwise, that this publication is not notified either by letter or telegram. It's a service that is certainly appreciated.

CITY GIVEN WPA GRANT FOR PARKS

ALLOTMENT OF $29,922 HAS PRESIDENTIAL APPROVAL.

Two Bathing Beach Developments, Completion East Park Included in City-Wide Project

Approval by President Roosevelt of a WPA allotment of $29,922 in federal funds for a city-wide park improvement project has been received by city officials.

The grant is the second allotted this city in two weeks and brings the aggregate of PWA and WPA funds available to $86,012. To this amount may be added a combined PWA and WPA grant of $15,000 for the federal fish hatchery, or a total of $101,612.

The city-wide park program calls for a expenditure of $36,052.90, of which the city's contribution is $6,130.50. The program includes the construction of two piers and establishment of two bathing beaches on Lake Charlevoix one off Ferry avenue and the other on city-owned property opposite the 9th hole of the municipal golf links. Piers will be built, beaches improved, playground facilities installed and the sites landscaped.

Other items in the program are completion of East Park on Round lake and construction there of a stone fish pond; hard-surfacing the roadway leading to the Lake Michigan bathing beach and extension of the present road and construction of a parking oval for 100 cars at the water pumping station beach. The program is of wide scope and may be made to include numerous other improvements throughout the city which are now under consideration.

Work on the project is expected to start August 29th, it is understood. A greater portion of the city's contribution has already been met thru materials furnished for the Ferry avenue bathing pier which has been completed except for planking.

RARE SOUTHERN BIRD SEEN AT SOUTH POINT

American Egret Makes First Known Visit to Northern Michigan

Providing a great attraction for local and summer bird lovers alike, is the presence near South Point of an American Egret, rare southern bird which is making its first known visit to the northern part of Michigan.

The egret is snow white and is 41 inches high, about the same size as the Great Blue Heron. It is rare anywhere north of Florida, having been almost exterminated by plume hunters in years past. At the breeding season the bird has a beautiful plume which is at the height of its beauty at the time the young are first hatched. Thousands of hen birds have been slaughtered, leaving the young to starve. The egret is now protected by law.

The bird has been here a week or more and has been photographed by many bird lovers along with the Great Blue Heron and a flock of merganser ducks hatched near South Point.

FIVE HURT IN EXPLOSION POPCORN MACHINE

Two Women Hit by Flying Glass; Operators Suffered Burns

Five persons were injured, none seriously, by the explosion Saturday afternoon of a gasoline generated boiler of a popcorn machine operated by Franklin Left and Carl Himebaugh at the intersection of Park avenue and Bridge street.

Those injured were Left and Himebaugh, the former with severe burns on his neck, shoulders and abdomen, and Himebaugh with slight burns on his hand; Mrs. Byron A. Smith, Detroit, her daughter, Mrs. Malcolm Campbell, Flint, and S. O. Sorenson, this city, struck by flying glass.

Mrs. Smith and her daughter, who were looking into a shop window a couple hundred feet from the explosion, were cut in the legs and back by flying glass. Mr. Sorenson, who was passing the stand when the explosion occurred, had both hands cut.

Glass and debris was thrown several hundred feet by the blast. Glass flew across and down the street as far as Bellinger's store and a sign off the machine was near the swing bridge. That no one was killed was a miracle.

Left and Himebaugh had just completed piling mechanism of the machine and were outside when the explosion happened.

HATCHERY PROJECT IS UNDER WAY HERE

FEDERAL GRANTS TOTALING $15,000 ARE APPROVED

Fish Hatchery to Be Improved for Change from Hatching to Rearing Unit for Lake Trout

A project designed to place the local federal fish hatchery in readiness for operation was started Monday. The work is financed through two federal grants, a PWA allotment of $10,000 and a WPA allotment of $5,000, to the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries.

The project is under the supervision of E. R. Widmeyer, Northville, superintendent of Michigan federal hatcheries, and will be in direct charge of E. M. Geer, who has been transferred from Paco, where he has been located this summer, to this city.

The hatchery, it is understood, will be changed over from a hatching to a rearing unit. Lake trout fry will be reared to advance stages for planting.

The improvements include re-roofing the hatchery building, superintendent's residence and garage; redecoration of the interior of these buildings; a complete change-over from steam to electric energy for hatchery operation; installation of electric cooling system for fish food; installation of new galvanized troughs for rearing purposes. In other words, the appropriations are for building improvements and labor.

SPECIAL ELECTION SET FOR SEPT. 6TH

SUBMIT BOND PROPOSAL FOR ELECTRIC EXTENSION

Issue of $70,000 in Bonds Required to Receive $56,690 Federal Grant Approved for Project

The city council Monday night set Tuesday, September 6, as the date of a special election for submission to taxpayers of a proposal to issue bonds in the sum of $70,000 for electric light system extension and improvements.

The $70,000 bond issue represents the contribution of the city of Charlevoix in a $126,000 project for which a PWA grant of $56,690, representing 45% of the total cost, has been approved. Approval of the bond issue is required to receive the federal grant.

The project as outlined in the proposal prepared for submission, includes purchase and installation of a 450 k.w. diesel generating unit with auxiliary equipment and accessories, switch sets and line improvements; construction of a building addition required for the diesel unit and general building repairs; construction of 18 miles of 23,000 volt transmission line connecting the Charlevoix unit and Bellaire hydro-electric plant; construction of forebay works including tainter gates, trash-racks and general reconditioning and relocation at the Bellaire hydro plant.

The program is of greater scope than that for which voters early this spring approved a bond issue of $98,000, and is designed to bring generating capacity up to present requirements and place the entire system in A-1 condition. The PWA grant is an outright gift of 45% of the total cost and represents a savings of $50,690 to taxpayers.

PLAYHOUSE OFFERS "PETTICOAT FEVER"

NEW LEADING MAN TO PORTRAY FAVORITE ROLE

Phillip Dakin Joins Staff for Mark Reed's Non-Tropical Farce Which Opened on August 10th

Mark Reed's non-tropical farce, "Petticoat Fever", will be the attraction at the Ironton Playhouse for the week commencing August 15th.

This hilarious comedy centers on the adventures of a young Englishman socially marooned at a Labrador wireless station. He is suddenly besieged by two beautiful young ladies, after seeing nothing but Eskimo girls for two years. Things are really complicated by one of the girls being accompanied by her fiance. This plot brings forth situations and sparkling dialogue that will keep any audience in a constant chuckling mood, with many hearty laughs added for good measure.

The role of the young man, Dusgrome Dinsmore is played by Phillip Dakin, the new leading man at the Playhouse.

Mr. Dakin has just completed an engagement at Madison, Wis., where he starred in the same role the Ironton fans will see him portray. This handsome blonde chap was a featured player under contract to Universal Films for several years. He has also toured the nation in the Noel Coward plays and even hurdled the greatest of all theatrical obstacles by playing Shakespeare, namely "Merry Wives of Windsor" in New York and "The Merchant of Venice" at the Greek Theatre in Hollywood.

TRI-MOTOR FORD PLANE WILL CARRY PASSENGERS

Maj. Mulzer's Ship at Airport Thursday and Friday

Coming to Charlevoix airport Thursday and Friday is a 17-passenger Ford tri-motor all metal airliner, owned by Major Leslie G. Malzer, veteran U. S. Army Air Corps reserve and commercial flyer with over 21 years of flying experience.

This giant skyliner will be here for the purpose of carrying passengers on flights over the city at exceptionally low fares. Flying operations will begin at 2 p. m. each day with a very low fare and will increase with each hour of flying. This giant airliner is 80 feet from wing tip to tip, 50 feet long, weighs 15,500 pounds loaded, carries 375 gallons gasoline, 30 gallons motor oil, is equipped with two-way radio and all modern navigation aids.

Major Mulzer is the oldest commercial flyer in this country, having been in this business for the past 21 years, and has carried more passengers than any other pilot in the world. Up to the first of this month he has carried over 575,000 passengers safely. All flying is done under direct supervision of the Department of Commerce. The plane and pilots are licensed by the U. S. Government.

The plane will leave here Saturday morning for Northport.

4-H CLUB SESSION ENDS AT GAYLORD

Robert Straw and Ronald Lyon Awarded State Fair Trips; Two East Jordan Members Outstanding

Charlevoix county was represented by 34 4-H Club members at the annual session last week of the Gaylord camp, which drew 550 members and leaders from 27 counties of northern Michigan.

Charlevoix county 4-H Club members shared in the honors awarded for outstanding accomplishment. Irene Brintnall and Einer Ulstrom of East Jordan, were selected the two outstanding club members. They receive a trip to the Michigan State Fair, there to compete for state honors.

Robert Straw and Ronald Lyon, both of Charlevoix, were selected in the soil conservation contest and likewise receive a trip to Detroit. Their demonstration was on the use of the plain table method of mapping farms.

While they will not receive a trip to the State Fair because of their age, Freda Willis of Charlevoix, John Clark of Boyne City, and Patty Sinclair of East Jordan, were chosen junior health champions.

NEW CHAMPIONS IN RIVIERA NET MEET

13TH ANNUAL EVENT CLOSED SUNDAY AT INN COURTS

Henry Balaban Wins Men's Title; Blanche Keller, Women's; David LaBlond, Junior Champion

New champions were crowned in all divisions as the 13th annual Michigan Riviera tennis championship closed Sunday afternoon at The Inn courts.

A temperature of over 90 degrees in the shade and an extremely high wind combined to upset finals matches and resulted in two defaults in finals play when players were unable to withstand the heat.

Henry Balaban, Chicago attorney, gained the men's singles title through default of Arthur Kaiser, veteran Oak Park, Ill. player who was the tournament favorite. The sets were even when the match ended, Kaiser having won the first two 6-0, 6-4, and Balaban the second two 6-2, 6-0. Both players had gone through the earlier rounds without difficulty in a field of much younger competitors.

The men's doubles crown also went to the winners by default. Harold Kaplan and Samuel Tack, Detroiters, became the champions through default of Kaiser and Balaban, the top-seeded pair. Kaplan and Tack had taken the first set 6-0. The match followed the men's singles final.

Blanche Keller, Paducah, Ky., and Charlevoix summer resident, is the new Riviera women's singles champion. She defeated Esther Robinson, Cleveland, Ohio, in three sets by scores of 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

David LaBlond, Cincinnati and Harbor Point, took the junior singles crown, winning in three sets from John Mithoefer, St. Louis, Mo., Belvedere Club summer resident, by scores of 6-1, 5-7, 6-2, 6-0.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

Sunday's excessive heat must have "got" Fred Cartier or else it's another case of the absent-minded professor. Drove down to the municipal bathing beach on Lake Michigan last Sunday and was quite startled to see an elderly man in bathing with a straw hat and glasses on. He was out to his neck in the water, so couldn't tell who it was until I walked down the beach a ways. Imagine my surprise when I found out it was Fred! Didn't see anyone else so rigged out, so could only draw my own conclusions.

Senator Prentiss M. Brown is to be lauded for the stand he takes against the approval of an amendment that will come before voters in November intended to make Supreme court justices appointive instead of elected. It is to be hoped that Courier readers will follow Senator Brown's advise and vote "No" on this amendment which would just take away from the public another of its powers and privileges.

You've heard that old saying: "Haste makes waste". Well, Harry Hooker found out the truth of it one day last week. Seems he had a hurry-up call for some fence posts for the riding paddock on the north side, so hooked the trailer to his car and rushed out in the country to get them. Arriving at his destination, he found he had company—the state police. The trooper wanted to know where the trailer license was and

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

The state cupboard is bare at Lansing, and so Governor Frank Murphy, in the chosen role of Michigan's "Mother Hubbard", is calling the legislature to meet late this month for another special session, the second since his inauguration.

The governor's predicament is not the source of rejoicing among democratic leaders.

In fact, the governor has been warned repeatedly by important party advisors from Senator Prentiss Brown down to county chairmen that a special session in a campaign year would be injurious to his re-election chances.

It's a pretty mess for all concerned.

Consider the situation.

Distributing Wealth

The state legislature appropriated in 1937 the grand and staggering sum of $122,000,000, while expected tax revenues at that time tallied to $104,000,000—a mere deficiency of $18,000,000.

The Ladies' Aid had a very pleasant meeting with Mrs. Clyde Warner on Thursday afternoon. They will meet with Mrs. Holhuis on September 1st.

CENTRAL LAKE

It looks as though we may get a little rain (Tuesday) and we need it badly.

A reception was held at Central Lake Monday evening for the new F. M. pastor. Mrs. Gay preached at the Free Methodist church last Sunday evening.

Richard DeYoung was around this way last week making crop field measurements. He says orchard cover crops also come in line for crop payments.

Appears as though it would have been much nicer if Antrim county's "playground" sign had been set up higher than being in the hole where the gravel was taken from.

Attendances at Sunday school last Sunday were: Creswell 30, Turner 19, Graad View 43, Bay View 14. Miss Taylor, a missionary from Santa Fe, New Mexico, gave a talk to the children at Creswell.

A Sunday school will be organized at Greenwood school, west of Central Lake, next Sunday, at 10:30 a. m., August 21st. If Rev. Weaver cannot be present, Rev. Batterbee will be in charge. Everybody come.

The mail plane flies over here at about ten o'clock each day going north, and about 4:30 p. m., going south. The R. D. mail goes at about 10:30. The farmers can tell the time of day by the mail men, pretty well.

Rev. Harry Batterbee preached at the Mennonite church at Mancelona last Sunday evening in the absence of the pastor. He expects to conduct revival services at Turner school house, if all is favorable, sometime about the first of October.

Mrs. James Dawson was taken ill last week with an infection in her foot, when she spilled some boiling hot water on it. The local physician was called, and she is some better at present writing, although the doctor prescribes complete rest.

Jake Youngblke, who is now on the Thomas farm at Snowflake, has purchased the O. N. Sage farm, and Ed. Suton farm at Bay View, and will move onto the farm in the spring. Mr. Shonks is now on the Sage farm and Jasper Loper on the Suton place.

The funeral of Mrs. Helen Openo was held at her home east of town last Friday afternoon. She passed away Wednesday. She was one of our old residents and respected by many here. Her sons and families had been with her for several weeks of her illness.

Mrs. Lester Dawson was taken quite seriously ill last week, but is somewhat better at present writing, the local physician attending. Chas. Dawson and family, who have been visiting there, have returned to Detroit. Mr. Dawson says times are very bad in that city.

Sympathy of the community goes out to Mrs. Farley south of town, whose little daughter, Joan, eight years of age, was drowned last Thursday at Central Lake near the bridge. It was in the same hole that Burton Amway was drowned in several years ago. It appears that a buoy could be anchored there to warn of the place, and that there should be a swimmer obtained to supervise this bathing place. Funeral service was conducted for the little girl by Rev. Rector of the Congregational church Saturday afternoon.

"Government," says one "new deal" critic, "has become largely a matter of 'hunch'." Which may be the reason why a lot of business is becoming hunch-baked.

STRAITS TRAFFIC IS LOWER THIS SEASON

First Seven Months of 1938 Shows a Drop of 1.7 Per Cent

Highway department ferries carried 110,481 vehicles and 185,401 passengers across the Straits of Mackinac during the first seven months of 1938, Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner has announced.

That represents a 1.7 per cent decline from the traffic during the same period last year.

Early this year Van Wagoner predicted that traffic would increase two per cent.

Traffic during July was 3.5 under the volume for July a year ago. There were 55,551 vehicles handled by the ferries last month and 102,604 passengers compared with 57,556 vehicles and 105,153 passengers in July of 1937.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Economist Finds Trade Pact Good

Trade agreements hold definite promise of benefiting Michigan agriculture and industry.

In a survey of trade agreement effects, M. C. Gay, department of economics of Michigan State College, finds exports and imports go hand in hand, that this country cannot be widely prosperous as a self sufficient unit and that Michigan especially would be affected by arbitrary blocking of trade channels in foreign markets.

Gay points to the Canadian trade agreement as particularly important to Michigan. In 1936 he finds that exports to Canada increased almost $61,000,000 over 1935, an increase of 18 per cent, while imports from Canada gained $81,000,000. The drought gets the blame for this, for in the first nine months of 1937 we sent an increase of 38 per cent in exports to Canada while imports increased but 18 per cent.

Michigan livestock income jumped from 91 millions in 1934 to 142 millions in 1937. Dairy interests find the trade agreement has not held back better prices. Imports of cream increased in 1937, yet prices in Michigan were higher and the Canadians exercised only 10 per cent of their quota.

"Our economy is so geared as to require a large foreign trade to maintain its smooth operation," says Dr. Gay. A large import and export trade means greater production, greater consumption, more employment, more purchasing power and, in general, a higher standard of living." His explanations are printed more fully in the current issue of the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station Quarterly Bulletin dated August.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Herbert W. Johnson

A gala horse-show, gay carnival, merry dance at Camp Pinewood, thrilling snipe hunt, splendid Belvedere orchestra concert, and an exciting ball game with Camp Sherwood have been some of the features that have made the past week such a full one for all of us here at Camp Charlevoix.

Cowboy Cummings did extra fine work with the horse show on Sunday afternoon as all the campers and many of the visiting parents and townsfolk will agree. The day was excellent, the horses in fine shape and the boys all set and ready in their cowboy outfits to bring us the atmosphere and fun of a real dude ranch.

Eleven events made up the program with the "Grand Entry" as a starter, with the horses in expert hands exhibiting trots and gallops for the grandstand. Cowboys David Bennett, Hal Wheeler, Fred Miner, Beresford Palmer, Dick Gillett, Dixon Jarvis, Bill Sill, Bob Armstrong, Burr Needham and Fred Matthael sat in the saddles careering the broncos.

The Juniors were represented by Cowboys Gault, Milner, Dow, Greenthal and Loeb, who gave an exhibition of the horsemanship and were judged for technique with Jim Gault, Earle Milner and Herbert Dow selected as winners. In a similar event by seniors and intermediates Cowboys Beresford Palmer, Dixon Jarvis and Dick Gillett took the first, second and third ribbons respectively.

Jumping was next on the program and in this event the judges gave their awards to Beresford Palmer, who hails from Grosse Pointe, Dickson Jarvis of Detroit, and Dick Gillett of Grand Rapids.

An exciting potato race was held next with six of the cowboys armed with pointed sticks to carry the potatoes on—quite a feat this. Cowboys Dixon Jarvis, Howard Fritzgerald and Dick Gillett did the fastest work here and won in that order.

Calf-roping by teams provided much fun for the crowd and Jimmie Robinson and John Avis, both intermediates, did the fastest job of it by roping and tying the calf in 47 seconds.

Stacy DeCamp, Fred Matthaei and Bill Sill were selected by the judges for the novelty race as winners of the event.

Other events were included on the program, and we must not pass without a word of praise for the fine horsemanship which Cowboy Cummings exhibited for the eager audience. All of us are inspired now to be real horsemen.

On Saturday afternoon the annual carnival was held with many of the friends and parents of the boys part of the gathering. Everyone had a swell time which means that Andy Frostic and his committee deserve much credit.

In the evening a musical revue "College Capers" was presented with Doug Stock, Fred Matthaei, Dogan Arthur, Walter Fader, David Bennett, David Hunting, Sonny Talbot, Jim Whittemore, Ken Vincent, Conrad Matthaei, Charles Helmick, Clyde Vroman, Bob Stevens and Tom Hart. After the revue a performance of the pantomime "Tragedy in the Tempest" of "Lighthouse Loons" was given by the counsellors.

Wednesday was "Neighborhood Day" at camp for on that day Mr. and Mrs. Reimann played host to many children of Charlevoix and the surrounding communities. The boys and girls were entertained in the clubhouse, since it was a rainy day, and ice cream and toys were given to the children as gifts. They were a pretty happy bunch, and we hope they will be able to come again.

Trips have been and are still much of our program at camp, for on Monday of last week Frank Prael took a group out on a trip through Lakes Intermediate, Bellaire, Clam, Torch and Elk. Andy Frostic had his cabin out on a horse trip with the following boys riding: Albert Loeb, George Osborn, James Curtis, and Tommy Bennett. Another trip that started on the same day was the one taken by Herb Johnson and his campers in the "Alert". Jack Longway, Dogan Arthur, Walter Fader, Jack Dow, Clyde Talbot, David Hunting and Dave Bennett were on this trip.

During the past few days many of the boys have been chosen because of their skill to go on various trips throughout northern Michigan. Tom Hart took out a group of his expert sailors for a four day trip down the lake. The following boys were chosen: Sailors Don Blue, Bernard Noelting, Bill Hart, Ben Wandel, and Howard Fritzgerald. They will return on Thursday of this week.

Cowboy Cummings took twelve of his best horsemen on a trip to Boyne City and surroundings for four days also. Cowboys Dick Gillett, Beresford Palmer, Alex Galton, Dixon Jarvis, Bob Armstrong, Hal Wheeler, Fred Miner, Fred Matthaei, Dave Bennett, Bill Wilson, Bill Sill and Burr Needham are on the trip that will cover almost 80 miles.

This week will be a busy one for the boys not out on trips, for Wednesday has been chosen as a mystery night when all the camp magicians will exhibit their many and various tricks. Friday the boys are to go into town to a movie with the tickets paid for by the profits of Saturday's carnival. The same evening will be held the final Green and Gray banquet with the Grays the winners of this season in the junior, intermediate and senior sections with 13 more points than the Greens. On Friday will be held the final council ring at which boys will receive recognition for the skills they have developed. Saturday afternoon will be time for another of the good boxing shows of boxingmaster Shilling and his muscle men.

The final banquet will be held on Tuesday evening, August 23rd. The boys will leave via train, auto and boat after the affair. Parents and friends of the campers will be welcome at the banquet in the clubhouse.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Farmers Save by Amended Vehicle Law

Approximately $250,000 were saved to the farmers of Michigan this year as a result of the enactment of an amendment to the Motor Vehicle Law by the 1937 session of the state legislature.

The amendment to the act reduced the license fee on vehicles used exclusively for farm use to a flat rate of fifty cents per hundred. Prior to this year all farm trucks were assessed the regular fee charged to commercial trucks, the price range of which was from $.65 to $1.25 per hundred.

The amendment was urged upon the legislature by the secretary of state as a just concession to the farmers of Michigan whose vehicles are used almost entirely on the farm and used on the highways only incidental to their real use. This amended fee schedule applies also to heurses and ambulances.

The 1939 license plates for farm trucks will have inscribed on them the words, "Farm Comm." to afford protection to the state against any attempts at abuse of the provisions of the amended act.

License plates for all motor vehicles may now be purchased at half price and may be used until March 1, 1939.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

A Community Program Against Syphilis

In a country as diverse as this, no one plan of syphilis control is applicable. In each state and in each city the problem needs to be studied and a plan of action developed to meet particular local needs. Certain basic principles, however, have general application. These principles may be summarized briefly as follows:

1. There should be a trained public health staff to deal with syphilis in each state, county and city.

2. Minimum state laws should require reporting of cases, follow up of delinquents, and the finding of sources of infection and contacts.

3. Premarital medical certificates including serodiagnostic tests, should be a legal requirement.

4. Diagnostic services should be freely available to every physician without charge and should meet minimum state standards of performance.

5. Treatment facilities should be of good quality with convenient hours and location. Wherever possible the clinic service should be a part of an existing hospital dispensury. Hospital beds should be provided for patients needing bed care.

6. The state should distribute antisyphilitic drugs to physicians for the treatment of all patients.

7. Routine serodiagnostic tests need to be used much more widely. In particular every pregnancy, every hospital admission, every complete physical examination should include this test.

8. The informative program in modern diagnosis, treatment and control should be prosecuted vigorously among physicians and health officers, especially through the use of trained consultants.

9. The public educational program must be persistent, intensive, and aimed especially at those individuals in the age groups in which syphilis is most frequently acquired.

If these principles are applied to meet varying local conditions, no one can doubt that the shadow of syphilis will be lifted from the land. To be successful in this fight we must have control of the patients. The treatment must be compulsory. The purpose of the public health service in fighting syphilis is identical with the historic objectives of the profession of which we are a part.

DRESS PATTERNS IN MULTIPLE USE

Efficient homemakers who sew for themselves and for younger members of the family find that pattern purchases can make too large a portion of the cost.

So here comes the suggestion of Marian H. Dixon, instructor in clothing at Michigan State College, that when a pattern is purchased it should be selected carefully so that it can be used several or many times. Pattern costs range from 10 cents to many times that cost, so the practice can help save money.

"A good pattern, one that is structurally sound, has lines suited to the individual figure and is a pattern that can be altered easily without destroying the structural lines of the pattern," Miss Dixon points out.

"If one has this type of pattern, what is the next step in using it so that all these home creations do not look alike? That is not difficult, for it can be done by changing the decorative features."

Miss Dixon advises taking a peek into several of the better style magazines for selecting decorations for a new dress. The same aid can be obtained for determining what accessories are to be worn with this new homemade creation.

Some women find that the less expensive patterns serve their purpose well. Other women doing their own sewing discover that after purchasing high grade fabrics the patterns do not do justice to either cloth or figure. The advice is to select an excellent pattern to avoid mediocre garments.

Speaking of government and business, the Secretary of the Treasury said recently that "we won't get anywhere fighting each other." Then how did we get where we are now?

STURGEON CITES NEED FOR A LABOR COURT

Peaceful Adjustment Difference Between Capital and Labor Needed

Jos. A. Sturgeon, publisher of The Delta Reporter, has offered a suggestion to improve relations between capital and labor in the United States with resulting benefit to both sides and less loss to the public as a whole.

Writing in the editorial columns of the Reporter, Sturgeon said:

"The need has been and remains for a government agency to act in the interests of all the people. The nation suffers when there is industrial strife.

"The people of this country ought to create a Supreme Court of labor and industry, to which all questions between capital and labor might be referred for final arbitrament and from which there would be no appeal.

"This court should have power to take over temporarily and manage the affairs of any industry in which there is a strike that ties it up, in order that public loss, to both labor and industry through suspension of work, may be prevented. After harmony has been affected, the plants could be returned to the original management."

Sturgeon's suggestion was made as a constructive alternative, following an attack on the National Labor Relations Board, charging that labor has not received the benefits which were intended from the board.

In the republican primaries September 13, Sturgeon will be a candidate for representative in Congress from the eleventh congressional district.

CROP OUTLOOK BEST IN ANY RECENT YEAR

Grains Far Ahead in Report by Michigan Crop Service

The outlook on August 1 for Michigan's general field crops, taken as a whole, was the best for that date in many years. Every one of the 11 field crops for which estimates are regularly made by the Michigan Co-operative Crop Reporting Service under the direction of Verne H. Church, Federal-State Statistician, was above average in condition and above the August 1 condition a year ago.

With but few exceptions the condition was even better on August 1 than a month earlier which is the reverse of the usual trend during July.

FEW MOTORISTS BUYING NEW AUTO PLATES

Deadline for Half-Year Licenses Expires on August 31st

With the deadline for use of the 1938 half-year plates less than three weeks away, motorists of Charlevoix are still delaying in purchasing their full year plates, Guy C. Eccleston, manager of the local automobile license bureau, announced today following a survey of sales to date.

In the past more plates have been sold in the last three-day period before the deadline, which is August 31, than in the whole period allotted for the sale of license plates at half price, and to avoid this situation local car owners are urged to purchase their plates as early as possible. They will benefit themselves by not having to stand in line and will also enable the state department to operate without hiring additional help.

Car owners were reminded by Mr. Eccleston that they must have their car titles with them when purchasing plates. No plates can be issued to motorists unless the car titles are presented at the bureau.

Before legislators grabbed their hats and rushed home, the governor obtained executive authority to trim appropriations. Hopes were entertained temporarily that the budget could be balanced.

In spreading public benefits here and there, distribution of wealth that is popular with the masses, the legislature managed to create new agencies and to load new responsibilities on the state government. Result: More jobs, bigger payroll.

According to records of Budget Director Harold Smith, state payrolls for the first 18 months of the present administration were $9,420,284 higher than in the comparable period of the previous administration. If our arithmetic is right, this sum is around 50 per cent of the anticipated deficit even on the expectation that the state would collect $104,000,000 taxes.

Recession Troubles

Of course, the legislature could not know that we would be plagued by another business decline—known as "the recession".

Instead of the state collecting $104,000,000 in revenues, it will be fortunate to get $90,000,000.

Relief rolls grew rapidly despite the aid of the federal government in assuming a major share through WPA and other work projects. The state's welfare appropriation for two years, starting July 1 of last year, is now at the vanishing point.

Quoting Governor Murphy in a press article: "The state is going to need between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000 between now and next March for welfare. It's a question of whether I should do something or nothing about it. I have decided to do something, but in so doing I am mindful of my friends' warnings that it may mean the end of me politically."

"Painless Taxes"

To raise $8,000,000 or more, the legislature must enact additional taxes.

It is the governor's view that these special levies should function only during the "emergency". And it is quite obvious that special taxes, if imposed a few months before election, should be as "painless" as possible—the hidden variety which you pay without being conscious of it.

A state income tax is "out", the governor says.

The sales tax of 3 per cent could be raised one-third to 4 cents, and even with the increased sales resistence, it would be reasonably easy to keep every unemployed family on the public relief rolls.

Michigan's gasoline tax is 3 cents, as compared with 4 cents in Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, New York, Wisconsin, and Minnesota—to mention a few of the nearby states. As Michigan received in 1936 a total of $25,735,000, the money-raising possibility is easy to understand.

The petroleum tax bill has grown to $1,200,000,000 a year from the $130,258,000 paid in 1922, an increase of more than 800 per cent as against a general tax increase of 21 per cent.

Effect of Session

What effect the legislative special session will have on the November election is a topic of lively speculation.

If a majority view of the democratic leaders is borne out, an extra session and new taxes will not help Murphy's chances for re-election. There is a movement under way, perhaps in anticipation of this reaction, to get President Roosevelt to include Michigan on his October speaking tour.

Republican legislators, many of whom are candidates for re-election, will try to overcome the handicap of absence from their bailiwicks before the primary by making fiery speeches and thus providing "front page copy" for the voters back home.

Some democratic strategy aces believe that Murphy's move is cleverly designed to put the Republican majority in the Senate "on the spot". Can the republicans afford to take an anti-relief position by voting against $8,000,000 or more for public welfare?

We surmise that the administration will have little difficulty in getting the welfare appropriation. Republican opposition will probably center on how the money is going to be raised.

Thus we come to the crux of the whole matter.

Who is going to foot the bill?

This is the real question today!

4-H CONTESTS ARE AID TO MICHIGAN YOUTHS

Nine national contests in which county and state champions will be selected in Michigan to compete for national recognition and prizes are announced by A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H club leader at Michigan State College.

These nine include 4-H dairy production demonstrations, farm records, farm accounting, girls' records, handicraft, meat animal livestock project, rural electrification project, social progress and style revues.

Handicraft comes to the front this year. County winners in Michigan previously have been selected and a state champion named each fall at the state fair in Detroit. Now the state champion will compete for national honors. Special gold medals are offered county winners, gold watches to state winners and four trips to the 17th club congress in Chicago this winter will go to sectional winners. National winners will receive scholarships from the Dutch Kruft corporation, Grand Rapids, Mich., for amounts of $300, $200 and $100.

Farm account awards comprise another set of prizes that total $8,500 in cash and merchandise in 805 placings. The International Harvester Company is making the prizes available. Montgomery Ward and Company is sponsoring gold medals for the girls' record contest. Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago, offers the awards and scholarships in the livestock records project.

For rural electrification winners the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company is offering prizes. The Radio Corporation of America is making awards available for the social progress contest and the Chicago Mail Order Company for the stylo revue winners.

AT THE MOVIES

Raye, Hope and Grable Star in Marine Comedy

Join the navy and see the girls!

That's a fair picture of a sailor's life, at least when the fleet's in, according to Paramount's new marine comedy, "Give Me a Sailor", which opens August 23 at the Palace Theatre. With Bob Hope, Martha Raye, Betty Grable and Jack Whiting playing the leading roles, the picture tells a rollicking story of two sailors who pursue the same girl but change their minds when the girl's Cinderella sister turns out to be the winner of a national beauty contest.

Maureen O'Sullivan, who played opposite the star in "A Yank at Oxford", is once again cast as Taylor's heroine in the new picture and an exceptional cast of prominent screen names includes Edward Arnold as a racketeer, Frank Morgan as Taylor's father, an ex-vaudeville "ham", William Gargan, Lionel Stander and Jane Wyman.

(7) Every person shall be considered a transient trader or transient merchant engaged temporarily in business as a used automobile dealer until the assessable portion of his wares and merchandise, and used automobiles has been assessed for taxation in the city of Charlevoix and the application for license shall state the full name, age and residence of the application, whether the applicant is an individual, co-partnership or corporation, and if a co-partnership, the names of all the partners, the site or place where such business is to be conducted, the length of time in which the applicant has been engaged in such business continuously prior to the date of the application and where so conducted, and shall state the date of the applicants license issued by the Secretary of State authorizing the conduct of such business in the state of Michigan.

(8) Every used automobile dealer licensed under the provisions of this ordinance shall at all times keep in his place of business named in the license issued to him, a record of the purchase and sale of all automobiles purchased or sold by such licensee at his location or place of business or dealt in by such licensee under said license and the name and address of the purchaser, together with all other records as are required by the secretary of state, or the laws of the state of Michigan, now in force or hereafter enacted, the same to be kept up to date and legibly written in the English language, and all such records shall be open and accessible to the inspection of any police officer of said city without the formality or necessity of legal process.

(9) Each licensee hereunder shall purchase from the secretary of state and have in possession prior to January 1st of each year not less than the minimum number of sets of dealers license plates and shall use such license plates upon all automobiles not registered in the name of such dealer or licensee, when used or driven upon a street in the city of Charlevoix.

(11) The licensee under any license issued under the provisions of this ordinance for authority to engage in the business of used automobile dealer whose sales of automobiles are financed by any finance company or other corporation or co-partnership shall immediately upon the seizure or re-possession of any automobile theretofore sold by such licensee, for any reason whatsoever, with or without legal process, report such action to the city police department or police office of the city. Provided, that this provision shall not apply when the re-possessed automobile is voluntarily delivered to the possessor by the owner thereof.

(12) The license of any licensee to engage in the business of used automobile dealer under the terms of this ordinance may be revoked by the city whenever the place of business used or occupied by the licensee is deemed unclean, insanitary, ill-kept or otherwise a menace to the public health or safety, or, if the place is an open lot, and when the automobiles are parked or kept nearer than ten feet to the boundary line of the street adjoining said lot or parcel of land. Such power of revocation shall be in addition to all other powers of revocation provided in said ordinance.

(13) Unless it clearly appears in the context that a different meaning is intended, the following terms shall have the meaning defined by this section of said ordinance.

"Dealer in new automobiles" shall mean a person, firm or corporation having a contract or agreement with any manufacturer or distributor of new automobiles for the conduct or operation of a new automobile agency located in the city of Charlevoix and which shall be actively engaged in the sale of new automobiles in said city.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE TWENTY-NINTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT OF MICHIGAN

During the period of my service in the office of State Senator my chief object has been to promote the welfare of the people of Northern Michigan.

This Twenty-Ninth District is the most beautiful and extensive resort area in this country and we who live in it know that our prosperity, success and happiness depends to a very large extent on the development of its natural resources. We are therefore vitally concerned in the hastening of the completion of trunk line paved highways into this area so that the district may be made more readily accessible to the tourist. We are vitally interested in the restoration and protection of the wild life in our forests, and the fish in our lakes and streams. This is necessary in order to provide the attractions and diversions demanded by the tourist visitor.

Such development of this area is not alone a benefit to those directly engaged in the tourist business, but also the farmer in providing a market for his products, and to the merchant who must supply the tourist wants.

During my service in the State Senate I have devoted much time and effort in urging the development of the assets of this district and if I am re-elected I shall continue to urge and work for a consistent development of this district as a resort area, and to get behind every measure that will benefit the people of Northern Michigan.

Harry told him it was on the end gate. Imagine Harry's surprise when he found out that in his hurry, he had forgotten the end gate—also his consternation when he was handed a ticket. Justice Fowler closed the incident with a fine of $1 and costs of $3.40. It appears the "law is the law" as far as the state troopers are concerned, with no allowances, whatsoever, and the moral in this incident is: "Haste makes waste". No foolin'.

It was always the belief of this writer that a city attorney's duties were to give legal advice and service—when necessary and requested. Have found out differently. Past experiences have provided instances when the city attorney's services were not sought, even when required by the city council (remember the inference at the Pythian minstrel show last winter), and more recent experiences whereby the council was given an extra heavy dose without solicitation. Which all goes to prove that human nature is a peculiar thing and you live and learn.

A girl in South Carolina says that she is grateful to President Roosevelt because he has doubled her wages. She forgets that he had cut the dollar in half.

Was pressing a customer rather hard for a delinquent account and after about the third crack at the fellow got a "raise" which was mighty amusing to us and will be also to you. Here it is:

Dear Sir:

In reply to your request to send a check I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank account makes it almost impossible. My shattered financial condition is due to federal laws, state laws, county laws, city laws, corporation laws, liquor laws, mother-in-laws, brother-in-laws, sister-in-laws, and out-laws.

Through these laws, I am compelled to pay a business tax, amusement tax, head tax, school tax, food tax, gas tax, light tax, water tax, sales tax, liquor tax, carpet tax, income tax, furniture tax and excise tax; even my brains are taxed. I am required to get a business license, car license, truck license, liquor license, not to mention a marriage license and a dog license.

I am also required to contribute to every society and organization which the genius of man is capable of bringing to life—to women's relief, unemployment relief, and the Gold Diggers' relief. Also to every hospital and charitable institution in the city, including the Red Cross, the Black Cross, the Purple Cross and Double-Cross.

For my own safety, I am required to carry life insurance, property insurance, liability insurance, burglary insurance, accident insurance, business insurance, earthquake insurance, tornado insurance, unemployment insurance, old-age insurance and fire insurance.

My business is so governed so that it is no easy matter for me to find out who owns it. I am inspected, expected, suspected, disrespected, rejected, dejected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, summoned, fined, commanded, and compelled, until I provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire, or hope of the human race.

Simply because I refuse to donate to something or other, I am boycotted, talked about, lied about, held up and held down, and robbed until I am almost ruined.

I can tell you honestly that except for the miracle that happened, I could not enclose this check. The wolf that comes to my door nowadays just had pups in my kitchen, and I sold them—and here is the money.

Sympathetically yours,
A. POOR REPUBLICAN.

MRS. SAM ALEXANDER IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Beloved Ironton Woman Succumbed Saturday — Funeral Tuesday

The sudden death of Mrs. Sam Alexander Saturday morning brought to an end the life of one of the best known and best beloved women in the Ironton community. Although she had lived most of her life in this small country village, her loss will be mourned not only in Ironton, but by a large circle of friends in Charlevoix, East Jordan, and Boyne City, and also by the summer neighbors at Ironton and Sequanota, who come from many parts of the United States.

To an unusual degree she has always been regarded by her friends as the ideal home-maker. Her beautiful, well ordered home was a model of simple good taste. The round of household duties seemed never to spell drudgery for her; in her hands they became domestic arts to be practiced with pride and high devotion.

In the church and community, she had, in spite of her retiring, almost timid nature, provided leadership of the highest order. When things were to be done, she could always be relied on for intelligent and enthusiastic cooperation. She had joined the Ironton church when she was only eighteen; she was one of the few remaining charter members. All her life she had worked for it tirelessly; she worked for it until the very end. It is a strange, but appropriate circumstance that two of the days in the last week of her life were spent in happy preparation for the church bazaar and in presiding in her gracious, dignified way at the sale of lovely things her hands had wrought and the hands of the other women whom her tireless spirit had inspired to this service for the church. Many will always remember her as they saw her that last Wednesday, her face bright with just pride in what she and her friends had accomplished.

It is unusual for a woman so domestic in her tastes, so self-effacing in all her ways, to win for herself a position of such influence and to be so universally loved in a community. This was due not alone to her efficiency, but to the tireless way she gave herself to her friends. There was nothing she would not do for those who needed her. The annual Christmas party which she always has given in her home for the women from miles around has become a tradition to be told from mother to daughter for years to come. Those who knew her, and especially those who knew her in the long perspective of years will enshrine her in their memories as one of the strong, fine, beautiful characters modeled and fashioned by life in our village.

The narrative of her life is simple. She was born Harriet Frances Williams at Glen Meyer, Ontario, December 7, 1868. She was one of the four children of Nelson and Mary Williams. When she was 18, at the death of her mother, she came to Ironton to live with her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Purvis. Except for a short period when she lived in Lansing with another aunt, Mrs. Lou Bement, her whole life had been spent in Ironton. On January 15, 1884, she was married to Samuel R. Alexander, who with their two children, Ross of Ironton, and Florence Barnum of Lake City, survive her. Four grandchildren, her twin sister, Mrs. George Lennox of Port Huron, and her other sister, Mrs. George Glados of Charlevoix, also survive her.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. G. P. Parker in the See Funeral Home, Tuesday at two p. m.—Contributed.

NEW ORDINANCE REGULATES USED CAR SALE

Unreliable, Transient Dealers Held to High License Fee

Following the policy of many cities throughout Michigan, the city council has passed an ordinance regulating the operations of used car dealers within the city.

Ordinance 170, regulating the issuing of licenses, is amended by Ordinance 193 which provides a license fee of $1 for dealers in new car through sale, exchange and turn-in; fee of $100 for dealers not selling new cars but having a regularly established used automobile business; fee of $300 per year or fraction thereof for temporary, transient used car dealers. Numerous other provisions cover the latter type of dealer.

The ordinance is designed to protect the public from unreliable dealers, and locally established dealers from the transient competition.

BALCH AGAIN HEAD OF BELVEDERE CLUB

NAMED PRESIDENT SEVENTH STRAIGHT YEAR

Other 1938 Officers Re-Elected by Board of Trustees—Club Observes 60th Anniversary

Honored thusly for the seventh consecutive year, James B. Balch of Kalamazoo, has been named president of the Belvedere Club by its board of trustees.

Other officers re-elected were: vice-president, Charles B. Fox, St. Louis, Missouri; secretary-treasurer, Charles O. Roemler, Indiannpolis, Ind.; warden and assistant treasurer, Edward J. Edwards, Charlevoix.

The recent annual meeting of the Belvedere Club, Charlevoix's largest summer home association, observed as well the 60th anniversary of its founding. Information of historical interest was contained in Mr. Balch's address, which is quoted, in part, as follows:

"This is something more than an annual meeting of our Club. It is the 60th anniversary of an orgnni-zntion that was first known as the Chnrlevoix Summer Resort Association, founded in 1878 by a group of Kalamazoo men chosen at the Baptist convention of the preceding year to act upon an offer of a grant of land made by the citizens of Charlevoix to the Baptists for their use as a summer resort.

"This offer consisted of a proffer of 25 acres of land purchased hy the citizens of Charlevoix from a Mr. Stockman, the price paid being the magnificent sum of $600. The offer wns conditioned by a proviso that the beneficiaries should agree to spend $500 a year for the next two years in improvement.

"The inspirntion for this generous offer was not because of any particular interest in Baptists as such, hut the discerning citizens of Charlevoix wished to compete with their sister cities of Petoskey, whose business was being grently benefited by the Methodist camp meeting in full swing there, and Trnverse City, where the Presbyterian Summer Home was performing a similar service for thnt city.

VOTERS NEED NOT DISCLOSE CHOICE

NEW ELECTION RULES IN USE AT PRIMARY

Two Ballots Will Be Presented to Voters, But Only One Should Be Marked

The secretary of state, who according to law is the chief election official, calls attention to Act No. 37, P. A. of 1937, which provides for a secret ballot at partisan primaries throughout the stnte. Its purpose is to eliminnte the necessity of an elector disclosing his or her party preference, as has been the requirement heretofore.

Under the old law, when a voter visited the polling place to vote in n partisan primary election, the clerk, after locating the voter's name and address in the poll book and determining that you were a qualified voter, asked which party ticket was preferred and gave you the ticket or ballot requested. Under the new law, the voter, after being certified by the election clerk, will be handed a set of ballots, each bearing the same number and stapled together in the upper left hand corner. The election inspector who hands out the ballots, instructs the voter to vote one of the ballots only. The voter takes these ballots into the voting compartment and marks the party ticket preferred. After marking the ballot the voter detaches it from the other ballots and folds it with the perforated or numbered corner outside. The voter hands both ballots, folded the same and separately, to the election inspector, designnting the voted ballot by saying, "I've marked this one", "I voted this one", or by some other indicnting words. The inspector will then place the marked ballot in the ballot box marked "Voted Ballots" and the blank ballots in the box marked "Blank Ballots". At no time will anyone be able to tell the party affiliation of the voter.

BEACH HOTEL BLAZE CAUSES BIG DAMAGE

Upper East and North Wings Gutted in Blaze Wednesday Morning

Fire starting on the roof of the Charlevoix Beach hotel from chimney sparks caused several thousand dollars damage early Wednesday morning.

Guests were forced from the hotel as the blazo gutted the upper east and portion of the north wings. Despite a high wind, firemen checked the flames from spreading through the large structure and a greater share of damage was caused by water seeping into the lower floors.

This mystery-melo-drama by Chodorov, one of Hollywood's most successful playwrites nnd producers, was first produced on Brondway by William Brady. AN EDITORIAL

On Tuesday, September 6, Charlevoix taxpayers will be presented at a special election with a proposal to bond the city to finance a proposed electric light system extension.

We again urge our readers, who are taxpayers and eligible to vote, to approve the bond issue.

The necessity for added equipment and improvement of the municipal electric system has not changed since a similar proposal was previously presented—in fact, the necessity is even greater. In proof of this statement we would like to inform our readers that within the past ten days the peak load upon the plant's generating units reached 815 k. w. on several occasions. The total generating capacity of the entire system is around 850 k. w. Thus the consumption has reached within 35 k. w. of capacity.

The situation may be summed up in the fact that Charlevoix's electric light system has no auxiliary equipment which may be utilized in case of a break-down of

The Man Without a Barrel!

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

Humorously called "Michigan's greatest show", the two-ring state legislature will convene here next Monday (August 29), to appropriate between eight and ten million dollars for relief.

The main ring, the house of representatives, is expected to go through its tricks to the crack af Whip-master George Schroeder. In the smaller ring, the senate, the administration may encounter trouble in the tie strength of democrats and republicans. Leo J. Nowicki, lieutenant governor, will preside with customary independence and dignity.

The special session is not expected to last more than three days. Coming so close to the primary election, it cannot drag along much more than this, as many legislators are candidates for re-election and are busy campaigning for votes.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Health Dept. to Distribute Free Pneumonia Serum

Michigan launched its first concerted state-wide attack upon pneumonia this week with the announcement of State Health Commissioner Don W. Gudakunst that free pneumonia serum will be available to all physicians treating patients with type 1 or 2 pneumonia.

Following three years of study the state health department laboratory has developed a safe and effective serum for these two most prevalent types of pneumonia, the commissioner announced. "Early medical attention, early laboratory typing of the disease and early administration of the proper serum will cut the death rate from these two most common types of lobar pneumonia in half."

Nine serum distributing stations are already in operation at Detroit, Grand Rapids, Pontiac, Saginaw, Lansing, Grand Haven, Muskegon, Houghton and Marquette. Additional distributing stations will be established in 13 other southern Michigan counties just as soon as local arrangement can be made, Dr. Gudakunst declared. The entire program is expected to be well under way before the pneumonia season this fall.

Serum distribution centers must be correlated with local laboratory facilities for determining the type of serum needed by the patient, the commissioner explained. There are 74 such typing stations available at present, but most of these are located below the Muskegon-Bay City line. The health department is encouraging the development of similar facilities in the northern counties.

"The state-distributed serum is not a cure for-all types of pneumonia," Dr. Gudakunst explained. "It is effective in treating only types 1 and 2. Approximately one-half of all the cases of lobar pneumonia occur in this group, however. Serums for certain other types may be obtained from commercial firms."

Free—A Color Picture of "Dutch" Clark

By the time the "Charlevoix Courier" arrives home to you and the many other friends of Camp Charlevoix in Michigan and surrounding states any news we might give here will already have been carried by the camper sons. We think, however, that a list of the names of the boys who received honorable recognition in the various activities at camp will be a good resume of what the boys have developed most in the way of sports, crafts and arts.

These names were read off to the boys at the final Council Ring ceremony held Monday evening. Always impressive, this ceremony held in our specially constructed Indian council ring was a particularly happy one for most of the campers who were mentioned by more than one director of activities.

AT THE MOVIES

Irving Berlin's Smash Production; "Alexander's Ragtime Band" Full of Great Melodies and Moments

"Alexander's Ragtime Band" is greater than they said it was.

Add story to cast and direction and the 20th Century-Fox film which opens Sept. 1 for three days at the Palace Theatre amounts to a picture that for years to come will be remembered as a turning point—a new trend—the utilization of memorable melodies in a dramatic story of the screen's mightiest moment.

Great Berlin Score

The Berlin score is, of course, without previous or subsequent parallel. It took the Shakespeare of syncopation 27 years to write it, and every one of the 28 songs, used wholly or partially in the picture, topped the hit parade of its era.

King's Direction

King's direction has that touch of perfection that gives every scene, particularly the romantic phases, the finish of a masterpiece. Alice Faye never was more beautiful nor did she ever sing or perform with greater effect. Tyrone Power and Don Ameche are equally tremendous in vividly contrasting portrayals. Ethel Merman, who comes into the story later, handles a role with her usual spirit. Jack Haley and Chick Chandler lend a pleasant comedy touch as members of the band and later as soldier pals of Tyrone's.

Others In Cast

Jean Hersholt and Helen Westley take efficient care of roles as the music teacher and young Power's aunt. Paul Hurst is a standout in his part as a friendly bartender and John Carradine delivers a fine portrayal as a taxi driver. There, too, are fine portrayals by Wally Vernon, Ruth Terry, Douglas Fowley and Eddie Collins.

PROBATE CONVENTION HERE AGAIN IN 1940

Charlevoix Fails in Bid for Next Year But Lands Next Meeting

Charlevoix representntives attending the annual convention of the Michigan Association of Probate Judges at Ludington, failed in their bid for the 1939 meeting, but were practically promised the 1940 convention.

Following customary procedure, the convention chose the upper peninsula for next year's meeting. It has been the policy to hold the meeting two years in the lower and one in the upper peninsula, thus next year's meeting will be across the straits.

Gordon Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce, extended Charlevoix's invitation.

The 1938 Michigan State Fair, scheduled to open August 27 and close September 11 at Detroit, is not only going to be "bigger and better" than the state has ever enjoyed, but, it is the ambition of Frank N. Isbey, general manager, to make it the "Nation's Greatest State Fair". That is the slogan that has been adopted and every member of the executive staff is bending all efforts to see that this goal is achieved.

There will be more stars of the stage, screen and radio; more free attractions; more brass bands; more outstanding features of an educational nature; and more facilities for the general comfort of visitors than ever before at any Michigan Fair.

A visitor gate of 800,000 to 1,000,000 persons is expected this year.

LOUIS B. MORROW BELVEDERE GOLF CHAMPION

Won First Leg on Coveted Pingree Trophy in Finals Friday

Louis B. Morrow, Memphis, Tenn., the medalist and favorite, won a leg on the Pingree trophy, coveted prize of the annual Belvedere golf tournament, concluded Friday.

Topping a field of eight in the championship flight, Morrow duplicated last year's performance by winning over Charles S. Fox, St. Louis, Mo., in the finals. Last year he defeated John Knight to win the championship flight and was prevented by an injury from completing in a play-off for the President's trophy won by Willard McGuire, who retired the cup with his third win.

The women's championship went to Mrs. L. S. Bisbee of Jackson, winner over Mrs. Russell Lortz, St. Louis, Mo. Mrs. Bisbee won the women's class A flight a year ago.

Other flight winners were:

Women's class A, Dorothy Wright; men's class A—Charles Upson, Cincinnati, O.; men's class B—A. P. Leland, St. Louis, Mo.; men's consolation—E. C. Orr, Cincinnati, O.; women's consolation—Mrs. J. R. Ingham, Buffalo, N. Y.

INSTALL WIRELESS TRANSMISSION SET

It is quite probable that if tests to be conducted in the near future with the transmitting equipment installed here are successful, larger and more powerful equipment will be set up. The station will operate on 2700 kilocycles. No regular schedule for tests has been instituted at the present time.

Installation of wireless transmitting equipment is expected to greatly facilitate the mobility and effectiveness of coast guard patrols.

Now is the time to Re-Tire. For the next ten days we will allow 22% off list prices on all Standard and DeLuxe Tires and Tubes. D-X Service, 200 Antrim street.—Adv. 34tl.

DEADLINE FOR HALF-YEAR PLATES NEARS

Use of Black and White License Illegal After August 31st

Use of the black and white colored half-year auto license plates will be illegal after midnight August 31, 1938 advises Leon D. Case, secretary of state. All motor vehicles operating in the state after that date must be equipped with the green and black colored full year plates which will be legal to use until Februnry 28, 1939.

The secretary of state points out that he has no discretionery power to extend the date permitting the use of half-year plates beyond August 31, 1938, the time limit having been estnblished by statute.

The secretary of state estimates that approximately 450,000 Michigan motorists are still operating their cars on half-year plates.

DEER CENSUS DRIVES ARE NOW UNDER WAY

Conservation Dept. After Statistics on Doer Population

While deer census drives now underway monthly in four different sections of the state are intended primarily to produce information indicating the number of animals per square mile another check on the herd is provided through the year by observations made by conservation officers on their regular patrols.

The census drives which are made with the aid of CCC crews working under the direction of department officers and game division investigations will be continued each month through the rest of the year.

The regular deer reports of the officers are believed to give a better indication of the sex ratio of the herd. Last year the reports indicated a ratio of one buck to every five does in the lower peninsuln and one buck to every 2.51 does in the upper peninsuln.

On the basis of the same counts, the ratio of does to bucks over the entire state wns figured at 3.78 to one.

Slightly more than 13 per cent of all of the deer seen and identified by the officers were bucks, 49.49 per cent were does nnd 37.39 per cent were fawns. In the upper peninsula, the percentage of bucks ranged slightly higher of the total deer seen and identified than in the lower peninsula.

BALANCE
in bank management

DEPOSITORS rightly expect their bank to be conservative, for the sake of safety. Borrowers naturally desire liberal policies which will enable them to secure funds readily.

Management must strike a balance between these two points of view. The degree of success it achieves will determine the bank's value to its community.

The management of this bank will continue to consider the best interests of all—depositors, borrowers and the community—in guiding our services into channels of maximum usefulness.

Scenic Week-end Trips at Low Cost—No. 6

This week-end why not take a motor trip? You can go so easily by car at low cost per mile to at least one of the pleasure spots described that you should make up your mind to enjoy the scenic wonders of your state.

To estimate the expense of gasoline and oil, just refer to the directions given below the map at right.*

Southern Newaygo County—No. 1

Winding through this region of wooded hills and sparkling lakes is the mighty Muskegon River—the canoeist and fisherman's paradise. River trips in quest of the smallmouth bass, rainbow and brown trout start from Newaygo and Croton, where boats and guides may be obtained. Splendid accommodations are available in the heart of this picturesque playground. Take Mich. 82 or 37.

Charlevoix County—No. 2

In this popular vacationland you may enjoy the social side of resort life with its more conventional amusements, including tennis, golf, boating, and swimming, or you may camp and hike or join the hosts of fishermen, or vie for the biggest steelhead trout or largemouth bass. Hospitable East Jordan and Boyne City are in the center of the region. Take U.S. 31, or Mich. 66 or 75.

Oakland County—No. 3

While close to the most populous sections of the state, this region of 500 lakes and scores of golf courses near modern summer resorts is an ideal spot for a week-end vacation. Boating, fishing, swimming, and riding keep the outdoor enthusiast constantly entertained, and eleven state parks offer facilities for the picnicker and camper. Take U.S. 10 through the heart of the county.

How to Estimate Your Driving Costs

Computed by Standard Oil Company (Ind.)

First cut out the scale along the dotted line and place it on the map with the "starting point" on the town nearest your home. Then swing the scale around until its edge touches the place you wish to visit.

From the figures on the scale you can determine within about 10% what the drive will cost you. To get the cost of a round trip simply double the figure. The amounts shown will be correct for the great majority of cars, although naturally the cost will be slightly more for the largest cars.

S'MATTER POP—Casual Sled Run With One Turn

By C. M. PAYNE

atorium and revamping of the state housing act are due to occupy the legislators' attention, according to the governor's official call, yet it is conceded that there will be several interesting sideshows to provide front page copy for campaigning legislators.

For example, take the appointment of Richard T. Frankensteen, ousted UAW vice-president, to the state welfare board.

Frankensteen was removed from the UAW board after Homer Martin fired him for alleged communistic favoritism and activity. State Senator Robert Burns, Detroit Democrat, has demanded that the governor relieve Frankensteen of the appointment. At Jackson the American Legion post went on record in protest.

Republican Feud

All may appear serene on the surface, but both parties in Michigan are having "family rows".

Among the Republicans it is the Toy-Fitzgerald feud which is becoming hotter every day. Fitzgerald charges his opponent as being anti-labor, while Toy declares that "McNaylism" is the real issue. When newspapermen phoned the Grand Rapids republican leader to give his views, he professed ignorance about it all and said that he had seen Toy only a few weeks before at the office of the Ford Motor company—a sly attempt to connect Toy with the automobile manufacturer.

Comstock Haunts

Except for the Nowicki-Schroeder contest for lieutenant governor, the Democratic primary is going to be painless.

For a while it looked as if Governor Murphy would have opposition, Murray D. Van Wagoner, highway commissioner, was on the fence. Former Gov. William A. Comstock, Mayor George Welsh of Grand Rapids, and others tried to push Van Wagoner into the arena.

Even Nowicki himself was cool towards the governor, due to the latter's alleged favoritism to the CIO.

Van Wagoner finally declined to make the sacrifice. Comstock then announced he would run against Murphy as a Jeffersonian Democrat. He hasn't the slightest idea of winning, but he hopes fondly to get enough votes to defeat Murphy.

Yes, both parties have their troubles.

One-Man State Fair

Michigan's state fair at Detroit, a 16-day event which opens this Saturday, August 27), continues to be remarkable in more ways than one.

Frank Isbey, general manager, accepts no salary.

He examines every expenditure whether it be for a nickel pencil or for the $5,000 neon sign on Woodward avenue. He makes all decisions of importance.

Last year the fair attendance increased over 100 per cent. This year, with an extra week's showing, the state event may establish an all-time record. Isbey, a Detroiter, goes in for entertainment in a big way—dance bands, radio and movie stars, Hollywood girls and the rest. A novel attraction this year will be "The Holy Land", an animated replica of Jerusalem.

Soaring Gliders

Miles of sand beach and steady winds from the west have combined to create picturesque sand dunes along the east shores of Lake Michigan.

Next Sunday at Frankfort the dunes will be the scene of a national gliding meet, sponsored by the American Soaring Society. Motorless airplanes will soar into the skies, borne aloft on westerly winds as they rise in crossing the dunes. Distance flights are achieved by using a succession of updrafts.

It's a brand new sporting attraction for Michigan.

MEATS AT FAIR TO DEPICT VALUE

Are there vitamins in meat?

What is a pin bone steak deluxe?

Can one gain or lose on a diet built around meat?

Visitors to the Michigan State Fair at Detroit, August 27 to September 11, will find the answers to these and many other "meaty" questions at an attractive and educational meat exhibit.

The exhibit will be known as "Meat Cuts on Parade". It will be installed by the National Live Stock and Meat Board, in cooperation with the Michigan State College and the state fair management. Considering the galaxy of new and old styles in beef, pork and lamb cuts, the exhibit has been well-named, according to its sponsors.

Meat cuts for every purse and for every purpose will dominate the exhibit, it is said. They will range from the pin bone steak de luxe to plate boiling beef; from Frenched pork loin roast to ham shank; and from English lamb chops to lamb neck slicese.

There will be meat cuts for breakfast, luncheon and dinner; cuts which may be prepared in a hurry when unexpected guests arrive; cuts for the Thanksgiving feast, the Christmas dinner and other special occasions; cuts suitable for the diet of the "would-be-thins" and for those who wish to gain extra pounds.

Striking evidence that meat cuts have gone "stream-lined", will be brought out in the various displays. Meat is being sold in smaller packages than even 10 to 15 years ago, but housewives order it oftener, according to the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

One phase of the exhibit will bring out thought-provoking facts concerning the food value of meat. It will be shown as a food which builds red blood, strong bones and healthy teeth, and which helps to prevent anemia, pellagra and other ailments.

Experience is the best teacher; unfortunately it is the most expensive.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mallancamp

Forestry Projects Receive Emphasis

During the last year and a half considerable activity has taken place in woodlot improvement. Already there are approximately nine demonstration areas in the county where woods have been properly thinned, where diseased trees have been removed, and where other management practices have been adopted.

This spring six planting demonstrations were featured with the cooperation of the Wolverine CCC camp. In company with W. Ira Hull, extension forester, all demonstrations were visited on August 17th, 18th and 19th. It was found that the per cent of trees still living varied from 30 per cent up to 90 per cent. Four of the six planting demonstrations had 90 per cent or more living trees while two others had only from 25 to 70 per cent.

Another interesting feature relative to woodlots is the demonstration at Henry Korthase's. Five years ago an area was thinned and the trees numbered. The actual diameter of each tree was secured and recorded. Now, after five years, these same trees have been measured again which means that the growth factor can now be obtained between the trees that were thinned and those where no practices have been adopted. Within a few days it is hoped that the results can be announced as it will be of great interest to all woodlot owners.

50 Charlevoix County Farmers Keeping Farm Records

The last few days have been largely devoted to making summer visits to each farmer who is keeping a farm account book and who has completed the 1937 fiscal year. C. O. May, specialist in farm management, spent five days accompanied by the local county agent in these visits.

From 45 minutes to one hour was spent at each place. The most important value attached to this project is the fact that the farmer has a very accurate and complete summary of the previous year's business to analyze. Such important factors associated with successful farm management as income per cow, income per hen, income from crops, and efficiency factors were discussed. As a result of having this summary it is then possible to make changes all of which add to the income of the farm.

This county can be justly proud of the number of interested farmers who are keeping farm records. Something like ten have already completed nine successive years. Many more have five or more records to their credit.

Cherry Growers to Have Three Important Meetings

This year cherry growers have had their troubles. In the first place, many trees have lost their leaves from leaf spot. Secondly, many orchards have been condemned because of the presence of the cherry fruit fly. Thirdly, the spring frosts ruined the production for the year.

Many growers have requested that extension help be given them in solving these problems. It is felt that no better time exists to discuss the cherry future than right now, so plans have been made to have specialists E. J. Rasmussen and Professor Ray Hutson, of the Michigan State College, to help us.

A big meeting will be held in the East Jordan Community Room on Tuesday night, August 30. On the following day two field meetings will be conducted so that all cherry men may have the opportunity of seeing the field conditions. The first meeting will be at Eveline Orchards Wednesday morning at ten o'clock, August 31. The second at John Noble's on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. The importance attached to these three meetings I am sure will warrant your attendance. In fact, each grower should find out the type of spray to use and the proper orchard management to make a comeback for next year. By all means attend the night meeting and one of the field meetings.

"Christ Jesus" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 28.

The Golden Text, (Mic. 5:2), is "Thou Beth-lehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isa. 9:6): "For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 583): "Christ, The divine manifestation of God, which comes to the flesh to destroy incarnate error."

A BUSINESS MAN IN POLITICS TO TAKE POLITICS OUT OF BUSINESS

FRED BRADLEY

Republican Candidate

CONGRESS, 11th DISTRICT

A candidate of liberal mind; a business man of experience acquainted with the needs of state and nation; in close touch with the affairs of the Eleventh Congressional District; young, aggressive and without political or business entanglements or influences of any kind; he represents the type of candidate which our district needs in Washington. Mr. Bradley has an excellent background and a grasp of public affairs that is unusual. He is devoting his entire time to this campaign and if nominated and elected will devote his entire time to the duties of the office.

We present to the people of this district a candidate of unqualified ability, with real understanding and helpful co-operative ideas. He is pledged to represent no special interests, no special organizations, but the people of the district as a whole, recognizing the rights of all.

AN EDITORIAL

any of the present generating units. Current consumption has nearly reached the capacity of the system. The diesel engine, our largest generating unit, is now being operated with a cracked cylinder sleeve, which may cause a shut-down at any time. The operators go about their work daily with their fingers crossed, praying for the best.

Charlevoix cannot afford to be in such a position at the height of the resort season. There is but one remedy—install additional equipment.

The taxpayers of this city have never before been offered a more attractive proposition. Pending approval of a bond issue of $70,000 is an outright PWA grant of 45% of the cost of contemplated additions and improvements—an outright gift of $56,690. The program outlined will place the entire electric light system in A-1 condition.

It is surprising and to be deplored that opposition to the proposal is coming from individuals prompted purely by personal reasons. They have circulated rumors which are unfounded and untrue, and which we feel it a public duty to refute.

The first is regarding general obligation bonds. The city council acted for economy and to safeguard public interests in deciding to issue general obligation bonds. Revenue bonds would require granting a franchise, providing foreclosure and receivership operation of the electric light system in case of default; seggregation of plant earnings and handling of the earnings by a trust while the indebtedness is being retired, with its subsequent high cost to taxpayers. Trust companies do not provide these services for nothing. Voters only recently voted down a franchise proposal.

In regard to labor for construction: The PWA regulations require preference be given persons from the public relief rolls (where such persons are available and qualified to perform the work). It by no means indicates that outside help will be brought in. This matter is up to the contractor, whose actions will be governed by city authorities. Wages will be the prevailing scale now paid for the different types of labor in this district.

We urge taxpayers to consider, as we do ourselves, the welfare of their city above all other matters—personal or otherwise. Be sure to vote—and vote "YES".

"On Junè 21, 1878, the first regular meeting of the Charlevoix Summer Resort Association was held at Kalamazoo, where the Charlevoix offer was accepted, a constitution adopted and officers elected. The secretary's report for that year contains the following account of progress made: 'It is the purpose of the Association to fence and improve the grounds. Five cottages and a good boarding house have been commenced and all our builders not otherwise engaged are busy with their construction. They have a new well in successful operation. The land is divided into lots 50x100 feet to be leased, not sold. Any person, not objectionable (Baptists or good people of other denomination), may become a member by the payment of $10, when he has the privilege of selecting any lot not chosen. There may be a small annual assessment not to exceed $2 unless authnrized by two-thirds of the members present at a meeting called for that purpose. Persons holding lots ore entitled to half fare on the railroad for themselves and members of their families. Good board at from $5 to $7 a week may be secured at the boarding house.'

"From such simple heginnings did the Charlevoix Summer Resort for Baptists and other good people grow into the present luxurious Belvedere Club."

It is interesting to note that the Club now contains 91 summer homes, hotel, boat houses, casino, wonderful bathing beach, roads, etc. Much has happened in the 60 years since its founding.

CHARLEVOIX SCHOOL AID IS NOT REDUCED

Local School Not Listed in Reductions Announced by Gov. Murphy

Charlevoix public schools were not included in the reduction in state school aid announced last Friday by Gov. Frank Murphy.

While Petoskey, Traverse City and Cheboygan schools were given cuts ranging from five to twelve thousand, Charlevoix happily was not included in the list. In all, ovar a million and a half dollars was clipped from the amounts expected by Michigan schools. Some of the larger schools were given increases.

BARNARD LOSES HIGHLY RESPECTED WOMAN

Mrs. Clarence Beattie Died Last Tuesday After Long Illness

The Barnard district lost a respected woman last Tuesday in the death of Mrs. Clarence Beattie, who succumbed at Charlevoix Hospital following an extended illness.

Funeral services were conducted Friday from the See Funeral Home by Mrs. H. J. Pulsipher. Burial was at Brookside cemetery.

COUNTY PICNIC PROGRAM READY

ANNUAL LABOR DAY EVENT AT WHITING PARK MONDAY

Softball Games, 4-H Club Exhibits, Sports and Contests Are Among Entertainment Features

(By B. C. Mellencamp)

Present indications point to one of the biggest county picnics ever held in the county. Already folks are discussing the big day and making their plans to be bring their lunch baskets and enjoy the day.

The program will start promptly at one o'clock with a long list of sports for both young and old. These sports as well as the other events of the day are under the supervision of the WPA recreational leaders of the county in charge of Norman Ance, district leader.

Promptly at 1:30 the first baseball game will start with Walloon Lake pitted against Barnard. Both teams are composed largely of young farm lads. This will be a hardball game. The second ball game will find the Charlevoix Independents out to defeat the East Jordan Independents in a softball game. Both towns have taken a deep interest in softball and the game should prove a thriller.

At about two o'clock five boxing bouts will be staged on the platform. The Boyne City boys featuring Eddie Kujawski and Frankie Whitman will take on some of the Wolverine Camp champs. These bouts should be well worth your time to attend the picnic.

COURIER COOKING SCHOOL NEXT WEEK

TWO-DAY PROGRAM, SEPTEMBER 9 AND 10, WILL BE HELD AT THE SCHOOL GYMNASIUM

Mrs. Helene Sailer, Recognized as One of the Most Capable Cooking School Demonstrators, Will Have Charge of the Event — Merchants Are Cooperating

Preparations for the Charlevoix Courier Cooking School are going rapidly ahead with every indication that the school this year will be one of the best ever to be held in Charlevoix.

The Cooking School will be held next Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday afternoon in the high school gymnasium. Afternoon sessions are from 2 to 4 and the evening session from 7:30 to 9 o'clock. It is open to every woman in Charlevoix and vicinity and a special invitation is extended to summer visitors.

Many fine gifts will be distributed during the three sessions but none will be given children of school age.

Mrs. Helene Sailer has again been obtained by the Courier to conduct all three programs. Mrs. Sailer hardly needs any introduction to the ladies of Charlevoix, having conducted the programs for the Courier on three other occasions.

Displays of merchandise sold and distributed by Charlevoix merchants will be on display and many items will be placed at Mrs. Sailer's disposal for use in the programs.

Mrs. Sailer has announced she will not prepare any expensive dishes unless specifically requested and will avoid dishes that are difficult for the housewife to prepare because of special ingredients or method.

She will specialize in the dishes using ordinary food in appetizing ways that bring variety to every day menus.

The school is sponsored by the Courier in cooperation with the local merchants in an effort to bring home to the community not only the helpful advise of Mrs. Sailer but also to show the modern time and money saving devices that Charlevoix merchants have to offer their patrons.

SHUFFLE BOARD MEET DRAWS LARGE ENTRY

Field of 80 Began Play at Lake Michigan Courts Tuesday Afternoon

An entry exceeding all expectations—around 80 players in four divisions — began competition in the first annual Charlevoix shuffle board tournament Tuesday afternoon.

The division for boys under 16 years topped the field with 40 entries, the balance being divided by the other division for boys and two divisions for girls.

Play is being conducted afternoons on the court ut the Lake Michigan municipal bathing beach under the direction of Ed. Radle, WPA recreational director. William Driggett is tournament referee. The tournament is an elimination affair, with winners of 2 out of 3 games of 50 points advancing. It is anticipated finals will be played Saturday.

The tournament is sponsored by the Board of Commerce, which is providing a trophy for the winner. The field is composed of both local and summer residents and the number of entrants is an indication of the high interest being manifest in this sport. Many shuffle board experts are included in the field, promising high caliber play as the meet advances.

TWO 1939 SUMMER CRUISES PLANNED

GEORGIAN BAY LINE OFFICIALS HERE THIS WEEK

Possibility of Making Charlevoix Regular Port of Call Next Season Appear Bright

Plans for 1939 cruises to Charlevoix were discussed here Tuesday during a visit by Emery D. Hatch, secretary-treasurer of Chicago, Duluth & Georgian Bay Transit Co.

Accompanying Mr. Hatch were officials of the Harrisburg, Pa. chamber of commerce, inspecting this city as a port of call for a cruise next June. The fact was disclosed that the Erie, Pa. chamber of commerce has already voted to come to Charlevoix next June, thus the possibility for two cruises to start the 1939 season appear very bright.

Mr. Hatch also discussed with Gordon Todd, secretary of the Board of Commerce, the possibility of the Georgian Bay Line officials making Charlevoix a regular port of call for their steamers next year, stating that a similar proposal last spring lost by only a single vote.

The Board of Commerce has made a careful check during the 1938 season of the number of persons sent to Mackinac Island and Ludington to make connections with the Georgian Bay Line vessels. The check has disclosed a decided demand for boat service between Charlevoix and Chicago, and these facts have been presented for consideration by the boat line.

The S. S. South American, making its last regular trip of the season over the Labor Day week end, will stop at Charlevoix on its return to Chicago on Thursday, September 8.

TRAVERSE PLANS BARBECUE FOR HARRY S. TOY

A real old-fashioned barbecue, complete with a roast ox and German band, will feature the huge reception to be given Harry S. SPEGIAL ELECTION SET FOR TUESDAY

PROPOSE $70,000 BOND ISSUE FOR ELECTRIC EXTENSIONS

Council Acts to Correct Deficiency in Generating Capacity — Courier Urges Taxpayers Vote "Yes"

A proposal to issue $70,000 in general obligation bonds to finance extensions and improvements to the municipal electric light system will be presented taxpayers who are registered voters at a special election Tuesday, September 6.

The program is presented by the city council to remedy a deficiency in generating capacity which for two years has bordered on the danger point. It is a clear-cut issue motivated entirely to protect Charlevoix's welfare and can be considered in no different light.

The council presents to Charlevoix tuxpayers the most attractive proposition ever offered in view of an outright PWA grant of $56,690 which represents 45% of the cost of the improvements contemplated. Failure to approve the bond issue will forfeit the city's right to the federal grant.

The program as outlined includes installation of a 450 k.w. diesel generating unit and required switchboard additions and changes, building addition to house the new unit, rebuilding 18 miles of the high line connecting the municipally-owned hydro-electric plant at Bellaire with the Charlevoix system, improvements to the Bellaire plant.

This program, designed to place the entire electric light system in first class condition, is far wider in its scope than the one for which voters last spring approved a bond issue of $98,000. The present proposal will cost $70,000, or a savings of $27,000, for a much more complete program of improvements.

The project will provide employment for local men following the resort season. The city council, by authority vested in it, has set the scale of wages (see council proceedings, page 8) to be paid for labor. The city council will likewise insist upon local labor being used when available. The council pledges no increase in taxes as a result of the bond issue. These are plain, bold facts, leaving no room for doubt.

This publication aims to advise the public in the right direction on matters of civic nature. We urge that you vote "Yes" at next Tuesday special election.

CITY-WIDE PARK IMPROVEMENTS STARTED

Large Crew of WPA Workers Began Operations Monday Morning

Work on a city-wide parks improvement program, for which federal funds aggregating $29,922 was recently alloted by the WPA, was started Monday morning.

One crew of men started clearing the Ferry avenue bathing beach site, cutting brush and burning refuse, while another started preliminary work for construction of a fish pond in East Park.

The parks program, begun Monday, includes establishment of north and south side bathing beaches on Lake Charlevoix, completion of East Park and improvements at the Lake Michigan bathing beach.

The work is under direction of Don Herrick, city superintendent.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

A Central Lake summer resident says: "I don't like to brag, but caught my limit of rainbows three days last week down on the Jordan. Let's hope the state never grants 'logging recovery' rights to anyone. Have fished the Sturgeon, Pigeon, Au-Sable, Platt, Black and Boardman rivers, but the Jordan has more fish, mile for mile, than any of the above. Leave those 'logs' and 'dead-heads' alone." Speaks mighty well for the Jordan, don't it?

A. D. Goldman's 18-pound mackinaw trout, caught Sunday with "Herb" from Don Clothier's camp, just about topped the big ones for the present summer season. "A. D." told this writer the fish tasted better than any Lake Superior trout he ever caught and that's covering a lot of fish.

This coolish weather we've been having lately sure is having its effect on the boys. Some call it gland fever, but you can't fool an old-timer—it's buck fever. The season is 78 days away and if you don't believe it, I can show you several places where the fellas are marking the dates off the calendar day by

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

In face of Governor Murphy's demand for economy, the state payroll was higher for July.

In 18 months it has jumped $9,420,285, as compared with a $4,530,000 payroll increase during the Fitzgerald administration and a $2,631,000 wage boost during the Comstock regime.

Now, at a time when the Murphy administration deficit may reach the $13,800,000 mark (August 1 estimate), the Civil Service commission is asked to increase the minimum pay of state employees from $80 to $100, the latter being CIO demand. Commission employees receive $80 to $160 a month, while pay for technical, professional and executive work begins at $150 a month and rises to $500.

Furthermore, the civil service pay scale for skilled tradesmen is $28 to $30 under union wage rates. The "rub" is this: State pay is regular while union tradesmen, paid by the hour, are subject to irregular work.

BARNARD

Our school will open next Tuesday with Miss Thelma Decker of Elmira with us again.

Mrs. Jasper Warner and daughter Marian visited at the Clyde Smith home over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kohler and three children are spending this week with Mrs. Kohler's sister, Mrs. Frank Smith and family.

We notice quite a few improvements being made in our midst. New roofs, chimneys, porches and electric wiring are among them.

The South Barnard church people are beginning their work of excavating for the foundation of their church, which they are moving to their new location.

Our community was saddened by the death of Mrs. Clarence Beattie last Tuesday after a long illness. She will be greatly missed by all Barnard friends. Outside relatives attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. John Beattie and children and Mr. and Mrs. James Cole of Ann Arbor, Miss Beulah Bowdish of Evanston, Illinois.

CENTRAL LAKE

Very hot and dry. Farmers are cutting their corn.

Jay Emery of Flint visited over the week end with relatives at Central Lake and Flint, leaving with his family for Flint Sunday afternoon.

Rev. G. A. Liskum and family attended Free Methodist camp meeting in Boyne City Sunday. They report not so large an attendance as in previous years.

Rev. H. H. Snider and family went to Atlanta last week Wednesday. He remained to preach there, and she returned here with the children and preached here Sunday morning and evening.

Clarence Patton's little girl on Torch lake shore was taken very ill Saturday with cholera morbus and the local physician was immediately called. At present writing she is much better.

The Jake Yongelike family will move to the former Greenman farm at Bay View in the spring, as they have purchased that farm and the Sutton farm. Mr. Shenk's people now reside there.

Harry Clark and wife, who have been spending the summer at the Crawford's at Wildwood north of town, is feeling better since having his operation last winter. She will return to her school in Detroit soon.

Ray Henelson has been constructing a log cabin on the sight of the old school house at North Milton, and will again take up farming next year on his farm at Creswell, the Henelsons moving to their farm at Mancelona.

Frank Chisholm's people will return to Flint in October, where he expects to get work again in the automobile factory, leaving their farm at Grand View to the Clarence DeForest family, who have been living with them.

Grand View Sunday school will hold their picnic on Labor Day, next Monday. They will have their picnic dinner at noon, and games, etc., in the afternoon. Ice cream for the benefit of the Sunday school will be sold on the grounds.

Mrs. Cecil Addington and children of Detroit have been visiting the past two weeks at the Spencer Arnold home at Bay View. She went to Bellaire Saturday, to visit friends. She was formerly Vema Frink, daughter of a former county official.

The Marias and Smarry families of Murisonia resort, will be leaving for Detroit, where they are on the teaching force. School there, we hear starts the 8th of September. Norton Pearl family will soon be leaving also. He is teacher of athletics.

Chas. Price of Bellaire, has left the Hodge home, where he has been cared for, and is much better, and is now back at home. Mrs. Hodge says he has to be very carefnl, however about doing too much work. He was taken ill while in town several weeks ago.

Two cars had accidents Sunday at the curve just west of the George Morrow farm, on the Grand View road. The mail carrier has expressed concern about the danger of this curve, and it is expected the people will petition Antrim County Road Commission to straighten and widen this road that is used very much in summer time by resorters in crossing from the Torch lake shore road to M-88.

Mrs. James Dawson's condition was so critical Sunday that the local physician had her removed from the Knowles farm at Bay View, north of town to the McPhee rooms in the Wilson Hotel building, where she is being cared for by Mrs. McPhee. Three weeks ago she burned her foot by boiling water, and infection set in. The wound has healed fairly well, but she has very high fever and the physician fears that she has typhoid fever. A blood test was taken Saturday and sent to Ann Arbor. Her many friends are hoping for her recovery. She has been such a help to so many in her neighborhood in times of need. A tireless worker, almost, it seems so bad to have her so suddenly stricken.

Zibe DeForest, eighty years of age, was taken ill suddenly last Saturday, and is still in a very serious condition. The local physician was called and Sunday he was a little better. He has to lie in bed, and if he sits or stands up, becomes unconscious. He had been working right along up to the time of his illness, in spite of his age. He built, this summer, the little cottage in which he lives, with a little assistance from others. He has done plowing when he had to use a cane, and has always cut his own wood. At the present time he is worried about how he is going to get his winter's wood. He gets the great sum of eight dollars a month to pay doctor's bills, buy food and clothing, from the Old Age Pension fund.

School begins this week Monday at Bay View, with Miss Evelyn Champney of Rapid City as teacher; at Creswell, with Leroy Bussler of East Jordan, teacher. Next week, Alleo McKay of Central Lake, begins teaching at Greenwood, and his brother, Kenneth McKay, at Grand View. Miss Etta Cornett of Central Lake, goes back to Maple Hill, north of Eastport; Harvey Harter of Central Lake, goes to Eastport; Otho Mathias of Mancelona, goes to Lake View, north of Central Lake; Lillian Williams of Bellaire goes back to the Morey school east of Bellaire; Mrs. Verd Carpenter was to go back to the Ball school, but consolidation intervened. Turner was to have Mrs. Melva Bedell Mills, and Clam Lake, Joe Mills, but, again, consolidation. Deerezy and Montgomery, we hear, will be in the consolidation unit, too. How the teachers will be provided for, we have not heard. How the bus will get on with the children, we have not found out. There will have to be a great deal of fixing of roads to get the bus to the children's door. Some children in the Snow Lake district, we hear, had to walk about two miles last winter, to get to the bus on M-88. This was quite a task for children of the primary grades. They would probably have to walk about that far to district school, but a warm school house awaited them; and it appears different when they have to wait in the cold for the bus.

Dromutic Ellis Island—last portal of freedom—provides the background for the obsorbing story in which 20th Century-Fox stars Don Ameche und Arleen Whelan, "Gatewny", opening September 8 at the Palace Thentre.

"'Gateway'," the producer said, "depicts those caught in the human wove beating against Ellis Island, most dramatic spot on earth. Since 1892, more than 20,000,000 human beings have passed through there.

"Adventurers, lovers, fake princes, hungering peasunts — all flung together where old lives end und new loves begin—that is the Ellis Island in which Don Ameche ond Arleen Whelan as the stars of 'Gateway', find themselves.

"While boy and girls ore extremely important," said Engel, "the audiences throughout the nation have made continued and increosed clomor for more than romance. The development of counter plot, with historicnl, social and timely significance, has called forth the talents of men und women who have dedicated their lives to the acting profession.

Fine Portrayals

"'Gateway', therefore," said the producer, "provides an excellent field for fine portroyals from the most capable actors ond uctresses. Darryl F. Zanuck, in charge of production, selected Gregory Ratoff, Binnie Barnes, Gilbert Roland, Raymond Walburn, John Carradine, Maurice Moscovich, Harry Carey, Marjorie Gateson and Lyle Talbot to hend the featured cast.

Mickey Rooney Gets His Star

Here's the life story of the former "tough guy" of the screen told by that ace reporter of Hollywood, Jim Tully. Watch for this article in This Week, the mugazine with Sunday's Detroit News. A full page of photographs of Mickey Rooney, in addition, appears in the Pictorial Rotogravure Section.

Otto W. Bishop

Candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket for

was born and has always resided in Northern Michigan. His early life was spent on farms in Alpena county, his young manhood in lumber mills and saw mills.

From 1895 to 1900 he held a clerkship in a store. From 1900 to 1919 he was in the employ of the Alpena National Bank. In 1919 he entered business for himself and is still carrying on a successful business in Alpena. He was a member of the Municipal Council of Alpena for nine years, and for many years was a member of the Board of Directors of the Alpena Chamber of Commerce. He has been a Director and President of the local Resort Association, Director of the East Michigan Tourist Association, and in 1934 was elected to the office of State Senator from this district.

He has always been intensely interested in the development of Northern Michigan as a resort area, therefore, he has been very active in every movement looking toward the restoration as well as conservation of the wild life in our forests and propagation and replenishing of fish in our lakes and streams. Fortunately, he was named on such important Senate committees as Conservation, Agriculture, Finance, Normal Schools and Sanatoriums. In the Senate he has been active in the introduction and support of many Conservation measures, and at his own expense attended Conservation meetings in Lansing, Chicago, Washington, D. C., and Toronto that he might get more complete information on Conservation matters.

He has in his files letters from various farm organizations expressing their approval of his Senate action on Agricultural measures, also letters expressing approval of his activities on matters pertaining to Schools, Sanatoriums, welfare, and old age assistance.

He desires re-election on his record for efficient public service. He promises to urge and support measures that would return the State to a sound "pay as you go" policy. He will again urge the State's assistance in the development of the tourist and resort industry, especially measures for the propagation and replenishing of our resort lakes and streams. He will again urge and support a workable law for the economical administration of welfare and relief for the legitimate needs of deserving citizens. It is his firm purpose to continue to at all times actively represent the interests, and work for the welfare of the people of this district.

Three More 4-H Club Boys from Charlevoix Co. to Go to State Fair

Word has just been received from the State Club Department at the Michigan State College thut three more 4-H club boys from Charleyoix county hove been selected to represent this county at the State Fair in dairy judging and electrical demonstration work. Clair McGhan from Marion Center will be one of three boys to represent northern Michigon in the dairy judging contest which will be held at the State Fair und the winner of which will receive o trip to the Notional Doiry Show at Columbus.

The electrical demonstration thot will represent this northern district is from Eost Jordnn, the members of which are Rex Gibbard and Glen Trojanek. These boys are to compete in the State Fair for a trip to the 4-H Club Congress to be held in connection with the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago. The hoys will demonstrate the construction nnd operotion of a three point control electrical switch. They have been coached hy their leader, Mr. Walcutt of East Jordan. During the pust year Mr. Walcutt led an electrical club composed of 16 members. This work is beginning to be more increasingly important due to the Rural Electrification Program which is now being carried on throughout northern Michigan.

By the addition of these three boys there will be a total numher of seven delegates to go to the Michigan Stote Fair from Charlevoix county. This is the largest number of delegates by far to attend the State Fair in this county in recent years.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Election Supplies Now in Hands of County Clerks

Primary election supplies furnished by the department of state are now in the hands of the county clerks. These supplies consist of county canvassers' statements, placards of instructions to voters, paper seals for the ballots and metal seals for the ballot boxes. The depnrtment of states does not furnish pencils, poll boxes and ballots; these are furnished by the different counties.

However, the secretary of state, ns the chief election official designs these forms and supplies used in the elections so as to hove uniformity throughout the state.

Because of the new "Secret Primary Lnw" which was pnssed during the last legislature, two ballot boxes will be necessory this time rnther than one used previously.

The department is now sending out to all county clerks, stickers to be ploced on the ballot boxes with the legends, "Voted Bollots" and "Unvoted Ballots".

The voters should remember in this election that they sould separate their bollots, fold them individually and hand them to the election official, designating which one is the "Voted Ballot".

"Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Seience churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 4.

The Golden Text, (Ps. 84:4, 12), is "Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee . . . O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Ps. 8:4, 6): "What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him? Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet."

Correlative possages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 29): "Man as the offspring of God, as the idea of Spirit, is the immortal evidence that Spirit is harmonious and man eternal."

Wheat, corn, cotton and other crops are bringing good cheer to the people in many sections of the country where these products of the soil are their money. Country newspapers everywhere tell of the good luck of their communities because "crops look good". That's big business for the farmers.

LIQUOR STORES IN POLITICS

On the desk before us is a letter from the Associnted Puckage Liquor Dealers of Michigan to their members. It is an utterly frank epistle in which the executive secretary writes: "Being creatures of a political system, the S. D. D's (Specially Designuted Distributors) should expect to contribute their fair shore to the election overhead of Party and most of them do." This tells the story far better than we could if we wrote for n week. "Creatures of a political system", and it has always heen our idea that the Liquor Control Commission was supposed to be a non partisan organization. It also shows the people of this state that something pretty radical had better be done about an arm of our state government that can expect linancial support from citizens in business that were put there by LAW and not any political party. This will not he done unless we insist it he done. We have n deplorable condition throughout our state because a committee of idealists wrote this law which included the S. D. D. set-up, included beer gardens, etc., and conditions are far worse than the old saloon days ever were. But we deviate a bit and forget the first part of this piece.

We will have the liquor business in politics just as long as we stond for it, no longer. We will have o brazen acceptance of this fact, too, just as long as we allow it, no longer. Our duty is plain, we can elect to office that man who will positively promise and live up to thnt promise, to clean up this situation.

THE STRAIT GATE

The sermon on the Mount wos used recently by the President of the United States in a speech he made down in one of the southern states, on his purge tour.

We quote the following excerpts from Christ's sermon.

Blessed are they thot mourn:

Blessed are the meek:

Blessed are the merciful:

Blessed are the pencemakers . . .

Ye have heard that it hath been said, 'Thou shalt love thy neighhor and hate thine enemy.' But I sny unto you. Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you; that ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven; for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust. For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? Do not even the publicans the same? And if ye salute your brethren only what do ye more than others? Do not even the publicans so? Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect."

VOTE

September 13, the voters of Michigan must go to the polls and exercise their prerogative as citizens. We use the word MUST advisedly, for their neglect to do this very thing the last few years has cost each individual in this country more than he or she will ever realize. So GET OUT AND VOTE. We do not advise voting a straight ticket. Choose the most capable man for your local county office. But where the destiny of a whole people like the people of the state are affected, it is then your duty to take into consideration the many things which affect you from an entirely different angle. You MUST realize the amount of taxes you are paying into that state treasury and where it is all going. You must realize how the neglect and failure nearly two years ago at the time of the first strikes, by our present state heads coused the strikes which occurred all over the country and ultimately brought on the present depression. These and many other things you must consider, ond then you must vote for or against these men in office as your conscience dictates. But—for or against—you must get out and vote.

WHAT IS PERFECTION?

Who's a perfect husband? One who washes dishes occasionally and minds the children? Or one who swears such tasks are a woman's and never to be descended to by a he-man!

Well the latter description may not be your idea of perfection, girls—but certain men think so. Since the perfect, dishwashing, breakfast-getting, Chicago husband committed a murder, every he-man writer has written his little piece. What a golden opportunity for these writers and have they written.

Far be it from us to throw any water on their glorious bonfire. But—judging from their fiery protests against husband dishwashers, we suspect, — ah yes, we do — that more than one of them wields a dish mop for the little woman!

Statement of John M. Harris

To the People of Charlevoix County:

It always has been my belief that every candidate for public office ought to give the electors a plain statement of his ideas and purposes concerning the office to which he aspires, and, unless he is already well enough known, something about himself. Being a candidate for nomination as Prosecuting Attorney, I am doing that by means of this letter.

As to myself personally. Most of you know me and all about me. I have lived in the county since 1881. First I taught school, then was admitted to the bar, served two terms as Prosecuting Attorney, one time Judge of Probate, Representative in the Legislature, member of the local school board, member of state crime commission, and have held other minor positions. The most I got out of these positions was quite a fund of experience and human ideas.

This office is a very important one. Well handled it can do a lot of good and serve a lot of people. Indifferently handled it can do a lot of harm and cause a lot of misery and unhappiness and needless expense. The holder becomes the legal adviser of the Board of Supervisors and its members, and of the various Township Treasurers in tax matters. Often he is called upon to advise other county officers, where his legal knowledge, experience and training is of distinct advantage to the taxpayers and all the people.

The nature of the office often makes it necessary to investigate matters on the ground and promptly. Usually this avoids later expense and gives the needed service. Therefore, I shall maintain the office at the county seat and also my office in Boyne City. Thus I will be accessible at all times to those who require my official services. I believe this will be a valuable advantage to all of the people.

I believe that the office ought to be administered with strict justice and at the same time humanely. Unnecessary prosecutions should be avoided and results obtained by other means if possible. That is economy. At the same time the guilty should not escape justice.

About the sum of all I have said is that, if elected, I shall take to the office all the experience, good judgment and sound common sense I possess to the end that the service I render to you will meet with your fullest approval. At any rate I will come as close to that as strict attention to the duties of the office and close application will produce.

I will appreciate your friendly consideration on September 13th.

Very sincerely,
John M. (Mac) Harris.

SEASON FINALE AT IRONTON PLAYHOUSE

PRESNT "THE GUARDSMAN" TO CLOSE 1938 PROGRAM

Large First Night Audience on Hand To See Ferenc Molnar's Viennese Comedy

"The Guardsman" Ferene Molnar's brilliant Viennese comedy, used by Lunt and Fontanne to charm New York audiences and the nation's moviegoers, is this week's attraction at the Ironton Playhouse.

Selected especially for its wit and light humour, the play differs entirely from any other given this season by the York Players and its gaiety is very appropriate to be the finale for their successful first summer at Ironton.

Jane Anderton is superb and adept in the difficult leading part. She never allows the play to drop from the high key in which it is pitched. Miss Anderton has the rare force of personality that often puts names in lights. Philip Dakin is equally skillful as the leading man. The two parts are star parts, and their performance by these players is quite up to the exacting requirements. James Dnggett gives the critical family friends an individual wistfulness which would have pleased the author; Lorette McNair is extremely amusing as the malaprop mother, and shows her versatility in changing to broad comedy from her sensitive performance last week in "Kind Lady". Lisa Von Holstein is lovely as a china doll maid; Hal Hawkes gives his best performance of the year as a burlesqued collector.

In a note on the final program, James Daggett, manager of the Playhouse, thanks its patrons for their support during this first season of the York Players and adds that they hope it will be possible to return next year.

SOCIAL SECURITY OFFICE OBSERVES FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Work done by the Traverse City Social Security field office in the first year of its operation was outlined today as the anniversary was noted.

"The Traverse City field office opened a year ago today," said Clifton H. Little, manager of the old-age insurance bureau branch.

"During that period we have directed our activity along two principal lines. One has been to issue social security account numbers, while the other has been to file claims for lump-sum payments which are due certain individuals at this time.

"Since our office opened on August 23, 1937, we have issued social security numbers to more than 7500 persons. Approximately 99 percent of these numbers were the result of original applications from persons residing in the fifteen counties served by our field office. The other one per cent were duplicate numbers issued to persons who had lost or mutilated their original numbers.

"During the first year of operation of our office we were notified that 156 claims filed through our branch had been certified for payment. The number and amount of these claims have been increasing steadily, our records show.

In the last three months our Traverse City office has had 32 claims certified. The average payment during that period was $52.60.

"Persons who reach the age of 65 after having worked in commerce or industry are generally entitled to payments of this type. The same is true of heirs of persons who have died after having been employed similarly. In either case the payment is 3½ per cent of the wages earned during the period between January 1, 1937, and the date the worker or his heirs became eligible for lump-sum payments", Mr. Little said.

The Traverse City field office serves the counties of Antrim, Benzie, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Clare, Crawford, Emmet, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Leelanau, Manistee, Missaukee, Osceola, Otsego and Wexford. Mackinac Island is also included.

Mr. Little said all matters relating to old-age insurance should be referred to his office by residents of these counties.

EDITORIAL ENDORSEMENT OF CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE

Looking over the political landscape we find Presque Isle county in the position this year of having at least one very prominent candidate in the political field. We refer to the candidacy of Fred Bradley for Congress.

In all the history of the county with which we are familiar, and it dates back some thirty years or more, Presque Isle county has never had a candidate for congress. It would seem to us that we are extremely fortunate in having a man of Mr. Bradley's type seeking the approval of the voters at this election.

Mr. Bradley is in a position to devote his entire time to the office itself, something that has been quite unusual in the past for any candidate. He has unquestioned ability, youth and health, and don't forget that they are important in the eleventh district where one must campaign over 16 counties. It is one of the most strenuous jobs that any man could undertake, and serving a district of this great area is quite as strenuous, once a candidate has been elected.

While Mr. Bradley will stand on his own feet in his undertaking, we can not help but think of the fine background left him by his father, Carl D. Bradley, President of the Michigan Limestone & Chemical Company, certainly the most outstanding citizen Rogers City and Presque Isle county has ever had. Mr. Bradley had an understanding of his fellowmen, in all walks of life, which endeared him to them. He was intensely loyal to this his adopted community, a tendency which we believe Fred inherits to a remarkable degree. And like his father, Fred goes after things for his community with a tenacity of purpose which spells success. The community owes him for a number of things which his leadership has made possible. We have an opportunity of making a real expression of our appreciation in this campaign.—Editor W. H. Whiteley, Presque Isle County Advance, Rogers City.

The man credited with founding the DSR, the late James Couzens, was never personally a believer in municipal ownership and himself predicted that in the end the whole plan would be crushed by political manipulators. At this time we appear to be heading towards that finality. If the city wants to save its investment and the DSR in its entirety, it will junk all union agreements, kick out the labor leeches, then take over the system and do the operating without outside interference.—Detroit Legal Courier.

We observe that Governor Frank Murphy is going to see that the producers of milk get better terms for their products in Michigan. As a "milk" expert the Governor knows his pastures—for he's certainly inventive when it comes to "milking" the public taxes.—Birmingham Eccentric.

State Finances

According to Harold D. Smith, state budget director, Michigaa is ia a much more favorable finnncial position than most of the other states.

Michigan operntes on a "pay as you go" policy, its bonded debt being insignificant.

Thirty-live of the 48 states have a per capita debt greater than that of Michignn which is $4.43. The average for nll states is $17.83. For example, New York's is $41.55; Illinois, $25.69; Califorain, $18.20, and Pennsylvaaia, $11.80.

Inclading boaded indebtedness in the basis of comparison, Budget Director Smith says that Michigan is one of 21 states which have decreased their debts in the last seven yenrs, while 25 other states were increasing theirs.

Califoraia's general fund deficit in 1937 was $7,500,000, but the state had $44,000,000 in relief bonds outstanding. Michigna has issued no relief bonds, "paying as we go". Our entire bonded indebtedness in 1937 was $26,274,000.

As n non-partisnn state news commentator, we present the above facts for what they are worth.

Crop Outlook Bright

Diversified Michinn agriculture is producing good crops this year. Ia fact, the composite index for 16 leading crops as of August 1 was 79.9, the third highest for any August in ten years although below that for 1937.

The whent crop estimate is 19,827,000 bushels, the largest since 1919. A harvest of corn averagiag 36 bushels to the acre is estimated with a total yield of 57,240,000 bushels as compared with 55,650,000 bushels in 1937.

A potnto crop of 29,904,000 bushels is estimated, while the beet sugar yield of 1,102,000 tons would be double that of last year.

The fruit hnrvests, however, are considerably below those of 1937. Only peaches will yield a larger crop, it is announced by Verne H. Church, senior agricultural statistician.

Gasoline Price Fixing

When gasoline dealers cut prices, motorists benefit in reduced costs.

Gasoline taxes and motor vehicle registration fees amounted to $51,510,000 in Michigan last year. You can't blame automobile owners for wantaag to get gasoline at lower prices.

Last year the legislature was induced to enact a "fair trade" statute, lobbied for by the Retail Gasoline Dealers' association, a state group formed for the specific purpose of increasing dealer profits through curtailment of competition. Ballots are now being sent out by the association to determine the average operating costs of a gasoline station.

The poll is said to presage attempts to peg the minimum price of gasoline at 17.6 cents a galloa, just a cent higher than prevailing prices in Detroit. In 1936 Michigan service stations sold within 5,000 of one billion galloas.

Translated into money, the one cent price hike would mean a mere ten million dollars. — believe it or aot!

Dairy Profits

Price-pegging of milk will be sought from the 1939 slate legislature.

This movement is indicated by the warm receptioa given by dairy farmers to political denaciation of present low milk prices at wholesale.

In New York state the firm of Ernst & Ernst, public accountants, was hired by farmers and dealers to find out what became of the consumer's milk dollar. Here are the results: 44 cents to farmer; 26 cents to labor; 11 cents for rent and repairs; nine cents for bottles, cases and hauling; two cents for power, light and heat; less than one-half cent for official salaries, and less than three cents for profit.

In Califoraia a decline in milk consumption (7% nationnlly) was averted by a three-month campaign of newspaper advertising. The Californin Retail Grocers' nssociation reports that sales remained normal. So did milk prices.

The mirage of political control, however, is very luring. But even a legislature cnn't regulate the old law of supply and demand.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

The Significance of a Low Bacterial Count

An appraisal by n state official of the health department shows that 84 per cent of the raw milk consumed in the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet nnd Otsego had a median bacteria count of less than 10,000 per cubic centimeter of milk, i.e., a cubic centimeter being about one-fifth teaspoonful of milk or eleven drops. It is considered by the American Public Health Association that any milk supply whose median coaat is much above 10,000 per c.c., is not satisfactory in sanitary quality.

The median count is used in preference to the average count because it is fairer to the dairy producer. It is not desired to penalize too severely the dairyman who oace in a long time may run a high count. This would be doae if an average count was taken, inasmuch as a high count oftentimes would over-balance a number of very low couats. However, by taking the median or middle number of a series arranged in order of size the effects of an occasioaal high count are overcome.

For instance, a dairyman with counts of 100,000, of 50,000, of 25,000, of 10,000 and of 5,000 would have a median count of 25,000—the middle number. Under this system any dairyman who rates a median count above 40,000 handles a very questionable supply.

Judge for yourself the significance of a high count. Tests are made about each three years for tuberculosis in cattle. Between examinations, can we therefore conclude there is no bovine tuberculosis? Lately tests have been made for contagious abortion in cattle. Between tests, can we conclude that contagious abortion is nil? Some day tests will be made for mastitis (garget, inflammation of the udder) in dairy cattle. In the meantime, we occasionally have outbreaks of septic sore throat.

What do these things mean with reference to a bacterial count? They mean that when the count is high, any disease germs that were initially in the milk will have multiplied. On the other hand, where there is a low bacterial count, through proper cooling of the milk and through proper sterilization of bottles and equipment and of other sanitary practices the bacteria are kept from multiplying much. Should disease germs not be present, there is no particular significance in n high count; but if they are present there is much more danger of drinking milk with a high dosage of them than one with a small dosage of them.

The bacterial count on milk to the discerning consumer should be of more importance than the amount of butterfat which is his usual means of judging.

Scenic Week-end Trips at Low Cost—No. 7

Here are three interesting and picturesque spots within your state, any one of which will delight the week-end vacationist, and at least one of which may be reached by automobile at low cost.

Kalkaska and Crawford Counties —No. 1

Famous for their game and fish, and as year-round playgrounds, these two northern counties attract many summer vacationists who make headquarters in the hospitable towns of Kalkaska or Grayling, or in the modern resort colonies, and fish the waters of the Manistee, Boardman, Au Sable, and Rapid rivers, or in the many lakes which dot the region. See road map for best routes.

Benton Harbor and St. Joseph —No. 2

These two popular resort cities are proud of the five features which make them a mecca for the vacationist—beautiful flowers; broad, safe beaches; the picturesque sand dunes; splendid hotels, tourist lodges, and camp sites; and the luscious fruit for which Berrien County is famous. Take U.S. 12 or 31.

Lapeer County—No. 3

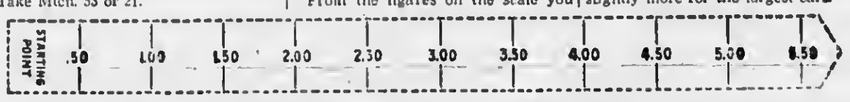
In this scenically beautiful county of 200 lakes, including popular Lake Nepessing, the vacationist will find good fishing, fine golf courses, and facilities for boating, swimming, and riding. Near Dryden is the Community Club and Forest Hall, maintained for the free use of the public for recreational purposes. Take Mich. 53 or 21.

How to Estimate Your Driving Costs

Computed by Standard Oil Company (Ind.)

First cut out the scale along the dotted line and place it on the map with the "starting point" on the town nearest your home. Then swing the scale around until its edge touches the place you wish to visit.

From the figures on the scale you can determine within about 10% what the drive will cost you. To get the cost of a round trip simply double the figure. The amounts shown will be correct for the great majority of cars, although naturally the cost will be slightly more for the largest cars.



This is the Auto Travel Cost Estimator—Read Instructions.

TWO MONTHS INCOME FEDERAL TAX LOAD

Each Family in Michigan Contributes That Part of Earnings

Every Michigan family has to donate two months' income each year to support government, State Senator Edward W. Fehling, Republican candidate for lieutenant-governor, declared in announcing his platform.

"We have forgotten that sage warning contained in the saying, 'the power to tax is the power to destroy,' and have turned that power over to others. The result is that the farther we have let to taxing power and the control of the spending of tax moneys drift from us the greater have become our tax burdens. Today we have 43 billions of national debt and government is spending at the rate of 8 billions yearly. In Michigan in 1937 our people paid total federal and state taxes of $524,944,256.09. That means that the man earning $960 a year pays $145.87 for all the taxes each of us is assessed and the man earning $2400 pays $366.60. And each year taxes and their burden are going up. Where are we headed?

"We must return to the homely economics that are fundamental. We can get out of this mess if we apply ourselves to it, and no permanent prosperity will return until we do.

"We've got to realize the purpose of government. We must learn there is no Santa Claus. We must stop spending. We must restore tax consciousness. There must be no new taxes. The budget must be balanced. We must quit looking to Lansing and to Washington. We must restore individual responsibility and individual ruggedness.

"We've got to kick the shovels from underneath those who believe the taxpayers owe them a living. We must restore government to the people, must reaffirm our faith in government as conceived by our forefathers. This may not be good politics, but it's good business and good government and will mean the dawn of a new day."

Congressman Bruce Barton advocates a $5,000 annual pension for life for all retiring congressmen. It might be worth it, too, to get rid of some of them.

MURPHYISM

Michigan and Oklahoma are the only two states of the forty-eight in our glorious union which have continued to go deeper into the red the past year. In other words forty-six state administrations handled their state business much better than Michigan's state administration is doing it. Michigan is going deeper and deeper into debt. Why? That's a question every taxpayer naturally and involuntarily asks. Why? The only logical answer is that the men to whom we entrusted our state's business have not been competent to transact that business in the most economical manner, because they have not been business men, and because we have had entirely too much politics in state business. With the number on state pay rolls swelled to an all-time high, with the total of dollars paid out to that crowd also at an all-high, and with a chief executive devoid of business experience but possessed of political ambitions, there could be no other result but increased state debt.—W. H. Berkey in his Cassopolis Vigilant.

POLITICS

In school, our children are taught that "politics" is the science of government. When our children hear politics discussed in the home they wonder where the "science" comes in.

Before they are able to vote they learned that the school text book is all wrong, that in our homes we really talk party and partisanship, not the science of government.

When they come to vote they engage in a game—a contest of party strength in which they have to vote for this nominee or that, appeals for whom recognize principally his usefullness to party.

What prospect is there that politics will again express loyalty to government and patriotism?—Frank B. Craig.

Today the average middle class family has two plans for living: installment and excitement. Lights, camera, action. Forty, fifty, sixty, and seventy miles an hour. Thrills and excitement—on time payments. —Gilbert P. Farrar, typographer.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Cora Anthony

Suggestions this week should be for the long week-end rather than for Sunday dinner. The two chief requirements are plenty of food that will give mother a holiday as well as her family and guests. If possible serve a hot roast on Saturday that will do for Sunday and Labor Day both. Frankfarters are a better suggestion for Labor Day picnics than hamburger as the latter should be ground the day it is used.

Fruit suggestions include watermelon, apples, peaches, pears, plums and seedless grapes.

Mashed Potatoes Creamed Cabbage

EDITORIAL

Six years ago a prominent American said that "Taxes are paid in the sweat of every man who labors," and six years haven't brought any change in the rules.

PAST RECORDS

Michigan Republicans are witnessing the usual pre-primary spectacle of two gubernatorial candidates, Frank D. Fitzgerald and Harry Toy travelling about the state, making speeches, radio talks, or holding open house, which is an innovation this year. One of the candidates, Ex-Governor Fitzgerald, has consistently refused to throw bricks at his opponent while just the opposite is true of candidate Toy.

We sincerely believe that the situation, as it now stands, requires a little "going into the record" as Editor McFoe of the Charlotte Republican Tribune says and consequently we reprint below two editorials as they have appeared in the Charlotte paper and the Grand Rapids Herald.

1936 Record

Closing a comment on the state primary campaign the Allegan Gazette says:

> He (Toy) is not a defeated candidate seeking a come-back from the same voters who turned him down two years ago.

This statement calls for a mere matter of going into the records. Both Toy and Fitzgerald, running on the same ballot, were defeated in 1936; Toy for justice of the supreme court and Fitzgerald for governor. So far, so good. Now let's take a look at the Wayne county (Detroit) vote in this 1936 election. Fitzgerald out in front as the titular head of the party, polled 240,331 votes to 233,254 for Judge Toy. In other words Toy in his home county, only two years ago, ran more than 7000 votes behind Fitzgerald which is a forerunner of what is in the Detroit offing in next month's primary test. — Charlotte Republican Tribune.

McKayism

It seems particularly unfortunate that Republican aspirants for gubernatorial nomination should waste any time in personalities as between themselves. There's a job to be done in Michigan, a much needed job. That is to clean up with the present Democrat governor and most of his regime. There's plenty of ammunition there to keep all the other candidates busy for a long time to come. And whichever one of them is nominated will need all the strength he can muster to win the election by such a majority that it will serve as a mark for other states to shoot at. Once, too, the Republican has been elected governor it will take all his vitality and all the aid he can get from every source to clean up the mess in which Michigan is now mired.

So why was it necessary to start sharpshooting as between the Republican candidates? And why bring up the old bug-a-boo so indefinite that none can explain just what is meant, the old bogie of "McKayism"? Just what is "McKayism" in the first place? What does it mean? What good or what harm has whatever it is ever done to anybody? Of course, "McKayism" in general means the activities of Frank D. McKay of Grand Rapids. But what has he ever done that is reprehensible?. Nobody connected with this newspaper owes Mr. McKay a penny or a favor of any kind. We've blasted him when we thought he was wrong and we've boosted him when we thought he was right. We've heard many stories of this or that that McKay has done or is guilty of. We've tried to check up on these alleged misdemeanors and when we have come to the end of the trail, we've found no substance there.

McKay has sold tires to the state. What of it? The state must buy tires and the purchases are made on sealed bids. If the low bid happened to have McKay's name on it, should it be rejected and the state pay a higher price for the tires?

Same way with many other things charged against McKay. He has put some of his friends into state jobs. Do you happen to know anybody at all active in politics who hasn't done just that whenever he has had the opportunity? How do you suppose men and women get political jobs anyway? McKay has been active in politics a long time. He has been successful more times than not. Why? Because he is one of the best organizers and detail men you ever met in your life. He'll go out and organize down to the city block and do it thoroughly. He delights in that sort of work. Anything wrong about it? How does anybody get elected captain of the baseball team or leader of the Sunday school class except by some sort of organization? McKay is a great organizer, has a tremendously wide acquaintance and is a hard worker.

That's "McKayism" and that's all it is. The rest is—conversation. It would be well indeed for the Republican candidates for the gubernatorial nomination to aim their darts at the big target and quit talking about so ethereal a thing as "McKayism". It doesn't mean anything. — Grand Rapids Herald.

All of which sums up as follows. We see nothing in the Toy record that backs up his claim that he is the great and popular idol of Michigan Republicanism. On the contrary it seems to us that Frank D. Fitzgerald's record more nearly qualifies him for the honor.

Appearing on the state ticket for the first time in 1930, Fitzgerald, as a candidate for the office of secretary of state, polled almost 50,000 more votes than Governor Brucker? Two years later he ran 65,000 votes ahead of Brucker and was the only Republican to survive the Democratic landslide on the state ticket. In 1936, as we have already stated, Frank Fitzgerald had a phrality of 7000 over Toy in that candidate's own county of Wayne. We find nothing in the record of Toy that even approaches this showing or warrants his willingness to dispute the nomination this year when a united party is so much to be desired.

Loyal Republicans who have devoted long hours to the service of their party in the lean years as well as the fat ones are having some difficulty to adjust themselves to the thought that Harry Toy might possibly become their party's nominee for the governorship this year.

Most of them have had occasion in the past to note that Mr. Toy has never been especially interested in furthering the interests of the party unless he himself had some personal objective to gain. His insinuations in recent radio addresses remind us of the tales of Paul Bunyan, the great timber jack. They sound good but they didn't happen.

Now is the time to restore Michigan to sound government and regain peace and prosperity for this great sovereign state. It can and will be done with Frank D. Fitzgerald as the nominee.

UNDEMOCRATIC AND UNNECESSARY

On the ballot in the November election will be a proposal to make the Michigan Supreme Court appointive instead of elective. A Judiciary Commission would be created and would make nominations to vacancies in the Supreme Court, and from these nominations the governor would make his appointments.

The judiciary commission would be selected as follows: Supreme Court Justices would elect one member; Circuit Judges, one member; and Probate Judges one member. The governor would select three lay members. The State Bar Commissioners would select three lawyer members. A body so comprised, "would be depended upon to safeguard the public interest," says the piece we have before us. And it continues by saying that 18 members out of 23 Justices reaching the Supreme Court since 1901 were originally appointed by Governors to fill vacancies, although many of them were subsequently elected.

Now, all of this is very nice, but we still cannot see the necessity for the change in procedure. Heretofore the justices sitting on this exalted bench have been subject to the will of the people by having to go before them each eight years and place their names on a partisan ballot to seek election to that job. We still see no reason why these lawyers should be better than anybody else in this respect. If a man wishes to run for the House or the Senate or the governorship of this state he must be elected. Senator Prentiss M. Brown says he does not believe such a step is democratic or necessary and we agree with him. There is no comparison between this court and the Supreme Court of the country, or in the manner its personnel should be selected. It appears to be one more pet scheme to foster one group over another and we do not think the voters of the state will fall for it.

day. Hear the Heise boys have had several meetings already and Frank Bird and Floyd Ikens have been able to get their mind off the approaching election long enough to talk about deer hunting.

Since heralding a couple weeks ago the presence near South Point of an American Egret, we have found through exchange papers, that this rare bird has put in its appearance in considerable numbers elsewhere. The Traverse City Record Eagle reports a flock of 14 American Egrets on the west shore of West Bay, and the Conservation Department's bulletin discloses the presence of a flock of the birds in Gratiot county. It is a great credit to conservation that a huge preserve established for these birds in the Mississippi delta has served to prevent their extinction by market hunters.

If you haven't got the brook trout fishin' fever out of your system yet, you'd better hurry up. The season closes Labor Day, September 5th, and that's just exactly five days away.

Don't know anything the city has done in recent years that has proven more popular than those shuffle board courts. Can you imagine 80 entries in a tournament that wasn't bally-hooed very much? And some of those people sure do take their "shuffling" serious-like. A lot more courts wouldn't hurt a bit.

Next Tuesday's the special election on the electric light extension bonds. This paper expressed itself very positively in favor of the proposal last week and explained the reasons why. Approval of the bond issue is just as important to Charlevoix's welfare now as it was then—so this reminder to taxpayers to vote "Yes" next Tuesday. If you are not sure about all the details, ask a city official—don't let any misunderstanding influence you to vote against a proposition that is RIGHT, ATTRACTIVE and NECESSARY.

You never miss a thing until you haven't got it. That's the case with this column I've been writing. Left it out last week and found out folks really read it. Thanks for the encouragement.

A communication recently came to our desk from the Michigan Unemployment Commission, boasting that Michigan topped 28 other states in the payment of benefits to the unemployed. We're heartily in favor of the unfortunate unemployed being cared for, but cannot help but think all these payments would not have been necessary had it not been for the CIO strikes and labor troubles which so thoroughly disrupted the industrial situation in this great state of ours. Why the employed should dig down into their pockets to provide money for those who would rather strike than work for an honest wage is just a little beyond our comprehensions.

Claude Fairman Gets Medal and Cash for Late-Bearing Cherry Seedling

Claude Fairman, owner and operator of Fairman's Orchards on Route 1, has been awarded a medal and cash prize of $100 for a seedling cherry entered in the first annual national Summer New Fruits Show held last week at Louisiana, Missouri.

The seedling, it is understood, is a cross between an early and late bearing cherry tree which Mr. Fairman has developed as a late-bearing tree. In view of the fact there were nearly 500 entries from all sections of the United States, Mr. Fairman is to be commended on his accomplishment.

The national fruit show is sponsored by the Stark-Burbank Institute of Horticulture, established to encourage the discovery and development of newer, better fruits.

Another exhibit of late apples, pears, etc., will be held at Louisiana, Mo., on November 10 to 12, and growers of this region are invited to exhibit.

CHEBOYGAN HOLDING OPEN GOLF TOURNEY

First Northern Michigan Event Is Scheduled for Labor Day

Northern Michigan ace golfers will compete in the first northern Michigan open gold tournament ever sponsored in northern Michigan on Labor Day, Monday, September 5.

The Northern Michigan Open is being sponsored by the Cheboygan Golf and Country Club as a result of much interest this year in an all northern golf tournament to attract leading golfers throughout the entire northern Michigan area. It is believed approximately seventy-five or one hundred of the northern Michigan aces will tee off in the tournament which will be played on a metal score basis over thirty-six holes of play. An entry fee of $1.50 is being charged and the sponsoring organization announces that there will be no additional fees.

PYTHIANS WINNERS OF CITY SOFTBALL CROWN

Winning by a 10 to 9 score at south side athletic field Monday night, the Knights of Pythins softball team defeated the Board of Commerce for the championship of the city-wide league.

The contest was a play-off between winners of the first and second round of summer play. The Pythians won five straight victories in the second round and the Board of Commerce had a similar record in the first round. Monday night's contest was a close battle, witnessed by a capacity crowd of spectators.

Team	W	L	Pct.
K. of P.	5	0	1.000
North Side	2	1	.666
Owls	2	2	.500
Barons	2	3	.400
B. of C.	1	3	.250
Ironton	1	4	.200

Monday night's game closed competition for the city-wide league and brought to an end a season in which softball interest has been the highest on record. Lighting of the field for night play contributed largely to the season's success. Thousands of spectators witnessed the summer series and the sport as well provided activity for local and summer residents.

BOND ISSUE

Tuesday, Sept. 6, 1938

1—The City needs additional Generating Capacity. During this summer season the plant has reached its limit. The failure of any piece of equipment would be very serious for Charlevoix. We have no reserve power.

2—Rebuilding transmission line to Bellaire is imperative. The pole line is 30 years old. It has reached a point where it must be rebuilt immediately before complete collapse occurs.

3—Improvement to plant at Bellaire is a necessity. This hydro unit practically supplies the city with current for 8 months of the year. Must be maintained in first class condition.

4—Federal Government is making an outright gift of $56,690.00 toward this extension. There are no strings attached to this offer. We may never have an opportunity to get a grant of this kind again.

5—Taxes cannot be increased to pay for this extension. The city tax rate is fixed by statute. The hydro plant at Bellaire was paid for by General Obligation Bonds. The original Charlevoix plant was paid for by General Obligation Bonds. These bonds were paid from income of Electric Utility and not from taxation. The proposed issue of bonds will be retired in the same manner.

6—Local labor will be given preference and fully protected by the establishment of liberal minimum wage scale. The city council will insist on contractor using local labor whenever possible.

FIRE IN CAR KILLS DONALD T. McHUGH

CAUSED SUFFOCATION AS HE NAPPED BY ROADSIDE

Former Local Contractor, Present WPA Dist. Engineer Had Resided Here Many Years—Funeral Thurs.

A lighted cigarette that McHugh accidentally dropped on the driver's seat of his car, parked on the shoulder of Antrim county highway 593 for a nap, was said by Sheriff H. E. Tanner of Antrim county, who investigated, to have caused the blaze. Smoke from the smoldering flame had filled the car before passersby detected something was wrong and found McHugh dead in the front seat of the car. The windows were all tightly closed.

McHugh was alone and was returning from a business visit to Bellaire.

The tragedy was discovered by H. E. Conger and James L. Smith of Wadsworth, Ohio, and Harold Longton of Rapids City, who were driving past to go fishing. They pulled McHugh from the car and attempted unsuccessfully to revive him.

Mr. McHugh was born in Kalamazoo. He came to this region nearly thirty years ago, working on a road contract north of Levering on M-131. He later established a contracting business in this city and for the past several years has been connected in various capacities with the federal relief administration activities in northern Michigan. His latest position was engineer of District No. 1, covering 15 northern counties of the lower peninsula.

Mr. McHugh married Miss Alice Madill in this city in 1914. She survives him together with six children: Donald Jr. of Detroit, Alice, Monica, Anne, Kathleen and Mrs. Margaret Gregory, all of Charlevoix; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thadeus McHugh, Kalamazoo, five brothers, Charles, Theodore, Robert, Kalamazoo, Glenn, Grand Rapids, William, Salt Lake City, Utah; sisters, Tempest, Kalamazoo, Mrs. Olin Harvey, South Bend, Ind.

John Knight Fined $175 for Violation of Harbor Ordinance

Sentences deferred from the August circuit court term were meted out by Judge Parm C. Gilbert at a special session here Thursday afternoon.

John Knight, local summer resident, found guilty of violating a harbor ordinance by a jury following appeal from justice court sentence, was fined $175 and placed on probation until the October term. The fine money will be divided, $100 to the county and $75 to the city to cover cost of prosecution.

George Martin, Boyne City, was sentenced to serve from 14 months to two years, and Cletus Antoine, Leland Indian, from 1 to 2 years at Jackson prison for car theft. Russell Paul, companion of Antoine in the theft of a car from Oscar Nelson's garage on State street last fall, was placed on probation until October 1939.

BOND PROPOSAL GIVEN APPROVAL

TAXPAYERS SANCTION $70,000 FOR UTILITY EXTENSION

Additional Generating Unit, Line and Plant Improvements Planned with $69,690 Federal Aid

Voting at a special election Tuesday, Charlevoix taxpayers approved a proposal to issue $70,000 in general obligation bonds to finance, together with a PWA grant of $69,690, a program of improvements to the municipal electric light system.

Out of a total of 305 votes cast, 248 were in favor of the proposal and 57 against it. The vote by wards was:

	Yes	No
1st ward	70	3
2nd ward	97	34
3rd ward	81	20
	248	57

Approval by taxpayers paves the way for a program which includes installation of a 450 k.w. diesel generating unit and necessary auxiliary equipment, building addition to house the unit, re-building 18 miles of transmission line between Charlevoix and the city-owned hydro-electric plant at Bellaire, and major repairs and improvements at the Bellaire plant.

Such a plan has been under way for two years. Last spring a bond issue of $98,000 for a similar purpose was approved, but a franchise proposal, required to legalize the bond issue, was defeated.

The result is very gratifying to city officials in view of the fact that generating capacity of the present system has been practically taxed to the limit to furnish current requirements for several years.

Necessary steps to get the project under way, now moving rapidly, will be rushed to completion to allow work to be started as early as possible this fall.

Three Free Classes for Women of Charlevoix and Vicinity at High School Gymnasium—Many Local Merchants Cooperating in Two-Day Event

It's Cooking School week again in Charlevoix.

Three sessions of the Charlevoix Courier's 4th annual cooking school are ready to open. The first convenes Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the high school gymnasium with Mrs. Helene Sailer again as director.

The stage of the gymnasium will be transformed into a modern kitchen, thanks to the Charlevoix merchants who are supplying the latest in kitchen appliances and equipment. As heretofore all the recipes made by Mrs. Sailer will be concocted right in the model kitchen, in full view of the audience, which is expected as in the past will fill the entire section.

There will be no admission charge. Just come with notebook and pencil and be prepared to take notes. Ask all the questions desired. Mrs. Sailer says that's why she is here, and welcomes them as indicating a live interest.

The Courier Cooking School has been in progress of preparation for the last month and nothing has been left undone to enhance its value to the housewives of Charlevoix and vicinity.

Sessions will begin promptly at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, at 7 o'clock Friday evening and the final closing session again at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Clear the household decks so you can attend each session. You'll find each one valuable. Economy and usefulness will be the keynote of each and every recipe.

Attend all sessions of the Cooking School and see what the merchants of Charlevoix have to offer in helping you to improve your homemaking with the fine appliances they have to offer, the foodstuffs they have to sell and at prices surprisingly lower than you ever imagined.

BOARD OF COMMERCE WIN SOFTBALL TITLE

Defeated K. of P.'s 3 to 1 Sunday Night in Co. Championship Final

In a thrill-packed extra-inning contest Sunday night at south side athletic field, the Board of Commerce softball team defeated the Knights of Pythias by a 3 to 1 score to win the Charlevoix county championship.

The game was a pitcher's duel between "Tinker" Kirby for the winners and Supernaw for the Pythians. The score was tied 1-all at the end of regulation play and two innings were necessary to produce the winning tallies.

The contest ended an all-county tournament sponsored by the Board of Commerce with nine teams participating. The winners eliminated the Charlevoix Barons 5 to 4, and the Knight Owls by an 8 to 3 count. The K. of P.'s advanced to the finals by victories over the East Jordan Juniors and Ironton. The Knight Owls drew the long end of play and won from the East Jordan Coffee Cups and Tompkins Hatchery of Boyne City, before bowing to the Board of Commerce.

The tournament was directed by Harry Glossenger of the local WPA recreational staff. Sponsors of the tournament desire to thank the participating teams.

George Martin, 33, of Alba, who escaped jail here early Friday morning while awaiting transfer to Jackson prison to serve a 2 to 15 year sentence for car theft, enjoyed but short liberty.

Martin escaped after picking the lock of a meal service entrance between the jail kitchen and cell block. He is being held for re-sentencing by Judge Parm C. Gilbert.

SHUFFLE BOARD MEET WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Title Won by Summer Visitors in Finals Friday Afternoon

First prize in the men's division went to H. Chabnek of Detroit, who won by default of F. C. May, 63-year-old player from Oklahoma City, Okla. Joe Rimer, Chicago, defeated Russell Jacobson, Charlevoix, for the boy's first prize.

In the women'a division, Mrs. M. Bernstein of Detroit defeated Mrs. Peterson, another Detroiter. Marjorie Beatty of St. Louis, Mo., defeated Miss Gross to win the girl's title.

The event was sponsored by the Board of Commerce and was supervised by Ed. Radle of WPA recreational staff. William Driggett acted as referee.

1938-39 TERM BRINGS CLOSE TO VACATION DAYS

Plan 37-Week Term of School This Year — Two New Members Included on Teaching Staff

In less than a week summer vacation will end for the several hundred grade and high school students of Charlevoix, for the opening of the 1938-39 term is scheduled for Monday, September 12.

Students will be called at the usual hour, 8:45 o'clock the opening day. Classes will be run on short schedule for the morning, at least, to allow for registration, class assignments, and procuring of text books. The opening date is earlier than usual, conforming with a plan to conduct school thirty-seven instead of the customary thirty-six weeks. School will be closed on June 9th.

The concern in other Michigan cities over the cutting of state aid for the coming year is not felt in Charlevoix, according to Supt. O. P. North, for the reason that operating cost for the pending term has been set up with a cut in mind. There is a considerable surplus from last year and, if state aid remains as now promised, even a longer year, with a broader program, can be had.

There are two changes in the faculty. Miss Helen Gertrude Olmstead of Saginaw, will teach English and history, and Miss Josephine Schurr of Kalamazoo, will teach Latin, French and sewing. Sewing will be taugh in the 7th and 8th grades and, if the demand warrants, to girls of the senior high school. Sewing

MICHIGAN VOTERS TO POLLS TUESDAY

REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC TICKETS IN FIELD

Candidates of Two Parties Seek Nomination to State, Legislative and County Offices

The Michigan fall primary election, bringing before voters Republican and Democratic candidates seeking nomination to national, state and county offices, will be held Tuesday, September 13.

While several parties have qualified, only two have candidates in the field for the primary. Voters will be presented two ballots — Democratic and Republican — stapled together at the upper left hand corner. This method eliminates expressing party preference. The voter is to mark only one of the two ballots, take them apart and fold each separately, then hand both to the teller, indicating by word which is the "marked" ballot.

The Democratic party has two contests—for secretary of state and representative from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district.

The Republican party has contests for every major office from governor down to county offices. There are three candidates for governor, six for lieutenant-governor. Fred Bradley, Rogers City, and Joseph Sturgeon, Gladstone, seek the nomination for representative in Congress, 11th district; Otto W. Bishop, Alpena, incumbent state senator, 29th district, is opposed by George Lister, Hillman; Douglas D. Tibbits, incumbent, and Rollie L. Lewis, Charlevoix, and candidates for representative of the Charlevoix-Leelanau district.

All incumbents for county office are opposed. C. M. Bice, prosecuting attorney, is opposed by J. M.

Heard this morning that Gordon "Doc" Todd, manager of the Board of Commerce softball team, is going to buy Fred Gill a new hat. That's all I could find out about, though.

There were no less than 20 boats trolling for mackinaw trout off South Point in Lake Michigan last Monday morning and this fact is evidence of what a sizeable industry this trolling business has got to be. You probably can all remember that up to four years ago "deep sea" fishing was unknown in Charlevoix. The boys trolled with light tackle only when the mackinaws were up shoal in the spring and fall. Then along came Don Clothier with his wire line outfits and the first thing we knew he had developed a sport which is good from early spring until late fall. It would be impossible to estimate in dollars and cents what this "deep sea" fishing has meant to Charlevoix through investment in boats, fishing tackle, gasoline and oil consumed. Then there are the men employed as guides and operators

Lansing—Considering the possible dynamite that existed in calling a special session just before a fall election, Governor Frank Murphy emerged from the legislative fire with his eyebrows unsinged. And, in view of the Murphy eyebrows, that's something!

The senate Republicans did what was expected of them. They talked loquaciously, protested vehemently the treasury deficit, and then authorized, like docile lambs, $10,000,000 for welfare relief. With watchful eyes on votes, Republican legislators could not afford to take an anti-relief attitude. Instead, they insisted that the unemployed could have been spared of anxiety (and the taxpayers of $10,000,000 additional expense) if the administration had not boosted payrolls some $9,000,000 in 18 months.

The administration countered with declarations that the treasury deficit, which on September 1 was somewhere between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000, was due solely to the unforeseen extra cost of welfare relief which, in turn, was due to the business "recession".

Take your choice.

Financial Muddle

There appears to be reasonable justification for the insistence of Republicans that a full and understandable statement of state finances be rendered.

Boyle, at her home in this village, Friday, August 26, following an illness of more than two years, borne with the greatest patience and fortitude. The deceased was a kind and sympathetic person, devoted to her late husband and her only child, a son by a former marriage. Her daily household duties never appeared a drudgery to her while she was in good health. She was an excellent cook and derived great pleasure in preparing the appetizing viands for her family and friends, which only those familiar with the culinary art could produce. A native of the Island and aside from a few years spent in Chicago, she was a lifelong resident. Aunt Emma, as she was familiarly known to young and old, was born, Emma McCauley, September 7, 1874. When she was 18 or 19 years old she moved to Chicago, where she met and married Tom Hunt and here her only child was born, a boy, James. A few years after Mr. Hunt's death in Chicago, she returned to the island. October 1918 she married Capt. Dennis D. Boyle, who passed this life nearly two years ago. She is survived by one son, James, of this village; one brother, Patrick, of Upper Michigan; two sisters, Mrs. Rae Gilden and Mrs. Ann Mulhern of Chicago. Requiem High Mass was celebrated at 9:00 a. m. Monday, Reverend Father Bourdow presiding. After the services the remains were conveyed to Holy Cross Cemetery, followed by a large concorse of relatives and friends.

FRED BRADLEY

Republican Candidate

CONGRESS, 11th DISTRICT

TO THE VOTERS OF CHARLEVOIX COUNTY

In offering myself as a candidate for congress in this district, I early recognized a lack of interest and a political confusion among the voters. I have for the past six months waged a clean, vigorous campaign and I feel that I have contributed to a re-awakening of interest in the sound principles of American government under which our nation has made progress in previous years.

I have tried earnestly to sell myself to the voters and have endeavored to advance the principles of harmony, unity of purpose and solidarity of effort in our entire district. I recognize no line of division at the Straits of Mackinac.

I hope the voters will select me to carry on the campaign after the primaries, but if not, I pledge my personal support to the candidate of their choice.

FRED BRADLEY,
Republican Candidate for Congress.

DEMONSTRATION SHOWS PROPER SPUD HARVEST

The failure of the skin on potato tubers to protect the tubers when potatoes are subjected to rough treatment at digging time results in "mechanical injury" and causes many thousands of dollars of losses to Michigan potato growers, according to Leo Card, director of bureau of foods and standards, of the Michigan department of agriculture.

In an attempt to prevent the reoccurance of these losses in 1938 the Michigan department of agriculture and the Michigan State College are cooperating in demonstrating harvesting methods which will leave the skin on potatoes for the cooks to remove. The cooperating agencies have arranged for a potato harvesting demonstration to be held at the Harold Bailey farm at Gaylord on Tuesday, September 13. Beginning at 10:00 a. m. new and farmer-owned equipment will demonstrate harvesting methods which will reduce mechanical injury. It is not the purpose of the demonstration to try to sell farmers new equipment or new gadgets for harvesting potatoes, but rather to show methods for making their own equipment do a better joh.

Cash prizes have been provided for contests which will add to the interest of the events of the day. Hand and machine digging contests and grading contests will be open for competition from both adult and young potato growers.

A potato picking contest to determine the champion potato picker of northern Michigan will be held during the afternoon program. Everyone physically able to pick up potatoes will be eligible to compete for the cash prizes which will be awarded.

LOCAL STORE TO MAKE SPECIAL OFFERING OF DUTCH TULIP BULBS

Word has been received by Smith Housefurnishings from the national headquarters of the Spring-Air mattress that the tenth anniversary of this product is to be celebrated this Fall through a gift offering of Dutch Tulip Bulbs in a colorful rainbow collection, and that their store has been allotted a sizeable quantity for local distribution. The offer is so unusual that over a million bulbs have been contracted for.

Distribution of Bulbs to Begin Soon

Michigan, the city which has become world famous, because of its annual Tulip Festival, and so it is highly appropriate that this company should use this means to promote the goodwill of its product. Smith Housefurnishings report that their initial quota of tulip bulbs will soon be on hand, and that an announcement of the offer will shortly be made. Because of the limited number of bulbs that will be available, those who wish to make advance reservations may do so at the store.

HERD ASSOCIATION REPORTS MILK PRODUCED

Bernie DeYoung's herd of grade Jerseys were high for the month with an average of 851 pounds of milk nnd 37.8 pounds of butterfat. George Meggison's registered Jerseys were second with an average of 709 pounds of milk and 37.6 pounds of butterfat.

The herd of grade and registered Guernseys owned by Albert and Bert Elliott was high in the class of nine cows or less with an average of 872 pounds of milk and 35.3 pounds of butterfat. A. M. AT THE MOVIES

Beery and Cooper, Stars of "The Champ" Score Again in "Treasure Island"

The generations of people, both young and old, who have been thrilled by "Treasure Island", Robert Louis Stevenson's famous story of pirate adventure, will find the vivid story-book experiences of their youth created on the screen in the picture which opens September 13 at the Palace Theatre, with Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper in co-starring roles.

Full power of the most widely read fiction book about pirates ever written has been retained in the adaptation by John Lee Mahin. Scenes have been reproduced exactly as described in the book with much of Stevenson's own dialogue between the charncters followed to the word.

With Beery as Long John Silver and Jackie Cooper as Jim Hawkins, boy adventurer, a cast has been assembled to bring each rover of the Spanish Main to the screen with living reality. Lionel Barrymore's blustering Billy Bones is one of the most entertaining characters he has ever played; Otto Kruger is forceful as Dr. Livesey; Lewis Stone's personal knowledge of sailing ships gives convincing background to his role of Captain Smollett; Nigel Bruce is a ruddy and typically English Squire Trelawney; touches of quaint humor are put into the characterization of Ben Gunn, marooned pirate, by Chle Sale.

MY PLATFORM

HONEST PUBLIC SERVICE

At the Primary Eleetion next Tuesday, September 13, you are going to ehoose the people who will represent you during the next two years. I am a candidate for re-election to the House of Representatives in Lansing. I hope that the things I have aecomplished and worked for during my terms as Representative for these two counties have met with your approval.

Here are some of the things I have done and helped others to do during the past 6 years: Provided Old Age Assistance for many thousands of our old people, with the hope that we can do more for them in the future; secured a reduction in automobile lieense fees; banned the deep trap nets from Lake Michigan, and passed other legislation which has benefitted eommereial and sports fishing; provided funds for snow removal on our roads; helped with school finanees; introduced school legislation that has become law; introduced legislation which has made flying safer in this state; and, as a member of Roads and Bridges Committee, secured a reduction in the cost of lieenses for farm trueks.

I have opposed all legislation whieh would do away with our own loeal governments. I believe that we can govern ourselves better and eheaper right here at home than we ean through some agency in Lansing. I have opposed special interest legislation.

Naturally I have made some mistakes. We all do that. I made them honestly. I have admitted willingly that they were mistakes, and the experience gained from these mistakes should make me a better Representative in the future. The RECORDS, taken as a whole give yo a TRUE picture of my serviees. Don't be misled by garbled and ineomplete exeerpts from the records, that are being cireulated in this distriet.

If you want a Representative that stands on his own feet, who has won and kept the respect of his colleagues in the Legislature, who serves the publie to the best of his ability, then I sineerely solicit your support at the Republican Primaries, Tuesday, September 13th.

I will not enter into any "mud-slinging" eampaign. I stand solely on my reputation of fair dealing and honesty.

I sincerely thank you for your support —both past and future.

A SALUTE

The banner for this week goes to our boss who has managed to pull a newspaper out of the hat regularly each week during the lean, long warm months of July and August. If you don't think this is a trick when you don't print it yourself but pay for it sheet by sheet, then try it sometime. You would, or would you? be amazed at the long number of vacations he has paid for while sticking close to the desk at the same time his shirt was sticking to his back, and those guys lolling at some beach in the shade of their cottage. Any way—the salute is for Oliver Swords, editor and publisher of the Clawson Troy News, The Berkley Press, and the Hazel Park Press, and if he continues with his magic for a brief spell more you will probably hear from him as he intends to drop around to the next Press meeting with your commentator.—C. B. Keister.

TO ASSIST AT COURIER COOKING SCHOOL

Marion Martin of Michigan Bakeries Inc. to Distribute Recipes

Women in attendance at the Courier's Free Cooking School to be conducted by Helene Sailer here September 9 and 10 will be given special souvenirs and attractive recipe books as a part of Michigan Bakeries Inc. cooperation in the event.

The souvenirs will be distributed by Marion Martin, of the Home Service department of Michigan Bakeries Inc., bakers of "Michigan" bread and rolls, who will also have some colorful displays in the lobby of the school place.

Marion Martin

Mrs. Martin will be on hand during the two-day event to discuss food problems with interested housewives attending the school. She makes a specialty of sandwiches—and is well versed in the art of making the many fancy varieties which are so popular for teas and parties.

Notebooks will be provided for the women at the school who wish to take notes on the suggestions and recipes which are given from the platform. These are free and given through the courtesy of Michigan Bakeries Inc., whose Traverse City operations constitute the largest bakery in northern Michigan.

To Your Health

In a recent work, Dr. Edward E. Thorndyke of Columbia University enumerates 26 essentials for a satisfactory life. From the standpoint of health, three are of prime importance. They are:

1. A good well-rounded diet.
2. Protection against disease organism.
3. Protection against mental strain.

Medical men would readily agree that most of our illnesses and disabilities will as a major proportion of premature deaths are due to failure to provide adequately against malnutrition, infection and nervous disorders.

Protection against any would not suffice. Immunity to syphilis, tuberculosis, pneumonia and the like would not guarantee health if the food intake were lacking in minerals or vitamins. And a thoroughly healthy body, properly maintained, would not insure longevity if one's environment or temperament were conducive to worry, fear and anxiety neuroses.

Dwelling at some length on this third requirement for a good life, Dr. Thorndyke suggests that some of the luxuries which we can well forego be sacrificed to provide a quiet corner somewhere about the house where members of the family may rest undisturbed. Such a luxury, says the educator, will yield far more happiness than golf courses, modish clothes, Pullman cars, beauty parlors, radio sets and even electric lights and bathtubs.

No one would seriously advocate a return to the primitive or an appreciable lowering of the national standards of living. Nevertheless, it must be recognized that, in acquiring all the luxuries of modern life, we have accelerated its tempo to a dangerous degree. Almost anything may be purchased on the open market in this highly specialized, highly industrialized age — save genuine mental relaxation, an opportunity to retreat occasionally from the world's hurly-burly and to commune briefly with one's soul. The provision of one or more small "quiet rooms" should be a major consideration when planning new homes or remodelling old ones.

Is the Panama Canal already marked for destruction? Does fiction ever point toward fact? Here's an exciting new serial of mystery and fast-moving intrigue which is enlivened with more than just a fictitious background. Read "The Panama Plot" by Sax Rohmer, author of "Dr. Fu Manchu". BUCK DEER DRESSING UP FOR MATING TIME

Antlers, Now In Velvet, Are Fully Developed—Polishes Them Now

Mr. Buck Deer has begun to dress up for the mating season.

His antlers are now about fully developed, in the velvet and hard. Soon they will begin to shed the velvet as the skin dies, and Mr. Buck will be busy rubbing against trees during the next few weeks to give his antlers the high polish hunters see during the hunting season.

In the majority of cases, the buck deer's antlers are hardened by the first part of September and have lost their velvet by the end of September, although a few may go through this change more slowly than do the most.

One theory regarding the shedding of the velvet skin from the antlers is that the rubbing process in which the deer engages is induced by an itching which occurs as the skin dies. The rubbing is believed to help speed the shedding and at the same time "dress up" the antlers which give the buck added magnificence at the time he is interested in attracting the favorable attention of the female members of the herd.

GROWERS APPROVE NEW U.S. POTATO AGREEMENT

Leading Producers Turn Down Proposal, But Majority For It

By a three to one majority, Michigan farmers favor a proposed embargo on interstate shipments of inferior potatoes, the state soil conservation committee have reported.

The light vote cast in 57 counties showed that 1,449 farmers favored the embargo and 530 opposed the restriction.

In Montcalm county, the No. 1 potato center of the state, the measure was opposed 69 to 93. Lapeer county reported 27 for and 38 opposed; Tuscola, 72 and 49, and Mecosta, 66 and 19.

Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, announced that the order would become effective only if approved by a majority in 13 of the late potato-growing states and possibly not then if the vote was too light to be conclusive.

he intimated to the press that the additional burden on the treasury would be financed by additional taxes. Two weeks later he announced that the state finances had improved to the extent that new taxes would not be needed.

As legislators were drafting bills to appropriate $10,000,000 for welfare relief, Senator Prentiss Brown made a last-minute attempt at Washington to get $3,000,000 direct relief from the federal treasury, and it was explained that with this grant the Michigan special session would be called off. Brown did not succeed.

On August 1 the treasury deficit was said to exceed $10,000,000. However, when the legislature convened, Budget Director Smith informed the governor that it was slightly under $9,000,000.

It was all a bit confusing.

Up and Down

Budget Director Smith has the tough assignment of trying to make ends meet.

Consider his predicament over these actions:

1. Decision of administration to establish a higher minimum monthly wage for state employees than the basic level recommended by the civil service director. This will increase state payrolls approximately $1,000,000. Three thousand employees will benefit.

2. Decision to restore old age pensions to their level before the "economy" program. This will add $500,000.

Smith refused to approve the spending moves.

Gambling on Fall

The administration appears to be gambling (along with the rest of us) on the expectation that business will revive sharply this fall.

More sales will bring more sales tax money into the treasury.

Better business will lighten the unemployment load. It will remove thousands from the welfare list as well as from the federal government's Michigan army of 200,000 WPA workers.

In this $10,000,000 speculation are also these factors: (1) Smith's economy program, and (2) No European war. Stocks skidded one to five points in one day last week, due to WAR fears. You can imagine what might happen if Hitler plunged Europe into another World conflict.

Teachers' Plight

During the depression years teachers' salaries were cut to the bone. Wage readjustments are just now being made.

In the much-revised economy program, school state aid has been reduced $1,600,000. This is a 3.5 per cent cut, far below the proportionate reduction in state expenses.

The actual appropriation reduction however is $7,000,000. It is over this that the educators are squawking loudly. Due to the Couzens inheritance tax receipts, the primary school fund jumped to around $21,000,000. This sum is enmarked irrevocably for schools.

Therefore, when the administration reduced the school aid by $1,600,000 it absorbed into the general fund around $7,000,000 which otherwise would have gone to the schools.

The teachers are probably lucky to get by with such a small cut in state aid, but they also can insist with obvious fairness that good accounting be given of the $7,000,000 "windfall".

Uncertainty

Considering all and all, it's little wonder that much uncertainty prevails at Lansing.

Aside from the financial uncertainty, here are four others:

1. Will Republican chances in November be injured by the present Toy-Fitzgerald feud?

2. Will Murphy's chances for reelection be hurt greatly (or helped!) if President Roosevelt does not include Michigan in his pre-election speaking tours?

3. Will Former Governor Comstock run against Murphy?

4. Will the CIO and A. F. of L. unite behind the Democratic ticket?

Four Guesses

It's interesting speculation. Here are our guesses:

1. Yes. And don't be surprised if newspapers report activity of a grand jury investigation.

2. Yes, (and no). The "if" seems far-fetched to us. Roosevelt will speak here in October.

3. Yes. Murphy will have opposition.

4. No. Michigan labor is already badly split. The CIO and A. F. of L. wouldn't even march together in Detroit's Labor Day parade. In Genesee county (Flint) the A. F. of L. has endorsed a Republican candidate for governor.

In summary, we predict a red-hot fight. And, it is NOT going to be a walkaway for either ticket.

ANGLER MAY EAT FISH AND STILL HAVE PROOF

Conservation Department Offers "Alibi" Service to Sportsmen

How to eat your fish and still be able to prove you caught it has long been the anti-climactic question about making a record catch.

State conservation officers may now have the answer. The officers have been supplied with cards, each entitled, "A Citation for Exceptional Angling". Space is provided on the cards for recording the size, species and number of the catch, the name of the fisherman, the date and place where the catch was made, and a line for the signature of the conservation officer attesting to the catch.

If after making an exceptional catch, a fisherman displays it to a conservation officer with request for one of the citation cards, he can then go home contented in the knowledge that he will be able to enjoy the fish without the disturbing thought that somebody may call him a liar when he later tells about catching it. All he'll need to do then is flash his citation card.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS

"Have you noticed anything different about the tomatoes now on the market?" asks Consumers' Bureau of the Michigan State Department of Agriculture.

The new home-grown tomatoes have a better flavor, brighter color and more juice. They taste better than those shipped in from the south because they are vine-ripened by the sun, as Nature intended.

Directing attention to the excellence of the 1938 tomato crop in Michigan, Consumers' Bureau of the department of agriculture says:

"Some people hesitate to buy tomatoes because they are not sure they pronounce the word 'tomato' correctly. The dictionary gives two pronunciations: tom-ay-to and tom-ah-to. The first is preferred but either is correct.

"It was only a little more than 100 years ago that the world discovered that 'love apples' were not poisonous, that they contained sugars, acids and vitamins necessary to the proper functioning of the human body. Their zest to appetites and their healthful qualities, not to mention their good taste, is now appreciated almost universally."

More than a century ago, in 1837, the newly-formed Michigan legislature passed the state's first bounty law, which offered payment for the killing of wolves.

LAKE WATER LEVELS HIGHEST SINCE 1928

Ontario Only One of Great Lakes Under Average for 10 Years

Water levels of four of the Great Lakes are now the highest they have been for the last several years and above the average for the last decade.

Records at the department of conservation, maintained on the basis of reports by the United States lake survey, show that the level of Lake Superior is higher than at any time since 1928, while those of Lakes Michigan, Huron and Erie are the highest since 1930. Only Lake Ontario is under the average level for the last 10 years and even on this lake the level is the highest since 1932.

CORRESPONDENCE

is somewhat improved at present writing. She was able to take a little food Friday.

The Welch family of Central Lake and the James Johnson family have moved to East Jordan. Mrs. Harriet Wolcerton of Eastport has rented her farm north of Eastport to Mr. Holecheck of Grand Rapids and has moved to East Jordan.

Mrs. Ruth Dawson is getting better and was able to get down town again last week. She had been ill for several weeks, and had an operation at Petoskey hospital. Mrs. Arthur Hockin is back from Mayo Brothers hospital in Minnesota, and is feeling quite well again.

Kenneth McKay of Central Lake begins a term of school in Grand View district next Monday. It will be his fourth consecutive year there, and the only school he has ever taught. The writer taught there five years, also five years at Creswell, and three years at Lake View where Otho Mathias is teaching this year, in the forty years that we have taught school.

Bellaire school begins next Monday, also the East Jordan high school and Mancelona and Detroit schools begin this week. Many resorters are trecking back to that city for the beginning of the school year. The traffic on US-31 appeared the heaviest Sunday of any time this year. There appeared to be as many going north as those wending their homeward journey toward the south. Probably many were on their way for Labor Day festivities.

All the people have not been placed as yet for speakers for the Antrim County Rural Sunday School Association's rally day for October 2nd, but we will try to get them out next week. We know definitely that Harry Mathews was so well liked at Jordan River that they want him there again, and Mrs. Underhill at Pleasant Valley. We are planning for a union meeting of Turner and Ball at Ball school house, and hope to get Rev. Nelson to speak and Mrs. Nelson with the accordian, and Mrs. Grace Hooper and Mrs. Hostler to sing.

North Milton, South Milton and Kewadin schools are transporting their seventh and eighth grade pupils to Elk Rapids high school by bus, beginning last Monday. Creswell pupils are doing their transporting. The road men are working on the widening and grading of the road from the Bush Corners to Turner school house in preparation for the bus and snow plow to get through, as they have consolidated with Bellaire. The teacher, Melva Bedell Mills had already been hired to teach at Turners, and they would have had plenty of money for teacher's salary, and plenty of wood for fuel.

If possible, we would like to get the editor or publisher, or both, on our program for rally day, October 2, 1938, at Grand View, for a talk or paper on "The Editor's Part in Sunday School Work". We wished to get them on our rally day program at Eastport in June but they were away at conference of M. E. Church. They are both members of the M. E. church and teachers in the Sunday school, and we believe they could give us some interesting facts in regard to the work. Also, we think it would be of interest to them to get over to Grand View and get acquainted with the people, as well as to see the great view from the hills over there.

STURGEON ADVOCATES JOBS AND FAIRNESS

Congressional Candidate Makes Last Pre-Primary Campaign Statement

Gladstone, Mich.—An opportunity for workers to earn the benefits of what they are able to produce, and fairness and justice for all the people were the two main points brought out in a statement made here this week by Jos. A. Sturgeon, Gladstone publisher, on the final swing of his campaign for congressman for the 11th district.

Charging that "the New Deal stands discredited because it has failed to settle the major problems with which it has been confronted, and its promises have been inconsistent with its performance, "Sturgeon listed the things which he believes in and will work for if chosen as a congressional nominee.

"First," he said, "confidence of the people in their government must be restored by formulating a program that promises fair treatment to all. There must be no further resort to class appeal and class hatreds.

"The worker who produces the wealth must necessarily receive first consideration. Let the government serve as the peace agent in labor-industry strife. Give to all a square deal, remembering always that the objective must be the greatest good for the largest number.

"The worker and farmer must be protected against the invasion of cheap foreign labor, government waste and the extravagance must be corrected, provision can and will be made for the aged and disabled, and a definite curb must be placed on subversive communistic agencies."

Commenting on his campaign, Sturgeon said, "I have campaigned in the hopes that I might contribute something to good government. My aim has been to be helpful, and at no time have I resorted to personalities. Issues, real issues, are involved, and those have been discussed. I shall hope to be called upon for further service. I am prepared to give my best."

SEEKS RETALIATION AGAINST CALIFORNIA

Tibbits Proposed Resolution to Ban Western Fruit in Michigan

Retaliation against California for an embargo on Michigan apples and other fruits was the objective of a resolution sponsored in the house of representatives last Wednesday by Rep. Douglas D. Tibbits, R., of Boyne City.

He introduced a resolution asking the legislative council to study the desirability of legislation barring California fruits and vegetables from Michigan. The resolution was referred to a house committee.

John B. Strange, state commissioner of agriculture, said California has quarantined Michigan apples and some other products because of the presence of the oriental fruit moth and the "railroad worm" in this state.

He refused to express an opinion as to whether the quarantine is justified.

WOULD PROMOTE MILK SALE BY ADVERTISING

Agricultural Commissionar Strange Cites Success in Other States

Milk producers of Charlevoix county are interested in a proposal made a few days ago by Commissioner John B. Strange of the state department of agriculture, to promote the sale of milk in Michigan through an extensive advertising campaign.

In an address before the Michigan Milk Producers association, the state official declared that a surplus of milk should not exist, considering its requirements for food and health.

"New York state with a fund of $400,000 seems to have clearly demonstrated that money spent in this manner brings splendid results," Mr. Strange said. "They have shown that successful advertising depends upon continuous efforts; its benefits are accumulative."

"The Lone Ranger" leads a brilliant array of new features in the bigger and better Comic Weekly, appearing exclusively in the Sunday Chicago Herald and Examiner. Every member of the family will enjoy the new comics, new contests and new features.

CHUMS SAVE CHICAGO LAD FROM DROWNING

Forrest and Robert Weed Rescued Larry Sharpe Friday Evening

Seized with cramps while swimming Friday evening in Lake Michigan, Larry Sharpe of Chicago, was saved from drowning by his chums, Forrest and Robert Weed, who assisted him to shore.

projects will also be carried on as a 4-H Club activity under the leadership of Miss Muriel Tobin. All other teaching positions remain the same as last year.

Not many changes have been made in the school property this summer. Necessary repairs and maintenance work has been done, also plastering and painting. New plumbing fixtures and drinking fountains have been installed at the public library. Roofs of all buildings have been repaired considerably. Tops of chimneys on the abandoned junior high building have been removed for reason of safety.

The southeast portion of the athletic field, allowed to lie fallow, has been cleared of stone and seeded to sweet clover and alfalfa which will improve it until such a time as it will be used. The new football field inside the track oval is in fine condition and will be used for the first time this fall.

It is anticipated the kindergarten will be large again this year. The first grade is also expected to be larger than can be accommodated in a small room. It is hoped parents will cooperate as much as possible to prevent a situation making an extra room and teacher necessary.

RECEIVE REQUESTS FOR TAX REFUNDING

No Funds Available to Return of Head Tax Paid to State

Auditor General George T. Gundry announced today that he was still receiving numerous requests for refunds of the head tax that was paid to the county treasurers throughout the state in 1934.

Many people erroneously believe that by writing him they will receive a refund of the money paid at that time, Gundry said, and explained that such is not the case, inasmuch as there has been no fund created for the refunding of this tax money.

Gundry said that investigation of the matter revealed that a bill was introduced at the last session of the Legislature which would have empowered him to refund the money to those who presented receipts from the county treasurers.

It was pointed out however, that the bill failed of passage when it was learned that the money so collected, had been spent for Old Age Assistance in 1934, and further funds were not available at that time.

CHASE OSBORNE HEADS BRIDGE COMMISSION

Murphy Names Group Organized to Get Support for Project

Governor Murphy has announced plans that are underway to gain statewide support for the proposed $30,000,000 Straits of Mackinac bridge.

He announced the appointment of former Gov. Chase S. Osborn of Sault Ste. Marie as chairman of a bridge committee to be composed of representatives from all counties. Additional members of the committee, which will seek to consolidate support of bridge plans, will be named in Lansing next week.

The governor selected G. Donald Kennedy, deputy state highway commissioner as chairman of the Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority, the agency conducting the official plans for the bridge. Engineers have estimated the six-mile span—largest bridge of its kind in the world—would cost $30,000,000.

There's a new kind of bean on display at Wallace's oil station. They're calling it Paul Bunyan's bean because of its enormous size, but between you and I, it looks more like one of those Australian boomerangs that sneak back and smack you after you throw it. The thing is over four foot long and somewhat resembles a summer squash. Oh heck, I can't describe the darn thing. You'll have to take a look at it yourself.

It's too bad all these summer people who are now trekking for home couldn't stick around long enough to find out just how wonderful Charlevoix is in the fall.

Here's a tip to you women: If your husband kicks about the grub, just take in the three sessions of the Courier cooking school at the high school gym on Friday and Saturday of this week. There's always something new to learn, you know. It's the Courier's school, made possible by the cooperation of Charlevoix merchants. It is free and put on for your benefit. Don't miss it! P. S.—Wouldn't dare make such a "crack" at home.

Everybody along the fishin' front is happy. The steelhead have started "hitting" and don't think that isn't good news. The first catches were made last Sunday and have been consistent since then. The usual grounds off the west shore of Lake Charlevoix are producing their customary quota and word comes that these "fresh water tarpon" are being taken in good numbers around Ironton and up the lake towards Horton Bay. Word has gone out to the hundreds who have been awaiting this particulary popular fishing sport.

NEW AUTO PLATES TO BE TAN AND BLACK

Manufacture of 1939 Michigan Licenses Is Now Under Way

Two million pounds of metal will be used to make next year's automobile license plates for Michigan.

The 1939 plates will bear black letters and figures on a light tan background and bear no resemblance to the 1909 "life-time" tags which were small metal discs screwed onto dashboards.

Up to June of 30, a total of 942,966 full-year plates for eight different types of motor vehicles and trailers were issued for $10,808,632 and 597,689 half-year tags for $3,971,675. About 650 tons of metal and 6,000 gallons of paint were used by convicts in the state prison of southern Michigan shops.

Plates for the second half of 1938, good until March 1, 1939, now are being issued. The first half-year tags expire August 31. The 1939 issue will be on sale about November 1.

 DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN ***

Notary Publics Total Some 40,000

Every twelve minutes of every working day, Michigan gains another Notary Public. There are now some 40,000 listed in the files of the department of state.

Appointments are made by the governor, commissions are issued by the secretary of state. There are several interesting facts to be found in the records of Leon D. Case, secretary of state, about this public office which has survived in modern form from a century old practice in England.

More commissions were issued last year than have been previously issued in any one year; the total for the year being 11,205. The average number of commissions issued per year over a ten year period, is approximately 10,000.

The commission term is for four years, except when the notary is removed for cause. There is now one notary for every 125 people in the state of Michigan. Any citizen of the state, 21 years of age or over, endorsed by a Circuit or Probate Judge or a member of the legislature may apply to the governor for a commission.

A fee of $1.00 which goes to the state's general fund must accompany the application. The commissions are sent to the county clerks, who notify the applicants. Applicants must then file bonds of $1,000.00 each and pay the county clerk a fee of fifty cents. If the bond is not filed within ninety days the commission is withdrawn.

A RECORD OF 94½% CONVICTIONS

During my time in office there have been 521 prosecutions in Circuit and Justice Courts with 493 convictions or a record of 94½%. Of the 521 prosecutions there were but 11 acquittals, some of these being in cases where issuance of warrant was not authorized by me. 6 cases were settled and dismissed on payment of costs, 6 nolle prossed with consent of Court at request of complainant, 5 discharged on examination for insufficient evidence. Of the foregoing number 62 were Circuit Court Criminal Cases with 55 convictions, 3 acquittals, 2 nolle prossed with the consent of the Court at request of complainant, 1 settled and dismissed on payment of costs, and 1 dismissed by the Court as defendant convicted of same transaction in another county.

FIRE IN CAR KILLS DONALD T. McHUGH

CAUSED SUFFOCATION AS HE NAPPED BY ROADSIDE

A lighted cigarette that McHugh accidentally dropped on the driver's seat of his car, parked on the shoulder of Antrim county highway 593 for a nap, was said by Sheriff H. E. Tanner of Antrim county, who investigated, to have caused the blaze. Smoke from the smoldering flame had filled the car before passersby detected something was wrong and found McHugh dead in the front seat of the car. The windows were all tightly closed.

McHugh was alone and was returning from a business visit to Bellaire.

The tragedy was discovered by H. E. Conger and James L. Smith of Wadsworth, Ohio, and Harold Longton of Rapids City, who were driving past to go fishing. They pulled McHugh from the car and attempted unsuccessfully to revive him.

Mr. McHugh was born in Kalamazoo. He came to this region nearly thirty years ago, working on a road contract north of Levering on M-131. He later established a contracting business in this city and for the past several years has been connected in various capacities with the federal relief administration activities in northern Michigan. His latest position was engineer of District No. 1, covering 15 northern counties of the lower peninsula.

Mr. McHugh married Miss Alice Madill in this city in 1914. She survives him together with six children: Donald Jr. of Detroit, Alice, Monica, Anne, Kathleen and Mrs. Margaret Gregory, all of Charlevoix; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thudeus McHugh, Kalamazoo, five brothers, Charles, Theodore, Robert, Kalamazoo, Glenn, Grand Rapids, William, Salt Lake City, Utah; sisters, Tempest, Kalamazoo, Mrs. Olin Harvey, South Bend, Ind.

Kewoenaw County Board Asks for Closed Season on Black Bear

Keweenaw county bears are more valuable as tourist attractions than as:

1. Rugs.
2. Steaks.
3. Adornments for trophy rooms.

So believe the Keweenaw county board of supervisors and civic clubs, including the Lions club, according to a petition on file today with the state conservation department.

The groups asked that the county be closed to bear hunting. Open season now is November 15 to 30. The request will be considered by the commission at its September 9 meeting. Conservation Director P. J. Hoffmaster said. There are about 4,000 bears in Michigan.

FOUR ARE SENTENCED IN COURT THURSDAY

Sentences deferred from the August circuit court term were meted out by Judge Parm C. Gilbert at a special session here Thursday afternoon.

John Knight, local summer resident, found guilty of violating a harbor ordinance by a jury following appeal from justice court sentence, was fined $175 and placed on probation until the October term. The fine money will be divided, $100 to the county and $75 to the city to cover cost of prosecution.

George Martin, Boyne City, was sentenced to serve from 14 months to two years, and Cletus Antoine, Leland Indian, from 1 to 2 years at Jackson prison for car theft. Russell Paul, companion of Antoine in the theft of a car from Oscar Nelson's garage on State street last fall, was placed on probation until October 1939.

BOND PROPOSAL GIVEN APPROVAL

TAXPAYERS SANCTION $70,000 FOR UTILITY EXTENSION

Additional Generating Unit, Line and Plant Improvements Planned with $69,690 Federal Aid

Voting at a special election Tuesday, Charlevoix taxpayers approved a proposal to issue $70,000 in general obligation bonds to finance, together with a PWA grant of $69,690, a program of improvements to the municipal electric light system.

Out of a total of 305 votes cast, 248 were in favor of the proposal and 57 against it. The vote by wards was:

	Yes	No
1st ward	70	3
2nd ward	97	34
3rd ward	81	20
	248	57

Approval by taxpayors paves the way for a program which includes installation of a 450 k.w. diesel generating unit and necessary auxiliary equipment, building addition to house the unit, re-building 18 miles of transmission line between Charlevoix and the city-owned hydro-electric plant at Bellaire, and major repairs and improvements at the Bellaire plant.

Such a plan has been under way for two years. Last spring a bond issue of $98,000 for a similar purpose was approved, but a franchise proposal, required to legalize the bond issue, was defeated.

The result is very gratifying to city officials in view of the fact that generating capacity of the present system has been practically taxed to the limit to furnish current requirements for several years.

Necessary steps to get the project under way, now moving rapidly, will be rushed to completion to allow work to be started as early as possible this fall.

MRS. HELENE SAILER RETURNS TO CHARLEVOIX FOR FOURTH CONSECUTIVE YEAR

MANY FREE GIFTS GIVEN EACH SESSION

Three Free Classes for Women of Charlevoix and Vicinity at High School Gymnasium—Many Local Merchants Cooperating in Two-Day Event

It's Cooking School week again in Charlevoix.

Three sessions of the Charlevoix Courier's 4th annual cooking school are ready to open. The first convenes Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the high school gymnasium with Mrs. Helene Sailer again as director.

The stage of the gymnasium will be transformed into a modern kitchen, thanks to the Charlevoix merchants who are supplying the latest in kitchen appliances and equipment. As heretofore all the recipes made by Mrs. Sailer will be concocted right in the model kitchen, in full view of the audience, which is expected as in the past will fill the entire section.

There will be no admission charge. Just come with notebook and pencil and be prepared to take notes. Ask all the questions desired. Mrs. Sailer says that's why she is here, and welcomes them as indienting a live interest.

The Courier Cooking School has been in progress of preparation for the last month and nothing has been left undone to enhance its value to the housewives of Charlevoix and vicinity.

Sessions will begin promptly at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, at 7 o'clock Friday evening and the final closing session again at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Clear the household decks so you can attend each session. You'll find each one valuable. Economy and usefulness will be the keynote of each and every recipe.

Attend all sessions of the Cooking School and see what the merchants of Charlevoix have to offer in helping you to improve your homemaking with the fine appliances they have to offer, the foodstuffs they have to sell and at prices surprisingly lower than you ever imagined.

BOARD OF COMMERCE WIN SOFTBALL TITLE

Defeated K. of P.'s 3 to 1 Sunday Night in Co. Championship Final

In a thrill-packed extra-inning contest Sunday night at south side athletic field, the Board of Commerce softball team defeated the Knights of Pythins by a 3 to 1 score to win the Charlevoix county championship.

The game was a pitcher's duel between "Tinker" Kirby for the winners and Supernaw for the Pythians. The score was tied 1-all at the end of regulation play and two innings were necessary to produce the winning tallies.

The contest ended an all-county tournament sponsored by the Board of Commerce with nine teams participating. The winners eliminated the Charlevoix Barons 5 to 4, and the Knight Owls by an 8 to 3 count. The K. of P.'s advanced to the finals by victories over the East Jordan Juniors and Ironton. The Knight Owls drew the long end of play and won from the East Jordan Coffee Cups and Tompkins Hatchery of Boyne City, before bowing to the Board of Commerce.

The tournament was directed by Harry Glossenger of the local WPA recreational staff. Sponsors of the tournament desire to thank the participating teams.

ESCAPED PRISONER TAKEN AT SAGINAW

George Martin, 33, of Alba, who escaped jail here early Friday morning while awaiting transfer to Jackson prison to serve a 2 to 15 year sentence for car theft, enjoyed but short liberty.

Working on a hunch Martin would seek his wife's relatives at Saginaw, Sheriff Floyd Ikens notified police of that city to be on the look-out for him. He was picked up by Saginaw police and returned here by Sheriff Ikens on Sunday.

Martin escaped after picking the lock of a meal service entrance between the jail kitchen and cell block. He is being held for re-sentencing by Judge Parm C. Gilbert.

SHUFFLE BOARD MEET WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Title Won by Summer Visitors in Finals Friday Afternoon

First prize in the men's division went to H. Chabnek of Detroit, who won by default of F. C. May, 63-year-old player from Oklahoma City, Okla. Joe Rimer, Chicago, defeated Russell Jacobson, Charlevoix, for the boy's first prize.

In the women's division, Mrs. M. Bernstein of Detroit defeated Mrs. Peterson, another Detroiter. Marjorie Beutty of St. Louis, Mo., defeated Miss Gross to win the girl's title.

The event was sponsored by the Board of Commerce and was supervised by Ed. Radle of WPA recreational staff. William Driggett acted as referee.

1938-39 TERM BRINGS CLOSE TO VACATION DAYS

Plan 37-Week Term of School This Year — Two New Members Included on Teaching Staff

In less than a week summer vacation will end for the several hundred grade and high school students of Charlevoix, for the opening of the 1938-39 term is scheduled for Monday, September 12.

Students will be called at the usual hour, 8:45 o'clock the opening day. Classes will be run on short schedule for the morning, at least, to allow for registration, class assignments, and procuring of text books. The opening date is earlier than usual, conforming with a plan to conduct school thirty-seven instead of the customary thirty-six weeks. School will be closed on June 9th.

The concern in other Michigan cities over the cutting of state aid for the coming year is not felt in Charlevoix, according to Supt. O. P. North, for the reason that operating cost for the pending term has been set up with a cut in mind. There is a considerable surplus from last year and, if state aid remains as now promised, even a longer year, with a broader program, can be had.

There are two changes in the faculty. Miss Helen Gertrude Olmstead of Saginaw, will teach English and history, and Miss Josephine Schurr of Kalamazoo, will teach Latin, French and sewing. Sewing will be taugh in the 7th and 8th grades and, if the demand warrants, to girls of the senior high school. Sewing

REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC TICKETS IN FIELD

Candidates of Two Parties Seek Nomination to State, Legislative and County Offices

The Michigan fall primary election, bringing before voters Republican and Democratic candidates seeking nomination to national, state and county offices, will be held Tuesday, September 13.

While several parties have qualified, only two have candidates in the field for the primary. Voters will be presented two ballots — Democratic and Republican — stapled together at the upper left hand corner. This method eliminates expressing party preference. The voter is to mark only one of the two ballots, take them apart and fold each separately, then hand both to the teller, indicating by word which is the "marked" ballot.

The Democratic party has two contests—for secretary of state and representative from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district.

The Republican party has contests for every major office from governor down to county offices. There are three candidates for governor, six for lieutenant-governor. Fred Bradley, Rogers City, and Joseph Sturgeon, Gladstone, seek the nomination for representative in Congress, 11th district; Otto W. Bishop, Alpena, incumbent state senator, 29th district, is opposed by George Lister, Hillman; Douglas D. Tibbits, incumbent, and Rollie L. Lewis, Charlevoix, and candidates for representative of the Charlevoix-Leelanau district.

All incumbents for county office are opposed. C. M. Bice, prosecuting attorney, is opposed by J. M.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Kon Usher

Heard this morning that Gordon "Doc" Todd, manager of the Board of Commerce softball team, is going to buy Fred Gill a new hat. That's all I could find out about, though.

There were no less than 20 boats trolling for mackinaw trout off South Point in Lake Michigan last Monday morning and this fact is evidence of what a sizeable industry this trolling business has got to be. You probably can all remember that up to four years ago "deep sea" fishing was unknown in Charlevoix. The boys trolled with light tackle only when the mackinaws were up shoal in the spring and fall. Then along came Don Clothier with his wire line outfits and the first thing we knew he had developed a sport which is good from early spring until late fall. It would be impossible to estimate in dollars and cents what this "deep sea" fishing has meant to Charlevoix through investment in boats, fishing tackle, gasoline and oil consumed. Then there are the men employed as guides and operators

Lansing—Considering the possible dynamite that existed in calling a special session just before a fall election, Governor Frank Murphy emerged from the legislative fire with his eyebrows unsinged. And, in view of the Murphy eyebrows, that's something!

The senate Republicans did what was expected of them. They talked loquaciously, protested vehemently the treasury deficit, and then authorized, like docile lambs, $10,000,000 for welfare relief. With watchful eyes on votes, Republican legislators could not afford to take an anti-relief attitude. Instead, they insisted that the unemployed could have been spared of anxiety (and the taxpayers of $10,000,000 additional expense) if the administration had not boosted payrolls some $9,000,000 in 18 months.

The administration countered with declarations that the treasury deficit, which on September 1 was somewhere between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000, was due solely to the unforeseen extra cost of welfare relief which, in turn, was due to the business "recession".

Take your choice.

Financial Muddle

There appears to be reasonable justification for the insistence of Republicans that a full and understandable statement of state finances be rendered.

Boyle, at her home in this village, Friday, August 26, following an illness of more than two years, borne with the greatest patience and fortitude. The deceased was a kind and sympathetic person, devoted to her late husband and her only child, a son by a former marriage. Her daily household duties never appeared a drudgery to her while she was in good health. She was an excellent cook and derived great pleasure in preparing the appetizing viands for her family and friends, which only those familiar with the culinary art could produce. A native of the Island and aside from a few years spent in Chicago, she was a lifelong resident. Aunt Emma, as she was familiarly known to young and old, was born, Emma McCauley, September 7, 1874. When she was 18 or 19 years old she moved to Chicago, where she met and married Tom Hunt and here her only child was born, a boy, James. A few years after Mr. Hunt's death in Chicago, she returned to the island. October 1918 she married Capt. Dennis D. Boyle, who passed this life nearly two years ago. She is survived by one son, James, of this village; one brother, Patrick, of Upper Michigan; two sisters, Mrs. Rae Gilden and Mrs. Ann Mulhern of Chicago. Requiem High Mass was celebrated at 9:00 a. m. Monday, Reverend Father Bourdow presiding. CONGRESS, 11th DISTRICT

TO THE VOTERS OF CHARLEVOIX COUNTY

In offering myself as a candidate for congress in this district, I early recognized a lack of interest and a political confusion among the voters. I have for the past six months waged a clean, vigorous campaign and I feel that I have contributed to a re-awakening of interest in the sound principles of American government under which our nation has made progress in previous years.

I have tried earnestly to sell myself to the voters and have endeavored to advance the principles of harmony, unity of purpose and solidarity of effort in our entire district. I recognize no line of division at the Straits of Mackinac.

I hope the voters will elect me to carry on the campaign after the primaries, but if not, I pledge my personal support to the candidate of their choice.

FRED BRADLEY,
Republican Candidate for Congress.

DEMONSTRATION SHOWS PROPER SPUD HARVEST

The failure of the skin on potato tubers to protect the tubers when potatoes are subjected to rough treatment at digging time results in "mechanical injury" and causes many thousands of dollars of losses to Michigan potato growers, according to Leo Card, director of bureau of foods and standards, of the Michigan department of agriculture.

In an attempt to prevent the reoccurance of these losses in 1938 the Michigan department of agriculture and the Michigan State College are cooperating in demonstrating harvesting methods which will leave the skin on potatoes for the cooks to remove. The cooperating agencies have arranged for a potato harvesting demonstration to be held at the Harold Bailey farm at Gaylord on Tuesday, September 13. Beginning at 10:00 a. m. new and farmer-owned equipment will demonstrate harvesting methods which will reduce mechanical injury. It is not the purpose of the demonstration to try to sell farmers new equipment or new gadgets for harvesting potatoes, but rather to show methods for making their own equipment do a better job.

Cash prizes have been provided for contests which will add to the interest of the events of the day. Hand and machine digging contests and grading contests, will be open for competition from both adult and young potato growers.

A potato picking contest to determine the champion potato picker of northern Michigan will be held during the afternoon program. Everyone physically able to pick up potatoes will be eligible to compete for the cash prizes which will be awarded.

LOCAL STORE TO MAKE SPECIAL OFFERING OF DUTCH TULIP BULBS

Word has been received by Smith Housefurnishings from the national headquarters of the Spring-Air mattress that the tenth anniversary of this product is to be celebrated this Fall through a gift offering of Dutch Tulip Bulbs in a colorful rainbow collection, and that their store has been allotted a sizeable quantity for local distribution. The offer is so unusual that over a million bulbs have been contracted for.

The general offices of the Spring-Air Mattress are located in Holland, Michigan, the city which has become world famous because of its annual Tulip Festival, and so it is highly appropriate that this company should use this means to promote the goodwill of its product. Smith Housefurnishings report that their initial quota of tulip bulbs will soon be on hand, and that an announcement of the offer will shortly be made. Because of the limited number of bulbs that will be available, those who wish to make advance reservations may do so at the store.

HERD ASSOCIATION REPORTS MILK PRODUCED

George Meggison's Jersey Herd Second in District

Average production per cow for the month in the Northwest Dairy Herd Improvement Association was 847 pounds of milk and 27.5 pounds of butterfat. Twenty-five cows or 8 per cent of those on the test, were dry.

Bernie DeYoung's herd of grade Jerseys were high for the month with an average of 851 pounds of milk and 37.8 pounds of butterfat; George Meggison's registered Jerseys were second with an average of 709 pounds of milk and 37.6 pounds of butterfat.

The herd of grade and registered Guernseys owned by Albert and Bert Elliott was high in the class of nine cows or less with an average of 872 pounds of milk and 35.3 pounds of butterfat. A. M. Murphy's registered Guernseys were second in the small class, averaging 655 pounds of milk and 31.5 pounds of butterfat.

AT THE MOVIES

Beery and Cooper, Stars of "The Champ" Score Again in "Treasure Island"

The generations of people, both young and old, who have been thrilled by "Treasure Island", Robert Louis Stevenson's famous story of pirate adventure, will find the vivid story-book experiences of their youth created on the screen in the picture which opens September 13 at the Palace Theatre, with Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper in co-starring roles.

Full power of the most widely read fiction book about pirates ever written has been retained in the adaptation by John Lee Mahin. Scenes have been reproduced exactly as described in the book with much of Stevenson's own dialogue between the characters followed to the word.

With Beery as Long John Silver and Jackie Cooper as Jim Hawkins, boy adventurer, a cast has been assembled to bring each rover of the Spanish Main to the screen with living reality. Lionel Barrymore's blustering Billy Bones is one of the most entertaining characters he has ever played; Otto Kruger is forceful as Dr. Livesey; Lewis Stone's personal knowledge of sailing ships gives convincing background to his role of Captain Smollett; Nigel Bruce is a ruddy and typically English Squire Trelawney; touches of quaint humor are put into the characterization of Ben Gunn, marooned pirate, by Chic Sale.

MY PLATFORM

HONEST PUBLIC SERVICE

At the Primary Election next Tuesday, September 13, you are going to choose the people who will represent you during the next two years. I am a candidate for re-election to the House of Representatives in Lansing. I hope that the things I have accomplished and worked for during my terms as Representative for these two counties have met with your approval.

Here are some of the things I have done and helped others to do during the past 6 years: Provided Old Age Assistance for many thousands of our old people, with the hope that we can do more for them in the future; secured a reduction in automobile license fees; banned the deep trap nets from Lake Michigan, and passed other legislation which has benefitted commercial and sports fishing; provided funds for snow removal on our roads; helped with school finances; introduced school legislation that has become law; introduced legislation which has made flying safer in this state; and, as a member of Roads and Bridges Committee, secured a reduction in the cost of licenses for farm trucks.

I have opposed all legislation which would do away with our own local governments. I believe that we can govern ourselves better and cheaper right here at home than we can through some agency in Lansing. I have opposed special interest legislation.

Naturally I have made some mistakes. We all do that. I made them honestly. I have admitted willingly that they were mistakes, and the experience gained from these mistakes should make me a better Representative in the future. The RECORDS, taken as a whole give you a TRUE picture of my services. Don't be misled by garbled and incomplete excerpts from the records, that are being circulated in this district.

If you want a Representative that stands on his own feet, who has won and kept the respect of his colleagues in the Legislature, who serves the public to the best of his ability, then I sincerely solicit your support at the Republican Primaries, Tuesday, September 13th.

I will not enter into any "mud-slinging" campaign. I stand solely on my reputation of fair dealing and honesty.

I sincerely thank you for your support —both past and future.

A SALUTE

The banner for this week goes to our boss who has managed to pull a newspaper out of the hat regularly each week during the lean, long warm months of July and August. If you don't think this is a trick when you don't print it yourself but pay for it sheet by sheet, then try it sometime. You would, or would you? be amazed at the long number of vacations he has paid for while sticking close to the desk at the same time his shirt was sticking to his back, and those guys lolling at some beach in the shade of their cottage. Any way—the salute is for Oliver Swords, editor and publisher of the Clawson Troy News, The Berkley Press, and the Hazel Park Press, and if he continues with his magic for a brief spell more you will probably hear from him as he intends to drop around to the next Press meeting with your commentator.—C. B. Keister.

TO ASSIST AT COURIER COOKING SCHOOL

Marion Martin of Michigan Bakeries Inc. to Distribute Recipes

Women in attendance at the Courier's Free Cooking School to be conducted by Helene Sailer here September 9 and 10 will be given special souvenirs and attractive recipe books as a part of Michigan Bakeries Inc. cooperation in the event.

The souvenirs will be distributed by Marion Martin, of the Home Service department of Michigan Bakeries Inc., bakers of "Michigan" bread and rolls, who will also have some colorful displays in the lobby of the school place.

Marion Martin

Mrs. Martin will be on hand during the two-day event to discuss food problems with interested housewives attending the school. She makes a specialty of sandwiches—and is well versed in the art of making the many fancy varieties which are so popular for teas and parties.

Notebooks will be provided for the women at the school who wish to take notes on the suggestions and recipes which are given from the platform. These are free and given through the courtesy of Michigan Bakeries Inc., whose Traverse City operations constitute the largest bakery in northern Michigan.

To Your Health

In a recent work, Dr. Edward E. Thorndyke of Columbia University enumerates 26 essentials for a satisfactory life. From the standpoint of health, three are of prime importance. They are:

1. A good well-rounded diet.
2. Protection against disease organism.
3. Protection against mental strain.

Medical men would readily agree that most of our illnesses and disabilities will as a major proportion of premature deaths are due to failure to provide adequately against malnutrition, infection and nervous disorders.

Protection against any would not suffice. Immunity to syphilis, tuberculosis, pneumonia and the like would not guarantee health if the food intake were lacking in minerals or vitamins. And a thoroughly healthy body, properly maintained, would not insure longevity if one's environment or temperament were conducive to worry, fear and anxiety neuroses.

Dwelling at some length on this third requirement for a good life, Dr. Thorndyke suggests that some of the luxuries which we can well forego be sacrificed to provide a quiet corner somewhere about the house where members of the family may rest undisturbed. Such a luxury, says the educator, will yield far more happiness than golf courses, modish clothes, Pullman cars, beauty parlors, radio sets and even electric lights and bathtubs.

No one would seriously advocate a return to the primitive or an appreciable lowering of the national standards of living. Nevertheless, it must be recognized that, in acquiring all the luxuries of modern life, we have accelerated its tempo to a dangerous degree. Almost anything may be purchased on the open market in this highly specialized, highly industrialized age — save genuine mental relaxation, an opportunity to retreat occasionally from the world's hurly-hurly and to commune briefly with one's soul. The provision of one or more small "quiet rooms" should be a major consideration when planning new homes or remodelling old ones.

Will It Be Destroyed?

Is the Panama Canal already marked for destruction? Does fiction ever point toward fact? Here's an exciting new serial of mystery and fast-moving intrigue which is colored with more than just a fictitious background. Read "The Panama Plot" by Sax Rohmer, author of "Dr. Fu Manchu". It starts in This Week, the magazine with Sunday's Detroit News.

BUCK DEER DRESSING UP FOR MATING TIME

Antlers, Now in Velvet, Are Fully Developed—Polishes Them Now

Mr. Buck Deer has begun to dress up for the mating season.

His antlers are now about fully developed, in the velvet and hard. Soon they will begin to shed the velvet as the skin dies, and Mr. Buck will be busy rubbing against trees during the next few weeks to give his antlers the high polish hunters see during the hunting season.

In the majority of cases, the buck deer's antlers are hardened by the first part of September and have lost their velvet by the end of September, although a few may go through this change more slowly than do the most.

One theory regarding the shedding of the velvet skin from the antlers is that the rubbing process in which the deer engages is induced by an itching which occurs as the skin dies. The rubbing is believed to help speed the shedding and at the same time "dress up" the antlers which give the buck added magnificence at the time he is interested in attracting the favorable attention of the female members of the herd.

GROWERS APPROVE NEW U.S. POTATO AGREEMENT

Leading Producers Turn Down Proposal, But Majority For It

By a three to one majority, Michigan farmers favor a proposed embargo on interstate shipments of inferior potatoes, the state soil conservation committee have reported.

The light vote cast in 57 counties showed that 1,449 farmers favored the embargo and 530 opposed the restriction.

In Montcalm county, the No. 1 potato center of the state, the measure was opposed 69 to 93. Lapeer county reported 27 for and 38 opposed; Tuscola, 72 and 49, and Mecosta, 66 and 19.

Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, announced that the order would become effective only if approved by a majority in 13 of the late potato-growing states and possibly not then if the vote was too light to be conclusive.

he intimated to the press that the additional burden on the treasury would be financed by additional taxes. Two weeks later he announced that the state finances had improved to the extent that new taxes would not be needed.

As legislators were drafting bills to appropriate $10,000,000 for welfare relief, Senator Prentiss Brown made a last-minute attempt at Washington to get $3,000,000 direct relief from the federal treasury, and it was explained that with this grant the Michigan special session would be called off. Brown did not succeed.

On August 1 the treasury deficit was said to exceed $10,000,000. However, when the legislature convened, Budget Director Smith informed the governor that it was slightly under $9,000,000.

It was all a bit confusing.

Up and Down

Budget Director Smith has the tough assignment of trying to make ends meet.

Consider his predicament over these actions:

1. Decision of administration to establish a higher minimum monthly wage for state employees than the basic level recommended by the civil service director. This will increase state payrolls approximately $1,000,000. Three thousand employees will benefit.

2. Decision to restore old age pensions to their level before the "economy" program. This will add $500,000.

Smith refused to approve the spending moves.

Gambling on Fall

The administration appears to be gambling (along with the rest of us) on the expectation that business will revive sharply this fall.

More sales will bring more sales tax money into the treasury.

Better business will lighten the unemployment load. It will remove thousands from the welfare list as well as from the federal government's Michigan army of 200,000 WPA workers.

In this $10,000,000 speculation are also these factors: (1) Smith's economy program, and (2) No European war. Stocks skidded one to five points in one day last week, due to WAR fears. You can imagine what might happen if Hitler plunged Europe into another World conflict.

It's a daring gamble at the very best.

Teachers' Plight

During the depression years teachers' salaries were cut to the bone. Wage readjustments are just now being made.

In the much-revised economy program, school state aid has been reduced $1,600,000. This is a 3.5 per cent cut, far below the proportionate reduction in state expenses.

The actual appropriation reduction however is $7,000,000. It is over this that the educators are squawking loudly. Due to the Couzens inheritance tax receipts, the primary school fund jumped to around $21,000,000. This sum is earmarked irrevocably for schools.

Therefore, when the administration reduced the school aid by $1,600,000 it absorbed into the general fund around $7,000,000 which otherwise would have gone to the schools.

The teachers are probably lucky to get by with such a small cut in state aid, but they also can insist with obvious fairness that good accounting be given of the $7,000,000 "windfall".

Uncertainty

Considering all and all, it's little wonder that much uncertainty prevails at Lansing.

Aside from the financial uncertainty, here are four others:

1. Will Republican chances in November be injured by the present Toy-Fitzgerald feud?

2. Will Murphy's chances for re-election be hurt greatly (or helped!) if President Roosevelt does not include Michigan in his pre-election speaking tours?

3. Will Former Governor Comstock run against Murphy?

4. Will the CIO and A. F. of L. unite behind the Democratic ticket?

Four Guesses

It's interesting speculation. Here are our guesses:

1. Yes. And don't be surprised if newspapers report activity of a grand jury investigation.

2. Yes, (and no). The "if" seems far-fetched to us. Roosevelt will speak here in October.

3. Yes, Murphy will have opposition.

4. No. Michigan labor is already badly split. The CIO and A. F. of L. wouldn't even march together in Detroit's Labor Day parade. In Genesee county (Flint) the A. F. of L. has endorsed a Republican candidate for governor.

In summary, we predict a red-hot fight. And, it is NOT going to be a walkaway for either ticket.

ANGLER MAY EAT FISH AND STILL HAVE PROOF

Conservation Department Offers "Alibi" Service to Sportsmen

How to eat your fish and still be able to prove you caught it has long been the anti-climactic question about making a record catch.

State conservation officers may now have the answer. The officers have been supplied with cards, each entitled, "A Citation for Exceptional Angling". Space is provided on the cards for recording the size, species and number of the catch, the name of the fisherman, the date and place where the catch was made, and a line for the signature of the conservation officer attesting to the catch.

If after making an exceptional catch, a fisherman displays it to a conservation officer with request for one of the citation cards, he can then go home contented in the knowledge that he will be able to enjoy the fish without the disturbing thought that somebody may call him a liar when he later tells about catching it. All he'll need to do then is flash his citation card.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS

"Have you noticed anything different about the tomatoes now on the market?" asks Consumers' Bureau of the Michigan State Department of Agriculture.

The new home-grown tomatoes have a better flavor, brighter color and more juice. They taste better than those shipped in from the south because they are vine-ripened by the sun, as Nature intended.

Directing attention to the excellence of the 1938 tomato crop in Michigan, Consumers' Bureau of the department of agriculture says:

"Some people hesitate to buy tomatoes because they are not sure they pronounce the word 'tomato' correctly. The dictionary gives two pronunciations: tom-ay-to and tom-ah-to. The first is preferred but either is correct.

"It was only a little more than 100 years ago that the world discovered that 'love apples' were not poisonous, that they contained sugars, acids and vitamins necessary to the proper functioning of the human body. Their zest to appetites and their healthful qualities, not to mention their good taste, is now appreciated almost universally."

More than a century ago, in 1837, the newly-formed Michigan legislature passed the state's first bounty law, which offered payment for the killing of wolves.

LAKE WATER LEVELS HIGHEST SINCE 1928

Water levels of four of the Great Lakes are now the highest they have been for the last several years and above the average for the last decade.

Records at the department of conservation, maintained on the basis of reports by the United States lake survey, show that the level of Lake Superior is higher than at any time since 1928, while those of Lakes Michigan, Huron and Erie are the highest since 1930. Only Lake Ontario is under the average level for the last 10 years and even on this lake the level is the highest since 1932.

is somewhat improved at present writing. She was able to take a little food Friday.

The Welch family of Central Lake and the James Johnson family have moved to East Jordan. Mrs. Harriet Wolverton of Eastport has rented her farm north of Eastport to Mr. Holecheck of Grand Rapids and has moved to East Jordan.

Mrs. Ruth Dawson is getting better and was able to get down town again last week. She had been ill for several weeks, and had an operation at Petoskey hospital. Mrs. Arthur Hockin is back from Mayo Brothers hospital in Minnesota, and is feeling quite well again.

Kenneth McKay of Central Lake begins a term of school in Grand View district next Monday. It will be his fourth consecutive year there, and the only school he has ever taught. The writer taught there five years, also five years at Creswell, and three years at Lake View where Otho Mathias is teaching this year, in the forty years that we have taught school.

Bellaire school begins next Monday, also the East Jordan high school and Mancelona and Detroit schools begin this week. Many resorters are trecking back to that city for the beginning of the school year. The traffic on US-31 appeared the heaviest Sunday of any time this year. There appeared to be as many going north as those wending their homeward journey toward the south. Probably many were on their way for Labor Day festivities.

All the people have not been placed as yet for speakers for the Antrim County Rural Sunday School Association's rally day for October 2nd, but we will try to get them out next week. We know definitely that Harry Mathews was so well liked at Jordan River that they want him there again, and Mrs. Underhill at Pleasant Valley. We are planning for a union meeting of Turner and Ball at Ball school house, and hope to get Rev. Nelson to speak and Mrs. Nelson with the accordion, and Mrs. Grace Hooper and Mrs. Hostler to sing.

North Milton, South Milton and Kewadin schools are transporting their seventh and eighth grade pupils to Elk Rapids high school by bus, beginning last Monday. Creswell pupils are doing their transporting. The road men are working on the widening and grading of the road from the Bush Corners to Turner school house in preparation for the bus and snow plow to get through, as they have consolidated with Bellaire. The teacher, Melvn Bezell Mills had already been hired to teach at Turners, and they would have had plenty of money for teacher's salary, and plenty of wood for fuel.

If possible, we would like to get the editor or publisher, or both, on our program for rally day, October 2, 1938, at Grand View, for a talk or paper on "The Editor's Part in Sunday School Work". We wished to get them on our rally day program at Eastport in June but they were away at conference of M. E. Church. They are both members of the M. E. church and teachers in the Sunday school, and we believe they could give us some interesting facts in regard to the work. Also, we think it would be of interest to them to get over to Grand View and get acquainted with the people, as well as to see the great view from the hills over there.

STURGEON ADVOCATES JOBS AND FAIRNESS

Congressional Candidate Makes Last Pre-Primary Campaign Statement

Gladstone, Mich.—An opportunity for workers to earn the benefits of what they are able to produce, and fairness and justice for all the people were the two main points brought out in a statement made here this week by Jos. A. Sturgeon, Gladstone publisher, on the final swing of his campaign for congressman for the 11th district.

Charging that "the New Deal stands discredited because it has failed to settle the major problems with which it has been confronted, and its promises have been inconsistent with its performance, "Sturgeon listed the things which he believes in and will work for if chosen as a congressional nominee.

"First," he said, "confidence of the people in their government must be restored by formulating a program that promises fair treatment to all. There must be no further resort to class appeal and class hatreds.

"The worker who produces the wealth must necessarily receive first consideration. Let the government serve as the peace agent in labor-industry strife. Give to all a square deal, remembering always that the objective must be the greatest good for the largest number.

"The worker and farmer must be protected against the invasion of cheap foreign labor, government waste and the extravagance must be corrected, provision can and will be made for the aged and disabled, and a definite curb must be placed on subversive communistic agencies."

Commenting on his campaign, Sturgeon said, "I have campaigned in the hopes that I might contribute something to good government. My aim has been to be helpful, and at no time have I resorted to personalities. Issues, real issues, are involved, and those have been discussed. I shall hope to be called upon for further service. I am prepared to give my best."

LEGISLATURE ADJOURNED SPECIAL SESSION

Enact All Special Legislation Requested by Gov. Murphy

Passing all of Governor Murphy's proposals, the Michigan legislature adjourned a special four-day session last Wednesday.

Legislation enacted included extension of mortgage moratorium on homestead properties from November 1 to July 1, 1939; appropriation of $10,000,000 for relief; broadening the housing act to include all cities of more than 5,000 population; enabling Michigan farmers to qualify for federal crops loans; permitting state banks to loan more money on first mortgages and making the Saginaw Diocese of the Catholic church a legal entity.

SEEKS RETALIATION AGAINST CALIFORNIA

Tibbits Proposed Resolution to Ban Western Fruit in Michigan

Retaliation against California for an embargo on Michigan apples and other fruits was the objective of a resolution sponsored in the house of representatives last Wednesday by Rep. Douglas D. Tibbits, R., of Boyne City.

He introduced a resolution asking the legislative council to study the desirability of legislation barring California fruits and vegetables from Michigan. The resolution was referred to a house committee.

John B. Strange, state commissioner of agriculture, said California has quarantined Michigan apples and some other products because of the presence of the oriental fruit moth and the "railroad worm" in this state.

He refused to express an opinion as to whether the quarantine is justified.

WOULD PROMOTE MILK SALE BY ADVERTISING

Agricultural Commissionar Strange Cites Success in Other States

Milk producers of Charlevoix county are interested in a proposal made a few days ago by Commissioner John B. Strange of the state department of agriculture, to promote the sale of milk in Michigan through an extensive advertising campaign.

In an address before the Michigan Milk Producers association, the state official declared that a surplus of milk should not exist, considering its requirements for food and health.

"New York state with a fund of $400,000 seems to have clearly demonstrated that money spent in this manner brings splendid results," Mr. Strange said. "They have shown that successful advertising depends upon continuous efforts; its benefits are accumulative."

"The Lone Ranger" leads a brilliant array of new features in the bigger and better Comic Weekly, appearing exclusively in the Sunday Chicago Herald and Examiner. Every member of the family will enjoy the new comics, new contests and new features.

CHUMS SAVE CHICAGO LAD FROM DROWNING

Seized with cramps while swimming Friday evening in Lake Michigan, Larry Sharpe of Chicago, was saved from drowning by his chums, Forrest and Robert Weed, who assisted him to shore.

All three boys are members of the Sea Scout ship Constellation J629 of Chicago, and Forrest is backstroke swimmer for the Calumet high school, Chicago.

Local coast guard members rushed to the assistance of the boys Friday evening, but were not needed.

projects will also be carried on as a 4-H club activity under the leadership of Miss Muriel Tobin. All other teaching positions remain the same as last year.

Not many changes have been made in the school property this summer. Necessary repairs and maintenance work has been done; also plastering and painting. New plumbing fixtures and drinking fountains have been installed at the public library. Roofs of all bhildings have been repaired considerably. Tops of chimneys on the abandoned junior high building have been removed for reason of safety.

The southeast portion of the athletic field, allowed to lie fallow, has been cleared of stone and seeded to sweet clover and alfalfa which will improve it until such a time as it will be used. The new football field inside the track oval is in fine condition and will be used for the first time this fall.

It is anticipated the kindergarten will be large again this year. The first grade is also expected to be larger than can be accommodated in a small room. It is hoped parents will cooperate as much as possible to prevent a situation making an extra room and teacher necessary.

RECEIVE REQUESTS FOR TAX REFUNDING

No Funds Available to Return of Head Tax Paid to State

Auditor General George T. Gundry announced today that he was still receiving numerous requests for refunds of the head tax that was paid to the county treasurers throughout the state in 1934.

Many people erroneously believe that by writing him they will receive a refund of the money paid at that time, Gundry said, and explained that such is not the case, inasmuch as there has been no fund created for the refunding of this tax money.

Gundry said that investigation of the matter revealed that a bill was introduced at the last session of the Legislature which would have empowered him to refund the money to those who presented receipts from the county treasurers.

It was pointed out however, that the bill failed of passage when it was learned that the money so collected, had been spent for Old Age Assistance in 1934, and further funds were not available at that time.

CHASE OSBORNE HEADS BRIDGE COMMISSION

Murphy Names Group Organized to Get Support for Project

Governor Murphy has announced plans that are underway to gain statewide support for the proposed $30,000,000 Straits of Mackinac bridge.

He announced the appointment of former Gov. Chase S. Osborn of Sault Ste. Marie as chairman of a bridge committee to be composed of representatives from all counties. Additional members of the committee, which will seek to consolidate support of bridge plans, will be named in Lansing next week.

The governor selected G. Donald Kennedy, deputy state highway commissioner as chairman of the Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority, the agency conducting the official plans for the bridge. Engineers have estimated the six-mile span—largest bridge of its kind in the world—would cost $30,000,000.

There's a new kind of bean on display at Wallace's oil station. They're calling it Paul Bunyan's bean because of its enormous size, but between you and I, it looks more like one of those Australian boomerangs that sneak back and smack you after you throw it. The thing is over four foot long and somewhat resembles a summer squash. Oh heck, I can't describe the darn thing. You'll have to take a look at it yourself.

It's too bad all these summer people who are now treking for home couldn't stick around long enough to find out just how wonderful Charlevoix is in the fall.

Here's a tip to you women: If your husband kicks about the grub, just take in the three sessions of the Courier cooking school at the high school gym on Friday and Saturday of this week. There's always something new to learn, you know. It's the Courier's school, made possible by the cooperation of Charlevoix merchants. It is free and put on for your benefit. Don't miss it! P. Everybody along the fishin' front is happy. The steelhead have started "hitting" and don't think that isn't good news. The first catches were made last Sunday and have been consistent since then. The usual grounds off the west shore of Lake Charlevoix are producing their customary quota and word comes that these "fresh water tarpon" are being taken in good numbers around Ironton and up the lake towards Horton Bay. Word has gone out to the hundreds who have been awaiting this particulary popular fishing sport.

NEW AUTO PLATES TO BE TAN AND BLACK

Manufacture of 1939 Michigan Licenses Is Now Under Way

Two million pounds of metal will be used to make next year's automobile license plates for Michigan.

The 1939 plates will bear black letters and figures on a light tan background and bear no resemblance to the 1909 "life-time" tags which were small metal discs screwed onto dashboards.

Up to June of 30, a total of 942,966 full-year plates for eight different types of motor vehicles and trailers were issued for $10,808,632 and 597,689 half-year tags for $3,971,675. About 650 tons of metal and 6,000 gallons of paint were used by convicts in the state prison of southern Michigan shops.

Plates for the second half of 1938, good until March 1, 1939, now are being issued. The first half-year tags expire August 31. The 1939 issue will be on sale about November 1.

 DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN ***

Notary Publics Total Some 40,000

Every twelve minutes of every working day, Michigan gains another Notary Public. There are now some 40,000 listed in the files of the department of state.

Appointments are made by the governor, commissions are issued by the secretary of state. There are several interesting facts to be found in the records of Leon D. Case, secretary of state, about this public office which has survived in modern form from a century old practice in England.

More commissions were issued last year than have been previously issued in any one year; the total for the year being 11,205. The average number of commissions issued per year over a ten year period, is approximately 10,000.

The commission term is for four years, except when the notary is removed for cause. There is now one notary for every 125 people in the state of Michigan. Any citizen of the state, 21 years of age or over, endorsed by a Circuit or Probate Judge or a member of the legislature may apply to the governor for a commission.

A fee of $1.00 which goes to the state's general fund must accompany the application. The commissions are sent to the county clerks, who notify the applicants. Applicants must then file bonds of $1,000.00 each and pay the county clerk a fee of fifty cents. If the bond is not filed within ninety days the commission is withdrawn.

* DISCUSS CANNING *
* OF PEARS, GRAPES *
* * * * * * * * * * *

The last fruits for canning are pears and grapes. They are both good in flavor and rish in food value. Grapes are one of the oldest known fruits but all too often are used only to make butters and juices. Certainly, no pantry is complete without jars of grape juice stored away for refreshing drinks or jelly making, but do not overlook canning a few of the choice grapes to be used in cocktails, salads and pie making. Grapes are quickly and easily canned by washing and removing the stems and packing tightly into clean jars. Pack grapes to within ½ inch of top of jar and fill jar to within 1½ inches of top with a medium or thin syrup. Place self-sealing cap on jar with sealing composition next to glass and screw the band firmly tight. Process in water bath for 20 minutes.

Pears are not difficult to can but contain less acid than other fruits. They are a salid fruit which are better in texture and flavor if canned by the hot pack method. This means a short boiling in the syrup before packing them into jars. The pears must be well ripened if they are to be sweet in flavor and good in texture. The Bartlett pear is preferable for canning.

Pare and core the fruit and put in a mild solution until ready to precook. The salt solution will prevent the pear from turning dark. Drain and boil in a medinm or light syrup for 3 to 5 minutes. Pack into clean jars. Fill with the hot syrup to within 1½ inches of top. Place self-sealing lid on jar with sealing composition next to glass and screw the band firmly tight. Process in water bath for 25 minutes. Remove from canner as soon as processing is complete. Set jars right side up to cool without again tightening the self-sealing cap, the seal will form as the contents of the jar cool.

* SANDWICHES *
* * * * * * * * * * *

Fine-grained white bread, whole wheat, graham, rye and oatmeal are conventional sandwich material. Raisin and date, nut or Boston brown bread, wafers, crackers and cake all contribute to make infinite variety. Quick breads too may be used if cold and firm. Sometimes two kinds are used together.

The whole-meal sandwich should be hearty, so use fairly fresh bread cut a quarter of an inch thick. Picnic sandwiches are cut the same thickness with the crusts left on. Fresh bread is also used for rolled sandwiches. Fancy tea sandwiches or appetizers must be dainty and of wafer thickness so bread should be at least 24 hours old.

When a half or whole loaf is to be used, remove the crusts with a very sharp knife before sliving. The leftover crusts can be used for puddings or crumbs. Fancy cutters shape delightful party sandwiches, and animals bring joy to the kiddies. Triangles, stripes, circles, crescent and rolled sandwiches are attractive at tea time, and may be garnished with parsley, water cress or nasturtiums.

Cream butter thoroughly before spreading. Sandwich butter can be made by using two parts butter to one part cream. Relishes, such as mustard, horseradish, chives, chopped parsley may be added to creamed butter for meat sandwiches.

"Movie" of a Recipe

White Bread: Here's the easiest method you've ever seen—and it's bound to be successful, every time. This recipe has been tested and retested. Follow the pictures and directions—you'll win compliments from your family and friends for the best bread you ever baked

1 Bread baking is easy when ingredients and utensils are arranged for quick action. Now we'll . . .

3 Notice how much more liquid Occident absorbs. Liquid is cheaper than flour—YOU SAVE THE DIFFERENCE! And . . .

4 Occident superiority again! Notice how "squeaky" the dough. High quality gluten does this, makes . .

5 The dough rise! You get much dough from little FLOUR. Now then . . .

6 After punching down, stretch again before you mold. Stretches easily—proving gluten strength. And . . .

7 Just shape the loaf to half fill the greased pan. In less than an hour of baking you'll have as fine bread as you've ever tasted!

8 Bake 45 minutes! Remember . . . better baking GUARANTEED—ON A MONEY-BACK BASIS!

And here's the "tested" Recipe

12 cups Occident Flour (sifted)
1 cake comp. yeast
2½ tablespoons sugar
1½ tablespoon salt
2 cups milk
2¼ cups water
1¼ tablespoons shortening
2¼ cups water
(FOR 4 LOAVES)

● Dissolve yeast and sugar in ¼ cup lukewarm water (80-82° F). Sift flour before and after measuring. Scald milk, add water and salt and cool until lukewarm. To this add diesolved yeast and sugar. Add one-half the flour and beat thoroughly. Add melted shortening. Add remainder of flour gradually and beat thoroughly after each addition. Turn onto lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic.

Place in bowl, cover, and allow to rise in warm place, 80-85° F., until double in bulk, about 2½ hours. Punch down. Let stand 30 minutes. Shape into loaves that will half fill the pans.

Place in greased bread pans and allow to rise until dough fills pans well, about 1 hour. Bake in moderate oven. Remove from pans and allow to cool before storing. (Quantity: 4 loaves, 4½"x8½" temperature: 400° F; time: 45 minutes).

"Used the straight dough method when making white bread with Occident Flour . . . this bread was really the finest bread I had ever made. It had a very fine texture, good crust and golden brown color."

MICHIGAN BEANS ARE RIPENED FOR PULLING

Quality Will Depend Upon Proper Stocking, Says M. S. C. Specialist

Stimulating rains to the contrary, Michigan's huge crop of beans is about ready for pulling.

Even if recent heavy rains have coaxed vines to put on new growth and blossoms and try to add up more beans for the growers, those wise to problems of quality will begin to pull and stack the crop as soon as it is ripe, advises H. R. Pettigrove, bean specialist of Michigan State College.

Quality probably will be good this year, he says. But only if proper stacking is accomplished before rains in September prevent good curing conditions. Even if some of the vines and pods now are green he finds from past experience that they will cure out fairly well once they are in a stack.

It's the old story of "pick" that determines bean profits. When beans are graded and marketed they must be sorted over to take out culls and small stones, lumps of good Michigan clay and other inedibles. When the portion of pick runs too high the deductions piled against a grower may ruin his chance of profit or even indicate a loss.

The college continues to recommend use of the McNaughton system of stacking. Commonly many beans still are cured in small bunches from double row of the bean puller or from the windrow left by a side delivery rake. With no rains the system hastens curing, but wet weather often spoils the practice. The pulled bunches weather even more than unpulled beans.

FIFTY COUNTIES TESTING HYBRID CORN USE

Experiments Are Being Made by Smith-Hughes Ag. Schools

Corn growers in nearly 150 communities in fifty counties of Michigan will have an opportunity in field meetings to see and learn something about the performance of hybrid corn growing under their conditions, according to reports from the farm crops extension men at Michigan State College.

In 33 of these counties Smith-Hughes agricultural schools are cooperating in demonstrations of corn hybrids while in the remaining counties individual farmers have planted the plots.

In all demonstrations several different hybrids were planted. The choice of those used in each was based largely upon the results of experimental work that has been carried on by the plant breeders of the college.

When the corn in the various demonstrations is ready to be harvested the county agricultural agents and Smith-Hughes agriculture instructors will arrange for field meetings. At these meetings equal areas of each hybrid will be harvested, weighed and the good and poor qualities of each observed.

These demonstrations have been planted from the southern state line to Houghton county in the north and Gogebic in the most westerly part of the state. The interest in corn hybrids has been stimulated by a search for knowledge of the adaptnbility and value of different strains.

DUCK HUNTERS PREPARING FOR SEASON

September 12 Deadline for Permanent Duck Blind Permits

Evidence that duck hunters are beginning to think of the 1938 season, which will extend 45 days instead of the 30 in effect the previous three years, is being received by the game division of the department of conservation in the form of applications for permits to establish permanent blinds.

September 12 has been fixed as the deadline for making application, a deadline being necessary to allow time for an inspection of proposed permanent blind sites before the opening of the season.

Permanent blinds, for which permits are necessary, are authorized on Saginaw bay, Lake St. Clair, Muskegon and Houghton lakes, Round lake in Grand Traverse county and Big Platte lake in Benzie county. No permits are necessary for temporary blinds on inland lakes but the blinds must not be located more than 100 feet from the shore or emergent vegetation.

You can say this much for the government farm program—we seem to have bigger and better weeds this summer than ever before.

In certified survey among thousands of critical motorists in 140 cities

ONLY ONE GASOLINE

was the outstanding winner

From your own experience, we think you'll agree that motorists are most critical of engine performance, power and mileage when their cars are new.

Thousands of these critical new car owners, in 140 cities, were asked which gasoline they preferred on the basis of actual performance. Blue Sunoco came out 'way ahead of any other gasoline—including those selling at premium prices—and led its nearest competitor by 51.5% more votes.

Since its performance won first place among owners of new cars with high compression engines, obviously, in older cars Blue Sunoco will be equally efficient. Test it in your car and see if you don't agree.

This survey was conducted in 11 eastern states by an independent organization. The replies received were submitted to Lybrand, Ross Brothers and Montgomery, certified public accountants, who prepared the above tabulation therefrom.

EDITORIAL

FRANKIE-JOHNNIE-JIMMY

"It is not illegal for a relative of a political leader to be in the surety business: It is not illegal for a contractor to get his bonds through this relative. Yet the whole business is indefensibly unethical." — Franklin D. Roosevelt.

I took a job at the bottom because I didn't want to exploit the family name. I simply went in and asked for the job."—John Roosevelt.

"My name got me into a lot of places I might not have got into if my father hadn't been President. And that's all right, too. If you want to do business with a man you get in to see him by whatever legitimate means you can."—James Roosevelt.

FITZGERALD LOOKS BEST TO US

Frank D. Fitzgerald, one of the contenders for the nomination for governor on the Republican ticket, looks like the most likely candidate to us. With a constantly increasing tax burden due to government inefficiency, no abler man in all Michigan than Frank Fitzgerald can be found to lead the distressed taxpayers out of this morass of despair. Thinking people remembering the good judgment he has applied to public service in the past will be glad to register a favorable decision in his behalf on election day. Possessing as he does, sound personal qualities and a background of wide experience in state affairs, he will be in a position to again give this state a business-like administration.

A former high state official has said of him, "I have known Frank D. Fitzgerald for many years and have always found him to be an able and conscientious servant of the public. However, I am especially impressed with his remarkable ability to take a detached and impartial view of the present issues and at his accurate understanding of the problems that lie before him. This is a most valuable asset to any public official. It bespeaks a poise that can come only through long years of public life.

"A man who has his feet planted so solidly on the ground as Frank Fitzgerald and who is so sympathetic to every beat of the public pulse as he is, can be relied upon to meet the demands of the governorship in every respect and it is a pleasure to give his candidacy my whole-hearted support."

The fact that this endorsement stands side-by-side with equally emphatic ones from all sections of the state and from people in all walks of life, adds further strength to the claim that Frank D. Fitzgerald is the logical Republican candidate for 1938.

TWO DEMOCRATIC PARTIES

It looks as though there would be two kinds of democratic tickets in Michigan at the November election. One of these will be the New Deal democrats led by Governor Frank Murphy and the old-type democrats directed by Ex-governor William A. Comstock.

Former Governor Comstock has declared war on Murphy and his followers whom he calls the "New Deal Usurpers". A state convention will be held in Lansing September 24 to name complete state and congressional tickets. This challenge of Comstock can hardly be laughed off. Says Comstock himself:

"We don't like Governor Murphy. He isn't our kind of a democrat. He spends money too lavishly—the people's money. He is responsible for the epidemic of sit-down strikes which flattened our reviving industry last year and brought back general unemployment and the dole."

One of Comstock's influential backers in his plan for the new party is Alfred Debo, former democratic state chairman. Like Comstock, he has no thought of compromise with the New Deal democrats. In fact this is what he is quoted as having said about Governor Murphy:

"He isn't any kind of a democrat. Back in 1930, when I asked him for a little democratic help, e told me he was following the standard of the LaFollette Progressives, and he withheld assistance.

"That in my opinion, is where he stands right now. He's posing as a democrat and trying to wean voters away from sound democratic principles to LaFollette liberalism."

That the Murphy forces expect trouble is indicated by Hub M. George in the Free Press last week. He said.

"Despite the campaign optimism he voiced last week on Mackinac Island, James A. Farley, democratic national chairman, told his national committee colleagues at a meeting in New York that the party 'might encounter trouble in the Michigan and Iowa elections'." — R. T. Baldwin, Northville Record.

HE WON'T RUN — HE'LL BE PUSHED

General Johnson says, in his syndicated article to the various papers throughout the country, that President Roosevelt will run for office in 1940 if he has the slightest idea he might win. We do not doubt the General's word. The trouble with us, according to our many critics, is that we have never maintained anything else. We have steadfastly maintained in this column since the spring of 1934, that the New Deal was Roosevelt, and as such was nothing more nor less than the Nirvana of an astute politician. We have said, it was Tammany Hall let loose upon America to prey upon the people of this country in a far worse manner than was ever conceived even by the mighty chieftains of the wigwam in its hey-day. So, could you expect that a man who has been its titular head these last six years in mind and spirit as well as direct action, sometimes to utter exclusion of everything else,—could you expect him to do anything other than run true to form. He has made one mistake though. The American people can be led only so far. They have a fine record for revolting just when somebody thinks they have them in the corner, and that is what is happening now. The "Purge" is failing and so is Mr. Roosevelt's gradiose dream failing with it. America is not ready for the shackles yet. We bet he won't run. Instead he will just be pushed—out.

ONE JOB AT A TIME

We do not believe in talking war. We are among the few who realize that every word said upon this subject is simply more propoganda which might be construed in many different ways. But we ask you to remember one thing. Europe is now an armed camp. It is like a seething cauldron about to run over in a thousand different directions all at once. You must keep your head at all times regardless of what happens over there. IT IS NONE OF OUR BUSINESS. Their petty jealousies have retarded the progress of those nations for two thousand years, for their governments are never quite through paying for their last war before they start another, and this has kept their people perpetually poor. We were foolish to get into their last family quarrels. We are still paying through our nose for our great-hearted jaunt into the realms of fantasy, which claimed we were fighting that war to end wars and save democracy. We need say no more about that. But you may hear these same things again within a very short time. We cannot listen again. Our job is here. We have enough to do in America to keep us busy for the next two hundred years just straightening out our form of government so it will work smoothly. That is our job. Let's not take on any other until it is finished.

Atlantic motorist watched a girl fix her stocking on the street, ran into a truck and broke his arm and two ribs. And the funny thing about it was he told the doctor he thought it was worth the price. — Pigeon Progress.

Another peculiar thing about the American system is that the committee named to study a situation is usually picked by those responsible for that situation.

Over a period of years a well balanced crop rotation program including sugar beets produces more profit than the most shrewd crop speculator.

The average American is a creature who worries about going to the poor house one week, and the next goes out and buys an automobile.

Another thing needed in this country is a little less "walking out", and a little more walking up to the captain's office to settle.

Time may destroy the speculations of man, but it confirms the judgment of nature.

PLAYING THE GAME

It's much more satisfactory, and far more productive making the best of what you have than wasting time wishing for the moon. It's better to spit on your hands than wring them. Life is not so much holding an odd hand as it is playing a poor hand well.—Grit.

STATE RAM TRUCK WILL BE CONTINUED

Another Series of Meetings Are Being Scheduled for Fall

Another series of meetings in important sheep producing centers of the state will see the ram truck this fall. In a schedule which begins September 19, the animal husbandry extension department of Michigan State College and the Michigan Purebred Sheep Breeders' association again will aid in the distribution of better breeding throughout the state.

In 1937 this project enabled 141 purebred breeders to consign 700 rams to the project. These purebred rams were sold to other sheep breeders along the route which included 49 stops for demonstrations and meetings.

E. L. Benton, newly appointed animal husbandry extension specialist, to succeed D. H. LaVoi, is arranging the schedule with the aid of Michigan's county agricultural agents.

The truck used in the tour is a double deck semitrailer which has a capacity for 80 rams. At the stops the rams are unloaded and penned according to quality and then used in educational demonstrations before they are sold to interested farmers. Many breeders consigning animals attend to get different breeding to replace stock in their home flocks.

Suitable rams, according to Benton, are those that are low-down, blocky in type with short neck and wide masculine head, with a dense fleece long stapled and free from black fibers. Lambs from such animals show improved meat and wool quality, fatten more quickly and more uniformly and are ready for sale usually when prices are a little higher.

HIGHWAY SAFETY PROGRAM BRINGS RESULTS

Reduction of 64% in Death Tolls on US-24 Is Reported

The state this week added one more bit of evidence as to the efficiency of its selective safety program on the public highways.

Oscar G. Olander, Michigan State police commissioner, and Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, reported a 68 per cent reduction in the death rate along US-24 in Monroe county since special traffic restrictions have been in effect.

Six months ago the two commissioners designated the Monroe county section of this trunkline as a danger zone and clamped down special traffic restrictions including a 50-mile-an-hour speed limit. Since then, there have been only 4 fatal accidents in which six people were killed compared with 15 such accidents and 19 killed for the same six months a year ago. The 68 per cent drop in the death rate compares with a statewide reduction of 37 per cent in fatalities. There are 13 other restricted traffic zones on the trunkline highway system.

WOMEN TAKE UP HAMMERS, SAWS

"Bring your hammer and saw and spend the afternoon," may be the new form for an afternoon invitation in the rural sections of Michigan.

The vogue for homemade toys that are sturdy, easily made and that satisfy the children is responsible for this new kind of party, which the women are holding in several communities this summer.

Tin cans are being washed and put away while small wooden boxes that held cheese or prunes no longer find their way into the wood box for kindling but are saved for toy-making.

A number 10 tin can painted in a gay color or with bands of color is transformed into a drum when an old inner tube is stretched over the ends and secured in place with thong lacings cut from the same tube. Another drum is made from a wooden bowl with an inner tube stretched over the top and held in place with gayly colored thumb tacks. Suggestions are offered for these and other toys by extension service staff members of Michigan State College.

A nested set of tin cans of graduated sizes painted in soft but bright colors, gives amusement for children 18 months to three years old. Of course the open edge must be perfectly smooth and turned to avoid any danger from scratches.

Empty spools of varying sizes either plain or painted are easily strung on stout cord by small fingers. The same spools on an elastic make a lively "spool doll" whose sturdy legs and arms survive much use.

A baking powder can and some wood blocks with a bit of paint become a sturdy locomotive with half a spool for the lomotive hell and another spool for the smoke stack. Metal gliders on the bottom make it slide easily over the floor. Cigar boxes minus their covers become useful box cars, when hooked to the engine with screw eyes and screen door hooks.

LIBRARY HOURS CHANGE WINTER SCHED. MONDAY

Hours of the Charlevoix public library will change to fall and winter schedule beginning Monday, September 12, according to Minnie E. Payton, librarian. The new schedule is as follows, Open from 2 until 6, and from 7 until 8:30 each week day.

COLD, COVER AID IN KEEPING MEAT

Despite the centuries in which meat has been an important human food, science still uncovers facts about how to keep and serve meats.

Some of the newest information, offered through the home economics extension service of Michigan State College, advises that most meat keeps best if wrapped loosely in waxed or parchment paper and stored in a refrigerator at a temperature of 47 degrees Fahrenheit or lower.

Raw beefsteak and lamb and pork chops keep best and longest if they are covered in paraffin paper. Steaks and chops left uncovered in the refrigerator dry out and acquire a hard, dry, dark, leathery surface after about a day, while those stored in a covered dish soon show signs of spoilage. Because lamb spoils faster than beef or pork, it needs a temperature of at least 45 degrees F. in the refrigerator.

Uncooked roasts keep only about 2 days even in a good home refrigerator. The longer the roasts are stored, the more color and juice they lose.

Hamburg or other ground raw meat keeps best if mixed with salt and other seasonings, wrapped in waxed paper and placed on the coldest shelf of the refrigerator. Ground meat spoils faster than other meat and in the ordinary home refrigerator cannot be expected to keep well more than a day.

Cooked meat also keeps best wrapped in waxed or parchment paper. Most cooked meat keeps longer than raw meat with the exception of jellied meat, boiled tongue, meat loaf, and such prepared dishes. These meat mixtures will not usually keep over 2 days. A cooked roast, however, should keep 5 or 6 days in a good refrigerator if covered with waxed paper.

WOMEN'S CONSERVATION MEETING OCTOBER 12-13

Fifth Annual Session Will Convene at Jackson in Fall

Domestic and culinary problems, natural topics of conversation when the ladies get together, will yield the floor to other matters at a women's conference to be held this fall.

This will be the fifth annual conservation conference for Michigan women. At a recent meeting in Lansing dates for it were set for October 12-13 and plans arranged for special conference features which will include an inspection tour of the Waterloo wildlife project near here.

The Cooking School

The Charlevoix Courier wishes to express its grateful appreciation to the merchants of Charlevoix whose splendid cooperation has made possible the publication of this special Cooking School edition. It is our endeavor to send a copy of the special edition into every home in Charlevoix and rurals, thereby giving the advertising merchants a fine newspaper coverage.

The Cooking School, under the personal direction of Mrs. Helene Sailer, will be held in the Charlevoix High School gymnasium on Friday and Saturday, September 9 and 10, with sessions on Friday from 2 to 4 p. m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., and on Saturday from 2 to 4 p. m.

All sessions of the school are free to the public. Many local merchants will have displays in the gymnasium and their merchandise will be used by Mrs. Sailer in demonstrating numerous methods of preparing and serving delicious dishes.

The women of Charlevoix and Charlevoix county are cordially invited to attend. If you can't come to all three sessions, come to at least one; you will like Mrs. Sailer, for not only is she an expert home economist but she is a gracious and charming hostess. Bring your note books with you, take down the recipes as she demonstrates methods of preparing economical, tasty dishes, and then, when you return home, try them out in your own kitchen.

We ask you to look on this school as a community affair, to which every one of you is most cordially invited.

DUNBAR TREE LIST SETS PRICE SCALE

Seedlings Available to Farmers of 30 Northern Counties

Supplies of nearly three quarters of a million young trees of sufficient size to be available to farmers of 30 northern Michigan counties have been priced for sale at cost by the Dunbar forest nursery.

Prices, according to Maurice Day, director, range from $2.50 a thousand for jack pine seedlings to $18 a thousand for Norway pine transplants five years old.

"The forest nursery at the Dunbar experiment station of Michigan State College," explains Director Day, "is operated in cooperation with the federal government to supply, at lowest prices, trees suitable for reforestation and shelterbelts and other forest plants for game food and shelter."

Planters in the 15 counties of the Upper Peninsula and 15 northern counties of the Lower Peninsula are supplied from the Dunbar nursery. These 15 counties in the Lower Peninsula include Emmet, Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Alpena, Charlevoix, Otsego, Montmorency, Alcona, Oscoda, Crawford, Kalkaska, Antrim, Grand Traverse, Benzie and Leelanau. The rest of the state is supplied from the college nursery at East Lansing.

Largest seller at Dunbar is the white pine of which this year there is a supply of 300,000. The range is down to elderberry for game food. There is a few hundred of these available. Red osier for deer feed number 16,000. There is a supply of 100,000 spruce suitable for reforesting and later use for pulp or Christmas trees.

Planters are urged to order supplies early. Lists of prices can be obtained by writing the nursery. Applicants are urged to be certain the soil and location are suited to the size and kind ordered. Advice can be obtained from the nursery station, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., or is available through county agricultural agents.

State Ram Truck Project Will Be Continued

The Ram Truck Project sponsored jointly by the Michigan Purebred Sheep Breeders' Association and the animal husbandry extension department of Michigan State College will be conducted again this fall and will start its schedule September 19, visiting Michigan's southern counties at the start and then working northward to the Straits. A complete schedule of county stops will be announced soon by E. L. Benton, new animal husbandry extension specialist at Michigan State College.

In 1937, 141 different purebred breeders made consignments and a total of 500 rams were placed through the program at 49 stops made in the state. Several of the rams placed also found new homes in Ontonagon, Menominee and Gogebic counties in the upper peninsula.

All rams offered for sale through this program are carefully selected from the flocks of breeders who are members of the Michigan Sheep Breeders' Association, and all are sold as guaranteed breeders, with registration certificates furnished.

A large number of the rams sold each year are delivered as per advance order. The purchaser places a written order for the kind of ram he has preferred and careful consideration is given to the filling of these orders. The animals selected are then delivered when the truck stops in the county. The purchaser is often given the opportunity of making final inspection. Extra rams are available for sale. Several orders have already been received this year. Orders may be placed through your county agricultural agent.

The truck used in hauling the rams is a double-deck semi-trailer outfit with capacity for 80 rams. The rams are unloaded and penned according to quality and are used in the educational demonstrations. In addition to these demonstrations and discussions at each stop, ram exchanges are featured. Sheepmen who have purebred rams in good condition which they can no longer use, are invited to bring them in and exchange with other owners, or for rams for sale on the truck.

Many of the previous purchasers make use of this service and find that they can exchange a ram which they have used for two years for one of the same quality two years younger for $10.00 difference or a service fee of $5.00 per year.

The prices of the rams will vary according to age and quality and will be similar to last year.

Make it a point to use a good purebred ram. Using grade rams result in inferior lambs from the standpoint of confirmation and quality. The wool produced will be of poorer quality and the type of the lambs will be such that they are not popular or in demand on the market. A good low-down, blocky, thick-fleshed ram, with short neck, a wide masculine head, and with a dense, long-stapled fleece, free of black fibers, is desirable. His lambs and the wool thereon will show a marked improvement. These lambs will be more uniform, will fatten more quickly and will be sold earlier when prices are higher. "A good sheepman always uses a good purebred ram." They are the cheapest to use.

Send in your order before September 10.

NEW GAME LAW DIGEST READY TO DISTRIBUTE

Michigan's game law digest, to be distributed to a million hunters and trappers, are off the press.

Conservation Director P. J. Hoffmaster said the pamphlet would be given away with each hunting license. Ten thousand copies will be distributed at the State Fair in Detroit opening today.

Last year 1,338,000 permits, including fishing, deer and 15 other types, were issued.

MRS. HELENE SAILER'S OWN RECIPES

Plain Rolls

2 Cakes compressed yeast
1 Cup milk, scalded and cooled to lukewarm
¼ Cup sugar
½ Teaspoon salt
1 egg
4 Cups flour
1-3 Cup melted shortening

Crumble yeast into a bowl, add milk slowly and stir to dissolve yeast. Stir in sugar, salt, beaten egg and half the flour. Mix well, then stir in rest of flour. Add melted shortening and mix thoroughly. Turn out on floured board and knead two or three minutes until you have a smooth dough. Put in a bowl, cover and let rise over hot, not boiling, water until double in bulk. Turn out on board and knead until smooth. Form into the desired shapes, brush with milk or melted butter and let rise again until double in bulk over hot water. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees F., 15 to 20 minutes, until light brown. Remove from oven; brush with melted butter. About two dozen rolls.

If some of the dough is to be put into the refrigerator for later use, add one-quarter teaspoon soda to mixture with sugar and salt. Put in bowl, grease dough on top; cover tightly with moisture-proof paper.

Total time: 2 yeast cakes—2¼ hours; 1 yeast cake—5 hours.

Graham Date Muffins

1 cup white flour
1 cup graham flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons melted fat
1 egg
1 cup dates (cut in small pieces)

Sift dry ingredients together, turning in bran which does not sift thru. Add dates, mixing them through the dry ingredients. Drop in egg unbeaten, add milk and fat. Stir until well mixed. Fill oiled muffin pans two-thirds full of batter. Bake 25 to 30 minutes at 400 degrees. Recipe makes 9 large or 12 medium sized muffins.

Whole Wheat Nut Bread

Toasting the nuts gives an unusually fine flavor to this bread.

2 cups flour (sifted once before measuring)
½ cup raisins or dried figs (chopped)
1 cup coarsely chopped English walnuts

Beat well, then add

1 egg well beaten
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup sugar

Mix with 2 cups coarse whole wheat flour

Place in well greased loaf pan (8x5x3½ inches). Let stand 20 minutes. Bake 1 hour at 350 degrees.

Eight Minute Doughnuts

2 eggs (unbeaten)
1¼ cups sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon mace
4 tablespoons melted fat
1 cup milk
4½ cups bread flour
3 teaspoons baking powder

Mix together first five ingredients. Add milk and stir until sugar is dissolved. Sift in dry ingredients all at once, and mix to a soft dough. A little more flour may be needed. Roll out on-half inch thick, cut and fry in deep fat. Sour milk doughnuts may be made by using one cup sour milk or buttermilk instead of sweet milk, with ½ teaspoon soda and 1 teaspoon baking powder instead of three teaspoons baking powder.

Nut Corn-Meal Gems

1 cup corn-meal
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1¼ cups sweet milk
1 cup flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg
¾ cup finely chopped nut meats

Sift dry ingredients together. Beat the egg. Add milk. Add the dry ingredients. Beat well. Add nut meats. Mix well. Bake in greased gem pans in moderate oven 20 minutes at 350 degrees.

Ginger Bread

Two tablespoons melted butter, cup sour milk, four teaspoons soda cup molasses, (dark), two and one-fourth cups flour, two teaspoons ginger, teaspoon salt. Mix soda with sour milk and add to molasses. Sift together flour, ginger and salt, combine two mixtures, add butter, bake in greased pan in moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

Raised Doughnuts

1 cup milk
¼ cup lard or butter
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup beet sugar
1 yeast cake
About 5 cups flour
¼ cup luke warm water
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 egg

Method—Scald milk and pour over shortening. Add salt, sugar and nutmeg, cool until luke warm. Add beaten egg and yeast, which has been softened in the warm water, add enough flour to make a stiff dough. Knead thoroughly and let raise in a warm place until doubled in bulk. Knead again, roll to ¾ inch in thickness, cut out place on pastry cloth, leaving enough space between doughnuts so they will not run together. Let rise until double in bulk. Time for cooking, 2½ minutes each, 360 degrees.

PASTRIES

Pastry Hints

1. Blend flour, salt, baking powder and shortening until it forms balls the size of a pea.
2. Use ice water.
3. Chill before rolling. (This aids in keeping the dough from being sticky and requires less flour to roll out.)
4. Use as little flour as possible when rolling dough.
5. A piece of floured canvas about 1 yard square stretched over pastry board is very nice for rolling crusts on. Less flour is required.
6. A baby's stocking stretched over the rolling pin and rubbed with flour keeps pin from sticking to dough.
7. Flour, salt, baking powder and shortening may be blended in a large quantity and stored in a sealed jar ready for an emergency.

Pastry Failures

Why Does a Fruit Pie Boil Over?
1. Too high a temperature (causes pie to boil and make steam)
2. Pie too full of fruit.

Why Does a Custard Pie Become Watery?
1. Too high a temperature.
2. Baking too long.
3. Too much sugar.

Why Does Meringue Fall?
1. Baking in too hot an oven.

215 IN 4-H CLUB WIN TRIPS TO STATE FAIR

Nine from Charlevoix County Are Selected for Attendance

Final selections of 4-H boys and girls throughout the state to win trips for three days at the State Fair in Detroit are announced by A. G. Kettunen, state club leader, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Included in the awards are those to nine from Charlevoix county. They are: Clare McGhan and Lawrence Ecklund, Charlevoix, livestock demonstration; Clifford Gibbard and Glen Trianrick, East Jordan, handicraft demonstration team; Robert Straw and Roland Lyon, Charlevoix, conservation demonstration; Irene Brintnall and Einer Olstrum, East Jordan, 4-H Club achievement; Clare McGhan, Charlevoix, dairy judging team.

Transportation expenses for the trips are paid the winners through the courtesy of Frank N. Isbey, manager of the Michigan State Fair. Delegates will attend for their portions of the state contests scheduled Monday, September 5, through Friday, September 9.

State winners in the dairy judging and dairy demonstration contests will win trips to the National Dairy Congress at Columbus, Ohio, in October. Achievement booth winners will be Michigan's delegates to the annual 4-H club encampment in Washington, D. C. next June. Other winners will go to Chicago the first week in December for the National Club Congress held at the time of the International Live Stock Exposition.

The groups which will attend the fair in Detroit were selected in statewide elimination projects in the club week at Michigan State College in June, at Chatham the first week in August, and at Gaylord the second week in August and then in final elimination contests for those in the southern part of the state a few days ago.

SET TEN CONTESTS FOR POTATO DIGGERS

Michigan State College Announces Schedule September Meetings

Any farmer in Michigan who wants to risk his reputation as a rapid and efficient potato digger will have opportunity at one of the 10 contests scheduled throughout the state in September.

Announcement of the contests with dates and places calls attention to Michigan's importance in potato production as well as the importance of keeping a market for this state's produce by marketing quality food.

September 8 is the date for the first meeting at Pelletier's farm near Chassell in Houghton county. Others are September 10, County Infirmary near Dagget in Menominee county; September 12, Reisner Brothers and Hopp, Rogers City; September 13, H. C. Bailey at Gaylord; September 14, Duncan Morrison farm near Traverse City. Succeeding dates are September 15, Michigan State College experimental farm at Lake City; September 16, Herbert Moore, Greenville; September 20, Percy C. King, Waterford; September 21, Lee Fowler, Mayville; and September 27, John Woodman, Paw Paw.

In addition to the hand digging contests based on speed and quality of work, machine digging contests are scheduled at each of the day's programs. Machinery exhibits also are planned. Digging, grading and storage equipment will be on display.

H. C. Moore, in announcing the schedule of dates, is using the cooperation of several agencies in laying plans. Others cooperating with Michigan State College include county agricultural agents; A. J. Bell of the college agricultural engineering department, A. D. Edgar, Cadillac, representing the United States department of agriculture; Leo V. Card, state department of agriculture; F. P. Hibbs and H. A. Reiley, Cadillac; and C. L. Nash, college agricultural economist.

"HUNKY" PARTRIDGE BEING DISTRIBUTED

Conservation Department Releases 300 Birds in Lower Counties

First distribution of Hungarian partridges from the state game farm since last spring was made last month and totalled 300 birds.

Two hundred "Hunkies" were released in Saginaw county near Frankenmuth and 100 were set free in Fairgrove township, Tuscola county. A number of birds were released last March and February.

With about 250 pairs of breeders on the farm, more "hunky" eggs were laid at the game farm last spring than at any previous time since the department of conservation undertook propagation of this bird. The 1938 egg production totalled more than 8,500 compared to about 3,000 in 1937.

Records of the number of eggs laid by each hen at the farm are maintained to show which are the most productive. Those which lay the most eggs are generally retained at the farm for breeding while the others are removed for release at various points in the state. As a rule the practice is to keep the younger birds as farm stock and use the older ones for distribution.

* COOKERY HINTS *

* * * * * * * * * * *

Before grinding raisins in food chopper, pour boiling water over the chopper. This will prevent the raisins from sticking.

If when separating eggs, a little of the yolk falls into the white, it can be removed by touching the top of the whites with wax paper. The yolk will cling to the piece of wax paper.

The rind of an orange grated into chocolate frosting gives it a delicious flavor.

When broiling steaks or chops, leave the oven door open. This prevents burning and smoking.

When serving a steak smothered in onions, squeeze the juice of a lemon over it before serving and you will find the flavor greatly improved.

When mashed potatoes must be delayed in serving put a clean folded towel over the top of the pot to absorb the steam. The potatoes will be the desired creamy perfection even if served much later than intended.

When baking apples, fill cavity with hard sauce made of brown sugar and butter and add a few black walnuts, delicious. For a more hearty way, stuff with mincemeat.

If soup is too salty, add a few pieces of raw potatoes, boil for a few minutes, then remove potatoes. Also, pouring the soup through a cloth wet with cold water will remove salt. A pinch of brown sugar also helps to remove salty taste.

When substituting cocoa for chocolate in cake recipes calling for chocolate, 3 tablespoons of cocoa and ½ tablespoon butter equals 1 oz. chocolate.

Fruit creamed with sugar and butter will not sink to bottom of cake.

Honey increases the flavor of whipped cream and makes it stay firm for a longer period.

Lumps may be removed from brown and powdered sugar by placing in warm oven for a short time.

To help roll cookies successfully, hem a canvas cloth to fit over bread board, use leg of child's white stocking (from which foot has been cut) and slip over rolling pin. Wash cloths from time to time in cold water.

If cookie dough is mixed at night and placed in cool place until next day, it can be rolled without sticking.

Place cup of cold water on cereal that is to stand over night to prevent hard crust from forming. Pour off water in the morning.

If vegetables scorch, place pan immediately in cold water. In a few minutes the vegetables can be emptied into another pan and fresh water added and no taste of scorch can be detected.

When measuring molasses or syrup, first grease the cup and every drop of syrup will pour out.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

REPUBLICAN TICKET

Primaries, September 13, 1938

Why?

In answer to the above question I submit to the Electors of the Charlevoix-Leelanau District a part of the OFFICIAL RECORD of our present Representative taken from the House Journal to which you all have access.

(1) During the 1935 Session of the Legislature Representative Tibbits introduced a measure eliminating the office of State Highway Commissioner. As a result this District has suffered. Just one example: M-66 was washed out near Loeb Farms. It remained unrepaired for over five months, when temporary repairs could have been made in 24 hours, and the road opened. Information booths all over the State were and are sending Tourists over other trunk lines.

(2) During the same session Representative Tibbits introduced a measure to raise the Governor's salary to $15,000. (Why raise the Governor's salary at a time when it was already necessary to have moratoriums to save our farms and homes?)

(3) January 12th, 1937, Representative Tibbits voted for the immediate consideration of a resolution which would have given each of the 100 Representatives and 32 Senators $10 a day extra for not to exceed 150 days. This would have cost the state $198,000. Representative Tibbits would have received an extra $1500. The measure failed to receive the required two-thirds vote and was referred to a committee. It was amended to $6 a day extra for not to exceed 120 days. On January 28th, 1937, Representative Tibbits voted for this amended measure, and the resolution was sent to the Senate. It would have cost the state $100,000 and given Representative Tibbits an extra $720. Fortunately the Press of the state became aroused with the result that the Senate asked the Attorney General for an opinion on the measure. The Attorney General said "NO" IT IS ILLEGAL.

Representative Meyers from Cass County, a Physician and Surgeon, with reference to this measure said on the floor of the House on February 25th, 1937 (House Journal, page 280) in part as follows:

"We have had quite a block here who couldn't think of anything for several weeks except the $6 a day or $10 a day * * * These same people, not all of them, who are so anxious for the $6 per day and who shed great tears about having to live in Lansing at a great expense, turn around and seize upon every excuse to prolong their stay in Lansing * * * They waited, impatiently for the Attorney General's decision. They could hardly wait. They could have called in any ten year old School Boy, who could read the English Language, who could have given them as fair and accurate a decision in fifteen minutes time."

(To anyone who desires I will be glad to furnish a copy of Representative Meyers complete speech.)

(4) Representative Tibbits voted for a fish bill, closing to fishing for certain months of the year, the lakes of the county, including Lake Charlevoix and Round Lake (except for catching Mackinaw trout with a hook and line). After this law had gone into effect a meeting of the fishermen of Charlevoix county was held in Charlevoix at which meeting about two hundred were present. At that meeting Representative Tibbits made the astounding statement that he had voted for the bill without having read it or knowing its contents, that several bills were being considered at the same time. IS THIS REPRESENTATION?

Sympathetic enforcement officers overlook this law, but it is there. Just what would you fishermen think about it if this law were enforced?

(5) Representative Tibbits introduced a bill to discover new means for the state to Obtain Revenue. A Hundred Million Dollars to spend, and they wanted more. Are we not taxed enough?

(6) A Bill was up for passage in the House of Representatives, which would have transferred our 57 State Parks from the non-partisan Conservation Department to the partisan State Highway Department. In other words to put our State Parks into politics. The House passed the Bill, but it was beaten by one vote in the Senate. The record shows REPRESENTATIVE TIBBITS present but not voting. (My contention is that Representative Tibbits was not there voting for himself. He was there to cast the vote of the Charlevoix-Leelanau District and should have voted his convictions.)

(7) These are only a few of the criticisms that are being made of Representative Tibbit's Record, criticisms being made by his personal friends. Many believe that any one of these mistakes should be sufficient reason for sending another to the Legislature.

A Public Officer's Record belongs to those he serves, and every Public Official should always be willing to have his acts scrutinized and criticized. The above record is from the House Journal.

An inspection of my Record while a Member of the House of Representatives is invited. It will be found in the House Journal for the years 1921 and 1923.

I was born in Charlevoix county and have lived here all my life.

Have practiced law in Charlevoix county for 27 years. Commenced the practice of law with J. E. Converse in Boyne City and lived in Boyne City for two years, 1911 and 1912.

Prosecuting Attorney for Charlevoix county for 8 years, resigned to enlist as a private soldier. Did not see overseas service, so claim no special consideration because of this service. Charter Member of Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 226 American Legion. Commander two years.

City Attorney of Charlevoix for 5 years.

Member of the State Legislature for 2 terms from January 1st, 1921 to January 1st, 1925.

I believe that the experience gained through the years has qualified me to represent and serve you.

Sincerely submitted,

Rollie L. Lewis.

MORE FUNDS GIVEN TO RURAL ELECTRIC

REA GRANT OF $452,000 IS ANNOUNCED TODAY

In a wire received this morning from Cong. John Leucke, the Rural Electrification Administration announces allotment of an additional $452,000 for the Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Company.

The grant provides funds to construct an additional 352 miles of line to serve about 1715 customers in the counties of Emmet, Cheboygan, Antrim, Charlevoix and Otsego. A portion of this amount is reserved for a generating plant to serve Beaver Island. This brings the total amount of funds allotted to this project to $702,000 to build 807 miles of line serving 3435 customers.

Of interest also to members of the Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Company is the receipt of a check of $1200 to pay for a line extension to one customer beyond Elmira. This man lives so far from any other customers that it is not feasible for the Cooperative to build line to serve him. He is so interested in securing electricity that he is trimming his own right-of-way, and paying for the cost of the line from the last customer served, to his home. This customer really wants electricity!

Work has already been started on the sub-station to be located on the Boyce River. Concrete forms are in place for the tower footings and work will proceed rapidly from this point. When this is completed, which will be within a very short time, lines can be energized, providing a sufficient number of customers are wired and ready for service.

The next step of importance in this major undertaking is the wiring of farm members. Electrical contractors at the present time are available to do wiring jobs. Later on they may not be able to do work on short notice and when lines are actually energized customers may still find themselves without lights because their buildings are not wired.

The annual meeting of the members of the Corporation will be held at Boyne City the evening of Saturday, October 1, for the purpose of electing directors and such other business as might come before the meeting.

CITY SEEKS BIDS ON TRANSMISSION LINE

REBUILDING FIRST PROJECT IN ELECTRIC SYSTEM PROGRAM

Eighteen Miles of Line Between Charlevoix and Bellaire Hydro-Electric Plant Will Be Built

Bids will be received Monday, October 3, and subsequent awarding of contract for 18 miles of transmission line between Charlevoix and the municipal hydro-electric plant at Bellaire will mark the first step in an extensive electric system extension and improvement program for the city of Charlevoix.

The city council Monday night authorized advertising of bids for the new transmission line which will provide reconstruction of a portion at the north and near the Ferry avenue plant and from the Charlevoix county line to Bellaire. Several miles of new line was built through a WPA project several years ago.

The estimated cost of the project is $16,340.00. The portion of the present line to be rebuilt is in bad condition and the work will eliminate considerable line loss as well. Plans for the project have been prepared by City Superintendent Don Herrick and the work will be under his supervision.

Other features of the extension and improvement program, for which taxpayers recently approved a $70,000 financing bond issue and the PWA is contributing $56,690, include instnllation of a 450 h.p. diesel generating unit, building extension to house the unit, switchbonrd und building repairs and repairs and major improvements at the Bellaire hydro-electric plant.

FARM BUREAU AIDS COOPERATIVE CO.

TAKES OVER FINANCIAL BACKING LOCAL CONCERN

Fred Willis Appointed Manager—See Wider Range of Services as Result of New Alignment

Aiming principally to better serve its many patrons in this vicinity, the Charlevoix Cooperative Co. has come under the financial control of the Michigan Farm Bureau Service of Lansing, Mich.

Under the new set-up, financinl backing of this state-wide organization is available to the local concern. The result will be larger inventories of supplies, a wider scope of services, full stocks to supply the demands of rural patrons, etc. Taken collectively, these advantages are expected to create greater confidence in the local concern, a factor which of late years has been a detriment to its operation.

Under the reorganization, Fred Willis, well known manager for many years of the Waller Farms, succeeds John Shaw as manager. Mr. Shaw continues with the Co-Ops. and others retained are LaVern McGhan and Harold Tousley and Miss Mildred Jones as bookkeeper.

In the very near future plans call for installation of a larger feed grinder, allowing for preparation locally of the well known Farm Bureau mashes, formerly shipped in. Farm Bureau farm machinery will be handled and contracts are being sought to obtain parts for other makes of machinery, allowing for complete servicing by the Co-Ops.

The Co-Ops. will be operated under its present board of directors, the only change being in the financinl backing.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS OCTOBER 1

RED RAYDERS PLAY INITIAL GAME AT MANCELONA

Five Veterans Among Thirty Candidates Reporting for Initial Practice at South Side Athletic Field

Football practice in preparation for the 1938 season which opens Saturday, October 1, at Mancelona, is under way at south side athletic field.

A group of around 30 candidates, about the same number as last year, have reported to Coach Ray Kipke. Included among them are five veterans from last year's squad which was badly depleted through graduation last spring. They are Russell Briggett and Ernie Nowland, tackles; Robert Bergmann, guard last season and now being tried at fullback; Harry Withers, regular '37 halfback, and Bob Goss, an end last year, who is being groomed for the other halfback berth. Graduation last spring took such stalwarts as Keith Carey, "Chick" Gallagher, Harrison Hedford, Bob Pearl, Charles Richardson, Richard Bergman, Bill House, Clement Olach, Eddie Gengle, Bruce Zeitler, Warren Allison, Ira Smith and Raymond Nowland, a group which carried Charlevoix to the runner-up position in the class C conference two successive years.

Among last season's substitutes being groomed for regular positions this year are Douglas Bird and Billy Ochs at guards; Tom Carey and Lee Hiller, alternating at center and ends; Oliver Duplessis, at halfback, Richard Edwards, John Bronersky. Other promising candidates include Jake and Max White, Bub McGhan, Charles Supernaw and Robert Arnold. The 1938 squad will not only lack the experience, but also the weight of last year's team and the success of the coming season is hard to predict.

Athletic officials have scheduled six contests, the same as a year ago. There are three home games and as many away from home. Following is the schedule:

Oct. 1—Mancelona there
Oct. 8—Boyne City there
Oct. 15—Rogers City here
Oct. 22—East Jordan there
Oct. 29—Harbor Springs here
Nov. 5—Gaylord here.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Keo Usher

Michigan's Governor Frank Murphy has proven an awful pain in the neck throughout these United States of ours. Was talking the other day to a fellow from Kansas City, Mo., who works for an Armour & Co. packing house which had just been tied up by a sitdown strike. As a result of the strike, $38,000 worth of meat was spoiled and had to be destroyed, the loss of payroll to the strikers and combined inconveniences totaled around $100,000. They blame Murphy for the strike because of his spineless method of handling Michigan's recent series of sit-downs. It is generally felt throughout the country that had Murphy stopped the sit-downs at their outset in Michigan, industry and workmen both would have been many millions of dollars better off. It would not be a bad idea to remember these facts when voting at the general election in November.

Have you heard the new fog horn installed on the south piers? Sounds like a dying calf in a hail storm. After hearing it, my children came home with a story about a witch making an awful noise down in the park. The baby cried, the dog hid under the back porch and the cat ran for cover and we haven't seen it since. Guess it will be alright and perhaps we'll get used to it, but for my part, I wished we lived down in the other end of town.

The city council is always lambasted when they do something wrong and seldom praised for a good deed. Here's an exception, however—a communication from a summer resident commending the park improvements on Round Lake. The letter, addressed to Mayor Robert Bridge, follows:

"Before leaving for home and after spending one of the usual pleasant summers in your midst, I cannot forego saying a word of commendation and giving credit where credit is due. I'm especially refering to

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

As a demonstration of independence in Michigan journalism, a group of newspaper publishers are tendering a testimonial luncheon here this Friday (Sept. 23) in honor of Governor Frank Murphy and members of the state administrative board.

In a state where the press has been traditionally Republican, this is news.

The sponsoring publishers, in an invitation issued by Scarth Inglis, a country weekly owner at Caledonia, pledge to keep their news columns "fair, factual and just to all political parties."

As Editor Inglis explained, "We firmly believe that more and more Michigan newspapers are independent in politics and that during campaigns take precautions to assure presentation of news without color and a fair hearing of both sides of public issues."

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

How Your Vote is Recorded

Contrary to popular opinion, the results of an election, for state senators and representatives; U. S. senators and representatives; and all officers elected by a district, are not known officially for at least twenty days after an election.

The board of county examiners must meet within three days after an election to canvass the votes in their respective counties. These results are sent to the board of state canvassers, which consists of the secretary of state, the state treasurer and the superintendent of public instruction. The board of state canvassers are required by statute to meet not later than twenty days after an election to canvass the returns from the eighty-three counties in Michigan.

In an event that the counties have not made their returns of the election, the state board of canvassers may adjourn for a later meeting, but, the official canvass must be completed within forty days after the election.

The action of the state board of canvassers is the culmination of the acts of the army of people who have had to do with the receiving and counting; recording and transmitting of the votes which signify the will of the people at an election.

While the efforts on the part of the press and radio station operators to bring to the people early returns of elections, is unofficial, it is nevertheless appreciated by the secretary of state, who unofficially, is as interested in reading the early unofficial returns as any other citizen.

"My Lucky Star" Brings Sonja Henie and Richard Greene in New Triumph

When a personality such as Sonja Henie achieves overnight stardom with one picture—as she did less than two years ago with "One In a Million"—the temptation is strong on the part of Hollywood's movie makers to be satisfied with merely repeating the picture formula which won such sensational acclaim. This probably would have worked out all right in Sonja's case — except for Sonja herself.

Far from being satisfied with that first brilliant success, the miraculous skating star set about to surpass it in every way — and did — with "Thin Ice" and "Happy Landing". And so it is easy to understand the wildly enthusiastic advance reports concerning Sonja's newest 20th Century-Fox triumph, "My Lucky Star", which opens September 25 at the Palace Theatre.

Sharing star honors with her is Richard Greene, handsome young British actor who gave such a splendid account of himself in "Four Men and a Prayer", while Joan Davis, Cesar Romero and Buddy Ebsen promise much in the way of comedy in their featured roles.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Cora Anthony

Fish and seafood have regained their usual fall popularity and whether you wish fillets, steaks, oysters, scallopa or shrimps you will find them in any well stocked market.

Lamb is the best meat buy with beef, pork, and veal successively higher. Young chickens up to roasting sizes and ducklings are reasonable. Eggs are high, butter and cheese very reasonable.

Many fruits and vegetables are in the inexpensive class with the emphasis falling on the year round or fall types of food. Apples, bananas, grapes, grapefruit and oranges among the fruits are most commonly available though pears and fresh prunes are still abundant. Potatoes are cheap and an excellent food rich in important nutritive elements. From one half to one pound eaten daily helps both budget and health.

Journalism of this kind sounds like the Golden Rule. Certainly, it puts both Democrat and Republican newspaper editors "on the spot" to provide unbiased news in the news columns, while reserving editorial column for their own personal comment. Nobody can kick about that!

Second Highest

The federal government's newest venture into regulation of industry—fixing a ceiling for hours and a floor for wages—goes into effect next month.

Michigan industries will be unaffected, for the large part, by the 1939 minimum of less than $600 annual wage per worker or the ultimate wage minimum of $832.

A comprehensive study by the National Resources Committee, using 300,000 families as a selected sample, rated Michigan family incomes as second highest in groups of states. Disregarding Michigan families on relief, the average family income for the 1935-36 fiscal year was $1,410. Including those on relief, the average remained at $1,260.

National figures showed that one third of all American families have incomes of less than $780; nine-tenths received less than $2,500.

As far as automobile workers are concerned, they rate at the top nationally. General Motors employees earned an average income in 1937 of $1,618 for 46 weeks or more—and that, despite the sit-down strikes!

Michigan is a beehive for industry — Kalamazoo the paper capital, Battle Creek the food capital, Detroit the automobile capital, Grand Rapids the furniture capital, and so on.

The present wage-hour scale may hamper the South's industrial development but certainly it will not handicap Michigan. The trouble lies in future tinkering of wage-hours by vote-seeking politicians, for such has been the history of governmental regulations of private business.

Mackinac Span

The Straits of Mackinac bridge idea received a temporary setback by President Roosevelt's decision not to dedicate the Port Huron-Sarnia "Blue Waters Bridge" this fall.

The Roosevelt "purge" in Maryland was launched by an announcement at Morgantown of $3,000,000 federal funds for a Potomac bridge. On the Saturday preceding the primary, Secretary Harold L. Ickes released a decision to build a bridge at Havre de Grace, Tydings' home town.

Several months ago Governor Murphy intimated, upon returning from one of his frequent trips to Washington, that federal funds for the Mackinac Straits bridge was practically assured as President Roosevelt was "enthusiastic" about it. The Michigan span would cost in the neighborhood of $30,000,000.

When the President decided against coming to Port Huron, Governor Murphy explained it as being "a state highway department party". It is worth noting that the chairman of the Straits of Mackinac bridge authority is G. Donald Kennedy, deputy to Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner.

The Murphy-Van Wagoner "feud" (quietly set aside until November 8) is not going to help the Mackinac bridge movement any.

Civil Service

Determination of Democrat legislators to revise the civil service law is seen in the appointment by House Speaker George Schroeder of a bipartisan committee.

State institutions face critical personnel trouble, because civil service examinations disqualified men and women employees who have held their jobs successfully through several administrations.

It was this apparent inconsistency in the law that prompted Speaker Schroeder to seek legislative remedies. (Regardless of the November 8 outcome, Michigan will have a civil service law. Republican Nominee Fitzgerald has praised Harold Brownrigg and takes part credit for sponsorship of the idea.)

Fireworks

While campaign oratory is temporarily in recess, State Fire Marshall E. J. Burrill announces that the 1939 legislature will be asked to require a state permit for sale of fireworks. Holders of such a permit would be compelled to post a $500 bond to cover any damages.

The measure will have the support of Parent-Teacher associations and woman's organizations in general.

With the legislative session less than four months away, now is the time to mobilize public opinion which forms slowly at the very best. We predict a good chance for Marshal Burrill's bill.

EDITORIAL

SENSE FOR YOUTH

E. C. Clemans is well known as an army chaplain and minister. He writes for newspapers in several communities.

Here is some of the good sense that the parents should have the children read.

The man who waits for something to turn up is likely to find himself turned down.

I am less interested in knowing how many things a Christian believes than in knowing how much he believes a few things.

The secret of so many failures in life is lack of will power.

A victory that comes easily is practically worthless. The most valuable victory is one that is the result of a hard fight.

It is impossible to keep a determined man from success. Place stumbling blocks in his way and he uses them as stepping stones to higher things.

The man who speaks nothing but the truth is never garrulous.

Great men never wait for opportunities. They make them.

There is no royal road to success. It is always the old route by way of industry and perseverance.

The Sunday Chicago Herald and Examiner now contains more news, more features, more pictures and more pages than ever before. Make it a habit to read the bigger and better Sunday Chicago Herald and Examiner.

True courage is like a kite—a contrary wind raises it higher.

ST. JAMES TOWNSHIP IS CLOSED DEER HUNTING

Conservation Department Places Ban on Area of Seven Square Miles

A semi-tame herd of deer which has been inhabiting St. James township, Beaver Island, will not be subjected to a hunters' harrnge for at least the next five years, as a result of action by the state conservation commission at its meeting this month.

The deer were a considerable attraction for tourists this past summer and seemed to grow fairly well accustomed to the presence of visitors in the area. The fact that their comparative lack of fear of humans probably would make them too easy targets this fall and the additional fact that the area in which they are ranging embraces bottlenecks thru which they could be driven for easy kills by hunters led the commission to close seven square miles in the township to hunting.

The rest of the island will be open to deer hunting this season for the first time in about a decade.

FIND CITY CHANGED IN 80-YEAR PERIOD

OSCAR MOTT, 93, MADE FIRST VISIT HERE IN 1858

Former Trader and Civil War Veteran Relates Advancement Since Era of Lone Trading Post

Oscar Mott, 93, Civil war veteran and former trader in this northern Michigan region, made his first visit to Charlevoix 80 years ago.

He returned for the first time last week. An automobile accident on US-31 south of this city necessitated a delay of several days to obtain repair parts and during this interlude in a trip which had Manistique as a destination, Mr. Mott acquainted local residents of his former visit here.

It is a far cry from his first mode of travel in a small sailboat to the present-day motor car and Charlevoix presented a far different appearance after 80 years. The sailboat trip found Charlevoix with a trading post at the entrance of Pine river, now the channel between Lake Michigan and Round lake. The craft was hauled up Pine river into Round lake to take on a partial load of potatoes, grown, it is believed on the Dixon farm, for the Dixon family were the first settlers here. Mr. Mott also obtained maple syrup made by the Indians and contained in hand-sewn birch bark pails. The trip, according to Mr. Mott, was continued to Beaver Island and to Little Traverse (now Harbor Springs). The party had originally sailed from Grand Haven.

Mr. Mott is a Civil war veteran. He was with General Sherman on his now famed "March to the Sea". His military carriage denotes his war service and training and for his nearly 94 years, the veteran is a sprightly person. He now spends most of his time traveling and residing at intervals with relatives in scattered points throughout the country.

Scenic Week-end Trips at Low Cost—No. 9

A choice of metropolitan amusements or happy hours hiking, swimming, or fishing is offered in the suggested places to visit within the state on your week-end vecation.

At least one of these areas is within easy driving distance of your home and may be reached by car at comparatively low cost.*

Iosco County—No. 1

Located along the shores of Lake Huron and Tawas Bay, containing trout streams, beautiful lakes and rivers, as well as the famed Huron National Forest, this county has long been the mecca for the vacationist. Summer festivals provide entertainment for those who eneamp in the East Tawas, Tawas City, and Oscoda parks. Take U.S. 23, or Mich. 65 or 72.

Cass and Van Boren Counties —No. 2

These sister counties are strewn with scores of well stocked lakes, surrounded by summer colonies. There are many excellent resort hotels and tourist camps near which the visitor may enjoy golf, tennis, swimming, and boating with congenial companions. Of course, the Michigan shore line of Van Buren County also attracts many summer visitors. Consult road map for best route.

The City of Detroit — No. 3

If you are weary for the moment of the country, a week-end in Detroit will be a welcome change. Not only will you enjoy the facilities and comforts afforded by the fine hotels and restaurants, but you will be entertained by seeing the famous Detroit Zoo, with its host of strange animals, or attending the popular band concerts in Belle Isle Park.

How to Estimate Your Driving Costs

Computed by Standard Oil Company (Ind.)

First cut out the scale along the dotted line and place it on the map with the "starting point" on the town nearest your home. Then swing the scale around until its edge touches the place you wish to visit.

From the figures on the scale you can determine within about 10% what the drive will cost you. To get the cost of a round trip simply double the figure. The amounts shown will be correct for the great majority of cars, although naturally the cost will be slightly more for the largest cars.

FALL FARM CLEAN-UP WILL REDUCE INSECTS

Burning Orchard Refuse and Plowing Sod Land Will Pay Dividends

Fall clean-up of refuse in orchards and fall plowing of sod land to be planted to insect-susceptible crops next spring will pay dividends in reducing danger from pest damage, suggests Ray Hutson, Michigan State college entomologist.

Destructive orchard pests which may be reduced by fall clean-up work include the apple maggot and the codling moth. The proper disposal of culls and drops, elimination of orchard trash and systematic cleaning of packing sheds and equipment are suggested by Hutson.

Culls and drops may be destroyed by feeding to livestock, putting the apples in sacks and submerging under water or by burying them at least two feet under ground. If these methods are not feasible, used crankcase oil may be poured over the piled up apples at the rate of 1 gallon for each 10 square feet of piled surface. To avoid oil injury, these piles should not be under a tree.

Insects that fall-plowing of soil helps to control, include wireworm, cutworm, and white grub or June beetle. Undeveloped forms of these insects spend the winter deep in the sod in protective cases, which are ruptured by plowing, allowing the moisture and freezing weather to destroy the young insects before they can emerge in the spring.

Farmers contemplating to plow sod land in the fall, obviously, should weigh the benefits of insect control against the possible danger to the land from water erosion during the winter. Hilly land often is best protected by spring plowing if it must be cultivated.

EDITORIAL

THUMB STATE SANTA

A certain elderly woman recently broke into the columns of the news when she returned $94.00 to the welfare department. She was able to support herself at the time and so returned the money paid to her during the previous year.

Sometimes we wonder whether this trait of character which the old lady possesses, is not rapidly vanishing from our race. And we wonder if we are not rapidly helping people to lose it. We no longer help people to help themselves. Now we give them help so they don't want to help themselves. With our encouragement, the pride and self-respect of large numbers is vanishing.

Yesterday the papers told of a man refusing three opportunities for work because he could get as much without working.

And last week our legislature appropriated $10,000,000 with no strings attached! Instead of requiring a one year's residence for welfare applicants (or even 6 month's stay in this state) the legislature opens the state purse strings to all takers — as long as it lasts — and when the bag is empty, just add 1 cent more sales tax! The people of Michigan like to pay and pay and pay! If they didn't, they'd do something about it.

A SUDDEN REMINDER

It was raining the other day and we were driving along not thinking of anything in particular when — what should loom up in front of us —but a little figure draped around with a white rain cape and he very majestically waved us to a stop while he escorted a wee thing across the street.

And then we knew—school had started; Fall is here; the summer had ended without a vacation, so rapidly we did not miss one; and the fishing season is almost over and it will soon be time for the huntsman to don his jacket and once more prowl the woods.

The little fellow let us go by the corner then and we drove along a bit slower and a bit more attentive because we do not like to see the time fly so fast and perhaps fail to enjoy every single minute of it we can. Thank you, my young man, you serve many purposes.

WHY PAY IN THE DARK

— An Editorial —

No one would be so foolish as to choose a pitch dark room in which to compute monthly bills for rent, clothing, fuel and food, and to count the necessary money due on each.

Yet the average customer is made to do something just as foolish by paying taxes in the dark—taxes that cannot be seen because they are concealed in the purchase price of every necessity. A competent estimate is that 63 per cent of all taxes —local, state and national—are hidden.

The average consumer pays taxes in the dark, for example, when he pays his rent—one-fourth of which on an average goes for taxes. The cost of a bottle of medicine includes its proportional part of 172 different taxes levied on every step of production, distribution and marketing. There are 112 hidden taxes in a pair of shoes, and the taxes on milk exceed the profit gained by the farmer.

This pyramided tax method is the target of a militant attack by the National Consumers Tax Commission, representing prominent women in a nation-wide crusade against taxes that increase the cost of living. With headquarters in Chicago, units are being formed by leading women of this state, who believe the consumer is entitled to know how taxes, direct and hidden, reduce buying power, cause unemployment, curtailed payrolls and lower wage rates.

Thus the fight against unseen taxes on the necessities of life is really a crusade to protect the American standard of living.

"The average man needs someone to tell him, what to do," says a psychologist. Isn't that the reason he gets married?

USE, DON'T SPEND MONEY

By Hester Renwick Fraser
Consumers' Counsel

Consumers' Bureau, Michigan State Department of Agriculture,

Using money, instead of "spending" it, will make your dollar go farther.

The secret of using money, as compared to spending it, lies in the confidence in the article at the time it is purchased.

Will the article serve its purpose at a price you can afford to pay?

Advertising can show what it is, how much it is, why it is that price, where and when it can be bought.

Then look at an assortment of merchandise. Will it serve its purpose? Determine the use of the article. Of what material is it made? Is it durable? What care or up-keep is required? Can it be washed, dry-cleaned or even dusted? Will it shrink, Is it sunfast? Consider carefully the workmanship.

A clear understanding of these quality grades can be and should be had at the time of purchase. Look for labels on all merchandise. They are a great help when used. Then seek the answers to your questions from the sales force, and, when necessary, seek the cooperation of the buyer of the department.

Business has demanded of government that quality grade standards be established as a pattern and protection to manufacturers.

The benefit of knowing and comparing quality grades can be a great protection to the consumer, as well as to the manufacturer, in determining the price you are willing to pay.

Therefore, ask questions and encourage the sales force to tell the things that will make you more satisfied with the merchandise you are buying.

In buying wearing apparel, try garments on at the time of purchase, when practical. In buying food, determine the quality grade and how many people can be served.

In buying canned goods, read the labels carefully, determine the quality grades and compare the prices of other similar merchandise.

Buy the grade that will serve the best purpose.

The Consumers' Bureau has accumulated much information about the quality grade standards of a great variety of merchandise, which is accessible to everyone. We will cooperate in helping consumers recognize values or advise where needed information may be obtained.

Knowing how to use your money will make your dollar go farther.

Northwest Michigan Jersey Parish Show Attracted Three Counties in Competition

The second Northwest Michigan Jersey Parish Show held at the East Jordan Fair attracted fifteen exhibitors and thirty animals from Antrim, Emmet and Charlevoix counties. The exhibit was judged in a highly acceptable manner by A. C. Baltzer, in charge dairy extension, Michigan State College. He spoke very highly of the type of Jerseys shown in the exhibit.

Nick Dekkenga, one of the foremost Jersey breeders in northern Michigan, won the two highest awards when he won Grand Championships in both male and female classes. All told, Antrim county exhibitors won eleven firsts, followed by Charlevoix county with three firsts, and Emmet county with one first. The following were the successful winners of first places in the various classes:

Bull 3 years and over, Nick Dekkenga, Ellsworth; bull 2-3 years, Mettus Rubingh, Ellsworth; bull Sr. year, Herm DeYoung and H. Fielstra, Ellsworth; bull Jr. year, R. K. Paddock, Charlevoix; bull calf, Nick Dekkenga; Sr. champion, Nick Dekkenga; Jr. champion, Herm DeYoung and H. Fielstra; Gr. champion, Nick Dekkenga; cow 5 years and over, Nick Dekkenga; cow 4-5 years, Nick Dekkenga; cow 3-4 years, H. Fielstra; cow 2-3 years, Herm DeYoung; heifer Sr. year, George Meggison, Charlevoix; heifer Jr. year, Carl Brown, Harbor Springs; heifer calf, H. Fielstra; Sr. champion Nick Dekkenga; Jr. champion, H. DeYoung; Gr. champion, Nick Dekkenga; get of sire, George Meggison; prod. of dam, H. Fielstra; county herd, Antrim.

The northwest Michigan Jersey Parish Show is one of six held throughout the state with the winners of the other five shows exhibiting at the state fair, Detroit. Owing to the distance involved and the conflict in dates with the state fair, it was impossible for this district to compete for state-wide honors.

Sleeping Sickness in Horses Has Made its Appearance

The so-called sleeping sickness has finally made its appearance in Michigan. In fact, a local veterinarian reports that three cases have been found in this county. Fortunately, in most cases, only one animal is involved on a farm and no extensive infection spread.

It has been pretty definitely demonstrated that mosquitoes and other insects are responsible for the infection. In this particular section investigators report that it reaches its peak in August and subsides in late September. Therefore, the facts indicate that in this section there should be very little trouble from this date on.

Manifestly the most effective cure is preventative measures. This means to protect your horses from mosquitoes and flies. For this purpose bevinol works very nicely and can be bought for around one dollar a gallon. Another mixture developed at the Illinois experiment station has been used effectively and is made as follows: Fish oil (cold pressed fish oil best), 100 parts; oil of tar, 50 parts; crude carbolic acid, 1 part. Mix thoroughly and apply with a paint brush. Farmers who desire a limited quantity may purchase this mixture, named Fotophenol, from the Antimite Company, Arcade Building, St. Louis, Missouri, at $1.50 per gallon.

Immediately when you are suspicious that a horse is infected phone your local veterinary. Before he arrives give all the cool, fresh water each hour that the animal will drink. Get animal in a cool, dark place and spray with a good fly spray. Feed the horse green corn stalks cut fresh at each feeding. The animals have high temperatures hence the reason for plenty of water. Be sure and follow the instructions of your veterinary and probably, in 75 per cent of the cases, your horse will recover.

Charlevoix Homemakers to Have New Style

New styles in doing housework threaten to become the leading topic among women in Charlevoix county as a result of the new course offered to home economics extension groups this year.

Handy devices for storing bedding and table linen, as well as latest methods in doing the family wash, are included in the series being presented. Two discussions on the legal phases of home management are designed to bring timely information on laws which affect the home or have special reference to women's interests.

Facts on such items as mortgages, deeds, making of wills, the handling of real and personal property, will be talked over not attempting to make lawyers of the women but to give them usable information which will be useful.

The work will be conducted on the basis of training meetings for local leaders with the specialist, Miss Helen Noyes of Michigan State College, in charge. This course is entirely new to Charlevoix county and includes the following topics for the five meetings to be held: 1. Household closets and storage places. 2. Modern laundry methods. 3. The homemakers twenty-four hours. 4. and 5. Legal phases of home management.

While the first meeting will be held on October 6, the time and place cannot be announced at this time. Next week's issue of this paper will give additional information, but, in the meantime, we are anxious to have new communities interested in this project so kindly contact your county agent who will gladly help you in organizing your group.

4-H Club Members Win Premiums at State Fair

As the summer season draws to a close it is gratifying to note that more exhibitors and more exhibits were displayed at the state fair than ever before in this county. In fact, there were 21 exhibits at the state fair with each club member winning not less than a dollar.

The largest premium was won by the East Jordan Electrical Club. Their display as a group won a five dollar prize. Within the group there were five individuals who won a total of $5.50. The Peninsula Forest Fire group won four dollars for their group display while the five individuals within the group won $7.50. Lester Walcutt directed the activity of the electrical club while Einer Olstrom led the forest fire project activity. Likewise, five dollars was won by other members with their farm maps. In the hot lunch posters competition Walloon Lake won $1.50 while Horton Bay and Grandview schools won $1.25 each. In the clothing exhibit competition Dolores Burnett, Bay Shore, won $2.75. Thus it is seen that Charlevoix county, considering the distance from the fair, has made a very creditable showing. The premium money has already been received and will be distributed to the winners immediately.

the fine improvements made since the summer of 1937 along the water front of Round lake near Bridge street. Not only have the park, the new docking facilities and other improvements added much to the sightliness of the entire area—but of more practical importance is the benefits being derived by the local merchants. While I'm told this present summer was not one of particular business activity, yet depressions will not always be with us and when economic conditions throughout the country improve, Charlevoix will reap benefits many fold the cost of these city improvements. Again my tribute to your administration and adding best wishes for your continued success,

Sincerely,
I. Newton Trager."

As a usual thing, when a man loses his temper he loses a friend.

It will no doubt be interesting to Charlevoix citizens to know that the water main job in the upper channel between Round lake and Lake Charlevoix has been completed, tested and found satisfactory, and put down to the depth required by the War department. It should also be interesteing to know that the present job cost the city—$5,738.35, including materials, whereas the former project which has been the subject of no little public criticism, cost the city the sum of approximately $12,000. The previous job was far from satisfactory for the reason the main was not put down to required depth. It was twice damaged by the dredge General Meade and the city paid the repair bill. If the Meade damages it at its present depth, it's going to be the War department's headache. It is all a matter of doing business in a business-like manner.

Have you noticed that the kid's amusements change with the seasons. It wasn't so many months ago that you could see groups of youngsters here and there tossing a basketball through a barrel hoop fastened to the side of the house or garage. Then it was baseball during the summer, and now football rivalry between the Valley and South Side teams is waxing hot and heavy on most any convenient vacant lot. They're mighty serious about it, too.

George Shaw in his Pigeon Progress says: "If you can think of something that isn't taxed up to the cars, please keep it a secret from the legislator in your district."

There ought to be some mighty good shore shooting for ducks this fall. High water has flooded the weed growth along the Lake Michigan shoreline, providing some excellent feed which has been lacking for many years. The season opens October 1 for 45 days. You can kill ten of unprotected species in a day — but don't forget to get a duck stamp.

RELIGIOUS LEADERSHIP TRAINING SCHOOL

Because emphasis was laid upon the Sunday School Teachers' courses last Sunday in the different Sunday schools, it seems right to lay special emphasis upon two other courses planned by the faculty of the Union Religious Leadership School.

A course in "Personal Religious Living" is offered and Rev. H. C. Ringenoldus will be the leader. He will use a text book "Living Religion" by Hort. Another interesting course led by Wm. C. Palmer, is "The New Testament". These two courses are offered not only to teachers in Sunday school, but anyone interested. In fact all of the classes in the training school are open to the public. We urge early registration through Mrs. E. Saltonstall, so necessary material may be ordered in time for the opening day, October 3.

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through this office. Charlevoix Courier.—Adv.3tf.

Over 600 New Tire Dealers Join Corduroy Ranks in '38

(From Grand Rapids Press)

Grand Rapids, Mich. — Over 600 new dealers have taken on Corduroy tires so far this year, and the majority of old Corduroy dealers are ordering in large amounts and more frequently, according to L. B. McCourt, sales manager.

Running counter to the general downward trend of tire replacement sales, this is cited by Mr. McCourt as "proof of the increasing popularity of doing business directly with the factory and the elimination of in-between expense."

As a result, Mr. McCourt reports, the Corduroy factory at Grand Rapids has been kept busy seven days a week supplying the demand. Shipments are made direct from factory to dealer giving rise to the Corduroy slogan "Factory Fresh".

All dealers are invited by Mr. McCourt to visit the Corduroy factory when they are in the vicinity of Grand Rapids, and inspect the machinery and methods of the workmen, who average 15 years of service at the plant.

Shock ply construction is used in Corduroy tires — this means there are two extra plies of cord material running from bead to bead. Each cord in the shock ply, as well as in the regular ply, has the same strength, but the shock plies are not counted in listing the number of plies.

As an example, Corduroy truck tires with 10 full plies also have two extra shock plies but the company refers to the tire as a 10-ply tire. This makes a perfect union between the cord carcass and the tread, thereby eliminating all chance of separation, the company states. It makes the carcass more flexible, safer and more durable, eliminating internal heat and friction.

Although stressing the importance of these facts in assuring the purchaser of long, uninterrupted service, Mr. McCourt points out that from a merchandising point of view, what counts more with the customers than "a long-winded story about materials or workmanship" is a liberal guarantee, so that if the tire fails the dealer can take care of him promptly and satisfactorily at the dealer's place of business.

In this respect, Mr. McCourt states, the Corduroy guarantee has been helpful to the dealer by eliminating any fuss or argument between himself and the consumer, or between himself and the factory. The dealer has the authority to make adjustments at his own business place in accordance with Corduroy's replacement schedule.

Daily limits in Michigan are: 10 for ducks in the aggregate of all kinds of which not more than three of any one or more than three in the aggregate may be redheads, canvasbacks, butfleheads or ruddy ducks; 5 in the aggregate of all kinds of geese und brunt; 10 coots; 10 rails and gallinules nnd 10 jncksnipe; four woodcock. Wood ducks may not he taken nt all.

Possession limits nre: a two days' bag limit for ducks, geese und brant; 20 coots; 15 rails and gallinules und 15 jncksnipe; four woodcock.

Shooting is restricted to from 7 n. m. to 4 p. m., E. S. T., for waterfowl and coots, and from 7 a. m. to sunset for snipe, rails, gallinules (other than coot) nnd woodcock.

Although redheads, canvasbacks, butfleheads nnd ruddy ducks, which preciously have been protected, nny be taken in limited number this year, waterfowl authorities point out that the daily limit is three and is granted largely to allow for hunters' "mistakes". These species have not hecome so plentiful us to warrant henvy hunting, but it is difficult for hunters to distinguish them in the air from other species.

Another change this year is the provision allowing a non-resident hunter shooting more than one dny in the state to cnrry out of the state a two days' hag limit of ducks nnd geese nud brant, combined, and one day's hag limit of other migratory game birds in one culendar week.

LAKE TROLLING BEST OF SEASON

MACKINAWS, STEELHEAD HITTING, PERCH "RUN" ON

Season's Record Mackinaw, a 24-Pounder Taken by Bill Herrick, Grand Lodge, Caught Monday

A week end which sav the mackinaw trout fishing produce the seuson's best results, the steelhend fishing reach normal for the first time and the annunl perch run get under way, also produced the record size fish of the season.

Bill Herrick of Grand Ledge, caught a 24-pounder Monday morning to top the record of 21 pounds established Friday by Junior Wilcox of Tulsa, Okla. Herrick's prize, taken while guided by Ed. Benudoin of the Culver & Beaudoin camp, was 40 inches long and hud u girth of 23 inches.

Favorable weather over the week end just past brought more trolling activity on Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix than has been evidenceu in several weeks. All trolling camp ojerutors were busy from Fridny until Monday nnd severnl reported the best business of any week end during the entire season.

It is estimated that between 25 und 30 mackinnws were taken off South Point daily from Friday until Mondny when a high wind developed by mid-dny to keep boats off the grounds. The senson for mackinaw trolling closes October 10th and, judging from the size of spawn found in specimens taken and from the opinion of commercinl fishermen, an early spawning season is in prospect. That the mackinaws are being caught in large numbers in shoal water is taken ns another indication of the early approach of spawning.

While no lnrge cntches of steelhead hnve been made, these fish nre "hitting" quite consistently nll over Lake Charlevoix, nccording to reports. Perch hnve started "running" into Round lnke and night fishing for smelt on the west shore of Lake Charlevoix is drawing many fishermen and producing good results nightly.

With all of Charlevoix county's 100 Republican delegates present either in person or by proxy and others swelling the attendance to 135 persons, the most enthusiastic Republican county committee meeting on record was held last Wednesday evening at the Boyne City school gymnasium.

John M. Harris, Boyne City, acted as chairman, and Fay A. Bradley, Charlevoix, served as secretary, Clarence B. Meggison, recently chosen county Republican chairman, was introduced.

The resolutions committee report, prepared by Arthur L. Fitch, Edwin K. Rueling und Mrs. R. B. Armstrong, was adopted. Support was pledged to the election of Republican nominees for national, state nnd county offices. In closing, the report read ns follows: "We do hereby declare that the administration of our State affairs during the past two years has been disgraceful, deplorable and unendurable and calls for determined and persistent education of the voters of the state for their own happiness and self-preservation."

The spirit of enthusiasm prevailing nt the convention was reflected in the large number of persons showing willingness to attend the state convention. Eighteen delegates and an equal number of alternates were chosen, giving each one attending one-third vote.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

Monday night's city council payroll included the final puyment of the old railroad bridge bonds, an item of $5,000 and interest. The records reveal these bonds were issued in 1894 in the amount of $25,000 und that the city has since puid $52,250 in interest, or more than double the original issue. The issue was renewed in 1914 for 20 years. In 1934 the city puid off $5,000 and refunded the balance of $20,000 for 4 years after the public debt commission suggested the short term and cleaning up nf the indebtedness. Which all goes to show that it costs the taxpayer a pretty penny when obligations of this sort are not met when due.

The city street department has completed a job of patching streets throughout the city. It's rather a departure from usual proeedure to do this work in the fall, but a wise one too, for the streets go into the winter season of snow, ice and water damage in good condition. Het they will be in better shape next spring than in many years.

This night fishing for smelt has its hazards alright. Ross Alexander, bundled up in Soo wools and mackinaw walked kerplunk right off the end of u dock into Lake Charlevoix the other night. Heard the boys were going to string a rope around the end of the docks so we'ed know where they end.

Sure got some of the fellas awful excited last week. Said there was only 48 more days left before deer season when there was really 55 and they believed it. Someone said Charley Heise was seen out in the back yard getting his huntin' equipment ready. Shows they believe what the editor says whether its true or not—sometimes.

LANSING LETTER

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

While local communities look to Lansing for financial aid to solve their problems, Michigan is relying more and more upon a highly centralized federal government at Washington.

The social security system of taxes, collected by the federal government and returned to the states, is one example. Under this setup the aged are guaranteed a small pension, while unemployed persons receive compensation during an interim following loss of work. Uncle Sant gets the money; the state spends it.

The newest evidence of this trend is the netion of the Michigan State Medical society in annual session at Detroit this month. Among the policies approved was federal aid to states for the development of public health programs. Poorer communities would be assisted by the state, but the federal government would be expected to step in when the state is

(From Grand Rapids Press)

Grand Rapids, Mich. — Over 600 new dealers have taken on Corduroy tires so far this yenr, and the majority of old Corduroy dealers are ordering in large amounts and more frequently, according to L. B. McCourt, sales mannger.

Running counter to the general downward trend of tire replacement sales, this is cited by Mr. McCourt as "proof of the increasing popularity of doing business directly with the factory and the elimination of in-between expense."

As a result, Mr. McCourt reports, the Corduroy factory at Grand Rapids has been kept busy seven days a week supplying the demand. Shipments are made direct from factory to dealer giving rise to the Corduroy slogan "Factory Fresh".

All dealers are invited by Mr. McCourt to visit the Corduroy factory when they are in the vicinity of Grand Rapids, and inspect the machinery and methods of the workmen, who average 15 years of service at the plant.

Shock ply construction is used in Corduroy tires — this means there are two extra plies of cord material running from bead to bead. Each cord in the shock ply, as well as in the regular ply, has the same strength, but the shock plies are not counted in listing the number of plies.

As an example, Corduroy truck tires with 10 full plies also have two extra shock plies but the company refers to the tire as a 10-ply tire. This makes a perfect union between the cord carcass and the tread, thereby eliminating all chance of separation, the company states. It makes the carcass more flexible, safer and more durable, eliminating internal heat and friction.

Although stressing the importance of these facts in assuring the purchaser of long, uninterrupted service, Mr. McCourt points out that from a merchandising point of view, what counts more with the customers than "a long-winded story about materials or workmanship" is a liberal guarantee, so that if the tire fails the dealer can take care of him promptly and satisfactorily at the dealer's place of business.

In this respect, Mr. McCourt states, the Corduroy guarantee has been helpful to the dealer by eliminating any fuss or argument between himself and the consumer, or between himself and the factory. The dealer has the authority to make adjustments at his own business place in accordance with Corduroy's replacement schedule.

CENTRAL LAKE

A spell of nice weather.

Art Knowlea has returned from the hospital (Lockwood) at Petoskey after an operation for appendicitis.

Grant Patton's people were visitors Sunday with relatives at Boyne City. Frances Patton also accompanied them.

Alfred Christensen was present at the Turner Sunday school again last Sunday, having had a little car trouble the Sunday before.

Master Lonnie Harter has returned from Petoskey hospital after an operation for appendicitis a week ago last Saturday. They say he is all "O. K."

Lee Donelson has been doing some fall plowing on his farm near Mancelona, and expects to move on the place this fall or next spring. He returned from there last Saturday.

We hear that Mr. DeWaters and family are expecting to rent the O. R. Morse place for two years. They are now living on the Walbreight place west of Central Lake. They came from Kewadin last spring.

The Misses Kleinfeld and Underwood from Flint, and the local Pentacostal preacher, Mrs. Lillian Underwood, rendered some very fine music at the local church Sunday evening at Central Lake. The music on the electric harp by Miss Irma Kleinfeld was especially good.

Franklin Geary will take a load of young people to the rally day program at the Ball school house at 1:30 p. m., next Sunday from the valley, and Seibert Patton will take a load from the hill west of the school house. Mr. Geary also takes the children to school from the valley.

Everybody take note that the schedule of speakers and music has been changed a little since last week, and the following is the result: Creswell, Reverends Jackson and Batterbee, and music, Batterbee Sistera, and Mrs. Hostler and Grace Hooper; Turner, at Ball's, Reverends Nelson and Jackson, and music, Loper children, Hooper twins, and Mrs. Hooper and Mrs. Hostler and Mrs. Nelson, accordion; Greenwood, Reverends Cornett and Mosher, music, Loper children, and Louiselle brothers; Grand View, Rev. Glen Cornett of Central Lake, and Green River Orchestra. Eastport, Rev. L. S. Reed, and music, Mrs. Hostler and Mrs. Hooper. Bush, Alfred Christensen, and his chorus songs. He will also have chorus songs at Balls. Mrs. Lillian Underwood will also have chorus songs by her "Sunshine Club" at Balls and Grand View. Everybody be on time, as Reverends Nelson and Jackson have other appointments at 3:00 o'clock. This will be one of the biggest rallies ever held in the county, and probably never has been anything like it in the state, and everybody from all parts of the county should plan on attending. Rev. Jackson has served as chaplain and in other services at Jackson State Prison for seven years, and been pastor of a Baptist church in Grand Rapids for nearly eleven years, and has, therefore had a rich experience in Christian work. Rev. Batterbee is president of the Antrim County Rural Sunday School Association. Remember the time: Creswell, 10:30 a. m.; Turner at Ball, 1:30 p. m.; Greenwood, 10:30 a. m.; Grand View, 2:30 p. m.; Pleasant Valley, 11:00 a. m.; Jordan, 10:30 a. m.; Bush, 2:30 p. m.; Green River, 2:30 p. m.; Eastport, 2:30 p. m.

15 Home Economics Groups Expected In New Home Management Project

All details are being rapidly worked out in preparation for the new home management project which starts October 6 in the Boyne City Library. Already eleven different communities have their leaders selected and definite plans made for carrying out the five lessons in the project. At the present time four other communities are interesting themselves in organizing for the project.

The eleven communities already organized are: South Boyne, Charlevoix, Barnard, Marion Center, Burgess, Clarion, Evangeline, Horton Bay, North Boyne, East Jordan, and Advance. The other communities expected to organize are: Peninsula, South Arm, Bay Shore, and one or two new ones in East Jordan.

Miss Helen Noyes, specialist in home management, Michigan State College, will be the specialist in charge of the program. Owing to the fact that only one training center may be held in the county, the first meeting will be at Boyne City which will be more or less central with the understanding that plans for the next four lessons will be decided at this time. Any community interested in participating in this very attractive project should get in touch with their county agent immediately. We still have room for two or three more groups and solicit your interest in the home economics extension program.

Ghromium and glass bricks, in conjunction with Janet Gaynor, Robert Montgomery and Franchot Tone, have started a new fashion in American homes that is resulting in floods of letters from architects and builders besieging Cedric Gibbons, art director at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

It is all because of the elaborate modernistic penthouse set he designed for "Three Loves Has Nancy", ultra-modern comedy romance coming October 1 to the Palace Theatre. Three boys meet girl, and then a mad merry mixup occurs in the story, much of it laid in the penthouse supposedly the home of Montgomery.

Shirley Ross Heads "Prison Farm" Cast

Shirley Ross, currently rating with Hollywood's ten most beautiful young actresses, has the first big dramatic part of her career in "Prison Farm", Paramount's dramatic story of a girl's harrowing sacrifice for a worthless man. The picture will have its local opening October 4, at the Palace Theatre.

Miss Ross is teamed with two of the screen's best-liked young man, Lloyd Nolan, the familiar "menace", and John Howard, who has been seen lately in many "Bulldog Drummond" films.

Scenic Week-end Trips at Low Cost—No. 10

Choose one of these delightfully cool playgrounds for your week-end vacation. Whether you wish to swim, ride, hike, or picnic, or rest in a good resort hotel, at least one of the regions described is but a comparatively short drive by car, the cost of which may be easily estimated by reference to the map at right.

Presque Isle County—No. 1

State forests and parks, enhanced by fish-filled rivers and lakes, and adjacent to modern summer resorts, dot this charming vacationland, while the shores of Lake Huron are ideal for every variety of water sport. The largest of the state parks is Hoeft, just north of Rogers City. Take U.S. 23 to the heart of the county.

Oceana County—No. 2

In addition to offering splendid resort accommodations and the broad beaches of Lake Michigan for a summer playground, this county has three fine public parks, including the 1000 acre dunes area near Silver Lake. The hospitable cities of Hart and Shelby are the headquarters of thousands of vacationists, and the many beautiful lakes and streams lure as many anglers. Take U.S. 31.

Gratiot County—No. 3

This county in the very heart of Michigan has long been popular with the person who wishes to spend his week-end amid rural surroundings yet be assured of good hotel or tourist camp accommodations, including Ithace Tourist Park. In season, bird hunting attracts many sportsmen. Take U.S. 27 or Mich. 46.

How to Estimate Your Driving Costs

Computed by Standard Oil Company (Ind.)

First cut out the scale along the dotted line and place it on the map with the "starting point" on the town nearest your home. Then swing the scale around until its edge touches the place you wish to visit.

From the figures on the scale you can determine within about 10% what the drive will cost you. To get the cost of a round trip simply double the figure. The amounts shown will be correct for the great majority of cars, although naturally the cost will be slightly more for the largest cars.

FALL ELECTION TO BRING FIREWORKS

FITZGERALD VS. MURPHY TO BE HOT CAMPAIGN

Republicans Battle to Defeat Murphy's "Little New Deal" Major Issue for Voters in Novembar

Michigan today faces a political campaign which promises to be one of the most exciting in its recent history.

The issue is clear cut—Frank D. Fitzgerald, stalwart in the Republican party for many years, versus Frank Murphy, Michigan's "little New Deal" governor.

Both are vigorous and effective campaigoers. Murphy has promised to speak in every county in Michigan before general election day arrives. Fitzgerald started his quest for the Republican nomination more than six months ago with a "speechless tour" of the state. Then he retraced his steps and stumped the state.

His methods were so effective and his popularity so great that he defeated Harry S. Toy, whom he appointed to the supreme court, by a ratio of nearly two to one.

With only a few scattered precincts missing, the count was:

Fitzgerald—401,675.

Toy—203,225.

The Fitzgerald-Murphy contest is pregnant with interesting possibilities. Will President Roosevelt come to Michigan to campaign for Murphy? Will former Governor William A. Comstock try to enter the race as a candidate of the Constitutional Democrats?

Will the split in the United Automobile Workers have any effect on Murphy's chances?

The candidates for lieutenant governorship are the Democratic incumbent, Leo J. Nowicki of Detroit, and Luren D. Dickinson of Charlotte, friend of the Anti-Saloon League, who will be seeking his seventh term.

Nominees for other state elective offices, attorney general, auditor general, treasurer and secretary of state, will be chosen at state conventions in Grand Rapids. The Democratic convention will be held on September 30 and October 1. The Republicans will convene in the same convention hall October 3.

All incumbent congressmen were renominated except Rep. George G. Sadowski, D., of Detroit, who relinquished an early lead and lost to former mayor Rudolph G. Tenerowicz of Hamtramck when the final returns were counted.

Townsend Plan advocates scored two victories in the congressional races. They nominated former Rep. Charles Clarence McLeod, Republican, in the thirteenth district and Felix A. Racette, Democrat of Paw Paw, in the fourth.

Republicans were jubilant over the fact that they polled more than twice as many votes as the Democrats. Nearly 650,000 persons voted in the Republican gubernatorial race and about 300,000 Democrats expressed their preferences between Nowicki and George S. Schroeder in the Democratic lieutenant governorship race.

The total vote was about the same as in the presidential primary election two years ago but only a little more than half the vote in the last general election when Murphy defeated Fitzgerald 892,774 to 843,855.

Man, we read, was created a little lower than the angels. And he hasn't gained very much on them since.

Sixty Years of Telephone Progress in Michigan

1938

Sixty years ago two crude box telephones were brought to Michigan. Today 660,000 telephones are operated by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. Since the beginning, never-ceasing research, engineering, and development of equipment and operating methods have steadily improved Michigan's telephone service. There is none better in the world.

FARM TOPICS

USE FIELD STONES IN FARM MASONRY

Rocks Have Value in Making Walls, Yards, Roads.

By E. R. Gross, Agricultural Engineer, New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. WNU Service.

Stones, a nuisance in the field, have a value in masonry or concrete work, but whether it is worth while expending the energy and time necessary to remove them from the land depends upon conditions on individual fields.

Complete stoning is necessary for growing vegetable crops but, land used for tilled field crops, grain crops, meadows, pastures or forestry need only be partially stoned in most cases. Land used for pasture or forestry sometimes does not need stoning at all.

If stoning is advisable, the only way to do it is by hand. Transportation may be by means of the old stone boat, if there is a tractor on the farm, or the stones may be hauled away in a low-built, sturdy wagon. The stone boat is not recommended where there is no tractor because it is too hard on horses. The wagon permits moving a much larger load at each haul. Removal should be preceded by breaking the larger stones with dynamite, reducing them to a size which may be handled by one or two men.

Piling the stones along fence lines is taboo on a well managed farm, for it takes up valuable space and becomes a weed-breeding nuisance. Burying stones in a trench involves much digging and is not a complete means of getting rid of them, since stones left above the frost line tend to come to the surface again. However, filling a gully with stones and covering them with soil has advantages since it provides additional well-drained field area.

When using stones for concrete work, all those measuring more than three inches should be crushed. At least two-thirds of the concrete mixture should be occupied by stones, otherwise too much cement is needed. When not crushed, the best use for the larger stones is in a masonry wall, the stones fitted closely together and imbedded in cement mortar.

Small stone crushers operated by farm tractor power can be obtained and the crushed stone may be used in concrete work, surfacing roads, lanes or barnyards. In some localities there is a market for crushed stones of this type.

Try Close Inbreeding in the Domestic Fowl

Studies with White Leghorn test birds at Iowa State college, through a ten-year period, indicate that close inbreeding may be practiced in the domestic fowl, providing careful and rigid selection for certain characters is maintained at all times, particularly for high hatchability. For most characteristics, the birds retained to a remarkable degree the excellent quality possessed by the foundation individuals—four males and seven females, states a writer in Wallaces' Farmer.

The college workers hope that the favorable results obtained from their tests will encourage other investigators to undertake the development of good inbreds. If the problem of the utillzation of inbreds for poultry improvement is to be tested adequately, it is likely that a good many different inbred lines must be developed and inter-crossed before superior combinations are found.

Seed Corn

Much seed corn is not fancy in appearonce, but it may be entirely satisfactory for seed, nevertheless. In the dry areas, stolks that were able to mature even small ears may be regarded as having better than average resistance to drouth. It is advisable, however, to ovoid saving moldy ears or those which coma from stolks infested with smut, rot or any other kind of disease.

Storing Canvases

In putting away canvases for binders and combinas, it is very important that they be protected from mildew and from mice, according to a farm correspondent. When through for tha season, they should be spreod out in the sun on a fence or hayrack until thoroughly dry, then rolled up and hung with wire from rafters or joists so that mica can not get to them. If put away in this manner, they will be found in first class condition for naxt season.

The Black Sumatra

The Black Sumatra apparently orlginated in Sumatra. It is a bird of fair size, slightly larger thaa the Leghorn, and is characterized by having a long, drooping tail which is abundantly supplied with smaller sickles and coverts. There ara no atandard weights for the breed, but tha body is of good langth and fair depth. The comb is V shaped; tha color of tha beak is black, and the shanks and toes black or dark slate. Tha ear lobes are red.

MUST HAVE A PERMIT FOR MAKING OF WINE

Manufacture for Home Consumption Legal if Tax Unit is Notified

A warning that it is illegal to make wine for home consumptioo without informing the federal government that such wine is to be made was issued here today by Fred W. Beltz, supervisor of the Michigan-Ohio district of the Alcohol Tax Unit of the United States treasury department.

Beltz pointed out that while it is possible for the head of a fnmily to manufacture up to 200 gallons of wine a year for the use of himself and his family, he must notify the tax unit at least five days before heginning such manufacture.

"Under federal statutes," Beltz said, "any wine produced without sanction of the federal authorities who are charged with the enforcement of the United States internal revenue laws, is illegally produced and is subject to seizure."

ESCAPED PRISONER GETS LARGER SENTENCE

George Martin Sentenced to Jackson Prison 26 Months to 5 Years

George Martin, Alba, who escaped from the county jail while awaiting transfer to Jackson prison to serve a sentence of 14 months to 5 years for car theft, was re-sentenced by Judge Parm C. Gilbert last week.

Martin drew a term of 26 months to 5 years, double the original sentence, on a charge of larceny from an automobile, a charge which had been pending. The original and second sentence thus run concurrently.

CITY AGREES TO MOVE FERRY AVE. POWER LINE

Act Upon Request of Belvedere Club to Make Improvement

Through resolution adopted Monday night, the city council sanctioned cooperation with the Belvedere Club's request for removal of its power line running along Ferry avenue and serving the north side.

The Belvedere Club sought the change from Ferry avenue to the street back of the first row of cottages facing Ferry avenue to provide an unobstructed view of Lake Charlevoix for cottage owners along the first terrace. The city's obligation will be to string new wiring after the Belvedere Club has set the poles on the new location.

The city council also recently entered into a cooperative agreement with the Michigan Bell Telephone Company for new poles and wire changes, which is a part of an extensive program of improvements now under way in the city by the telephone company.

FOUR HUNDRED ISSUED TRAPPERS' LICENSES

Contracts to Trap Predators for Conservation Dept. Bounty

Nearly 400 contracts for taking predatory animals for bounty have been issued this year by the department of conservation.

The contracts grant the applicants permission to shoot or trap the animals and turn in their pelts for bounty, under the terms of the predatory animal control act.

Close to 700 predatory mammals and birds have been taken this year. The hunt during July, last month to be tabulated by species, numbered 83 mammals including 30 male coyotes, 26 female coyotes, 15 male coyote pups, 10 female coyote pups and two male wolves. Bounty payments for these totalled $1,125.

INSURANCE WILL SAVE BEE SWARMS FOR 1939

Specialist Advises Leaving One Super of Honey in Each Hive

"A life insurance policy even for bees!" advocates Russell Kelty, Michigan State college apiarist.

Kelty doesn't advocate an "endowment" policy from which no returns are reaped for several years but a policy that the bees can enjoy in the next few months. This policy is for hive owners to insure that each colony has a good queen and plenty of food for the winter. The safest practice, he says, is to leave one super of honey in each hive.

The value of bees as crop pollinizing agents is shown in reports from various sections of the state. According to Kelty in sections where there are few hives of bees, some clover fields failed to set any seed.

City residents as well as farmers visited the bee and honey exhibits at the recent Michigan State Fair. Blue ribbon winners were Lloyd Markham, Ypsilanti, on beeswax; E. Kuesis, Detroit, on extracted honey; and Arthur Blakley of Detroit, on comb honey. The latter also won the sweepstakes award for the best all-around exhibit.

"Mother Ann"

By GERTRUDE SCHALK
© McClure Newspaper Syndicate. WNU Service.

THE blue candles burned low on the tiny desk. Mary Larew slowly moved the plume of her pen back and forth in the flickering light. The line between the cloudy gray eyes grew deeper.

"Dearest Tony. . ." No. . . "Dear Tony. . ." . . . "My Dear Tony. . ." "Oh, it is so hard." Tears of vexation gathered unwillingly in the corners of her eyes.

"What is so hard, Mary?" The quiet voice came from the big comfy chair near the fireplace. Mary was startled for a moment; she had forgotten her roommate Ellen's existence.

Mary started to speak and hesitated. Finally, with obvious reluctance, she turned to her friend.

"Well, I suppose I may as well tell you now as later. I am not going to marry Tony. . . don't say anything," as Ellen opened her mouth in incredulous amazement, "I have made up my mind."

She paced restlessly up and down the firelit room, her slim boyish figure swaying with a grace peculiarly her own. Ellen, startled out of her usual placidity, gazed at her in surprise.

"Mae! . . . What has Tony done?"

"Nothing!" snapped Mary, as she dodged a table and kicked a cushion out of her way. "But, I feel it coming!"

"Feel what coming?" muttered Ellen in bewilderment. "You've been engaged only a week."

"I know it. And I also know that in about two more weeks he'll begin to murmur sweetly in my ear 'How nice it would be to live with Mother Ann!' 'Mother Ann' . . . 'Mother Ann' . . . I'm so sick of her name I could scream; Morning, noon and night, breakfast, dinner, supper—'Mother Ann' . . . I won't do it! I won't live with any mother-in-law!"

Ellen scratched her left eyebrow, a sure sign of unusual mental activity. At last she spoke.

"I wouldn't be too precipitous, if I were you, Mary. You . . ."

"For goodness sake, don't preach!" broke in Mary. Inwardly she added, "Anyway, what do you know about such affairs? You've never had a fellow." Even the best of friends are sometimes catty.

"As I was saying, you love Tony and he loves you. Would you throw away a good man's love just because he wanted to unite the two dearest possessions he has—his mother and his wife?"

Mary paused in her swift walk; she had never heard that note in Ellen's voice before. The firelight touched her plain face and gave it beauty of a pensive sort. Mary stared.

"Let me tell you a little story. . . of a girl and a boy. They were in love, very much in love. He was kind. . . she was sweet, but selfish. But he loved her. They became engaged, and everything was lovely. One day he told her that they would have to live with his mother for a short time. . . That was the end. She broke the engagement."

A log fell apart and showered sparks on the tile hearth.

"He grew bitter, for he had cared very much. After she had sent him away she repented, but it was too late. His love was dead. Both lives were ruined. And six months later his mother died. . "

A little break in the even voice and the room was quiet.

Mary sobbed in a jerky fashion. To think that this tragedy has happened to plain, easy-going Ellen.

"Oh, Ellen——"

There was a knock on the door. Both girls jumped.

"Don't turn on the light, my face is a sight." Mary wiped her nose and opened the door.

Tony stood there beaming down on her from his six-feet-one of young manhood.

"Hello, sweetheart! Hello, Ellen. Listen, Sweets, I promised 'Mother Ann' I'd bring you around tonight. You know, Ellen, 'Mother Ann' is my old nurse—she thinks the world of her child, and she wants to be sure he gets a nice little girl." He chuckled and looked down on Mary's bent head. "Think she'll do?"

Ellen looked at Mary; Mary looked at Ellen.

"Yes, I think she'll do, Tony," murmured Ellen.

"I know she will. Come on dear, let's go. 'Night Ellen."

The door closed behind them. Ellen sighed dolorously as she picked up her damp handkerchief.

"And I wasted that perfectly good sob stuff on nothing. Oh, well. . ."

What's this idea of our clothes matching our incomes? We don't want to join a nudist colony.

It might prove helpful, too, if just about one-half the attention paid by political leaders to the congressional election in November was given to pulling the nation out of the hole now.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 3

Final arrangements were made at the meeting of the administrative board of the Leadership Training School Tuesday evening.

Over 50 have already enrolled in the classes while others are still planning to enroll. So far the largest class is in New Testament, by Mr. Palmer. Part of the reason for this is probably in the fact that there will be no other class in session during the period of his class. A class that will grow in number as people learn of it will be the one in Personal Religion by Rev. Ringenoldus.

An opportunity will be given people, who wish to sit in the classes, to do so. They will not be under obligation to purchase books but must pay an audition fee of 25c. These people will not receive certificates at the close of the series.

The first meeting will be held Monday, October 3, at 7:00, to register, purchase books, and take assignments. The programs after next Monday will begin at 7:30. The first hour classes will be from 7:30 to 8:30, the second hour classes from 8:30 to 9:30.

The faculty members are Miss Bush, Mrs. Rauch, Mrs. Alexander, Rev. Parker, Rev. Ringenoldus, Mr. Palmer and Mrs. Saltonstall, Dean.

WOMEN ARE ORGANIZED BATTLE AGAINST TAXES

Charlevoix Selected as Key City in This Area for Strenuous Campaign

Charlevoix has been selected as the key city of this area for the organizing of women into units of the National Consumers Tax Commission in the nation-wide crusade on taxes that "are depriving families of living necessities."

In making this announcement, Mrs. W. R. Alvord, prominent Detroit clubwoman and Michigan member of the commission's national committee, said units of the group are to be formed in every community in Charlevoix and Antrim counties.

The commission, with national headquarters in Chicago, represents women throughout the country "who are determined to combat all taxes, direct and hidden, that are increasing living costs," Mrs. Alvord said.

"The interest of Charlevoix women in movements that safeguard consumers' welfare," she added, "has lead the commission to choose Charlevoix as the center of organization work in this area.

"The commission's crusade against taxes, state, local and national, that are eating deeply into the family dollar is one that women all over the country are enthusiastically supporting. As housewives they are the guardians of the family purse. On them rests the task of making the family income go just as far as possible and hence of combatting those taxes which increase prices on every necessity of life."

Mrs. Alvord, who is also executive member of the International Center of the YMCA in Detroit, is a past president of the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs.

unable to meet such emergencies.

Call it state socialism or what not, this trend is commonly accepted by the public.

Hospital Insurance

In the files at Washington is a gigantic health insurance scheme, similar to the social security system, whereby $800,000,000 would be spent annually to bring the benefits of medicine and hospitalization to the masses.

The recent WPA survey of the National Resources Council showed that one-third of all American families had incomes of less than $780.

You can't pay many doctor bills on that income.

Whereas the Washington plan, yet to be sponsored by the president, would finance itself out of new taxes, the Michigan State Medical society favors hospital insurance as a community project. Also advocated is a plan to set up a medical finance service in each county to assist persons needy of medical care.

Education Next

If federal aid is needed for old age pensions, unemployment compensation, medical service and so on, how about federal help for our public schools?

Well, if the National Education association had its way, Washington would be rolling out funds for education, too.

Pending in the last session of congress was the Harrison-Thomas bill for federal aid to education. Government subsidy for the public school is favored by such organizations as the American Federation of Teachers, American Association for Adult Education, Progressive Education association, American Federation of Labor, Committee for Industrial Organization (CIO) and the railroad brotherhoods.

Washington would release funds to states only if the latter fulfilled certain requirements. Among the bill's opponents is J. B. Edmonson, dean of the school of education, University of Michigan. He states:

"If we desire to defend the traditional freedom of state and local responsibility and initiative, the Harrison-Thomas bill should be amended so as to provide a grant of funds without so many strings attached."

$30 Every Week

By this time it looks like "state rights" will be soon as extinct as the dodo-bird.

Government aid has no limits.

Take the newest panacea for national recovery, old age pensions, and what not — the $30-a-week-for-life plan, sponsored in Michigan by the Rev. O. James Crews, pastor of the Detroit Temple of Light, and John H. Marolf, former newspaper publisher at Midland and Iron Mountain.

Like the California "$30 Every Thursday" scheme, which proved to be the ballot downfall of Senator McAdoo, the Michigan plan calls for $1 warrants on which a 2 cent stamp would be affixed each week during an entire year.

Merely by declaring officially that the warrants would be accepted anywhere in Michigan as legal tender, the Reverend Mr. Crews is confident that millions of dollars could be raised for pensions, and nobody would lose a dime.

But before you get too excited, consider these additional points: (1) Dues of 1 cent a day, $3.65 a year, are sought by Mr. Crews; (2) In 1932 Mr. Crews ran afoul of the law in Detroit where he served a prison sentence of six months.

Month-Long Fair

Having staged the biggest state fair in national history, at least in point of paid attendance, Frank N. Isbey, Detroit's $1-a-year manager of the Michigan State Fair, is out to set a new record in 1939 with a month long exhibition.

In 1930 the fair attendance was 204,146.

Last year, using Hollywood and radio stars as a lure for young people and insisting that everyone should pay a quarter to get in, Isbey boosted the attendance to 421,393.

This year, with a 16-day event at which the emphasis was high class entertainment for little or nothing, Isbey ran up the total to 728,947. It was a national achievement, topping Wisconsin's 624,401 and Minnesota's 548,534.

WPA funds are being sought to provide 45 per cent of the $5,000,000 cost of an automotive building, a 4-H club building, women's building, new horse barn, sheep and swine barn, general exhibits building, and beef cattle exhibition hall.

All of this is quite an undertaking, but in Detroit they say that Isbey can do it—if anybody can.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Survey of Financial Responsibility Cases Started

A preliminary survey of the Financial Responsibility Division's 16,575 convictions, with ages ranging from 18 to 66, recorded since October 17, 1933, reveals that 37 years is the average age for persons convicted of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The survey further substantiates the belief that the majority of financial responsibility cases are convicted of intoxication. Since 1933 when Michigan's Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Law took effect, 82% of the drivers taken from the Michigan highways have been convicted of this offense.

Another interesting feature of this survey reveals that of the total number of convictions, only 21% involve those under 30 years of age.

USE, DON'T SPEND MONEY

By Hester Renwick Fraser
Consumers' Counsel

Consumers' Bureau, Michigan State Department of Agriculture,

Using money, instead of spending it, will make your dollar go farther.

The secret of using money, as compared to spending it, lies in the confidence in the article at the time it is purchased. Will the article serve its purpose at the price you can afford to pay?

The methods used in the management of a store, as well as advertising and the quality grade of merchandise, have a great bearing on the consumer and his confidence in his purchase.

If the store's trade practices are equitable, the retail price will be equitable. If a merchant buys his merchandise well, and runs his business soundly, the retail price will be a fair one to the consumer.

If the practices of trade are fair, competition will be fair, and the consumer can decide which price he wants to pay for the article he wants to buy.

Merchants, too, must use, rather than spend money in running their business, because the share of the cost of running business must be included in the retail price the consumer pays.

The best values are found in the shops of the most dependable merchants. The consumer can help the merchant give the best values by understanding his methods of running his business and cooperating with him.

There is no economy in dealing with a merchant or a consumer who does not pay his bills promptly. Carrying credit costs money, and a share of this cost, like the cost of paper and string to wrap a package, must be added in the retail price. When you have returned a lot of things you have bought, this service costs the merchant money, and you are paying for this service in the retail price of the things you do keep.

Misleading advertising, high-pressure or careless selling, like careless buying, is expensive to the consumer. Buying something one is in doubt about is as poor an investment as being sold something one does not want. The consumer need never be ashamed of having to say, "no, thank you, I do not want to buy it." It is much better not to buy, when you are not satisfied with the things you are considering.

How can the merchant's trade practices be determined as good or poor?

A merchant is in business to make money, and is entitled to a fair profit. If he resorts to poor trade practices, they always result in a higher expense of running his business. All of his cost of operation must be included in the retail price. The higher the retail price, the less merchandise the majority of consumers can, or will, buy. The consumer wants to pay the best legitimate retail price he can find for the quality merchandise he can afford to buy, not the cheapest price, or the highest price, but the right price for quality received. What is good for the consumer, therefore, must be good business for all involved.

If you, the consumer, have confidence in your purchase at the time of purchase you are happy in knowing your money has been well used.

A satisfied customer wants to pay his bills promptly, he doesn't have to return his packages, he doesn't allow careless sales methods, he resents abuses in advertising. In other words, he seeks the merchant who fosters fair trade practices, and buys freely.

He knows he is making his dollar go farther.

FRESHER PILLOWS AID SOUND SLEEP

Pillows have much to do with sleep, except for those hardier souls who brag about sleeping without a pillow.

Because pillows in steady use would aid sleep if they could be washed, two methods recommended for freshening have been outlined by the home economics extension service of Michigan State College.

One of those tricks that many housewives have failed to discover is that pillows, feathers and all, can be washed without having the feathers opened up to float all over the house. For the first of the two methods is to wash without removing the feathers.

The pillow is scrubbed in a weak washing soda solution, using a good suds. A second suds is used if necessary and then a rinse in lukewarm water, changing the rinse two or three times. Squeeze out as much water as possible and dry on a sheet in a warm place, preferably in the sun. Beating the pillows from time to time during the drying helps keep feathers fluffy.

Second of the two methods, and called the most satisfactory, is to transfer the feathers to a muslin bag two or three times the size of the ticking. The edges of the openings of the muslin are sewed to the ticking and the feathers shaken into the temporary washing bag.

The bagged feathers then are washed in the same manner as they are in the process described for the pillow above. One difference follows. When the ticking is washed, a stiff starch mixture applied to the inside with a sponge aide in preventing the feathers from working through. When the ticking is dry the feathers are transferred in the same way they were emptied for washing.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

"Unreality" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 2.

The Golden Text (Job 15:31) is: "Let not him that is deceived trust in vanity: for vanity shall be his recompence."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isaiah 41:11): "Behold, all they that were incensed against thee shall be ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing; and they that strive with thee shall perish."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures", by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 480): "Where the spirit of God is, and there is no place where God is not, evil becomes nothing—the opposite of the something of Spirit."

A great carnival of fun every Sunday! New funnies, new contests, new puzzles and new cut-outs. You'll find them all in the bigger and better Sunday Chicago Herald and Examiner. Order your copy now.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

The School Child's Health

Improvement in the general health of school children during the past decade indicates, beyond question, that the hope of a healthy race will depend on the continued close co-operation of the teacher, the school nurse, the family doctor and the parent.

It is not surprising, therefore, that teachers in the Detroit public schools are reporting few decayed teeth in the mouths of children who have been inspected while, but a few years ago, the number of children requiring immediate dental attention was considerable.

But the possibility of detecting and correcting defects at an early age is not confined to the child's physical constitution. It is now universally accepted that many in the lowest scholastic group, including the indifferent, the spiritless and the problem boy or girl, may be suffering from personality changes induced by poor eyesight, poor hearing, nasal obstructions, malnutrition, poor posture and nervous fatigue.

Old-time schoolmasters and schoolmarms leaned heavily on the belief that if they spared not the rod, the child would not be "spoiled". But there is little evidence that corporal punishment ever proved effective in keeping the problem child to the paths of righteousness. Despite the allegation of "coddling" hurled by the older generation of the practitioners of modern pedagogy, there is evidence that an understanding of the child's difficulties is the first step toward insuring satisfactory adjustment to the social order.

This is illustrated by the case of two delinquents, 10 and 12 years old, who were recently brought into the juvenile court on a larceny charge. Investigation by social workers disclosed, however, that the boys were not criminals at heart but had stolen small sums of money to give to their mother, to make her happier and so still her continual complaining.

Perhaps it is in the schools that medical science may expect its greatest triumph and greatest reward. It is dealing there with plastic young minds and bodies which respond readily to remidial measures when once the disease condition is correctly diagnosed.

Of course, it is ridiculous to suppose that even through such methods a race of supermen may be fostered. Experienced teachers are probably right in asserting they can designate from the first grade those children who will become delinquents and habitual criminals later. Science is powerless to supply an antidote to a hereditary taint. But at least it can rescue from the lowest or "Z" grouping many individuals unnecessarily handicapped in the race of life.

SHOT AT RANDOM

opens Saturday. A lot of the boys will be in their blinds around this region when the gong sounds at 7 a. m.—or earlier—which has been my own personal experience (have had to dodge shot at the first streak of dawn). Some of the rest of us who have formed the habit will go to the upper peninsula for birds and will then find out how soft we've become since last year. Understand Frank Bird, Kit Carson and some of the other boys are heading for their camp northenst of Newberry on the Two Heart. There should be good local duck shooting. Many ducks have nested on nearby inland lakes and along Lake Michigan. High water has flooded shore growth, providing feeding places and this fact has resulted in an abundance of duck not seen locally in many years.

Charlevoix's Red Ryder football team open the season at Mancelona Snturday and a week hence make their first home stand. It would be a fine gesture—of support to the squad's efforts if everyone would turn out for this first home game. Football hasn't been such a drawing card in Charlevoix and perhaps this fact has not helped the moral of the team much. Let's all be boosters this year and see how it works!

BIG FALL TREE PLANTING PROGRAM EXPECTED

CCC Camps Making Ready to Start Setting Out Millions of Trees

Anticipating one of the largest tree planting projects in the history of the Michigan State CCC this fall, enrollees are taking part in an intensive training program, with each receiving instruction daily.

Fifteen to 30 minutes a day are being devoted to planting technique in each of the camps in the state under the program instituted by William A. Rysberg, Jr. Forester, in charge of planting operations, in the hope that the enrollees will develop a proficiency equal to the planting of 10 to 12 million trees this fall Weather conditions, of course, will determine how much time the enrollees will have to complete the program, under the direction of the forestry division of the state department of conservation.

Approximately 4,750 acres of land were prepared during the summer, the enrollees engaging in scalping operations at many points throughout the state.

Last spring the Michigan state CCC planted approximately nine million trees.

BLOCK-DEJONGH WEDDING WAS A PRETTY SUNDAY EVENT HERE

At a pretty church wedding solemnized at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Miss Frances Roberta Block, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Block, was united in marriage to Harold Cornelius DeJongh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeJongh of Holland, Mich.

The ceremony was performed at the Methodist church by Rev. John Alexander before an altar of dahlias, palms, ferns and seven-branched candelabras. The bride's sister, Miss Naomi Block, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Johnson of Grand Rapids, and Miss Maxine Mikesell of Traverse City. The groom's cousin, Leon of Holland, acted as best man. Ushers were Elwood Zavitz of Detroit and Lawrence Smith of Holland. Miss Dorothy Halstead of Petoskey, played the wedding march and Frank Poole sang "O Promise Me".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a gown of white satin lace, fashioned with long sleeves and a full blouse brought together in a yoke of lace which formed a high neck line. The skirt spread into a full train and her veil of illusion tulle fell from a bonnet-shape cap. She carried a bouquet of lilies and white roses.

The maid of honor wore a gown of hyacinth blue lace. Her veil was held by a cluster of gardinns and she carried a bouquet of red Ellen roses. Miss Johnson wore a gown of yellow net and Miss Mikesell a gown of peach net. Their veils were held by a cluster of gardinas. The bride's mother chose a dress of blue velvet and wore a corsage of carnations. The groom's mother wore a dress of royal blue and wore a corsage of roses.

Mrs. DeJongh is a graduate of Charlevoix high school, class of '35 and attended college in Grand Rapids. The couple will make their home at Holland.

NATIONAL DEBT NOW HIGHEST ON RECORD

Every Man, Woman and Child In United States Now Owes $296.89

A record-high public debt of $38,400,000,000 has been placed on the treasury's ledgers.

Almost doubled during the New Deal, the debt now represents a theoretical burden of $296.89 for every man, woman and child in the country.

The previous peak was reached March 12, 1938, when the government's indebtedness climbed to $37,814,477,017. It was gradually reduced, through the release of approximately $1,400,000,000 of gold from sterilization, until it stood at $37,161,740,315 at the end of the 1938 fiscal year, June 30.

Since then it has moved upward until the new high was established Sept. 15 when the treasury borrowed $800,000,000 in cash to finance the recovery program. Between now and the end of the fiscal year, the treasury will borrow additional cash that will push the debt to an estimated $40,650,000,000.

When President Hoover went out of office, the debt stood at $20,937,350,964. At the beginning of Mr. Hoover's administration the debt was $17,344,872,799. This was gradually reduced until it reached a post-war low of $16,026,087,087 on Dec. 31, 1930.

Just prior to the United States' entry into the World War, the debt totaled only $1,282,004,346.

SOUTHERNER LIKES HOSPITALITY OF THE INN

Writes in Glowing Terms of Services Provided by Manager Flynn

The services of The Inn hotel generally, and the managerial ability of William E. Flynn, managing director, particularly, are highly praised in a recent article by a summer guest, published in a recent issue of a Louisville, Ky., newspaper.

The article, in part, is quoted as follows:

"'Enjoyment at its fullest,' This is not merely an empty phrase, but is a fact that is substantiated by hundreds of guests that annually visit The Inn, Michigan's greatest vacation resort at Charlevoix. The moment one of the cooling pine breezes waft your cheek, you'll know you are in a true vacation paradise.

"At The Inn, which is the center of social activities for everyone who visits Charlevoix, you can feel free to let yourself go. Take on your favorite sport, down the hearty, nourishing food preparations, relax, golf, play tennis, swim, go horseback riding, boating, and dance to the music of Rudy Lodeensen's band.

"A hotel is as great as the service it provides and service of any distinctive type is a reflection of a personality—and that personality behind The Inn is William E. Flynn, who has been its managing director for many years. He is responsible for the type of service which is provided at The Inn. It is service of a warm-hearted, open-handed style. A veteran host, he recognizes that human beings are not all molded after the same pattern and anticipates the individual desires of the guests. Performed with dignified courtesy, Mr. Flynn's brand of service is delightful for guests to receive and their appreciation is manifested in their return each year to The Inn.

"Mr. Flynn is already looking forward to next year and promises many innovations and improvements which will add to the comfort and pleasure of Inn patrons."

LAKE TROLLING OFF OCTOBER 10

FIVE DAYS LEFT FOR LINE AND NET FISHERMEN

Conservation Department Outlines Closed Season Dates for Great Lakes Commercial Fishing

Trolling for lake trout, which proved one of the most popular and productive kinds of fishing in Michigan this past summer, suspends in Lake Michigan next Monday, with the season remaining closed through November 10.

The season closed previously on both Lake Huron und Lake Superior, the closing dates on both of those lakes extending from October 1 through October 31. October and at least the first part of November comprise the period during which lake trout normally spawn.

Two other fish, whitefish nnd chubs, found in tho Great Lakes also are given protection at this time, the closed season on whitefish extending from November 1 through December 1 in Lakes Huron and Superior, and from November 5 through December 10 in Lakes Michigan and Erie. Beginning October 15 and through November 20 chubs are protected on Lakes Huron, Superior and Michigan.

During the closed seasons no permits will be issued to anyone to fish for spawn, the department of conservation fish division has announced. It is expected, however, that some trout eggs may be secured after the season reopens, and possibly a few whitefish eggs in some localities before the season closes.

The Thompson hatchery has been designated to handle trout and whitefish eggs taken on Lake Michigan, while Harrisville will handle trout eggs taken from Lake Huron to the limit of its capacity. Any surplus will go to Thompson. In the event that the capacities of both the Thompson and Harrisville hatcheries should be exceeded, surpluses are to be sent to the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries station at Duluth if the number is sufficient to warrant shipping. In case of only a small surplus, the department advises that they be planted back.

Whitefish eggs taken in Saginnw Bay and Lake Huron are to be sent to the Thompson hatchery, while lake trout and whitefish eggs tuken on Lake Superior are to be turned over to the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries Duluth station.

The opening guns in a speech-making enmpaign which will be conducted in every county in the district were fired by Congressman Clare E. Hoffmun, of Allegan. Hoffman was scheduled for addresses in Rogers City, Tuesday night, in Menominee Wednesday, and Munising Thursday.

Fred Bradley, of Rogers City, the Republican nominee for Congress, is arranging the itineraries of prominent party leaders who will speak in the district on behalf of Republican candidates. Bradley announced that he will accompany most of them on their visits to various cities.

HUGH GRAY CALLS HOTEL MEN TO MUSKEGON

Discussion to Bring Boat Line to West Michigan Ports in '39 Scheduled for October 8

Hugh J. Gray, secretary-manager of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association has sent an invitation to hotel and resort operators in 15 cities to meet at Muskegon, October 8 to discuss a plan to bring passenger steamer service to the Lake Michigan shore next summer.

"Several of our hotel operators, as well as some of the business men throughout western Michigan seem to feel that by a concerted effort arrangements might be made with somebody to operate a boat line next summer from Chicago, going up the east coast of Lake Michigan and stopping at a number of ports," Gray said. He added that it had been proposed to have the vessel go as far as Mackinac island and return the same route, making the trip twice a week.

Gray emphnsized that the meeting was not called at the request of any interested shipping firm and that there was no thought of trying to sell stock in any line, hut that "some hotel operators and a few business men have felt that it might be possible to subsidize such a line for at lenst one year's trial."

Among the possible ports of call would be St. Joseph and Benton Harbor, South Haven, Grand Haven, Muskegon, Ludington, Manistee, Frankfort, Traverse City, Charlevoix, and Harbor Springs.

CHARLEVOIX WINS OPENING CONTEST

DEFEATED MANCELONA BY 13 TO 7 COUNT SATURDAY

Withers, Bergman Leading Ground Gainers — Meet Boyne City, Defending Champs, There Saturday

Opening the 1938 foothall season last Snturday at Mancelona, Charlevoix's Red Rayders scored n 13 to 7 victory over the Antrim county outfit to keep pace with other undefeated class C conference teams.

Against a stronger conference foe, the victory would have been more impressive. Regnrdless of this angle, however, the result was gratifying when the Rayders' inexperience is taken into consideration. Coach Kipke found a strong, aggressive line, capable ball-toters in Withers and Bergman to offset other weak points which additional practice will no doubt improve.

Bob Bergman, playing at fullback, scored both of Charlevoix's touchdowns, the first in the second period, and the other in the third.

Tho first period ended with the ball in Charlevoix's possession on Mancelona's 5-yard line after an advance of 35 yards through a lateral. Bergman to Goss, and rushed through the center of the line. Charlevoix lost the ball on downs. Mancelona failed to gain nnd punted to Charlevoix's 30-yard strip. A steady advance put the ball over for the first marker. Nowland place-kicked the extra point.

The Rayders carried the battle into Mancelonn territory early in the second half with Harry Withers skirting the ends for good gains. His fine work and several completed forward passes put the ball in scoring position. Bergman plunged over for the second score. Mancelona scored in the middle of the final period on passes with the versatile Turnipseed on the receiving end of most of them.

By Ken Usher

Well, the first hunting week end is over! Have heard most of the alibis and viewed some of the results. Might have added some alibis myself, but will be perfectly honest and admit it wasn't the bird's fault—I just couldn't hit 'em. Missed the first bird on the ground and then three nice straight-away shots. Ed. Behrens and I finally combined our efforts to down a pair. We both clipped one from the air and I sneaked up and shot one Ed. had winged. Nick didn't have a good shot all day. We located a good place late in the afternoon, though, and will be right there the next time. So as I sit amidst the aroma of liniment and feeling about 110 years old after the first day's romp in the woods, I can't think of anything more glorious to reflect upon than the satisfaction of having had the privilege of being in the outdoors with the fellows and dogs.

Bill Fessenden and Earl Miller opened the duck season at Wycamp lake and brought home a dozen black mallards and teal as a reward of their efforts. Harold Richmond and Jake Linderman shared one up on Pickerel lake. Frank Bird and Kit Carson and their gang got 9 birds up northeast of Newberry. Guess the rest of the fellows went fishin', for haven't heard of any more.

Jim: "My girl had her nose broken in three places."

Tim: "That'll teach her to keep her nose out of those places."

After going from farm to farm and hearing everyone complain they can't hire help because the men they used to get are on WPA and don't dare quit to do other work because they won't be able to get back on the relief rolls again, makes one think there is sometbing radically wrong with this federal agency's set-up. You would think they would encourage a man to obtain private employment even of short duration and as-

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

One of the Republicans' leading handicaps, lack of knowledge as to who would form their state ticket, was removed this week by action at the convention in Grand Rapids.

For months the Murphy administration has had the edge on their opponents. Leaders had agreed that top office-holders would be renominated. The sole uncertainty was the lieutenant governorship—Leo J. Nowicki or George Schroeder—and the primary settled that.

The only unknown factor in the campaign is the possible development of issues between now and November 8.

All schedules of speakers were filled, and everything in regard to the rally went off perfectly. Miss Lessard spoke at Jordan and Bush.

The biggest rural Sunday school rally ever held in Antrim county took place last Sunday in ten of the schools of the county, eight of which were Rev. Weaver's schools. He has more schools in this county than in any of the four counties in which he is superintendent. The total number present at all ten schools will total over 500, averaging over 50 to each school. The three schools, Dingman's, East Star and Bocook, did not participate. Ten speakers participated in the rally, and everything went off without a "hitch". Rev. Weaver was present in four of the schools Sunday, and heard many words of tribute to his great work in the schools of the county.

There was laid to rest in Southern Cemetery, Friday, one of the most respected citizens of Central Lake community. This was Elkanah Mudge, resident here since 1880. A write-up was given in the Torch a few weeks ago of Olden Times, by Mr. Mudge. He had resided until a few years ago on a farm in the Bay View neighborhood. He had helped many years in instructing young people in music for church and Sunday school. The writer was one of those in his classes. He organized what was known as the Bay View Glee Club that sang at a Fourth of July celebration just 50 years ago. We have a copy of that celebration bill. Recently he had spent his summers at his home in town here, returning to Detroit in the winter time to live with his son, Grant. This son, with Jay Mudge of Torch Lake, and daughter, Olive, of this place, survive him. He was nearly 93 years of age. Rev. Rector of the Congregational church preached the funeral sermon.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Horse Bot War at First Frost

Frost is the sign that will signal start of the annual war in the fall on bot fly eggs and subsequent treatment of horses to rid them of parasites.

Suggestion of B. J. Killham, extension specialist in animal pethology at Michigan State College, is that the first step in parasite control is the treatment of the bot fly eggs.

Farmers in Charlevoix county, says Dr. Killham, can watch for the first killing frost and mark it down to start the work. Dividends will include healthier animals turning out useful energy rather than wasting feed on internal parasites.

Eggs deposited by the bot fly in summer and early fall are found attached to the hairs on various parts of the body. Chiefly these eggs cling to the forelegs, under the jaw and around nose and mouth of the horse.

A three per cent solution of a good coaltar dip (carbolic acid, lysol or any good commercial dip) in warm water effectively checks further hatching of the eggs. One tablespoon of the dip in a pint of warm water makes a usable solution of three per cent. This solution should be applied thoroughly to the forelegs and other parts of the horse's body where bot flies are observed.

The internal treatment, administered by a qualified veterinarian, should follow any time after 30 days following the application of the coaltar dip solution. This internal treatment will remove round worms as well as bots. Early removal of the bots gets them when they are small and before they have had a chance to seriously injure the horse.

POULTRY OUTLOOK FOUND FAVORABLE

Government Bureau Predicts Higher Egg Prices.

Supplied by the United States Department of Agriculture.—WNU Service.

Somewhat higher prices of eggs next year as compared with this year are foreseen by the bureau of agricultural economics in a review of the poultry and egg situation. This conclusion is drawn from the smaller number of layers which will be in farm flocks next year and the expectation that the rate of egg production will be somewhat lower.

The larger supply of feed this year is expected to have a material effect on the poultry situation. The total production of the four feed grains, corn, oats, barley, and grain sorghum, this fall will be the largest since 1932. And the wheat supply for poultry feeding will be larger than in recent years. With the number of grain-eating animals at a low point, there will be unusually ample supplies of grain for poultry, especially in some of the Corn Belt states. In other words, the bureau says, the feed situation next spring will be much more favorable to producers than in 1937.

Largely as a result of the ample feed supply, it is expected that the hatch of chicks next spring will be larger than the small hatch this year. This leads to the conclusion that while poultry supplies will be smaller in the first half, they will be larger in the last half of 1938 than in the corresponding periods of 1937. Higher prices of chickens are looked for in early 1938, whereas lower prices may be the rule a year from now.

Stocks of eggs in cold storage which will affect egg prices next year are likely to be much less than they were in 1937, because of smaller marketings.

While the production of fall and winter broilers this year is expected to be heavy, the price is not likely to be depressed correspondingly because the general meat supply is smaller.

Turkey production this year is estimated at 10 per cent less than it was in 1936. With prices expected to be higher than they were last year and possibly higher than in 1935, the hatch and production of turkeys in 1938 probably will be increased over this year.

Fast-Growing Pigs Are the Best as Breeders

The best swine breeding stock usually comes from the heaviest pigs, said H. W. Taylor, extension swine specialist at North Carolina State college.

So a good way to select breeding stock, he added, is to weigh the litters at weaning time.

If all sows and litters have had the same care and feeding, the litters which are heaviest at weaning time will be those from the best sows.

The boar and sow pigs selected for breeding purposes should be taken from these heaviest litters.

Boar pigs to be raised for pork should be treated when four to five weeks old, Taylor continued. At this age the treatment does not shock the pig as much as it will later, and the young pigs recover more rapidly.

He also pointed out that sanitation and balanced rations are two of the most important factors in hog production. "If you have not tried farrowing and raising pigs on clean land, give it a trial," he said.

Semi-Scalding Poultry

The water for semi-scalding broilers should be 126 to 128 degrees Fahrenheit, roasting chickens 128 degrees, fowl 128 to 130 degrees, young turkeys 125 to 127 degrees, old turkeys 128 degrees. The thermometer should be carefully checked for accuracy. The time that birds should be left in the water is 30 seconds. Birds should be killed by bleeding through the mouth and by sticking the brain.

Agricultural Notes

Duck eggs have a greater fat content than hen eggs.

If vegetables sprout and grow in the cellar storage, it indicates that the temperature is too high.

Turkeys reach a marketing size only after 24 to 28 weeks of even, rapid growth from the start.

Perhaps the most common error in the management of permanent pastures is to continue grazing too late in the fall.

A newly-laid egg has a freezing point much lower than that of the albumen and water which are its principal constituents.

Cutting grooves in the top edge of poultry roosts with a hand plane and filling the crevices with kerosene will do much to keep mites off your poultry.

New Style of License Plates for 1940

Larger and more legible license plates are to be made for the year 1940, according to Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, who has recently approved of the new design. The 1940 plates are to be wider and the length varying with the size of the numbers stamped on it. The style of the numerals will also be changed, making the plate more readible. This has been advocated by the State Police and the Police and Sheriff's Department for several years.

The new plates will be so punched that when affixed to the license bracket of a car, there will be a more firm contact and eliminate rattles and the number of lost plates.

The old dies, for stamping out license plates now nearly worn out, have been in service for eight years and have stamped nearly 18 million pairs of license plates. The new dies will also allow a different spacing of the numerals.

The auto license plant of the Michigan State Industries is able to turn out 18,000 complete sets of license plates every eight hour working day.

EDITORIAL

QUALIFICATIONS COUNT

The nomination of Frank D. Fitzgerald as the Republican candidate for governor, by the overwhelming majority of 200,000 votes, is probably the most fortunate thing for the Republican party in this state. Although there are many Republicans who worked unceasingly for the nomination of his opponent, Hon. Harry S. Toy, nearly all of these will wholeheartedly support Fitzgerald because they feel it is not so much the man, but the party that is at stake. There may be fault to find with Mr. Fitzgerald and with his administration when he was governor two years ago, but he is so eminently better fitted for the office than is Gov. Murphy that it leaves little choice for voters who believe in law and order and economy in government, other than to support him at the November election.

If information received at this office is correct, there was a concerted effort on the part of leading Democrats of Michigan to secure the nomination of Mr. Fitzgerald over Mr. Toy because they supposed that objectionable facts concerning his administration can be revealed against Mr. Fitzgerald that will materially aid in his rejection at the polls in November, facts which of course could not be used against Mr. Toy. This Democratic "support" materially aided in giving Fitzgerald his large lead over Toy.

But these Democrats have lost more through their efforts than they realize. For one thing, they have immensely popularized Fitzgerald through his outstanding majority.

When it comes to getting anything "on him", all their claims are going to evaporate into thin air. Any one who has held the confidence of the people of Michigan and held high public office all these years is not going to place himself into the position these critics claim. We will admit that he is not perfect, but he has not the devastating obstacles of his own making to overcome, which are universally known to stand in Murphy's way.

Fitzgerald's administration was truly economical compared with Murphy's, at least he lived within the state's income and closed his administration with a balance in the treasury, while Murphy could barely get through the last half year, spending some ten millions more while depriving the school fund and other funds of necessary money. Only recently he demanded and received $10,000,000 of the special session of the state legislature, adding that much more to the red figures in the state's balances.

We believe that the nomination of Frank D. Fitzgerald for governor was the smartest act the Republicans could have done, and the Democrats humored themselves into believing it was a smart thing for them to do. Fitzgerald will be elected, not only because of his better qualifications—and the voters know it; but because Murphy has added materially to his own defeat.

People don't listen greatly any more to discrediting charges upon which the Democrats are banking, but they take both candidates at the value of their qualifications, which they know them to be.—Editor A. Van Koevering in The Zeeland Record.

Through the tuberculosis Christmas seal health education campaign of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association people of Michigan learn that early tuberculosis is easy to cure, that advanced tuberculosis is difficult to cure.

The Democrats may have their Fry, but the Republicans have their Dickinson. Neither one so bad when it comes to snaring the votes.

A GOOD JOB

The president's message to Adolf Hitler was one of the finest worded pieces he has turned out since he has been in the White House. It did everything it should do, left nothing undone it should have left undone, and was timed right to the minute to get every bit of power it would muster in his manner behind it in order to make Germany's dictator pay heed to it right then.

That message, after I read it, took me back a couple years to an argument I had during the 1936 election. The person to whom I was talking asked me how Alf Landon could represent us in just such a crisis. I answered, that his experiences and ability as a diplomat had not been tried as yet, but neither had Lincoln before he was elected president. Men rise to occasion, and it seemed we had always been fortunate here in America in such matters. We will never know what Alf would have done, undoubtedly something similar. But to us it is a sad commentary that our system of government isn't the kind where we could use the president for the purpose he just fulfilled and at the same time have had Alf at the head of things from a business and economic standpoint during the last few years.

For once the president created a masterpiece. It shows he can do it. And he told the truth. No political reasons made him emphasize one part while he talked down another. No quibblings to cover this or that. No understatements or overstatements. Straight hard facts direct from the shoulder, and just the slightest bit of veiled threat throughout which could not be pointed out but, nevertheless, was there between the lines. A good job, Mr. President. We congratulate you.

DISPUTING FACTS

There is a modern-day prophet who believes the world is flat. He proves his contention by remaining on the ground, where he can't see that the earth is round.

This prophet is ridiculed and derided by millions of people who, ironically, believe other things equally erroneous.

There is hardly anybody living who does not believe something that isn't so. And, more to the point, who can't understand why it isn't so. They stick to earth.

What is needed by such people is mental and intellectual elevation so they can see things as they really are — enlightenment, if you please, enabling them to accept the demonstrations of science as more dependable than legend, folk lore, and personal belief.

Disputing facts gets nobody anywhere and may set one back.—By Frank B. Craig.

Using new methods, more than twice the quantity of gasoline now is produced from a barrel of crude oil as was obtained prior to the World War.

REFORMS

Mark Sullivan, columnist, says Americans have been overfed on reform — much of it impractical and therefore injurious. He points out the popular habit of grabbing reforms and then soon getting too much of them to stand. Some new deal reforms are considered desirable, but need boiling into shape for helpful service. Other new deal reforms need to be junked. The new deal is strong on reform but weak on the side of management and administration, and while Sullivan thinks some of its policies must be worked over and retained, others must be cast aside. The old populist party suggested reforms that were later put into usable shape. The Rooseveits, Wallaces, Hopkinses and Ickeses have gone beyond reason or safety in the reform business, putting dreams of Utopia above recovery, and thus the latter has been obstructed. Whether Republicans or conservative Democrats are to control in the future, Sullivan says they will have to harmonize with an increasing demand for more stability and less theory. People have become fearful of the new deal's rash and wholesale reform plunges, and will vote for a change back to the middle ground of sense and security. —Wayne (Neb.) Herald.

BLUE CHIPS

That Broadway Commentator Walter Winchell on war:

"Bugs Baer once wrote and Will Rogers once said: We never lost a war and never won a conference . . . And so let's stay out of the brawl across the sea . . . Shocking news to the world, but old, old news in morally bankrupt Europe . . . The so-called Peace Conferences of Europe have done nothing but emphasize the differences and blood-feuds between all European nations . . . In fact, the only thing they have in common is the overwhelming desire to use American money and American soldiers—for their own selfish and dishonest purposes . . .Twenty-one years ago the United States underwrote their intrigues and treacheries with the wealth of our nation and the lives of our men . . . We received in return their sacred word and their acknowledgement of debt . . . Their sacred word turned out to be no better than their defaulted bonds . . . As the Chinese said long ago: When a man fools you once—shame on HIM! When he fools you twice—shame on YOU! . . . So let's stay out of it . . .When Europe plays the game their stakes are too high, anyway . . . The blue chips are your sons and mine."

THE JOHNSON ACT

One of the well-known columnists says that "strong interests" will bring pressure upon the next Congress to repeal the Johnson Act.

Apparently there are "interests" which might find it profitable to sell goods to nations already heavily in our debt! Inasmuch as there is a bottom to Uncle Sam's money bag, no sentiment or personal interests should enter into this question.

The loan of American funds in the last war is one of the causes of this nation going to war. It became necessary to go to war to protect our loans and investments to the allies. And what happened? We made a far greater investment in sacrificing and maiming human lives; and in incurring mountainous debts and unreturnable loans.

We could not, if we would, finance another world war. The indebtedness of our government is already dangerously heavy.

The Johnson Act must not be repealed. At least it will help Uncle Sam keep his hat and shoes.

A Type of Switchboard Used in 1878

Once upon a time the telephone switchboards of Michigan were like sleepy country crossroads. . . . Today's switchboards are like the busy, well-regulated intersections of the most crowded motor highways, thronged with hurrying traffic day and night.

This traffic of speech has grown until now an average of 3,200,000 calls a day . . . about 2250 every minute . . . travel over Michigan Bell lines. It is the efficiency of the modern equipment developed by Bell System research and manufacturing skill . . . together with the work of highly trained telephone employees . . . that enables us to direct each message along the right road to its destination . . . without confusion and without delay — at reasonable cost.

YOUR MILEAGE MERCHANT backs up his personal assurance of easy winter starting and oil economy by OIL-PLATING your engine...more than an oil change!

Just because this is in print instead of coming direct from Your Mileage Merchant's lips doesn't change the fact that he backs every word personally. How does he go through with that? By giving your engine the only OIL-PLATING. That's not mere words; it's what patented Conoco Germ Processed oil does.

Activated by an added man-made compound—added to oil's best natural qualities—added to the best refining—exclusive Germ Processed oil adds itself direct to the inner engine surfaces... unites so thoroughly that working parts stay constantly OIL-PLATED.

Does the chrome plating on the bumpers drain down every time your car stops? Neither does OIL-PLATING in your engine. When you want to start up again, after hours of wintry parking—after nights or even weeks in the coldest garage—you'll have ready lubrication faster than instantly! —in advance of the fastest oil-circulation. For drain-proof OIL-PLATING has stayed lastingly plated all the way up, to make things slide lightly and swiftly for your starter and battery. That also tells you why you're rid of costly starting wear. And OIL-PLATING stays in as long as you use Germ Processed oil. The gauge-stick gives your Mileage Merchant his strongest backing.

NEW LOW FOREST FIRE RECORD IN PROSPECT

Only Month of Danger Season Remains With Fire Loss at Lowest

Scarcely one month stands between the state and a new record low forest fire loss for the second successive year.

Last year's loss of only about 15,000 acres was the lowest on record. This year's loss may even be smaller, since the number of acres burned over thus far is still under 8,000.

Frequently, however, late September and October bring dry weather and winds, a combination which can quickly set the stage for a succession of forest fires. The state's fire fighters are hoping that the wet cycle which has prevailed largely since spring will continue through in sufficient degree to keep the woods fairly safe until the snow flies.

ASK CITIZENS REPORT BOTHERSOME PEDDLERS

Board of Commerce, Police Department, Ready to Stop Them

(By Gordon B. Todd)

The Board of Commerce and the police department would like to warn all citizens of Charlevoix that many peddlers, solicitors, etc., are now coming into town.

Over 300 persons who are engaged in this kind of business have been stopped this past summer. One of the many rackets now being worked is salesmen trying to induce post graduates to buy books so that they may receive n college education at home. Their methods are to get the person to make a down payment and then maybe you get the books and maybe you don't, as has been proved by a few cases. The story put up is that they are helpful to a community. They claim to buy gasoline, meals and lodging here in Charlevoix. We find that about one per cent do. The other ninety-nine per cent have bled the town, then gone some other place. The peddlers claim that they help support a town as much as the local merchant. The local merchant has to stay here the year around, paying taxes on his property and stock. If business is good he profits, if bad he has to take the blunt of that. While the peddler, or in other words the "public nuisance", comes in during the busy season, has no responsibility to the town whatsoever, takes money and goes, and in more cases than one we have found that people who have made down payments have not received the goods.

So the Board of Commerce and the police department will appreciate it if you will notify us when any "public nuisance" comes to your door.

CONSERVATION OFFICERS ARE NOW ARMED

Equipped with Revolvers in Conformance with Earlier Policy

All Michigan conservation officers are now equipped with sidearms, in accordance with an order approved by the state conservation commission several weeks ago.

Distribution of revolvers and holsters to the officers as standard equipment was completed just ahead of the opening of the duck and upland bird hunting seasons.

Special instruction was given the officers at meetings held throughout the various conservation districts, with emphasis laid on the fact that the arms are intended for use only in self defense.

The commission decided on the arming order as a measure of self protection against such attacks as have been made on unarmed officers in the past.

MICHIGAN TUBER CROP TO BE HIGH QUALITY

Federal-State Inspection Service Reports on Crop Prospect

Michigan's 1938 potato crop will be far above average in quality, according to federal-state inspection service officials.

According to the first annual report of the service for year ending July 1st, from its inception in October 1937, this prediction will be welcomed in 79 of the 83 counties of the state which during the past season furnished a total of 24,079 cars of inspected farm produce, of which 20,243 cars were potatoes.

Federal-state inspection officials point out that the early potatoes already moved this season in Michigan are of high quality, that the same excellent growing weather that made possible this high quality will serve late potatoes equally well, and with frost damage practically nil, the 1938 crop will be of highest quality, with a far larger percentage meeting the requirements of No. 1 potatoes.

Charlevoix participated in the program with total inspection of 117 cars of farm produce.

NO CHANGE IN POTATO GRADING REGULATIONS

State Law Provides All Must Conform With Federal Grades

It just does not exsist, at least, not according to Michigan to Michigan laws. This is the response given to hundreds of inquires received by the Michigan Department of Agriculture regarding the sale of No. 3 potatoes in this state. The lifting of federal regulations and resulting confusion has caused a flood of letters to the state department and the most common question asked is that pertaining to the so-called No. 3 potato.

State laws provide that all potatoes must be graded to meet grades of U. S. Fancy, U. S. No. 1, A or B grades, U. S. Commercial or U. S. No. 2, A or B grades. The actual grower alone may transport other than these potatoes. The department has prepared folder of 26 questions and answers pertaining to potato laws, which may be obtained by writing Department of Agriculture, Lansing, Michigan.

According to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association the groups hardest hit by tuberculosis are (1) young women between the ages of 15 and 30, (2) men in industry, and (3) negroes. It kills more people between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other disease.

LEADERSHIP TRAINING SCHOOL OPENED

Fifty Were Enrolled for Initial Meeting Monday Evening

Monday night the Leadership Training School opened at the Congregational church for enrollments. About 50 enrolled in the different classes.

Three classes for primary and junior leaders under the direction of Mrs. J. Alexander, will deal with the practical side of teaching the primary grades. Her helpers will be Miss Bush and Mrs. Rauch.

Three classes for adult teachers were also enrolled. The teachers are Rev. Parker, who directs those interested in the teaching of young people. Rev. Ringenoldus teaches a class in "Religious Living" and Mr. Palmer teaches a group in "The Message of Jesus".

The three adult classes are of special interest to all classes and an invitation is given to all interested parties to join one of these classes regardless of the fact that they are not Sunday school teachers. The class on Psychology of Adolescence is of special interest to parents with young people in the home. If any parent is perplexed here is the opportunity of learning about the ways of young people. This class will deal with the most intimate questions, questions that should be solved and understood by older young people, parents, teachers and those looking forward to marriage.

This school offers Charlevoix one of the most practical opportunities in religious and practical teachings for some time. All are welcome to join. A fee of 25c to cover expense is the only charge. Books can be secured from the teachers at a small expense. Next meeting is Monday, October 10th at 7:30 p. m.

NATIONAL LETTER WEEK OCTOBER 2-8

Post Office Department Urges Writing That Forgotten Letter

National Letter Writing Week, October 2 to 8, being boosted by the U. S. post office department, is expected to do more than merely increase the use of first - class mail, J. M. Foster, Charlevoix postmaster, told the Courier yesterday. The well-known habit of most of us to "put off" writing letters we owe or feel we should write, is expected to receive a hard blow in the solar plexus, and many friends, relatives, customers and prospects are expected to receive pleasant surprises during that week.

The post office department has engaged in a vigorous campaign thruout the month of September to provide the urge to catch up on correspondence, and the general public is fairly well acquainted with the coming National Letter Writing Week through the posters, advertisements, articles and radio talks boosting it.

REPUBLICANS MAP CAMPAIGN PLANS

"We intend to give the voters of the Eleventh District a first-hand picture of actual conditions in our state and national government. I have found that the citizens of our district are sick and tired of the way things are being handled in Washington and Lansing, particularly the problems dealing with unemployment, relief, government expenditures and labor. I have also found that a large majority has definitely decided that the only answer to these problems is a change in leadership and a return to honest, common-sense government.

Bradley himself plans to visit every county in his district at least once in the course of the campaign. In addition, at the Republican state convention in Grand Rapids, this week, which he attended as chairman of the Presque Isle county delegation, he was invited to make two speeches in other congressional districts.

REQUEST GREATER CAUTION REGARDING FIRES

Fall Furnace Use Means Added Hazards Warns Chief Chas. Marshall

In preparation for the annual observance of Fire Prevention Week, from October 9 to 15, Chief Charles Marshall of the Charlevoix fire department, issues a warning to householders. Each year with the rising winds of autumn, and the starting of furnaces, the fire hazard increases, and great caution is urged by Chief Marshall.

During the cold snaps fires are being started in furnaces to take the chill from the house," Chief Marshall points out in his warning.

"Before beginning fires in furnaces, smoke pipes should be replaced if they appear rusty or weak. Combustibles in the basement should be kept at a safe distance from smoke pipes and furnaces. Automatic furnaces should be checked by a competent furnace man."

The date chosen for Fire Prevention Week marks the anniversary of the disastrous Chicago fire that swept through the city in 1871. The fire department is working in conjunction with O. P. North, superintendent of schools in bringing about a closer understanding between the pupils of local schools and the fire department.

How to Estimate Your Driving Costs

Computed by Standard Oil Company (Ind.)

First cut out the scale along the dotted line and place it on the map with the "starting point" on the town nearest your home. Then swing the scale around until its edge touches the place you wish to visit.

From the figures on the scale you can determine within about 10% what the drive will cost you. To get the cost of a round trip simply double the figure. The amounts shown will be correct for the great majority of cars, although naturally the cost will be slightly more for the largest cars.

RELIGIOUS LEADERSHIP TRAINING SCHOOL

Are The Children Considered?

Are the churches of Charlevoix giving enough thought to their children is a question which raises considerable thought and debate.

Church school teachers, parents, prospective teachers, church official board members are urged to consider this question together in the Leadership Training classes conducted at the Congregational church each Monday evening, October 3rd to December 12th. Ways in which children may have a part in the life and work of the church; best ways of grouping or grading the children; the best use of the buildings and equipment available for each group; suitable equipment and proper heating, ventilation and lighting; courses of study and worship services as well as observance of special days; these are part of the questions we hope to consider in the Junior class, and other classes will consider problems of their departments.

It is important that teachers, parents and officials should consider together the needs of the children of the church. If you did not enroll Monday, October 3rd, plan to do so next Monday and attend all sessions.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

The Sister Evil

Highly gratifying to the medical profession has been the recent lifting of the taboo on the public discussion of the syphilis problem. The first step has been taken toward enlisting the cooperation of all health agencies and the public in a campaign to check the spread of the disease. Less satisfactory, however, is the status of the sister evil, gonorrhea.

The two diseases are closely related from the standpoint of the source of infection and a single control program could serve for both. Perhaps the serious nature of gonorrhea has not been impressed on the public mind since, unlike syphilis, it rarely kills. But, as an advisory committee reporting to the United States Public Health Service points out, it causes far more disability and sterility than does syphilis. Since it may be acquired repeatedly, it is often a cause for poor health and economic loss. The complications resulting from the disease are extremely common and not a few of those affected are innocently infected. Girl babies and married women are frequently the victims. It should be remembered, too, that the sterility caused by the disease is permanent while it is possible for men and women with syphilis to have healthy children.

According to the committee's report, the incidence to gonorrhea is at least twice and probably three or four times greater than that of syphilis. Yet an excellent method of treatment recently has been perfected and is now generally available.

It is recommended that every person suspecting he has acquired the disease submit to early diagnosis and treatment. The committee believes it the duty of the physician to instruct his patient as to the nature of gonorrhea, the extent of the infection, the type of treatment he intends to administer, the results which this will accomplish and the reasons for abstaining from alcohol as well as following a nourishing diet. The importance of continuing treatment until a cure has been achieved is also to be stressed.

It is believed that much could be done to check the disease, were governmental authorities empowered to deal with un-cooperative persons in the same manner that they may control those suffering from tuberculosis.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.
Sunday school, 12 o'clock.
Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 9.

The Golden text (Jeremiah 30:17) is: "I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds saith the Lord."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Isaiah 33:22,24): "For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us."

TEASE APPETITES BY USING PICKLES

It's easy to tease appetites with tasty pickles but the right combination often is the secret.

That is the deduction of a foods specialist at Michigan State College, Miss Roberta Hershey.

She recommends apple chutney for a combination with chicken, servings of beet relish when lamb appears on the table, horseradish with beef, and cucumber or tomato to serve with fish.

For those who still are in the pickle making stake in kitchens of Michigan homes, some of Miss Hershey's suggestions will help make better preserves and pickles for winter use.

Best tasting pickles are made from fresh products that have been sorted for size and stage of ripeness. Cider vinegar is preferred for most pickling but colorless distilled is used for pickling onions.

Spices used for pickles and relishes are as varied as the countries from which they originate. Cloves, cinnamon, celery seed, pepper, caraway, mustard, allspice, bay leaves, mace, tumeric, and dill are well known.

Mixed whole spices are satisfactory for many different flavors. Put the spices in a cheese cloth bag, then they may be removed from the vinegar after a half hour of simmering.

Soft water is best to use for the brine as the minerals in hard water may interfere with the forming of acid, which is necessary for the curing process.

The Republican and Democratic state conventions have been held and the fireworks are over. And as was suspected, the Democrats did not have much trouble forming their slate for the November ballot. They were all picked beforehand. Not so with the Republicans. They had to do some shooting around and now have one of the strongest line-ups they have presented to the voters in a good many years. The people of the state should not now have much trouble picking the type of government they want in Michigan for the next two years beginning in January. All they need do is check the record and look at the nominees and the picture should form readily in their minds as to what they can expect which ever slate they choose.

AT THE MOVIES

Thrill Follows on Thrill In "Too Hot to Handle"

Five major thrills, reminiscent of five great news events, provide a background for the new Clark Gable-Myrna Loy picture, "Too Hot to Handle", coming to the Paluce Theatre October 9 for three days.

They include the aerinl bombing of Shanghai, the crash of a famed aviatrix's plane on a round-the-world flight, the explosion of a mystery munitions ship, the disappearance and rescue of an American flier held as a white god by natives in the South American jungles, and a pitched battle between the New York police and a notorious two-gun gangster barricaded in a tenement flat with n "tommy-gun".

Cecil B. DeMille, the dean of motion picture produeers, recently referred to William Boyd as "the best outdoor action mnn in the business", and DeMille, who gave Boyd his first Hollywood part and later his first starring role in "The Volga Boatman", knows his screen stars. "Bar 20 Justice", which opens October 11 at the Pnlace Theatre, marks Boyd's nineteenth appearance as Clarence E. Mulford's rnncher.

"Bulldog Drummond", the character created by H. C. "Sapper" McNeile, the popular mystery writer, is portrayed by John Howard for the fourth time in "Bdlldog Drummond in Africa", a story of a one-man roundup of n gang of international spies, which will have its first local showing October 13 at the Palace Theatre. Originally "Drummond" was given life by Ronald Colman, who played him in two films. Later he was portrayed by Ray Milland, and, finally, hy Howard, who acted "Drummond" before in "Bulldog Drummond Comes Back", "Bulldog Drummond's Revenge" and "Bulldog Drummond's Peril".

USE, DON'T SPEND MONEY

By Hester Renwick Fraser
Consumers' Counsel

Consumers' Bureau, Michigan State Department of Agriculture,

Using money, instead of "spending it," will make your dollar go farther.

The secret of using money, as compared to spending it, lies in the confidence in the article at the time it is purchased.

"Will the article serve its purpose at a price you can afford to pay?"

It is simple, perhaps, to understand why advertising, quality grades and trade prnctices affect the retail price.

How can legislation help develop the consumers' confidence at the time of purchase?

You, the consumer, can well afford to know what you are entitled to in the protection of luw. In knowing, you can be more confident you are getting that protection in using your money. Included in consumer legislation there are laws demanding that:

Advertising must be honest.

All fabrics contnining rayon must specify rayon.

Packaged food products, such as crackers, sugar soap flakes, canned goods, etc., must specify the weight on the package.

The surface of open containers of food products must be representative of 80% of the content of the container. It is against the law to put good berries on the top of a basket with mostly bud ones underneath when selling berries.

Food and drugs for sale must be unadulterated.

Scales must conform to federal standards in accurate weight, and are inspected by the state. Look for the state seal on scales, and assure yourself of accurate weight.

Laws to assure cleanliness in all shops and markets are enacted. Do not shop in an unclean market.

Meat must have heulth inspection.

All seeds for sale must be tested for purity and germination, and tagged.

Products must be canned according to federal or state standards.

Legislation must be followed to assure consumers protection. You can well afford to become interested in the laws needed for your benefit.

Among other efforts, legislation is sometimes attempted to eliminate healthy competition.

You, the consumer, should, ut all times, eliminate any douht you may have at the time of purchase, hy seeking the facts you want to know. The very things that seem wrong, when considering a purchase, may be an infraction of the law passed to give the consumer proper protection.

Have confidence in your purchase at the time of purchase, and make your dollar go farther.

Duck Hunters, Attention!

Did you know that the last world war cost the lives of millions of ducks? Do you know how? In either case, you'll enjoy Carl Kuhlberg's article "The Duck Comes Baek". Watch for this beautifully illustrated two-page article in full colors in This Week, the magazine with next Sunday's Detroit News.

Deer have no lower teeth; nor gall bladders.

nor", Frank Murphy reiterated such phrases as "good government", "social justice" nnd "economic progress". Thesc are symbols from the New Deal testament.

As contrast to this, there is every sign that the administration will try to smear Frank McKay, the Grand Rapids republican leader.

Efforts will be mnde to picture McKay as a vicious Tammany Hall, a greedy tiger at the public tax trough, and so on.

The smenr-McKay move, however, has interesting possibilities, some of which might be at the expense of Murphy's own party. If Lansing rumors are to be believed, McKay and State Treasurer Theodore Fry have been close friends for many years. It is no secret that the Fry brothers and the governor have been on "outs" for many months and that Theodore, state treasurer, was on the verge of not running again hecause of these personal differences.

Proof is Needed

Capitol observers doubt that McKay can be turned into a political bogeyman hy mere talk.

In other words, the administration will have to deliver the goods in the form of grand jury evidence before the average voter will get excited.

It is known that a group of influential men confronted Frank Fitzgerald, prior to the primary, with an ultimatum somewhat as follows: We will support you if, according to your knowledge and testimonial, the McKay slate is clean.

Fitzgerald impressed them with his sincerity, so the story goes. This event was one of the turning points in the Toy-Fitzgernld primnry feud.

Outlook Bright

Despite the European war storm, the outlook for business continues to look bright in the judgment of Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chnirman of General Motors Corp.

Resumption of the assembly line in automobile factories has injected new optimism throughout the state.

From the Socinl Security board office in Washington comes heartening news that Michigun leads all other industrial states in the decline of the number of persons receiving general relief. Flint led all industrial cities with n decline of 32 per cent.

Flaming Forests

Our grandfathers never heard of such things ns "color tours", and yet this wrinkle in the Michigan tonrist business is beginning to take on promising proportions.

It was 12 years ago that Fred Rogers, then state highway commissioner, conceived the idea while on a trip through Newaygo county.

This Saturday, October 8, the 1938 tours through the "flaming forests" will begin in nearly a score of West Michigan counties.

Municipal Problem

Exponents of home rule are praising the state welfare reorganization act on which Michigan voters will make n decision November 8.

Kenneth J. McCarren, Detroit city assessor and president of the Michigan Municipal league, declares that public aid is largely a municipal problem and for that reason "municipalities endorse the economies the new program will provide".

In McCarren's judgment the choice is local control or state control. So far, the welfare act has not become a cnmpaign issue. Because of its non-partisan history, chances are slight that it will be involved in the gnbernatorial race.

Brownrigg Secure

At Lansing amid the civil service controversy there is one man whose job is apparently secure, regardless of the outcome of qualifying examinntions, commission decisions and so forth.

William Brownrigg, state personnel director, has managed to steer a careful path. Recently he received the blessing of Republican Nominee Fitzgerald under whose auspices the civil service study commission was created. Brownrigg has been staunchly defended by Governor Murphy, even in the face of reversed decisions.

Action of the legislature to create a state pension system for superannuated employes is recommended by Brownrigg who would make it retroactive to cover workers who failed to pass qualifying examinations. It is estimated that 100 or 200 of such cases exist among the 16,000 employes who have taken the tests.

Thus the civil service plan, newly born at Lansing, is having expected "growing pains". Despite all the talk and fuss, Michigan is sure to retain civil service for state employes.

SMALL GAME SEASON IS ON ABOVE STRAITS

Sportsmen In Lower Peninsula Must Wait Until October 15th

Upper peninsula hunters have taken to the woos and fields with prospects of the best grouse season in several years.

The upper peninsula season opened Oct. 1 to continue through Oct. 12, while in the lower peninsula the seuson opens Oct. 15 to extend thru Oct. 31. Prospects also are cheering for the lower peninsula, according to game investigators, conservation officers and sportsmen.

In the west end of the upper peninsulu partridge and sharp-tailed grouse broods showed up well during the summer and reports in September indicuted that the birds were widely distributed and plentiful.

A small flock of sharp-tailed grouse was seen recently by F. M. Baumgartner of the game division uf the department of conservation, near Doe lake south of Munising in Alger county. This plus confirmution of reports from the Seney nursh in Schoolcraft county suggests thut the sharp-tails are spreading eastward in the upper peninsula. The wild-trapped birds which were released near Trout lake in Chippewa county and in the Pigeon river state forest below the Straits last winter have not been reported since the early part of the summer but game investigators hope that they will show up again this fall and serve as a nucleus for the establishment of this game bird in nll parts of the state where the food and cover are suituble.

In the east end of the upper peninsula the partridge und prairie chickens seem to be on the increase ngain nlthough some districts report few broods and are likely to have spotty shooting.

The daily bug limit for ruffed grouse is five, the possession limit 10 and the season limit 25. For prairie chickens and sharp-tailed grouse the daily limit is tive, the possession limit 10, combined, and the season limit 25.

The rabbit season nlso is now open in the upper peninsula. The lower peninsula season will open Oct. 15.

BOYNE WINNER OF SATURDAY CONTEST

DEFEATED CHARLEVOIX BY 19 TO 0 COUNT AT BOYNE

Red Rayders Completely Out-Classed. First Homo Gamo Saturday Brings Undefeated Rogers City Team

Coach Brotherton's Boyne City gridders, defending champions of the northern Michigan class C conference, trimmed Charlevoix's Red Rayders by a 19 to 0 count ut Boyne last Saturday.

Boyne's hrilliant air attack, for which Charlevoix had little or no defense, accounted for three touchdowns, one in the first and two in the final period. Thut Charlevoix was completely out-classed is shown by the fact that Boyne piled up 15 first downs to four for the Rayders as they excelled in every department. Charlevoix never had the ball deeper into Boyne territory than the 30-yard line, thus never threutened to score.

Boyne scored in the initial period when Bergmann wus thrown on his own 30-yard line uttempting a pass on fourth down. Lockman heuved n pass to Hosegood, who was downed on the 2-yard strip. Harper plunged over for the tully.

Charlevoix's interference with a Boyne pass receiver gave Boyne the ball on the Rayder's 30-yard strip in the fourth quarter. Polrier hit the line for 10 yards and on the next plny Lockman passed to Hurper for the second touchdown. The final score eame just before the final whistle. A pass, Lockman to Schaeffer, accounted for the tally.

Saturday's result gave Boyne an even break with one victory und one defeat. Churlevoix has the same record.

The Rayders will make their first home uppearance Saturday ufternoon and the gume will bring to the local gridiron the championship-bound Rogers City outfit, undefeated so far this senson. A veteran combination, the Presque Isle team has vieIories over Boyne City and Harbor Springs to its credit und is touted as one of the best foothull teams in northern Michigan regardless of class.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

Sunday brought the close of the trolling season for mackinaw trout in Lake Michigan until November 10. It was a glorious closing, too, for under the most perfect weather conditions one could imagine, the mackinaw "hit" as if they knew it was their last chance to please the boys. Vane Smith landed five, one of the Culver & Beaudoin boats brought in five, Fred Bergman and his boys got an equal number, Charlie Heise and "Pete" Withers brought in three, Don Clothier's party landed three, the largest 22½ pounds, and so on down the line. Can't remember all who caught 'em. And perch! Say in all my experience, never saw such perch fishing. Bill Bellinger's crowd which numbered nine persons all took the limit—150 perch in all. Henry Partridge's party of four got the limit and so did I and the two girls. We caught them just off the railroad bridge in Lake Charlevoix. Believe a person could have done the same thing all day long if there wasn't a limit and you had to clean 'em afterwards. Round lake produced some fine catches, also, and there sure was a lot of boats out there with people fishin'. It's just too darn bad we couldn't move some of this fine fishing ahead a month or more so some of our summer folks could enjoy it with us.

Head Amendment "3" Drive

GAR WOOD CHASE S. OSBORN

Amendment No. 3 provides a constitutional guaranty that gasoline and automobile license plate taxes shall be used on highways, roads, and streets.

USE, DON'T SPEND MONEY

By Hester Renwick Fraser
Consumers' Counsel

Consumers' Bureau, Michigan State Department of Agriculture,

Using money, instead of spending it, will make your dollar go farther.

The secret of using money, as compared to spending it, lies in the confidence in the article at the time of purchase. Will the article serve its purpose at a price you can afford to pay?

There are many schemes and practices designed to exploit the consumer for misguided or unfair purposes and will always prove expensive to the consumer.

You, the consumer, have n right to know for what you are using your money, and it behooves you to find out, and not be in doubt.

Some schemes are prompted under the guise of selling something too cheaply. If so, you may learn the purchases were actually worth no more, and is useless, or is goods that has been stolen.

An unknown salesman, coming to the door with no credentials, can be selling almost anything. Know with whom you are doing business before letting him into your home.

Partial payment schemes, selling things one can't possibly afford on the existing budget, are deliberately sold to consumers, knowing the article will be taken away from the consumer after a few payments have been made, because the consumer cannot pay the remaining amount due. These articles for which one customer cannot pay are then sold the same way to another customer, who also will not be able to meet all the payments. Don't buy anything for which you cannot pay.

And then there is the form of consumer exploitation promoted by some individual for self promotion. He publicly, and always in the press, attacks a commodity or situation in the great and unselfish interest of the consumer. He stirs up a lot of commotion and consumer attention. When the crusade subsides, the conaumer pays the losses to that business in the readjusted retail price.

Legitimate consumer selling and buying is based on a mutual confidence between buyer and seller. This confidence is established by mutually exchanging simple facts about the purchase.

No consumer has to buy anything she is in doubt about, or anything she cannot afford. No sales person has to be ignorant about the product he is selling.

There is a wealth of information to help all consumers and sales forces to recognize quality grades and legitimate values.

Be satisfied with the article you are buying at the time of purchase and make your dollar go farther.

OVER-TAXATION

Don't over-tax yourself, warn the physicians. Today, women busy forming National Consumers Tax Commission units are matching this advice with some of their own. They are warning consumers not to let their pocketbooks be over-taxed—by the complicated maze of hidden taxes increasing the cost of living.

Fewer Lost Operators' Licenses Due to Cooperation of Drivers

There are two ways to lose an operator's license in Michigan as there are in every other state having operator's license regulations. One is to have the license revoked or suspended by court order or by other authorized authority; the other, which is the most common method is to lose or misplace it.

With public attention centered on safety on our highways, the revocation and suspension of license is on the increase, but it is worth noting that the percentage of licensed drivers who lose their licenses by absent mindedness or accident, is getting smaller all the time. The ability to possess a drivers license means more to an individual now than at any time heretofore.

A note of caution to drivers of cars bound to and from football games, is sounded by Leon D. Case, secretary of state. A football crowd is a happy one, in a holiday mood. Extra caution on the part of individuals is required when cars move in masses. Sane, sober driving will save lives these fall days.

Statistics, on the movement of a large number of automobiles and their relation to safety on the highways, reveal normal expectations of deaths and injuries from careless driving in heavy traffic.

For every fatal accident, approximately 35 non-fatal accidents occur and from these two causes every fatality is estimated to cause the community affected, losses of some $50,000, traffic and insurance companies have pointed out.

Traffic safety depends on your cooperation with local police departments.

HEAT IN HOMES ENTICES PESTS

Modern homes with their systems of even heating give comfort to household pests as well as to humans. Clothes moths, carpet beetles, cockroaches and silverfish are the favored but unwanted guests.

In the entomology department at Michigan State College, this problem arouses several suggestions which can take some of the joy and energy out of the winter activities of the pests.

The housewife who values her woolen clothes and furs must protect them the year round against insect attack. Frequent brushing, sunning, and airing during the winter, as well as scrupulous cleaning of all cracks and corners of closets and other storage places, will do much to save clothes from damage. Wool sweaters, socks, or other garments that are even slightly soiled need constant attention because they are particularly appetizing to moths.

Clothes that are rarely worn should be cleaned and packed in moth-proof containers. Naphthalene or paradichlorobenzene flakes give added protection to stored clothes.

Cleanliness is not only a cheap and effective protection against clothes moths and carpet beetles, but also against kitchen insects.

The small, active, greyish, scale-covered insects known as silverfish thrive best in damp, warm basements but cause serious injury anywhere in the house. They feed upon paper and wallpaper, bookbindings, starchy or sweet food, and to some extent on fabrics, especially rayon, and on starched clothing or curtains. The cheapest weapon against them is a poison bait made of oatmeal, white arsenic, sugar, salt, and water to moisten. But this bait must be kept away from children and pets. Powdered borax dusted or blown into silverfish haunts also is helpful.

OCTOBER IS PROVIDING SUMMER TEMPERATURES

Thermometer Registered 82 Tuesday —6-Day Low 52

October has outdone itself in making up for September's disagreeable weather.

Since the night of October 6th, when the thermometer reached 30 degrees for the first major frost of the fall in this region, temperatures have been far above the average, providing the most delightful Indian summer in recent years.

As this article is written the thermometer stands at 80. Tuesday's high was 82 degrees and the lowest recorded since October 6th, was 52 degrees.

DRIVER IS HELD IN FATAL AUTO MISHAP

Edwin Tietig, Local Summer Resident, Jailed at Petoskey

Edwin Tietig, 28, of Cincinnati, Ohio, a Charlevoix summer resident the past two years, is held in jail at Petoskey on a charge of negligent homicide following an automobile accident Tuesday which took the life of 2-year-old Jack Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Price, Bay Shore, and put Mrs. Price in a Petoskey hospital with severe back and shoulder injuries.

The accident, it is claimed, occurred on US-31 between Bay Shore and Petoskey when Tietig lost control of the car which left the road and overturned after striking the shoulder of the highway. Tietig said he had picked up Mrs. Price while she was hitchhiking her way from Shintangle, a night club at Bay Shore, to Petoskey.

The child's death was attributed to a broken neck. Mrs. Price's condition remained unchanged Wednesday.

DEDICATION RURAL ELECTRIC OCT. 18TH

Adequate sound equipment will be provided, and an official invitation is extended to the people of five counties to spend the afternoon and evening in Boyne City. Local business men are cooperating to arrange for an interesting, educational and entertaining celebration, with all the festivities common to such events.

The affair will mark the opening of the cooperative REA project in this territory, which still has an extensive program of construction and farm electrification to carry out. Farmers, particularly, who are interested in light and power in the rural areas, are urged to attend. An information booth will probably be provided for the service of those who desire more knowledge of the REA cooperative plan.

Raymond Starr, attorney general, and George T. Gundry, auditor general, are expected to accompany the governor's party, to participate in the speaking program. Arrangements are being made for amplifiers on the grounds to make it possible for people to hear the speakers from their parked cars as well as from other points of vantage. All in all, it promises to be a large day in Boyne City, for those who are interested in progress and better living conditions in the unelectrified sections of Michigan.

SIX POTATO INSPECTION STATIONS ESTABLISHED

The establishment of six out-state offices, to provide 24-hour service, and 30 inspection stations and the assignment of federal-state inspectors to check the 1938 potato crop was announced today by John B. Strange, commissioner of the department of agriculture. Inspection districts, according to the department head, have been changed from that of 1937 season, the first for statewide inspection, in such manner as to provide stations nearer to centers of potato production areas.

Offices are to be established at Grand Rapids, Lapeer, Traverse City, Edmore, Greenville and Escanaba. This district according to the announcement, will be served by Petoskey station in charge of Ed. Christensen. District offices may be reached by telephoning department of agriculture, while other inspectors may be contacted at official stations.

"We feel," said Commissioner Strange, "that offices and stations have been so arranged to provide maximum service in the potato growing areas. The experience gained in 1937, showing the movement of potatoes in the state, has been of much aid in establishing territories this season. The department has aimed at the elimination of delays in obtaining prompt inspection."

LOCAL DEALERS SEE CHEVROLET PRE-VIEW

The entire sales organization of the Charlevoix Oil Company attended a pre-showing of the new 1939 Chevrolet at the I. M. A. auditorium in Flint, Friday, October 7th.

A short business session was held in the morning covering the introduction of the new line of accessories for the 1939 Chevrolet.

The entire group of 750 persons, consisting of dealers, sales managers and salesmen, saw L. F. Vollmer, zone manager, unveil the new 1939 Chevrolet, and it was greeted by a tremendous ovation from the entire group.

After all of the new features of the 1939 cars and trucks were explained in detail from individual presentations by zone and regional personnel, the group was admitted to a special display of the complete line of all models.

Angus L. Fochtman states that the 1939 Chevrolet has many new fine features and he considers it the most beautiful car ever offered by Chevrolet. The Charlevoix Oil Company announced they will officially show the new line of Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks tto the public in their showroom on Saturday, October 22.

RETAILERS WARNED ABOUT POTATO LAWS

Misbranding of Packages Sold Customers is Not Allowed

Commissioner John B. Strange of the department of agriculture today instructed departmental inspectors to arrest retailers found violating potato law by misbranding packages being sold to customers. Check made in cities disclosed that a number of retailers were selling as U. S. No. 1 stock potatoes that would not meet the requirements of U. S. Commercial grade and it is this practice that the department head is determined to check through arrests, if necessary.

"Such practices," declared Strange, "are not only fraudulent but serve to tear down the reputation of Michigan potatoes, which producers and handlers are fighting to establish ahead of Maine and Idaho, the rightful place for the potatoes produced in this state. Retailers must mark every package of potatoes and must mark properly as to grade if they desire to avoid prosecution for violations."

Common Sense

in Borrowing

Occasionally everyone needs to borrow money. What's a good rule to follow?

First of all figure out carefully where the money is coming from to repay the loan. Then borrow only what you can repay without undue inconvenience to yourself and family.

A little foresight will help you build up and maintain a high credit rating. It will insure the continuance of a happy and profitable relationship with any bank you might choose.

Scenic Week-end Trips at Low Cost—No. 12

The highways of your state are truly "roads to romance." Each leads to so many interesting areas that it is difficult to choose which route to take on your week-end vacation. Here, however, are three places which offer a wide variety of scenery and many opportunities for recreation. At least one is near enough to your home to be readily reached by car at comparatively luw cost.

Lake Manitou—No. 1

Just south of the hospitable town of Rochester lies this large lake, which is famous for its fish.

On its shores are modern hotels, as well as two dance pavilions, both of which feature well known bands during the summer months. A golf course and excellent bathing beaches are open to the public. Take U.S. 31, or Ind. 14 or 25.

Berne and Limberlost Swamp—No. 2

Berne, populated principally by Swiss-speaking people, is noted as an Amish and Mennonite community and for its beautiful homes and gardens and the huge Mennonite church which seats 2,000. Five miles to the south is Limberlost Swamp and at Geneva the home of Gene Stratton Porter, which is visited by thousands of tourists. Take U.S. 27, or Ind. 118.

Bloomington and the University of Indiana—No. 3

No Hoosier can say that he really knows his state until he visits this beautiful city and sees the landscaped campus of Indiana University and the fine homes, gardens, and parks which surround this famous institution. Certainly no other city in the state offers better tourist accommodations than does this hospitable community. Take Ind. 45, 46, or 37.

How to Estimate Your Driving Costs

Computed by Standard Oil Company (Ind.)

First cut out the scale along the dotted lines and place it on the map with the "starting point" on the town nearest your home. Then swing the scale around until its edge touches the place you wish to visit.

From the figures on the scale you can determine within about 10% what the drive will cost you. To get the cost of a round trip, simply double the figure. The amounts shown will be correct for the great majority of cars, although naturally the cost will be slightly more for the largest cars.

LANSING LETTER

the growers in the form of a bushel or barrel tax. The Idaho Supreme court recently upheld such a statute.

Tax Revision

Revision of Michigan tax structure is likely.

As voters twice rejected a state income tax, it is questionable whether a third attempt would prove any more successful than the previous ones.

The present state tax law on personal property has not been productive, due to difficulty of enforcement. The present state tax commission is known to be receptive to the idea of going after this lucrative field of intangibles.

The state gasoline tax of three cents a gallon may have to withstand legislative assaults. Several neighboring states have hiked this levy to four cents, diverting part of the proceeds for non-highway needs. Outcome of such a move would depend, of course, on what the voters do to amendment No. 3 on the referendum ballot—an amendment to prevent diversion of gas tax funds.

Labor Legislation

Regardless of the outcome of the November 8 balloting, Michigan is likely to get a labor relations law.

The hectic period of collective bargaining controversy has subsided, as employers generally recognize this right of labor. Both the present administration and the Fitzgerald ticket favor some machinery providing mediation for labor and industry. Murphy vetoed a labor relations bill in 1937 because of protests made chiefly by the CIO and after house Democrats proclaimed the measure had been blessed by the A. F. of L.

Detroit is considering adoption of the Toledo plan for mediation whereby a board is created to serve, whenever requested, for settlement of differences between employee and employer.

Gambling Again

Efforts will be renewed to license dog racing and slot machines probably under the excuse of providing needed revenues for welfare relief.

The dog racing bill was passed by the Democratic house in 1937, only to meet defeat in the senate. The slot machine bill proved to be too daring, however, and it went down. A group of legislators, headed by Rep. John Hamilton of Detroit, favor outright licensing by the state of gambling. Hamilton was a member of a special legislative committee that traveled about the state to focus public attention on this issue.

Unemployment Compensation

The present exemption in the state unemployment compensation law, whereby employers with eight or less employees do not have to pay a state tax, was an issue in the 1937 session. Frank Picard, chairman of the unemployment compensation commission, favors extending the benefits to all employees regardless of the present exemption.

Old age pensions are also under pressure for revision, critics maintaining that the present level is inadequate. The $30-every-Thursday plan has blown up, as far as we have been able to determine. The federal government's action through federal reserve board in declaring such state warrants unconstitutional and unacceptible put a wet rag officially on this movement.

But politicians are still mindful of the success here and there of the Townsend crusade. If business conditions improve in 1939, old age pensions may be revised upward.

Civil Service

Although the new civil service law strictly forbids solicitation of political funds from state employees, political figures are doing their best to circumvent it.

While the virtues of civil service are being proclaimed, the hat will be passed politely. A donation will be considered another way to prevent unemployment.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Problems in School Room Ventilation

How can we make our schoolroom a better place for study purposes? The children of one school made a study of the heating and ventilation of their room and decided that an application of the facts obtained could be profitably applied to their own school and home. One child suggested that the problem to be solved should be: How can we help reduce the possibility of catching colds? It was decided that both these problems could be considered together.

Having collected facts regarding their own heating system, and having studied ventilation in reference material which they had gathered, the children carried on discussions as to the application of these facts to their own situation. As a result of these discussions it was shown that:

1. There is a great variation in room temperature from day to day.
2. The temperature of the room is not well regulated: it varies from 74 degrees F. to 68 degrees F. near the doors and windows.
3. The thermometer registers lower at head level when seated than it does higher up where it is usually hung.
4. High temperatures in the room lead to drowsiness and they make it harder to study effectively.
5. The room is more comfortable at lower temperature than i. e., 68 degrees F. when there is moisture in the air than when the air is dry. The water pan should always be kept at least partly full. Incidentally there is a saving in fuel in keeping the air somewhat moist.
6. The floor is partly constructed which serves to make it cooler than it ought to be at floor level.
7. The ventilation with the jacketed stove itself is not sufficient in itself to keep the room warm.
8. The windows do not open from the top.
9. Windows and doors when kept opened make it disagreeably drafty on cold days to those who sit nearest them.
10. It is almost impossible to keep a regular temperature on a cold day with the jacketed stove or floor furnace.
11. This winter there have been quite a number out of school with colds and there have been some in school with colds.

The children decided as a result of this study that they could do certain things directly to improve their own situations and, indirectly, through stimulating interest for improvement on the part of their parents, manage to get other things done. As a result of cooperative effort on their part:

1. The water pan was kept constantly filled.
2. Moved the standard to different parts of the room and recorded the readings on a weekly chart kept posted on the blackboard.
3. A moveable standard was made for the thermometer.
4. Forced the window to open from the top so that occasionally they could get rid of the warm, stuffy air near the top of the window.
5. Made window deflectors so that the bottom windows could more frequently be used in a way that they would not constitute a draft.
6. Broadcast what they were doing as well as other things that needed to be done to their parents at home.
7. Together composed a letter to be sent to the school board recommending: a. Building a tight hardwood floor in the schoolroom; b. constructing a basement to the building; c. providing a basement furnace to replace the jacketed stove.

This school got the improvements they sought. The parents were convinced of the need of these improvements through the enthusiastic salesmanship of their children.

TELEPHONES, OLD AND NEW

Shown here are some of the first telephones used in Michigan, others depicting the gradual development of the telephone, and the modern instruments in use today. At the top, left, is a model of Bell's first telephone and at the top, right, is the first crude box telephone brought to Michigan, in 1877. Between them is one of the first two telephones taken to Grand Rapids, in 1877. Center and right, bottom, are the modern hand and upright or "desk" telephones. The others are types that were used in this state in the early days..

VICTORY FOR HITLER

Millions of people the world over exhaled in sighs of relief last Friday, when word was pnssed that the European war threat had passed safely through the crocial stage. For two solid weeks, the populace of every major nation on the globe followed closely developments which threatened to have a personal effect on each and every one.

Germans celebrated at jnbilant parties; there was street dancing in Italy; England felt relieved and shoved its gas masks bnck into bureau drawers; France and Czechoslovakia were eased, bot disgusted; Americans rolled over and turned their gaze back to election politics and the national debt.

The German and ftalinn hilarity is well-founded. Der Fuehrer's supreme bluff worked exceptionally well and with his chunk of Czechoslovakia assured, part of his Nazi ambitions are realized. Il Duce's part in the affair, extremely small, but very significant, forged another iron link in the Rome-Berlin chain which can be now accepted as a formidable alliance.

However our commendation shonld go to Chamberlain and Daladier, who will return to their homes to find unlimited internal strife as the result of their conciliatory actions. Plunging their nations into war to save a foreign nation's territory no larger than Michigan's Upper Peninsula, wonld have been extremely foolish. What if it does add another brick to the fortress of dictatordom? Ten millions of lives were snuffed to stop the huilding of the fortress two decades ago, and today the same crisis faces us..

Despite any efforts we make today, tomorrow or the next day, to halt the so-called "threat of dictntorship", it will remain. We claim we are a democratic people and thrive best under such a system. Several European nations believe the same. Others, however, are temperamentally fitted to accept the iron fist of a single man and thrive under such jurisdiction.

Italy annexed Ethiopia while the world stood appalled and ached to stop the aggressor. Germany annexed Anstria and Sudeten Czechoslovakia. Both Germany und Italy dropped crimson digits into the Spanish stew, and each and every time we are horrified and want to halt their actions. Why?

Let's become a little more concerned about our own nutional worries (and they are many) and drop this generons big brother attitude for the weak and oppressed. If Hitler and Mussolini's ambitions carry them all over the European continent, and that is quite impossible, we still ought to maintain polite silence.

The net resolt of recent activities is that Germany has won at Czechoslovakia's expense. There may be a few more Hitler victories but they'll have to be numerous before America and the so-called other democratic nations can afford to break into the picture at the cost of ten million lives and an everlasting war debt.

INSULATION WILL SAVE WINTER FUEL

Plan Worthwhile in a Farm or City Residence.

By W. A. Foster, Associate Chief, Rural Architecture, University of Illinois. WNU Service.

Good insulation in a farm or city home will pay for itself in three years in saving fuel. With winter sure to come, homemakers will find insulation wisely chosen and intelligently used to be worthwhile. It should be placed in every new home and in all old homes as soon as convenient.

Insulation is heat-saving by the use of a construction which reduces the leakage of air and retards the passage of heat through the walls. Its valuc as an insulator is measured by the resistance it offers to the heut traveling through the material.

In addition to high resistance to heat travel, a first-class insulating material is one that is fireproof, that contains no food for rodents or insects, that is light in weight and inexpensive and that does not deteriorate with age or moisture.

Insulating material is classed in five groups. They are fills such as sawdust; flaked mineral, or torn fibers; flexible, or blanket; rigid, or board; porous and reflector types.

Of the many kinds of fill insulators, the fibrous, or flake, made from mineral or rock will not burn nor provide food for pests, insects or rodents. This cannot be claimed for sawdust or hair felt.

The better known flexible or blanket type of insulation is made by quilting a grass or fiber between paper sheets. It may be plaeed in walls, between floors and over ceilings where it is protected and out of the way. Board or rigid types of insulation are made from waste products such as cane fiber, straw, cornstalks, stump hearts, roots and other material. Its adaptability makes it one of the leading materials used for insulation.

Porous insulation is a cast material, sponge-like in appearance with the holes or bubbles serving to hold the air and slow the heat movement. The reflector type is new and not so well known. It consists of a thin metal or mineral film or foil with a tough paper backing. The theory is that the heat waves strike the bright surface and rebound.

Insulation is of value throughout the year in keeping a house warm in winter and cool and comfortable in hot weather.

Layers Require Calcium to Keep Up Production

The South Dakota Agricultural Experiment station reports the results of five years' experimental work in comparing several sources of calcium for laying hens. Part of their conclusions from this work are as follows:

Over a five year experimental period, no significant difference was found in favor of any of the supplements used, namely oyster shell, clam shell, chalkstone, Black Hills limestone, dolomitic limestone, when results were judged by egg production, egg weight, and egg breaking strength.

A lack of calcium fed as a supplement to the ordinary complete ration, either all-mash or mash and grain, markedly decreases egg production and causes a loss of egg shell strength. Added calcium is absolutely necessary for maximum egg production. Added calcareous materials can stimulate the calcium secreting part of the oviduct in 24 hours after feeding, when such materials had been previously denied the hens.

Chickens Sent to Japan

One of the most valuable shipments of breeding stock ever exported from the United Statcs was a flock of 65 pedigreed chickens which were sent to Japan the past summer.

Japanese Silky, Old Breed

The Jupanese silky is one of the very old breeds. As the name would indicate, it originated in Japan, but is said to have been raised in China during the very early days of poultry history. The breed is used principally for exhibition purposes though the hens are finding a place on game farms. They are exceedingly good for incubating quail and pheasant eggs and are outstanding in their ability to care for these chicks.

Lamb Travels in Style

Buenos Aires, Argentina, recently greeted the most favorcd animal traveler to reach its shores in many years. He is Foxhill Royal 116, a Southdown shearling ram lamb, which had been bought in England by an Argentine rancher. He cost $150, but the new owner paid more for his passage. A special home was built for him on the top deck of the ship and a groom was in constant attendance. Foxhill Royal 116 was insured for $800.

"Boys Town" Tells the Stranger-Than-Fiction Story of "City of Little Men"

"Boys Town", starring Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney, brings the most colorful, human and exciting of real-life stories to the screen, proof again that "truth is stranger than fiction". The picture opens October 15 for three days engagement at the Palace Theatre.

More than a year ago, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer became interested in Boys Town, the only incorporated village of its kind in the world. This city of little men has a population of 275, of which 200 are boys, and is situated on the main highway west of Omaha, Nebraska. It is twenty-one years old, a dream come true, the dream of one of the grentest and most kindly humanitarians of our time, Father Edward J. Flanagan.

"Campus Confessions" Gay Comedy of Youth

A qaartette of happy-go-lucky yoongsters — luscious Betty Grable, gorgeous Eleanore Whitney, handsome William Henry and famed Hank Luisetti, Stunford University basketball star rated the greatest player the game has ever known, will be seen in action in Paramount's new college romance, "Campus Confessions", which opens October 18, at the Palace Theatre.

Youngster Gains Round-World Fame

'Rounnd-the-world fame came early to pretty Coral Browne, young actress from Melbourne, Anstralia, featored in the cast of 20th Century-Fox's "We're Going to be Rich". Starring Gracie Fields and Victor McLaglen, the film opens October 18 at the Palace Theatre.

"One Wild Night" Rough on Clothes

The 20th Century-Fox mystery, thriller-farce, "One Wild Night", to be shown October 20th at the Palace Theatre, proved a real surprise to the studio's wardrobe department, which thought it could sit back and take it easy between work on the completed epic, "In Old Chicago", and the next on the schedule, Irving Berlin's "Alexander's Ragtime Band".

day last week. She had placed a plant on a grave at the cemetery and someone stole it. It is to be hoped that the guilty party will read this paragraph and that its expression will so prick their conscience that they will be too ashamed to commit another such act.

It is not legal for a hunter, in Michigan, to stand or ride on the running board of a car while carrying a loaded gun. Just a warning!

The small game season opens Saturday and hundreds of hunters will roam the woods. They can prolong the pleasure indefinitely by being a little more careful about discarding cigarettes, pipe embers and cigar butts, which are the chief causes of forest fires. Burned game cover produces no game for years to come. It is easy to be careful!

Could have knocked me down with a feather the other day when I saw Capt. Bonner with a Fitzgerald pin fastened to his coat. Figured someone must have "pulled a fast one" on the congenial and likeable Mr. Bonner, for he has been a staunch Democrat even back in those days when Democrats in this neck of the woods were about as "scarce as hen's teeth". Found out later who the guilty person was, too.

Speaking about fishing—this night smelt business is sure the present rage. You can catch 'em off any dock on Round lake or along lake Charlevoix, and if I could manage to get a corner on the leasing of fishin' space on all those docks I'd soon have enough money to go to Florida for the winter. Understand the city is going to turn on the flood lights down in East Park at night just to make it a little more convenient for the smelt fishermen. Not a bad idea at that.

Everybody should join in expressing thanks to the city administration and street department for building that new driveway into the alley back of the Central Drug Store. It eliminated one of those kind of driveways that nearly broke your neck every time you drove your car over it.

Charlevoix high school's football team plays their first home game at south side athletic field Saturday afternoon. The boys themselves and the coach as well wouldn't mind seeing a nice representation of local citizens out to boost for the team. It would provide something of an innovation.

An advertisement elsewhere in this issue carried a police department warning against the practice of burning leaves on tarvia-surfaced streets. It costs money, the taxpayers own, by the way, to keep the streets in good state of repair and the burning of leaves on tar-topped street surfaces is very harmful.

Mr. Ypma served 18 months in France during the World War with the 15th Cavalry.

MICHIGAN PARK SEASON CLOSES SATURDAY

Few Will Open for Late Fall Season and Winter

The Michigan state park season will close officially Saturday, although several are open throughout the winter.

Those which remain open to the extent that they are available to the public without all of the special accommodations and services maintained during the summer are those at which resident superintendents are located permanently.

The last of the "summer" parks to close are those most popular with hayfever sufferers. Included among the parks which are used considerably during the winter are those in the Pontiac district.

Although total attendence at the parks this summer was not quite as large as during 1937 when nine million persons visited them, a new record was established in the number of camping permits issued. The total was over 50,000 compared to a previous high mark, last year, of 49,743.

BEARDSLEY-SUMMERVILLE WEDDING SOLEMNIZED OCTOBER 6

At a weddin gsolemnized at 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening, October 6, Miss Beatrice Beardsley, daughter of Mrs. Maude Beardsley, was united in marriage to Robert Sommerville, son of Mrs. Alice Sommerville of East Jordan.

The ceremony was performed by Justice H. R. Fowler. The couple were attended by Miss Billie Smith and Harrison Bedford.

Mr. and Mrs. Sommerville will reside in Charlevoix, where Mr. Sommerville is a member of the coast guard unit.

OBSERVING 60TH ANIVERSARY OF TELEPHONE

First Exchange Was Established in Detroit in Fall of 1878

Telephone people here and thraout Michigan are joining in an informal observance of the 60th anniversary of the founding of the state's first telephone exchange and the issuance of its first telephone directory, both of which occurred in Detroit in the early fall of 1878.

Sixty years ago there were less than 100 telephones in the state, all of them in Detroit; there were only a few hundred in the entire world, all of them in this country.

Today, there are over 800 in the Charlevoix exchange, alone. Michigan today is served by three-quarters of a million telephones, of which the Michigan Bell Telephone Company operates 660,000 in 252 towns and cities. The lines of the Michigan Bell and of the Bell System make available to every local telephone, connections with 25,000,000 others in 70 countries.

Here, as at Detroit, the first telephones were thought of, perhaps, much as were the first crude radio sets of 20 years ago—an interesting experiment. Therefore, at first, telephone service was not much in demand and it was some time before many names were added to the lists of the venturesome first few subscribers. Among those, listed in the 1938 telephone directory here possibly are some few of those connected with the local exchange upon its establishment.

The first telephones were brought to Michigan in 1877 by W. A. Jackson, a telegraph operator. He and associates he had interested, secured what is said to have been the first license contract the Bell interests ever made to operate telephone service, and organized the Telephone & Telegraph Construction Company, forebear of the Michigan Bell Company.

Activities of the company were confined, until the summer of 1878, to the construction of private telephone lines rather than exchanges. The two or three telephones on one line could not be connected with those on another. Single iron wires that extended over the roofs, or were attached to trees, were used. Messenger boys were employed as operators, but in 1880 were replaced by girls because of the latters' greater "patience and general adaptubility". And the first telephone directories contained no numbers, calls being placed by the names of the called parties.

Snbscribers on one line began to ask for connections with those on other lines, and the idea of an exchange was born. In the summer of 1878, a canvass was made for customers for exchange service, and a small switchboard was installed in a basement room. There were 73 subscribers, only 53 of whom had their lines connected with the central office.

THREE LOCAL MEN NAMED DIRECTORS

This group met Saturday, October 8th, with officials of the Chicago, Duluth & Georgian Bay Transit Co., the Seaway Lines and the Wisconsin-Michigan Line for discussion of a proposal to provide boat service between Chicago and Mackinac Island with stops at Muskegon, Ludington, Manistee, Portage Lake, Frankfort, Charlevoix and Harbor Springs. Officials of the boat companies present agreed that if a satisfactory boat could be procured, such a schedule would be very satisfactory.

The matter will be taken under further discussion at a meeting of the committee and boat line officials called for 1:30 p. m. on Friday, October 21st, at the Occidental Hotel in Muskegon. Officials of additional boat companies will be invited to this meeting.

Mr. Todd states that providing suitable arrangements can be made, prospects for boat service during 1939 are very promising.

CITY HALL, FIRE STATION SOUGHT

CITY COUNCIL PUTS PROPOSAL UP TO VOTERS

Ask Approval of $36,000 Bond Issue on Special Ballot at November 8th General Election

Continuing a policy of taking fullest advantage of Federal relief agencies to finance needed civic improvements, the city council Monday night voted to place before tax payers on a special ballot at the November 8 general election, a proposal to bond for a city hall and fire station.

The proposition as presented for PWA approval, calls for an estimated expenditure of $64,500. The city's share, to be raised by issuance of general obligation bonds, would be $36,000 and the PWA contribution of 45% would be $27,500.

If the proposal is approved, the building would be erected on the city-owned lot at the corner of State and Mason streets. The plans call for a fire-proof structure of two stories and full basement, built of native lime stone.

The basement plans include public rest rooms for men and women, storage vaults for city records, boiler room and coal storage. Occupying the first floor would be offices of the city clerk, city treasurer, mayor and city superintendent, council chamber and fire station with space for two trucks and other equipment. The second floor would provide a community room, Justice court and living quarters for the fire station attendant. Dimensions of the building are 63x84 ft.

The estimated cost includes not only the building itself, but equipment for all offices and a new fire engine as well to replace present antequated equipment.

Charlevoix's need for a city hall and fire station has been a pressing one for many years. City offices, now tucked into the basement of the library building, are very inadequate and lack needed vault and storage space for valuable records.

HUNTING HOURS SET ON EVE OF OPENING

Conservation Department Outlined Legal Hours During Season

The State Conservation Department last Friday defined "sunrise" and "sunset" for hunters who took to fields Saturday for the first day of small game season.

State law permits bird hunting from sunrise to sunset. From October 15 to October 22 (inc.), hunters may begin at 6:50 a. m. and continue to 6 p. m. From October 23 to October 29, from 7 a. m. to 5:50 p. m. From October 30 to 31, from 7:10 a. m. to 5:40 p. m.

Conservation Director P. J. Hoffmaster warned hunters to be careful of campfires, disposing of cigarets and matches because forests and woods are unusually dry despite a general rain yesterday.

He joined with Police Commissioner Oscar G. Olander in asking hunters always to "look and be sure before you shoot," to prevent fatal accidents.

Sportsmen were asked to report sick or diseased game to the conservation laboratory, Anatomy building, Michigan State College at East Lansing.

STRAITS BRIDGE IS HERE, SAYS LUECKE

SURVEY NOW UNDER WAY IS FIRST STEP OF PROJECT

Present Labor Situation Blamed to Previous Administration by Democratic Congressman

Congressman Luecke, Escanaba, in a campaign speech here Thursday night, said that the Mackinaw Straits bridge is here. He based his statement on the fact that the State Highway Commission and the state was not spending $150,000 for a survey which would not result in the construction of the bridge. The survey will require one year to complete and with the increase in traffic by that time sentiment would be favorable for the bridge. Both political parties have made it a plank in their platforms which is equivalent to state wide support.

Strikes Could Have Been Prevented

Touching on the automobile strike situation in Michigan during the past two years, Cong. Luecke said that previous administrations had been responsible because they did not provide for protection of the workers rights in organizing for collective bargaining.

SUPERVISORS CONCLUDE ACTIVITIES

SIX-DAY SESSION ADJOURNED FOLLOWING COMPLETION OF BUSINESS LATE MONDAY AFTERNOON

County-Wide Efforts to Attract Additional Tourist Business Given Recognition by Increasing Appropriations for Advertising and Fish Propagation

After six days of intensive work, Charlevoix county supervisors adjourned their annual October session late Monday afternoon.

Committee reports were heard and adopted on a large scale the closing day after Saturday's deadlock over officers' salaries and requests for funds by the county road commission resulted in carrying the session over to the sixth day. Even then the session was shorter than customary.

The ways and means committee report carried the following appropriations: soldiers' and sailors' relief $250; Charlevoix Hospital $750; supervisors annual state convention $150; apiary bee inspection $75; District Health Unit, for office maintenance, $425. The sum of $1,000 was voted for the new court house fund. This is the second year such an appropriation has been made.

A resolution presented by the ways and means committee, asking legislation to prevent the marriage of mentally incompetent persons as a remedy for a social problem assuming alarming proportions, was adopted and copies forwarded the legislative representatives of this district.

Salary Increases Denied

All officers' salaries were left the same as last year after lengthy deliberation. One exception was listed, a $100 raise for Mrs. Floyd Ikens, matron of the county jail. Other requests were turned down.

Concluding another controversial issue, $3,500 was appropriated to the county road commission to assist in WPA road projects. The road commission will receive $1000 for each of the months of January, February and March, and $500 in April of next year.

The sinking fund committee reported the county free of bonded indebtedness. Final road bonds were paid off early last year.

The budget for the 1938-39 fiscal year was set at $79,966.31, an increase of $1,573.93 over last year.

Uphold "Free Country" Status

A motion offered by Supervisor Nackerman of Peaine township to prohibit the distribution of political campaign literature in the court house, lost by a vote of 18 to 6. Following the ballot, Chairman Barney Milstein remarked: "Gentlemen, after all we must remember this is still a free country."

Vote Advertising Fund

Recognition of efforts to increase tourist business in Charlevoix county was acknowledged and aided through an appropriation of $1,500 for advertising. $500 of this amount was earmarked for the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association and the remainder is to be used for road signs, folders and other purposes designated by the committee.

The county poor commission was granted $4,000 for the remainder of the year and the ERA $2,000 for dependent children. In case the welfare reorganization referendum is defeated at the November 8 general election, an additional $14,000 was voted for poor relief. Passage of the referendum will nullify the ERA appropriation.

The County Agricultural Society was voted the usual appropriation of $600 to assist the Charlevoix county fair.

Re-Elected Poor Commissioner

N. J. Rovick of Boyne City, was re-elected poor commissioner of the Boyne City district for three years. John M. Harris, Boyne City, was re-named member of the county park commission for a 5-year term.

The dog tax fees were set at 50c for males and $1 for females, penalties to become effective March 1, 1939.

The sum of $250 was appropriated for county airports. The amount will be divided $150 for Charlevoix and $50 each for Boyne City and Beaver Island.

Fish and Game Fund Voted

The board showed its recognition of good fishing as a tourist attraction by increasing its appropriation to the fish and game committee from $800 to $1,000. This fund is to be divided $300 each to the Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan sportsman's organizations and $100 for the Beaver Island Game Protective Association.

Along conservation lines, the board adopted a fish and game committee resolution which provides that the representative and senator of the district seek passage of legislation allowing diversion of the $1.50 deer license money now used for purchase of game refuges for conservation purposes in each county. The move, designed to provide finances to increase fish rearing ponds, would give county boards of supervisors use of such money under supervision of the conservation commission.

DOCK PROJECT AT MACKINAW FINISHED

After completing its contract to enlarge the Mackinaw City state ferry dock and dredge a better channel, the Price Brothers have taken their tug and a dredge to Cheboygan for the winter, reports the Cheboygan Daily Tribune.

The work was completed Sunday, and the tug Lorraine and dredge Three Brothers arrived at Cheboygan Sunday night. They will lay up for the winter back of the Lund shipyard. M. L. McClung, who had charge of the Mackinaw operations, will spend the winter at Cheboygan with his family.

Price Brothers began work on the Mackinaw City contract in January. The work included dredging a 19-foot channel for a distance of 2,000 feet, and making the dock 300 feet wider. The dock is 1,300 feet long. The channel runs along the dock to the deep water.

The dock was widened by building a stone dyke and sheet pile wall, and by building up with fill, much of which was excavated from the channel.—Emmet County Graphic.

CHARLEVOIX LOST TO ROGERS CITY

DEFEATED BY 32 TO 0 SCORE HERE SATURDAY

Completely Out-Classed by Conference Leading Presque Isle Outfit—Play Next at East Jordan

Rogers City's crack football team maintained its position as the undefeated leader of the Northern Michigan class C conference with a decisive 32 to 0 victory over Charlevoix's Red Rayders at south side athletic field Saturday afternoon.

Employing a clever assortment of running plays and a clicking air attack, the Presque Isle aggregation handed Charlevoix its worst defeat in many years. They gained at will throughout the contest with smooth-functioning plays behind almost perfect interference. On defense they had Charlevoix completely stopped.

Rogers City scored the first of five touchdowns early in the first period. They counted two in the second quarter and one in each of the third and fourth periods.

Bill and Dick Newhouse, brothers, and Schultz and Smith of the Rogers City team, divided the scoring for the winners. Dick Newhouse carried the ball over following a 50-yard advance early in the first period. Schultz culminated a long advance to score from Charlevoix's 9-yard strip early in the second quarter and Bill Newhouse hit the line for extra point. The next marker followed a pass, Schultz to D. Newhouse for 25 yards, Smith's 5-yard romp around right end and subsequent dash through tackle for the score.

Leading to the third touchdown was a pass, Schultz to Kuchinski for 25 yards, a 20-yard end run by Schultz, Smith's 8-yard gain and Bill Newhouse over. Taking advantage of Bergman's short punt to his own 25-yard strip in the fourth period, Hoffman, a substitute Rogers halfback, shot a pass to Tugelski for the final marker just before closing whistle.

Charlevoix never threatened Rogers City's goals and only for a brief time during the beginning of the second half were able to mark up appreciable gains. They lost to a far superior team.

Charlevoix's Rayders play at East Jordan on Saturday of this week in a contest which is a feature of the annual East Jordan school homecoming.

FRANK NOVOTNY JR. INJURED HUNTING MISHAP

Shotgun Load Struck Base of Left Thumb While Duck Hunting

Frank Novotny Jr., 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Novotny of Marion township, is receiving treatment for a gun shot wound in his left hand, received Sunday while duck hunting on 26 Lake.

The accident occurred when Novotny reached to grab a gun owned by Frank Pop, his hunting companion, when it started to fall from a dock where it had been laid. The gun discharged in some manner and the load struck at the base of Novotny's left thumb. Another pellet creased his upper lip and one struck a finger.

LEGION GAME SUPPER HELD TUESDAY NIGHT

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

Last Wednesday was Columbus Day, but you wouldn't have known it by the number of flags displayed on Bridge street.

See where the Federal government is now planning to finance the sale of food and clothing to low-income groups at reduced prices. Wonder when they are going to help the middle class of people which comprises the merchants who try to make a living by selling food and clothing. Instead of entering competition against them. The government admits it will take a loss on the venture. What's a billion or so more public debt when they're already in the hole $40,000,000,000?

If they could manage to regulate things so that fogs wouldn't happen except in the day time, maybe we could find someone who would speak a good word for that new electric fog horn installed on the south pier. If things keep on like at present, we'll have a city of early-risers by force of habit for it appears only those hard of hearing got any sleep after 5 a. m. Monday and Tuesday.

Here's the prize fish story of the year! While fishing smelt the other night, Ray Kipke hauled one onto the dock, dropped it behind him right into the mouth of a cat that swallowed the hook too. Now isn't that the "cat's?"

Well, the first week-end of the lower peninsula small game season is over. From all the reports turned in by the local boys, there was an army of hunters, plenty of game, but not much "gettin'." In the first place the weather was better suited for beach lounging. 80 in the shade is no temperature for man or dog to be roaming the woods and those who didn't get much had a perfect alibi. As for myself, I always shoot "where they were." Doc Cartier and his Grand Rapids bunch gathered 24 "pats," which is not a bad average.

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

While the Murphy-Fitzgerald gubernatorial battle occupies the main ring of political circus, Michigan voters cannot afford to overlook the sideshows. There are four in number—each featuring an amendment to the state constitution and proposing far-reaching change in state or local government.

Amid all the hullabaloo over the stars in the main tent, the average citizen may forget to consider the importance of the constitutional amendments.

Yet, along with the big ballot on November 8, he will have the opportunity to say yes or no to four revisions to our state charter. A special ballot is being printed for this purpose.

Four-Year Terms

The first amendment, in order of their appearance on the special ballot, would provide a four-year term for certain county officers who now serve two years.

These officers are:

County clerk, prosecuting attorney, sheriff, treasurer, and register of deeds.

Call Conference of Feed Mixers

Feed manufacturers and merchants in Michigan are going to get an inside picture of likes and dislikes and requirements of livestock, dairy animals and poultry when they attend the second annual Feed Manufacturers' Conference to be held at Michigan State College October 25 and 26.

Purpose of the conference is to acquaint elevator and mill operators with animal requirements so that feed mixing in the state becomes more scientific. State laws that regulate will be described as one phase of the two-day program.

Morning of the first day will bring up problems of livestock feeding, especially for cattle, swine and horses. Tuesday afternoon the conference revolves about dairy feeding. Winter rations and pasture improvement are included. An evening banquet in the Union building features movies of a recent football game at East Lansing, and talks by John Hannah, college secretary, and Fred Zinn, Battle Creek.

Wednesday morning brings poultry up for discussion. Minerals and vitamins and relationship of the poultryman and feed dealer are subjects. The afternoon is assigned to William C. Geagley, chemist in the state department of agriculture. "Michigan's Feed Law and Its Enforcement" is the subject. "Feed Analyses and Formula Complexities" by Percy O. Meara conclude the conference.

Junior Crops Show to be Held at East Jordan Saturday, Oct. 29

Plans are now being rapidly completed for a big Junior Festival to be held in the East Jordan high school on Saturday afternoon and evening, October 29. Each of the Smith-Hughes and 4-H club crop projects will be exhibited. Outstanding will be the exhibit of potatoes by some twenty Junior farmers who have grown potatoes this year as a project.

In addition there will be samples of corn, and beans to complete the crops activity in the county. Tentative plans provide for a big banquet to be given those young farmers with an appropriate program following. This program will be brief and snappy and attractive.

Russell Eggert, instructor, East Jordan high school, O. F. Walker, district club leader, and your local county agent are cooperating in developing plans for a highly successful show. The better exhibits will be taken to the Cadillac show the following week. Remember the public is cordially urged to attend and see the exhibits. Watch the paper next week for the definite program and other details, but mark on your calendar the date of Saturday, October 29.

USE, DON'T SPEND MONEY
By Hester Renwick Fraser
Consumers' Counsel.

Consumers' Bureau, Michigan State Department of Agriculture,

Using money, instead of spending it, will make your dollar go farther.

The secret of using money, as compared to spending it, lies in the confidence one has in the article bought at the time it is purchased.

"Will the article serve its purpose at the price you can afford to pay?"

We buy coal to burn in our own individual furnace to heat our own individual house. There are many kinds of coal and many kinds of furnaces. Each kind of coal burns differently and gives more or less heat in each different kind of furnace. Some coal will burn up completely, giving the greatest value in return for the price and other coal will not burn so thoroughly, allowing for waste. Also a furnace must be properly stoked to give the best results.

A ton of coal, or a season's supply, means a real expenditure. If it doesn't give the required results in proper heat, it may also be the cause of an even dearer expenditure in hazarding health, and it cannot be returned to the merchant. It is not the merchant's fault if the consumer just buys coal, and it doesn't give results. This is what you want to know:

1st—Deal with a dependable coal merchant who knows his business.

2nd—Ask the dealer to look at your furnace and heating plant and recommend the kinds of coal, with the prices, and why, that will give the best results.

3rd—Know how to feed that coal to the furnace, and understand the necessary care of the furnace. Too many ashes, or not enough bed of coal, and other factors will make a great difference in the burning of the coal.

The consumer can develop his own confidence in the purchase by knowing it will serve the purpose and a mutual confidence between himself and his coal merchant. You can even buy coal in the summer. Make your dollar go farther.

The street to the station in Central Lake is being re-surfaced with tarvia, also the street leading west of it. It will be quite an improvement. The road to Ellsworth on the east side of the lake is being improved so that we now have a fine thoroughfare to that town.

"But Bob, I Paid For That Rug!"

But Bob is still gloomy. His wife had paid cash but didn't wait for a receipt. The first of the month brought a bill for the rug and there is no way to prove the obligation has been discharged.

It's simply common sense to pay by check because a cancelled voucher is evidence never disputed. It's safe, it's convenient and business recommends it by performing over 90% of all transactions — by check.

The amendment permits the board of supervisors to unite the offices of county clerk and register of deeds in one office or to separate them.

The change would become effective January 1, 1939.

Appointive Court

The second amendment concerns whether justices of the Michigan Supreme court should be chosen according to the wishes of political leaders or should be taken "out of politics" by an appointive system whereby the governor would select the justices from names submitted to him by a special judiciary commission created on non-partisan lines.

Advocated by leading members of the Michigan bar, this reform has incurred the hostility of certain political figures who are now influential in the selection of nominees for the state supreme court.

It has been the practice in the past for certain legal firms, particularly those representing important corporations, to contribute substantial sums to party campaign funds. The appointive court, however, would remove them from possible influence through campaign contributions. The rank-and-file of lawyers are said to favor the appointive court idea.

Both Governor Murphy and Frank Fitzgerald are said to have personally endorsed the idea. To this extent it is non-partisan.

Judiciary Commission

The special judiciary commission, which would pick the candidates and submit their choices to the governor, would comprise one supreme court justice, one circuit court judge, one probate court judge, three members of the state bar and three electors of the state not licensed to practice law.

It is assumed that the commission would function along non-partisan lines, and that hence the nominees will represent both the majority and minority party (depending who wins November 8 and thereafter).

Under this setup, attorneys believe that the supreme court would not become top-heavy in membership from any one major party in Michigan. Interests of the minority party would be better served, they say, by such an appointive plan than by taking chances at the ballot box.

Against this theory is the known stand of such democrat leaders, as Senator Prentiss Brown who condemned the proposal. It is said that Murphy's reaction to the amendment was somewhat as follows: "Why didn't you include the circuit court judges?" Sponsors explained that most of these now are republicans, whereas the supreme court personnel is rather evenly divided, politically speaking.

Gas-Tax Diversion

Amendment No. 3 concerns possible diversion of gasoline and license plate tax revenue from the state highway fund.

If the amendment is approved, and a vigorous campaign is being waged in its behalf without organized opposition in sight, future legislators would be barred from dipping into this tax fund and using some of the money for other purposes.

Sponsoring the amendment is the Good Roads Federation of Michigan, an omnibus organization including tourist boosters, farm units, chamber of commerce officials, and road contractors and builders. Yelling loudly for the amendment is the tourist crowd who point out that the tourist business is No. 2 in importance to Michigan and that the annual volume of some 300 million dollars is dependent to a large extent upon good roads. Gov. Murphy and Frank Fitzgerald have promised support to this amendment, thus removing it from political eddies.

Welfare Amendment

Amendment No. 4 is the welfare reorganization act, passed by the state legislature but held up pending popular referendum November 8th. County supervisors are lined up against the act, while the Michigan Municipal League is for it.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

These startling facts and statistics were left by Speaker Ola K. Marshall, editor of the Michigan Union, at the recent W. C. T. U. county convention;

Quoted from N. J. L. Pieper, representative of J. Edgar Hoover, who spoke at national convention in San Francisco:

Five thousand people in America arrested every day.

A murder committed every 39 minutes.

Crime every 22 seconds by boys under 21 years of age. "Time for American to resurrect the discipline our forefathers had."

J. Edgar Hoover says (quoted):

3½ million criminals in America, 700,000 of whom are boys and girls under 17 years of age.

17,000 under 16 arrested for major crime.

He says "Re-establishment of respect for law should begin in the home."

Judge Porter says (quoted):

3,600,000 auto accidents last year—alcohol cause of 60%.

The state of Montana is buying the W. C. T. U. road signs and erecting them on the highways.

Not a drop of alcohol used by the Mayo Bros.

Case Orders New Motor Vehicle Applications

The applications for 1939 Motor Vehicle license plates will be made on one standard application form, according to Leon D. Case, secretary of state.

In the past applications for plates required the applicant to look over some nineteen different forms before deciding which one to use. Case points out, that the single application form will lessen the confusion to the applicant, in addition to saving the state a considerable sum for paper and printing.

The new 1939 application blank will also be convenient for owners of commercial vehicles, due to the fact that the weight will be recorded on the same blank, thus having the proper information on one form.

During the year 1938, some six and one half million forms will be used and it is estimated by Mr. Case that this figure can be cut in half by the use of this new application form.

Ritz Brothers Horse Around in Damon Runyon's Laff Hit, "Straight Place and Show"

Damon Runyon, the comic writer, never laughs. Fellow members of the Thauntopsis Social and Inside Straight Club will tell you that not only doesn't he laugh at their quips, but shows no amusement at his own.

The Ritz Brothers, on the other hand, are laughing all the time. Long ago a hold-up man entered their poor Brooklyn home under the impression that it was the First National Bank and tied the boys in bed. They've been unbounded and gagging ever since.

Picture, then, Damon Runyon practically rolling in the aisles (for him) and the Ritzes sitting dourly in the projection room at 20th Century-Fox where Associate Producer David Hempstead ran off a preview of their new picture, Damon Runyon's "Straight, Place and Show," which opens Saturday, October 22, at the Palace Theatre.

Peter Lorre, Rochelle Hudson Meet Thrills in "Mr. Moto Takes a Chance"

Facing a weird wilderness of mystic temples and nameless terrors, the famous Saturday Evening Post master of mystery meets his most sensational adventure as Peter Lorre brings to the screen the character created by J. P. Marquand, "Mr. Moto Takes A Chance," thrilling 20th Century-Fox mystery-adventure story opening Tuesday, October 25, at the Palace Theatre with Rochelle Hudson, Robert Kent and J. Edward Bromberg featured in the supporting cast, is the latest in the series.

Gang Piracy of Ship Shown in New Film

The thrill-packed tale of the first man ever to break out of dreaded, "break-proof" Alcatraz Prison comes to the screen of the Palace Theatre next Thursday and Friday, October 27-28, when Paramount's action-packed "King of Alcatraz" opens there, with a cast headed by Gail Patrick, Lloyd Nolan and J. Carrol Naish.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Sanitary.. Equipment.. That ..Rural Schools Should Have

Each year more and more school districts are giving the children at the school or schools the advantage of improved sanitary equipment. Rural school districts are beginning to realize that in so far as is possible, the children should be afforded sanitary safeguards of a like nature to those already given to city and village school children.

Chief among the sanitary safeguards which school children deserve are:

1. A well protected water supply. Dug wells and unprotected springs are not considered particularly good sources of supply.

2. A system of dispensing water which makes unlikely the spread of mouth infections. For the rural school the use of a water cooler of the push button type together with the use of paper cups stored in protective shields is considered most sanitary.

3. Some means of washing under running water. Use of a storage tank with a tap to emit a small stream of water, placed over a lavatory bowl and emptying into a septic privy is considered most satisfactory.

4. An indoor toilet system in preference to outdoor pit privies. Such an installation is more convenient for winter use, the rooms are kept in a much better cleanly condition, flies and other disease carrying insects do not have easy access to the tanks, and there is less danger of contamination of water supplies.

5. A well lighted school building, with resort to improvements aimed at conserving the children's eyesight. Light colored (translucent) shades of the double hanger type are distinct improvements over the old type of dark colored non-adjustable shades in that much light is allowed to filter through the translucent shades and they permit of adjustment for proper regulation of the light.

Reference to the bulletin being distributed by District Health Unit No. 3 on Suggestions for Rural School Sanitation is urged. In this bulletin, the sanitary needs of the rural school child is the particular concern.

YOUR MICHIGAN—AND MINE

Spring in the Fall

Caro—Spring may be apple blossom season, but nevertheless there is an apple tree near this city that was in full bloom in September. A 11-year-old Sweet Bough owned by Wesley Towns of Reese has produced this phenomena for a second year. It bore a heavy crop of apples in August.

And More Spring

Bad Axe — Late in September, when most people are buying their raspberries in cans, James Richardson was picking them from his own bushes. The berries were larger than the first picking early in the year.

It's Tall Here? Too

Jonesville — "Out where the tall corn grows" may mean Michigan as well as Iowa. An 11-foot stalk of the Red Cob variety was cut this fall by Alton Morgan. It had four well-filled ears and two starters on the stalk. The corn was grown for ensilage.

History of the Diamond

Crystal Falls—That people of this city have been baseball enthusiasts since 'way back was proved recently when Andy Skovera discovered a 51-year-old ticket while remodeling his house. The ticket was for a dance in the village opera house, July 26, 1887. The National league was 11 years old then, and the American league didn't exist.

SHOT AT RANDOM

There were plenty of others who got their game, but so far have not heard of a limit kill close to home. Cooler weather will bring much better hunting.

Was down in the central part of the state over the week end and couldn't help but notice the amount of traffic on the highways. Have seen times during the middle of the summer when it was much less. Beautiful weather, together with the first week-end trek of lower Michigan hunters to the north woods probably accounted for the heavy traffic.

It would be hard to imagine a more veritable "fisherman's paradise" than Charlevoix offers right now. There never has been better perch fishing than this fall, smelt apparently are here by the millions for the taking and steelhead fishing is good. What more could any person ask?

It would be nice and we all could be mighty proud of a new city hall. We'll soon have a chance to vote on providing such a needed civic improvement.

Three amendments to the State Constitution and one Referendum will come before voters at the November 8 general election. An election notice published elsewhere in this issue calls attention to the proposals by number and title. The election laws require that amendments and referendum proposals be published in full, but don't say how and where. The result of such a law is that a voter who might be interested in finding out the text of the proposals has no other course than to stand up beside a telephone pole upon which such notice will be found somewhere for two hours to read them, or else take as long a time to peruse an instruction ballot at the polling place or take the time to read the ballot in the voting booth before marking it. No wonder so many voters look with suspicion upon amendments. They don't know what it is all about and as a general rule, rather than vote on a perfectly strange proposition, mark the ballot with a "No."

SHIFT PATROLS DURING HUNTING SEASON

Upper Peninsula Wardens to Lower Michigan During Bird Hunting

A shifting patrol by conservation officers has been planned for operation during both the small game season and the annual deer hunt.

Approximately 50 officers whose regular districts are in the upper peninsula and the northern part of the lower peninsula were assigned to duty in the lower half of the lower peninsula for the bird hunting season.

During the deer season a number of officers from the lower half of the state will be assigned to patrol in the northern deer regions.

BOY SCOUT TROOP IS BEING ORGANIZED HERE

Officers and Leaders of Four Incomplete Patrols Are Chosen

After a year of inactivity, a reorganization of the Boy Scouts in Charlevoix is now under way.

Eighteen boys have joined the troop and out of this number four incomplete patrols have been formed with Bob Gill, Bob Smith, Robert Craig and Dick Hallett as patrol leaders. Bud Hallett was unanimously elected senior patrol leader, Bob Smith will be scribe and Robert Craig was named treasurer. Next week the color bearer and guards will be elected.

The troop will have some splendid assistance in Irving Hallett and William Freeburn. Mr. Hallett will be in charge of general activities and Mr. Freeburn will have charge of knot tying and perhaps will organize a troop of Sea Scouts. Charlevoix is ideally situated for such a troop.

A hike is planned for Saturday under the leadership of Mr. Freeburn. Only registered Scouts may go.

It is probably known by but few that the city now is forced to pay in the neighborhood of $600 yearly for rental of down-town offices for the justice of the peace, chief of police and city superintendent. A new city hall would eliminate this cost. The city's fire fighting equipment is likewise tucked in "a hole in the wall" at the court house—a very unsatisfactory situation. The city lacks completely a community room. Taxpayers would be better served by centralizing all city offices in a single building.

Those conditions have been taken into consideration not only by the present, but previous administrations, for it is a matter of record that initial steps to procure a city hall were started several years ago and progressed to the extent of spending several hundred dollars for plans which are now being utilized for the present proposal.

In addition to filling an important civic need, approval of the proposal would also provide employment for many local men, for the project is one of construction entirely.

He said, "In 1926 the AFL sent organizers into Detroit to organize the auto plants but were denied the right of free speech. President Wm. Green finally made a personal effort and he was denied the right to speak in Detroit for that purpose. Wm. Green went back to Washington and it was then and there that the Wagner Labor Disputes Act was born. If the auto industry had permitted their employees to organize at that time under the AFL much of the confusion of the past two years would have been prevented."

Unemployment Important Issue

Speaking on unemployment as the vital issue of today, Cong. Luecke said: "Unemployment did not begin in 1930, nor in 1920, nor in 1910. It began fifty or more year ago. At one time 70 per cent of our people lived off the soil, today only 30 per cent of the population lives off the soil. This great movement from the rural districts to the metropolitan areas was the beginning of our trouble today. And that trend is not only peculiar to our country but is world wide. In 1912 Woodrow Wilson made a speech on the "Economic Revolution" and what he said in that speech has come to pass. He foresaw it at that time.

"Technological improvement has displaced workers faster than they could be absorbed in new industries and with the normal increase in population it was only natural that a chronic unemployment situation should develop.

"In 1937 industrial production according to the United States Chamber of Commerce was 98 per cent of 1929 and yet we had 7,000,000 persons unemployed. If our entire army of unemployed were to be put back to work again in industry production would have to increase 25 per cent above 1929 and that seems quite unlikely.

"The solution to the problem as I see it is a reduction in the work week in such industries as can support it and which are highly specialized and efficient. It is said that approximately 8,000,000 workers are employed in industry and that for every worker in industry two are employed indirectly. The shortening of the work week would put back to work about 2,000,000 men and with 6,000,000 employed indirectly a total of 8,000,000 men would again be taken out of the ranks of the unemployed.

"Past economic history shows us that the number of hours of work over the past 75 years has been reduced again and again and it seems that the time has come to still further reduce in order to take up the slack in unemployment."

Referring to accusations of his opponent in the upper peninsula that Democratic candidates were tied up with the Communists, Mr. Luecke said:

"An attempt is being made to tie up the Democratic candidates with the Communist party. That was the strategy used two years ago and is being hauled out of the closet again this year.

"I have held office as a city councilman, a county supervisor, a state senator and congressman and I challenge anyone to go through my record and show where any action of mine was communistic.

"Because we are being linked with the Communists I want to state my stand very definitely to the people of this district.

"As far as I am concerned I will have nothing to do with Communists on the left or Fascists on the right. To me one is as vicious as the other. There is little difference in my opinion.

In those countries where such doctrines prevail liberty is dead. There is no such thing as freedom of worship, freedom of speech or freedom politically.

"My abhorrence of anything that would deprive us of those benefits comes from the fact that I come from the ranks of labor. In those countries there is no such thing as free labor. I know that labor will be the first to suffer and I know too that labor cannot progress unless it is free.

"One thing is lost sight of which is very important to my mind. Where labor is not free there you will not find free capital.

"It has always been a puzzle to me why certain large financial interests spend millions yearly to defeat labor in its right to bargain collectively. These interests are certainly not taking heed of what is happening before our eyes in Europe."

CHARLEVOIX LOST EAST JORDAN TILT

DEFEATED BY 26 TO 0 SCORE THERE SATURDAY

Jordanites Please Homecoming Crowd With Win—Rayders Meet Harbor Springs Here This Week

Charlevoix's Red Rayders were handed their third straight defeat last Saturday as East Jordan romped to a 26 to 0 victory on their home field for the benefit of a large homecoming day crowd.

The game, played in a high wind and with intermittent rain, saw East Jordan's previously under rated aggregation dominate play throughout. They scored two touchdowns in the second period and one in each of the third and fourth, while Charlevoix never threatened their goal.

Glen Gee scored all of East Jordan's touchdowns. Three came as the result of forward passes and the last one, late in the fourth period, when Gee romped 50 yards over the goal after eluding a group of Charlevoix tacklers. It was the climax of an all-around sparkling performance. Saxton and Isaman also stood out for the winners.

East Jordan played smart football by taking advantage of Charlevoix's lack of a defense against forward passes. They used line plays to draw in the Rayder defense, then shot out unexpected passes which clicked with disastrous results.

Withers, in the backfield, and Nowland, in the line, played well for the Rayders.

Charlevoix has two remaining games, both at home. On Saturday, October 29th, they meet Harbor Springs at south side athletic field, and a week later, November 5th, close the season at home with Gaylord. Charlevoix has won one out of four contests and should be a match for Harbor Springs whose fortunes have been about equal to Charlevoix's.

COMMUNITY RECREATION PROJECT IS INSTITUTED

Supervised Program for Young People Under WPA at High School

Under the direction of the local WPA recreational staff, a community supervised recreational program for young people of Charlevoix has been opened.

The board of education has made available for this project a portion of the basement of the high school building now used as a dining room. The city council Monday night authorized $25 for construction and equipping two ping pong tables. Games and other amusements are provided. The recreation room is open from 3:30 to 5:30 afternoons and from 7:00 to 10:00 in the evening. The community room is under the supervision of recreational leaders.

PROVIDE FACILITIES FOR WINTER SPORTS

Seek New Hockey Rink; Mt. McSauby Slides Greatly Improved

Through the efforts of the local WPA recreational staff, excellent facilities for winter sports will be available this winter and hockey will in all likelihood be added for the first time in several years.

At the request of Norman Ance, WPA recreational supervisor, the city council has taken under consideration the construction and lighting of a hockey rink. Space is available in East Park for a rink 65x100 feet and a regulation size rink could be constructed at south side athletic field. Formal action on this matter will be taken when estimates of cost are presented. WPA recreational leaders would construct and maintain the rink and supervise play.

Improved winter sports facilities have been provided by the recreational staff at Mt. McSauby. New ski and toboggan slides have been built, stairways leading to the take-offs repaired and many other improvements completed.

ANNUAL EVENT TO BE HELD AT I. O. O. F. HALL

Larry Lind, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Ludington, will be the guest speaker of the evening. He will talk on conventions. Other speakers to be heard will include Mayor Robert Bridge and City Superintendent Don F. Herrick on city affairs. E. J. Edwards, acting as toastmaster, will introduce new officers for 1938-39, to be chosen Thursday evening of this week.

Gordon B. Todd, secretary of the organization, who is arranging the program, stated numerous entertainment features are being planned.

Tickets for the annual banquet will be placed on sale this week.

— AN EDITORIAL —

On November 8th, Charlevoix taxpayers will be asked to express their approval or disapproval of a proposed $36,000 bond issue for a city hall and fire station.

The Courier takes the position of endorsing the proposal. We take this position with a feeling of utmost confidence in the wisdom of our city council in presenting the proposal. We believe, as the council has pointed out, that their action is motivated to remedy a pressing need and at a time when financial assistance is available through government grant on a proposition which the city perhaps would not be able to assume the entire financial load. An outright gift of $29,000 from the government toward the cost of a city hall is an item which should not be heedlessly overlooked.

Charlevoix needs centralized city offices to provide greater convenience to the public, eliminate expense from rental of required office space, provide an adequate fire station. In brief—take city offices out of a "hole in the wall."

Construction of the city hall would provide employment for many local workmen during the seasonal winter dull period. It would create business for local firms and provide a payroll which the city now lacks.

It is a desirable, needed improvement. It would be foolhardy to turn down a gift of $29,000 towards its cost. Charlevoix taxpayers will pay their share of the government's relief program whether they obtain projects or not. It's smarter to have something to show for your money.

KIWANIS PLAN SECOND HALLOWE'EN PARTIES

Dance Saturday Night and Movie Monday Have Been Arranged

The Charlevoix Kiwanis Club has completed plans for its second annual Hallowe'en party for children of this city—a plan instituted a year ago to provide entertainment in lieu the customary seasonal pranks.

On Saturday evening, October 29, a dancing party will be given at the school gymnasium for the high school group and older. Wexstuff's orchestra will furnish music and decorations will be arranged by the senior class. Members of the Kiwanis will be present.

On Monday afternoon and evening, through the cooperation of Mrs. Elizabeth Moon, a complete movie will be shown at the Palace Theater. Pupils of the kindergarten through the fourth grade will attend at this time as well as others who so desire. Paddle pops will be distributed at the theater.

A Kiwanis committee will visit the school Thursday afternoon to extend to each child an invitation to attend. As last year, each child will be asked to sign a pledge showing willingness to cooperate by preventing the spread of soap, tallow, rubbish, or in any other way do damage or become offensive. Upon signing, the child will be admitted to the activities.

This year's Hallowe'en program follows the successful inauguration of the plan a year ago.

COUNCIL AWARDS CONTRACT FOR NEW DIESEL

Rathbun-Jones Engineering Company Low With Bid of $39,000

The Rathbun-Jones Engineering Company was awarded contract by the city council Tuesday night for a diesel generating unit to be installed as a part of the electric light system extension and improvement program now under way.

The accepted bid of $39,000 was low in four ranging as high as $61,000. Compared with a contract entered last spring for approximately $48,000, the present award represents a savings of $9,000 and is $16,000 under the estimate.

Reconstruction of the Charlevoix-Bellaire transmission line, awarded by contract to the Hall Electric Company, Muskegon, is now under way. Other work will be instituted as contracts are awarded.

LOCAL GIRL INJURED IN CAR WRECK TUESDAY

Cassie Baumgardner Is Local Hospital After Mishap

Cassie Baumgardner, 19, daughter of Mrs. Mary Baumgardner, received injuries, the seriousness of which have not yet been determined, in an automobile collision at the south city limits on US-31 early Tuesday morning.

The car in which Miss Baumgardner was riding together with Virginia Archer and Lee Rohloff, this city, and Art Luth, Traverse City, turned over several times after striking another machine driven by Hazel Henderson, Petoskey nurse. According to officers, the collision occurred when the Henderson car turned off the highway to the left at Outside Inn in the path of the other car entering the city at a high speed from the south. Miss Baumgardner was thrown through the top. Luth received cuts and bruises. Both cars were wrecked.

BIGAMIST SENTENCED TO TERM AT JACKSON

Too Many Wives Brings Trouble for Lewis C. Laurie, Boyne City

The October term of circuit court entered its third day Wednesday with Judge Frank Doty of Pontiac, presiding at the re-trial of a damage suit of Boyne City parties involved in an automobile accident.

At a previous hearing of the case, Judge Parm C. Gilbert gave a verdict of no cause for action after a non-jury trial and thus was disqualified from hearing the second trial.

At Monday's session, Judge Gilbert sentenced Lewis C. Laurie, 24, of Boyne City, to serve from 20 months to four years at Jackson prison for bigamy. Laurie's trouble was too many wives. His first and second were present in court and, according to his own statement, Laurie had proposed and been accepted by a third before the two he already had stepped in.

The Charlevoix County State Bank was granted a decree to quiet title in its case against the Charlevoix Manufacturing Co. Judgment of $1,602.61 was granted the Charlevoix Depositors' Corporation in an assumpsit action against Gus Mielke and Leroy Allers. Several divorce actions were disposed of by Judge Gilbert.

CHARLEVOIX ESCAPES FROM STORM DAMAGE

Upper Michigan and Wisconsin Hard Hit by Saturday Storm

Charlevoix escaped with but minor damage a premature winter storm and heavy northeast gale which swept upper Michigan and Wisconsin last Saturday.

A few trees, power and telephone lines blown down was the extent of local damage reported. The freighter M. H. Stuart, which was reported missing Saturday night after being unreported for 24 hours, arrived safely at St. James after riding out the blow at Harbor Springs. The vessel left here Friday night and was unreported due to telephone lines being down on Beaver Island.

State ferry service was suspended at 1:30 p. m. Saturday due to high seas. Parts of the upper peninsula were covered with snow. The temperature did not go below freezing in this district.

Other features include short talks by Einer Olstrom and John Tervest who have won high recognition in their 4-H club and Smith-Hughes activities, musical selections given by members of the East Jordan school band, also comments and brief remarks by Russell Eggert, O. NEW LICENSE PLATES GO ON SALE THURSDAY

Black on Buff Is the Color Scheme for 1939 Auto Plates

Black on buff is the color scheme of the new 1939 Michigan automobile license plates which have just arrived at the local bureau and which will be placed on sale October 27th.

Guy C. Eccleston, bureau manager, announced that the plates to be issued here will bear the letters Cx, signifying Charlevoix county, and the numbers will range from 1951 to 2700. Purpose of the double letter is to distinguish Charlevoix county plates from the several other counties in Michigan whose names start with C.

Important changes have been made in regard to the issuance of plates this year, Mr. Eccleston reported. The commercial division will be divided into two classifications, the regular commercial and the farm commercial. The words "farm commercial" will be printed on plates of that group. There will also be a special plate for house trailers this year for the first time.

KIWANIS SALE TO BEGIN THURSDAY

"WHITE ELEPHANT" EVENT IS SCHEDULED OCT. 27-29

Annual Christmas Charity Campaign Closes With Auction Sale Saturday Evening

At 9:30 Thursday morning, October 27th, the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club will open its annual "White Elephant" sale in the See building, first door north of the post office.

The Club, aided by residents of Charlevoix, has gathered under one roof the most varied assortment of merchandise ever exhibited in this city. Everyone will be able to find some useful article at ridiculously low price and will thus be able to lend their assistance to the Kiwanis' annual campaign to bring a more cheerful Christmas to the less fortunate children of Charlevoix.

The Kiwanians are justly proud of their "White Elephant" and request that one and all call at the store and see this animal, the like of which Barnum never dreamed of.

Furniture, clothing, dishes, pictures, toys and hundreds of valuable articles will go on sale and must be sold during the three days allotted—October 27, 28 and 29. An auction of all remaining goods will be held Saturday evening. The store will be open from 9:30 a. m. to noon, and from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. each day.

The clerks are all specialists in their line and will be pleased to assist in any way.

BRADLEY MAKING ACTIVE CAMPAIGN

VISITS EVERY COUNTY IN THE 11TH DISTRICT

Republican Candidate for Congress Will Be Heard in Address Here Saturday, November 5th

With organization details completed in all sixteen counties, Fred Bradley, of Rogers City, turned to the more populous areas of the Eleventh Congressional District this week to wind up his campaign for election to Congress on the Republican ticket.

A speech-making trip which will continue right up to election day has been mapped by Bradley, who has conducted one of the most intensive campaigns ever witnessed in this district.

"I have been in every city and village in this district at least once in the last eight months," Bradley said in commenting on his campaign. "I do not enjoy the privilege of sending a postage-free piece of campaign literature to every home in the district at government expense, so I must get around personally.

"However, I have been able to talk with thousands of voters in this way, and, have been able to get from them, first hand, a true picture of deplorable conditions which exist under the New Deal.

"Mounting relief rolls, farmers forced to compete with foreign products which are allowed to be dumped in here and destroy home markets, and the pressure being brought to bear on relief clients and old age pensioners, in the fruntle attempts by New Deal candidates to snare votes, are just a few of the things I have found about which honest American citizens are rightfully incensed.

"Why, in Chippewa county last week, I found that farmers are being promised Federal loans to buy more cattle as an outlet for their surplus hay crop.

Bradley will speak in St. Ignace on Tuesday, November 1; Sault Ste. Marie on Wednesday, November 2; Thursday, November 3, he will be in Alpena; Friday, November 4, in Cheboygan and Saturday, November 5, he will speak in Charlevoix.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Kan Usher

"Shorty" Sternberg and the Missus found the pheasant hunting at Ubly, down in the Thumb district, much to their liking. They brought back the limit for the two of them late last week.

Have been taken to task by some person for remarks made about the new electric fog horn. For the peace of mind of all concerned it might be said it was all in fun, for don't think for a minute that this writer does not realize what a wonderful thing that fog signal is to any boat which might be groping its way through fog or snow to reach this harbor. We're 100% for it for that reason and we'll all get used to the noise. As far as the "Anonymous" (they signed it "Anonomous") writer of the above mentioned letter is concerned, they can take a jump in the lake along side the fog horn.

The Lincoln County Leader, published at Toledo, Oregon, is quoted as follows: "Glenn See and wife of Charlevoix, Michigan, left for their home Wednesday after spending ten days with his brother, L. E. See, of the Toledo creamery. This is the first trip to the Pacific coast of the Michigan Sees and they are much impressed with everything and think it the Garden of Eden. They fished, visited points of interest, golfed and had an abundance of fresh sea foods while here and hope to return to the Pacific coast again in the near future. They are returning home by the way of California where other relatives reside. A niece (Jeanne Zelley) accompanied them on the trip."

The geese are flying south, which is proof that winter isn't so far off. A large flock lit Sunday morning on Lake Charlevoix near the old beet sugar plant and early Tuesday morning a huge flock, apparently broken up and lost, circled low over the city several times and made such a din they had the whole south side popu-

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

The current Nazi spy scare is almost an echo of the CIO sit-down strikes last year in Michigan.

From the lips of Jacob Spolansky, Wayne county criminal investigator, comes a dramatic tale how Communists "completely dominated the CIO situation in Detroit "and how agitator spies engineered the sit-down strikes in leading automobile plants."

Spolansky, a witness before the Dies congressional committee investigating un-American activities, is a former G-man who participated in the deportation of 150 Communists. Dies submitted testimony showing that the sit-down technique had been introduced into Italy and France by Communists. Substantiating Spolansky's statement was testimony by William P. Gernaey of Detroit, a former Communist leader, that in 1935 Communists were instructed to join mass organizations, trade unions and church groups, for carrying on of Communist activities.

SOCIAL SECURITY REPORTS ARE NOW DUE

File Third-Quarter Report to Internal Revenue Office, Detroit

Contributions due under the old-age insurance part of the Social Security Act for the months of July, August and September must be sent to the Collector of Internal Revenue, Detroit, during the month of October. The reports which must accompany the contributions call for the social security account numbers of all employees.

Clifton H. Little, manager of the old-age insurance bureau field office in Traverse City, today advised all employers to see that their workers have social security numbers. If these are not reported in October they will have to be obtained later, causing delay and perhaps inconvenience, Mr. Little said.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

More than 400,000 small trees including thousands adaptable for use in Charlevoix county already have been shipped out of the federal state nursery on the campus of Michigan State College as the 1938 fall shipping season nears an end. Workers scanning the supplies still left contemplate shipping many more thousands of young trees next spring as they are ordered by farmers.

One landowner, obtaining 4,000 tulip trees at cost, revealed that he had been raising 6,000 of his own for future use on his farm.

The pines are most popular, says P. W. Robbins, nursery superintendent. Red, white, and Scotch pine and Norway spruce have been sold in quantity.

Trees are available at cost of production except that no requests are filled if the intention is to plant the seedlings and young transplants within corporate limits of cities or villages or for ornamental planting or resale with roots attached.

County agricultural agents are cooperating in stimulating the use of the nursery trees. In the southern counties of the state late fall planting is not encouraged because of heaving during winter. But next spring the shipments again will flow out of East Lansing. For those in the Upper Peninsula shipments are made from Sault Ste. Marie if the distance is less. Remaining stocks at present range from 353,000 small white cedar seedlings to 350 shagbark hickory.

REPUBLICANS SEEK FUNDS FOR CAMPAIGN

Have No Federal Money, So Ask Public for Dollar Subscriptions

Setting a new precedent in campaign financing, the Republican State Central Committee today appealed to the people of Michigan in a statewide newspaper advertising campaign for dollar subscriptions. The Republican state organization pointed out that it had no war-chest of Federal funds for small contributions with which to carry on the campaign and appealed directly to the rank and file of the citizens, who seek restoration of sound government at Lansing.

Those in charge of the campaign urge participation by industrial wage earners, businessmen, farmers, office workers and housewives in the crusade against the Little New Deal in Michigan. They point out that cash is needed if voters are to be educated to the danger of continuing the present administration.

"Our opponents have the benefit of unlimited funds which are being rushed into Michigan before election through various Federal alphabetical agencies, but the Republican party must look to the average citizen for financial assistance," James F. Thomson, Republican State Chairman announced. "Whether they like it or not every taxpayer is contributing to the New Deal campaign chest. We prefer the help of those who are able and willing to contribute their dollars toward re-establishing Good Government at Lansing.

"Those who wish to assist financially in the crusade against the New Deal, Ruin and Murphyism are asked to send their dollars to Howard Warner, of the Warner Dairy Co., Farmington, Michigan, treasurer of the Republican State Central Committee."

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Complications of Whooping Cough Are Dangerous

One of the dangerous diseases of childhood is that of whooping cough and the younger the child the greater the hazard. During the years 1927 to 1936 a total of 1,773 deaths were responsible from whooping cough in children — more deaths than were caused by scarlet fever, measles or infantile paralysis. The startling thing about this tragic number is that 62% of these deaths were of children under one year of age, and 92% were of children under three. Since whooping cough is one of the distressing and fatal diseases of childhood it should not be treated with the usual attitude of indifference. Medical care is necessary both for prompt diagnosis and the prevention of complications.

This disease is characterized by a series of spasmodic coughs, ending with a long drawn out inspiration or whoop. In very mild cases the whoop may not develop. This disease may occur at any season of the year. There are three stages during this disease, the first being the catarrhal stage lasting one to two weeks. The child has a slight bronchitis resembling an ordinary cold. There may be a rise of temperature toward evening but this usually ceases before the spasmodic stage.

Passing from the catarrhal stage the cough becomes more and more violent. After the second stage the cough gradually loses its convulsive character and becomes less frequent. In the first or catarrhal stage bronchitis is always present. When occuring during the latter part of the disease it must be regarded as a dangerous complication. Bronchopneumonia is the most frequent complication, and it alone is responsible for nine-tenths of the deaths resulting from whooping cough.

Prompt separation of exposed susceptible children from other susceptible children upon any sign of a cough or cold until the nature of the illness has been determined will do much to check the spread of this disease. In Michigan, children having the disease must be kept from all contacts with other susceptible children for three weeks after the development of the characteristic cough. Exposed susceptible children must also be excluded from contact with other susceptible children. Recently a whooping cough vaccine has been developed which promises good results. Experimental work is still being carried on in the improvement of this vaccine, and its use should be left to the judgment of your physician. The physician can also diagnose whooping cough now before the characteristic whoop by use of the cough plate method.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.
Sunday school, 12 o'clock.
Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

"Prohibition after Death" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches thruout the world on Sunday, October 23rd.

The Golden Text (Eccl. 12:14) is: "God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 5:24): "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 410: " 'This is life eternal,' says Jesus,—is, not shall be; and then he defines everlasting life as a present knowledge of his Father and of himself,—the knowledge of Love, Truth, and Life."

YOUR MICHIGAN—AND MINE
True Stories of Human Interest
(Michigan Press Association)

Mushroom—Balloon Type

Fowlerville — A "new model" mushroom, large enough to make not one but several meals, was found here. The balloon-like specimen, which has a name almost as big as itself — basidiomycetous fungi — weighed 27 pounds. It was 13 inches thick and measured 72 inches in circumference.

Twin Calves—Doubled

St. Johns—A chicken has chickens, a cat has cats, but a cow usually has one calf. However, and Supervisor Emmett McCrumb of Eagle swore to this, a Holstein-Brown Swiss cow belonging to George Snow gave birth to quadruplets recently. Three of the calves are still alive and healthy.

Wandering Spud Vine

Utica—A potato vine which John Altz has grown here must have been bitten by the wanderlust bug, for, like Topsy, it just grew and grew and wandered around the garden until it measured 7½ feet in length. And it wasn't all vine, either. Altz said it had big potatoes on its roots.

Gourd Grows in Freak Shape

Grand Ledge—Most gourds grow in the shape of a lightbulb, but there was one on display here recently that went in the opposite direction. It was three and one-half feet long and six inches through at its widest point.

—But It Wasn't Pop

Berrien Springs — A pop bottle looked pretty tempting to Donald Karn, 9, of Eau Claire, so he picked it up and swallowed a long, delicious drink. But it wasn't pop—it was spray dope, commonly used to kill pinnt bugs. Under the treatment of a physician, Donald recovered.

Still Taller Corn

Jonesville—A contest in Michigan among farmers to see who can raise the tallest corn might not be surprising, if this fall's specimens are considered. Top ranker now is a 15-foot stalk grown by Art Wells, and bearing six ears.

Rare Michigan Visitor

River Rouge—A white pelican, an exceedingly rare visitor to Michigan, was seen recently at Saginaw Bay by Police Chief Thomas Verellan, who sighted a small flock of the large water birds there during the summer. The pelican is a fish-eater, with a wing-spread of from eight to ten feet.

Spring Flowers in the Fall

Montague—Evidently a pear tree owned by John Turns has no regard for the seasons. After bearing fine fruit during the pear season, six limbs of the tree blossomed out this fall, in spite of cold weather. Turns says he expects fresh pears for Christmas.

USE, DON'T SPEND MONEY
By Hester Renwick Fraser
Consumers' Counsel

Consumers' Bureau, Michigan State Department of Agriculture,

Using money, instead of spending it, will make your dollar go farther.

The secret of using money, as compared to spending it, lies in your confidence in the article at the time it is purchased.

"Will the article serve its purpose at a price you can afford to pay?"

When buying blankets, warmth and durability, without too much weight, are the important factors to consider. The price can be determined by comparing these points in several blankets at the time of purchase.

The warmth in a blanket can be determined by the amount of wool, as well as the closeness of the weave and enough fluffiness or napping of the blanket to allow for air in the fabric.

The durability can be determined by knowing that the fibres used in weaving the blanket are of such quality as to remain strong and durable after the fluffing or napping process has taken place. What are these fibres made of, and are they durable?

The weight of the blanket can be determined by the number of ounces per square yard, or by comparing the total weight of blankets of a like size.

A durable binding and color that will not fade are a further good investment. Caring for the blanket includes knowing whether the blanket must be dry-cleaned or whether it will wash. If it will wash, protect yourself and your blanket by receiving the proper instructions for washing blankets.

Use your money, instead of spending it, by being satisfied about these facts at the time you purchase your blankets. You will then buy with confidence and make your dollar go farther.

Quail shun open spaces. Even hunger fails to drive them very far from cover.

JOHN LUECKE

CONGRESS

WAR PEACE is one of the big questions facing the world today. I want the people of this district to know where I stand on this question. I have said many times, "I SHALL NEVER VOTE TO SEND ONE BOY ACROSS THE SEA TO FIGHT. I BELIEVE IN SPENDING MILLIONS FOR DEFENSE BUT NOT ONE CENT FOR FOREIGN AGGRESSION." Twenty-six months in the World War taught me that war is un-Christian, uncivilized and inhuman. The people of our country demand peace.

LIBERTY The preservation of our religious and political liberties is one of the major problems facing this generation of Americans. I fear that if we ever become involved in another war we shall awake to find ourselves hereft of these liberties. TO MY MIND POLITICAL AND RELIGIOUS LIBERTIES ARE NECESSARY FOR HUMAN PROGRESS AND I SHALL NEVER SURRENDER TO THE PHILOSOPHY THAT WE MUST GIVE UP THESE RIGHTS IN ORDER TO PROGRESS.

PENSIONS I STAND FOR A NATIONAL OLD AGE PENSION. The present Old Age Assistance program is inadequate and unworkable. I AM FOR A PENSION THAT WILL PERMIT OUR ELDERLY PEOPLE TO LIVE WITH DECENCY AND SELF RESPECT, BECAUSE THAT IS THE HUMANITARIAN THING TO DO. A pension of $60 a month, which is feasible, would also create an added purchasing power, necessary at this time to alleviate unemployment.

AGRICULTURE I am opposed to crop control because, in my opinion, it is unworkable. Acreage control plans are too easily upset by wars and drouths. Crops can't be controlled because Nature has a way of her own which we know nothing about and perhaps never will. For that reason I BELIEVE IN A COST-OF-PRODUCTION PROGRAM WITH AN EXPORTING PLAN FOR FARM SURPLUSES. If we can set a minimum figure for wages we can also fix minimum prices for farm products.

Congressman Luecke introduced a resolution, which was adopted, designating October 11 of each year a national holiday in honor of the great Polish-American patriot, Casimir Pulaski.

INSTALL LARGE FEED GRINDER AT CO-OPS.

Equipment Will Allow Preparation of Farm Bureau Mashes

An extensive program of improvements has been started and is now progressing rapidly at the Charlevoix Co-Op. Co. warehouse on Ferry avenue.

A new, large feed grinder is being installed. This equipment will allow for preparation at the warehouse of the well known Farm Bureau mashes, formerly shipped in. A new concrete loading platform, located at the south end of the building, is being constructed.

The Co-Ops. Co., recently was taken under financial control by the Michigan Farm Bureau Service with Fred Willis as manager.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH RECTOR RETIRES NOVEMBER 1

The Rev. Edward S. Doan, rector of Emanuel Episcopal church at Petoskey, and of the Christ Episcopal church in this city for many years, preached his last sermon as an active pastor last Sunday.

After 43 years in the ministry, the Rev. Doan will retire on November 1 and take up residence in Grand Rapids.

Joan Davis is Now Champ Goal-Kicker

The transformation of Joan Davis from a football innocent who "couldn't even punt a peanut across a flower bed" to a champion drop-kicker surprised no one on the 20th Century-Fox lot more than the ace comedienne herself.

When Joan was assigned the role of a female fullback in the new 20th Century-Fox picture, "Hold That Co-ed," opening Saturday, October 30 at the Palace Theatre, Director George Marshall found she had never been nearer the gridiron than a date with a quarterback.

Grid Film Cast Topped by Howard and Carlisle

With John Howard, Mary Carlisle and Robert Cummings playing the chief roles, Paramount's sensational new gridiron romance, "Touchdown, Army," boasts a cast of youthful luminaries seldom equalled in a football drama! This picture of romantic rivalry and gridiron heroism at West Point will have its local opening next Tuesday, November 1, at the Palace Theatre.

CITY OF CHARLEVOIX
By Ray S. Hamilton, City Clerk

LANSING LETTER

Michigan has a post of the American Legion. World war veterans who are united in unyielding opposition to subversive isms.

At the state capitol hundreds of Legionnaires were employed at Oldsmobile, Reo and Briggs plants when the sit-down epidemic hit the town. Hence it is not surprising to relate that every move of Communist agitators, who had bored into the CIO ranks, was known within 24 hours to Legion leaders.

The Law and Order League was formed to mobilize public opinion in support of law enforcement.

The row in the ranks of the UAW was precipitated, according to Homer Martin, its national president, by Martin's determination to purge the union of communist influences. And so the jig-saw puzzle of history begins to fit together.

Tax Increase

From the office of Budget Director Harold Smith has come the long-awaited analysis of Michigan state finances for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1938.

Despite a $2,000,000 decrease in the sales tax, the state collected $4,500,000 more taxes than in the year before. The deficit was $8,741,487.

The state paid out an over-all total of 223 millions of which local governments got 96 millions. Here is where the money went:

For Highways—$54,998,437.

For Education—$54,238,952.

For Welfare—$38,309,854.

For general expenses of the state government—$5,554,309.

For health and hospital services—$14,418,365.

For prisons, probation and parole—$3,179,893.

For conservation and agriculture—$3,304,301.

For business and professional regulation—$3,749,622.

For public safety and defense—$1,607,009.

For general aid to local governments—$4,811,256.

For interest on debt—$6,239,039.

Approximately 275,000 persons in Michigan have been receiving jobless compensation checks from the state unemployment compensation commission out of quarterly taxes paid by 16,000 employers.

The scope of this phase of the social security setup is fairly breathtaking. Up to October 14, a total of 1,643,000 checks had been made out and mailed to beneficiaries for an average weekly amount of $14.54.

Employers' taxes for the quarter ending October 1 will bring nearly $10,000,000 into the state fund which is expected to be restored to the $50,000,000 mark.

Clarence "Buster" Bartlett, caretaker of the Charlevoix anto camp, is all "het" up, and rightly so too, about the youngsters using the electric light bulbs at the camp as targets for rifle and air gun practice. There's nothing quite so dangerous as a gun of any kind in the hands of a kid. They will probably be minus a gun if officers who are looking for them catch the guilty parties.

Many Charlevoixans got a great kick out of n Palace Theater short subject Saturday night showing the Logan Thomson yacht Sylvin at her winter mooring at Miami Beach, Fla. This beautiful yncht, which lists Charlevoix as its home port, was shown among hundreds of others in a beach scene. Nice bit of publicity in view of its nation-wide showing, we'ed say, and all goes to show that a few thousand miles more or less doesn't mean much in the modern nge we live in.

MICHIGAN THIRD IN DUCK STAMP BUYERS

Ranks Only Below States of Minnesota and Wisconsin

Michigan was third largest buyer of duck stamps this year, according to statistics received by the department of conservation from the United States department of agriculture.

Total sales for the country established a new high record of 783,039 with returns only partially tabulated. This figure surpasses the previous high in 1934-35 by almost 150,000.

Minnesota and Wisconsin were the only two states to show a larger sale than Michigan. Next in order after Michigan came California, Illinois, Texas and Washington.

Approximately 90 percent of the proceeds received from the sale of the duck stamps is used by the U. S. bureau of biological survey in acquiring and maintaining refuges for migntory birds nnd other wildlife.

W. H. WALLACE PROVIDING NEW SERVICE

Takes Over Distribution aod Servicing of Oil Burners

Michigan now ranks as one of the largest oil producing states in America. Oil refineries are being built in strategic points so that the citizens of Michigan will have available at a low cost the products they produce.

The drastic drop in burner oil prices will make available to Northern Michigan a new service and a new comfort at a minimom expense, and with this price drop, giving Charlevoix the lowest level in years, comes the announcement that W. H. Wallace, well known local oil station operator, has made arrangements to handle the Williams Oil-O-Matic Heating Products, the largest producers of oil-burning appliances in the world. He has sent his son, Louis Wallace, to a school to be completely instructed in the technical and scientific methods of installing and servicing all makes of oil burners. This new service will be available tu Charlevoix in a short time.

The oil-burning method of heating has long been known to be the most perfect. With its automatic thermostat, the house is kept at an even temperature at all times by the mere pressing of a button. Oil heating makes unnecessary redecorating in the spring after a hard winter; there is no ashes to be removed weekly or to be hauled nway in the spring. In fact, another liveuble room is added to the home.

Inasmuch as Mr. Wallace is primarily in the petroleum business, the services and heating nppliances will be sold at n minimum. Further announcement will be made through advertising shortly.—Advertisement.

Charlevoix Needs a New CITY HALL and FIRE STATION!

After careful consideration, your City Council has voted to place before tax payers a proposal to bond for $36,000 to finance this needed improvement. A Federal grant of $29,000 is available for such a project if approved.

Charlevoix has never had centralized city offices. Various city officials are scattered about in rented office space. Such a policy is expensive and hinders the efficient performance of the officers' duties.

As a resort city, Charlevoix should maintain city offices in keeping with their surroundings.

The city has owned a site for the building for many years and now has an opportunity to obtain government assistance to erect a fine community building.

In addition to construction of a building designed to house all city offices, a fire station and quarters for the attendant, a much needed community room, etc., the cost estimates include complete equipment.

Such a building project is almost entirely one of labor, providing winter employment for many local workmen at top wages as required by PWA regulations. Local labor must be used by the successful contractor on these PWA projects. The only requirement for the men seeking employment to meet is that they register with the Michigan Unemployment Service at the City Superintendent's office in this city. They will be drawn from these rolls. They need not be on relief to obtain this work.

4 PROPOSALS ON NOVEMBER BALLOT

ASK VOTERS TO EXTEND TERM OF COUNTY OFFICERS

Other Amendments Deal With Road Funds, Supreme Court and Reorganization Welfare Set-Up

Voters at the November 8 polls will be asked to pass on three proposed amendments to the state constitution, and to say whether Act No. 257, known as the Welfare Reorganization Act, and passed by the 1937 state legislature, shall be put into effect.

The three amendments would, if adopted:

(1) Provide for a four-year term of office for county clerks, registers of deeds, prosecuting attorneys, sheriffs and treasurers, and permit the county board of supervisors, if it so desires, to unite the offices of county clerk and register of deeds in one office or separate them at pleasure;

(2) Provide for the non-partisan nomination and appointment of supreme court justices for an eight-year term;

(3) Guarantee that gasoline and motor vehicle license plate taxes paid by motorists will be used for highways, roads and streets.

Affects Present Nominees

Amendment No. 1 to provide county officers with four-year instead of two-year terms, will, if adopted, affect the officers to be elected at the coming November 8 election. This amendment will also provide that the sheriff shall hold no other office, and that the county shall never be responsible for his acts.

Amendment No. 2, designed, according to its sponsors, "to take the supreme court out of politics" provides for appointment of all future justices of the supreme court, when vacancies occur, by the governor, "upon nomination by the judiciary commission." The judiciary commission shall consist of a justice of the supreme court, elected by the justices of that court, a circuit judge elected by the judges of the circuit courts, a probate judge elected by the judges of the probate courts, three electors of the state not licensed to practice law therein appointed by the governor, and three members of the bar of the state appointed by the commissioners of the state bar of Michigan. Members of the commission shall serve without compensation except as to actual expenses."

Amendment No. 3, known as the Good Roads Amendment, is designed to prevent diversion of gasoline and weight tax for any other purpose than that of highway, road and street construction and upkeep, including the payment of public debts incurred for those purposes.

Welfare Referendum

Proposal No. 4, the referendum on Act No. 257 of the Public Acts of 1937, is included in the ballot to determine whether or not Michigan citizens wish the act to remain a law. The act provides for the transfer of the administration of certain state public welfare and relief matters, services and duties to a "state department of public assistance" created by the act, and for the abolishment of the various state departments, boards, commissions and offices so transferred, putting most of the administration of welfare and relief in the hands of the separate counties. A thorough discussion of this act was given recently by Sen. D. Hale Brake before the Charlevoix Kiwanis club.

SEEK TO LIBERALIZE 15 MILL TAX LIMIT

Movement in Behalf of School Districts Needing New Buildings

A state wide effort to liberalize the fifteen mill tax limitation as it applies to school districts got under way in Lansing Wednesday. The meeting was called by the Garden City Board of Education.

Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of public instruction, said the movement was in behalf of districts that need new buildings. At the present time a public debt commission ruling, based on the supreme court interpretation of the amendment, requires a two-thirds vote to approve a levy in excess of the fifteen mills.

Also, the debt contracted for building must be retired over a five-year period.

"This policy of the public debt commission is correct and in line with the supreme court decision or the law," said Elliott. "Five years, however, is too short a time to finance a building that will be used fifty to seventy-five years. I feel ten to fifteen years should be permitted and that a majority of voters should be enough to carry the issue."

Elliott said a constitutional amendment would be required to bring about the changes he sees as necessary. The school men voted to support his views and appointed a committee that will work with C. H. Runciman of Lowell, president of the Michigan Association School Board Members.

H. Franklin Donner of Garden City, who called the session, was made chairman of the committee. Other members are J. W. Stallard of Inkster, Arthur Valade of River Rouge, Harley L. Hills of Flint, and Arch Marshall of Bear Lake.

The committee also proposes to take action to guarantee school districts the full amount of funds appropriated by the legislature.

GAYLORD PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION HOLDS ESSAY CONTEST

This contest will be open to wives and daughters over 18 years of age of P. C. A. members and will cover the subject "What We like About P. C. A. Credit", containing from 200 to 400 words. Prizes will be awarded to the three best essays as follows: First prize $5.00; second prize $3.00; third prize $2.00. These prizes will be given at the annual meeting of the stockholders to be held on November 2nd, 1938, at the Gaylord auditorium.

All essays must be mailed before midnight, October 30th. The essays will become the property of the association with authority to publish. The decision of the judges will be final.

FINDS WHY HOMES HAVE DAMP WALLS

U. S. Government Says Vapor Barrier Will Stop Formation of Winter Dew.

The reason so many new homes embodying the latest types of construction have damp walls and top-floor ceilings during cold weather has been discovered by the United States Forest Producta Laboratory at Madison, Wis.

The trouble, according to L. V. Teesdale, the Laboratory'a senior engineer, is dew, that beneficent friend of growing things. Nature is unable lo distinguish between wanted and unwanted moisture. Finding conditions favorable, she has been using outer walls nnd top floor ceilings to condense water vapor into troublesome moisture.

Because moisture in walls often rots woodwork, causes paint to peel and plaster to fall, and stimulates the growth of fungi, the government's findings are of major importance to home owners, architects and builders.

According to the government, the remedy for wet walls is a vapor seal or barrier in the warm parts of outer walls and ceilings. This prevents the water vapor in a house from entering the cold parts of walls and ceilings where it mny be condensed into water.

Oddly, damp walls are aggravated by the most modern types of construction, Mr. Teesdale points out. He says that storm sash, insulation, weather strips and calking around windows and doors make the normal humidity or vapor pressure within a house higher than in one less tightly constructed. He adds that "improvements that add to comfort and health are worth while and should not be discouraged, but it so hnppens that they introduce the unanticipated moisture problem."

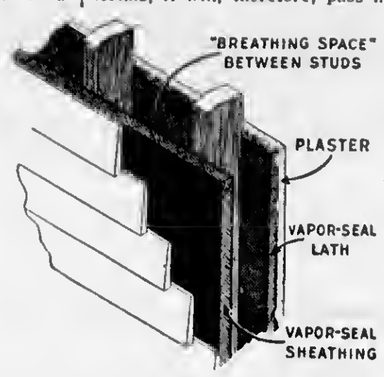
The physical phenomena which cause damp walls and ceilings in cold weather are explained by the government scientist.

All air contains water vapor. Warm air can carry more vapor than cold air. When moist warm air is sufficiently chilled, it will throw off some nf its vapor in the form of water. This is dew. As water vapor will penetrate ordinary plaster and untreated insulating materials, it will, therefore, pass into the interiors of walls and ceilings, where in cold weather it will become sufficiently chilled for some of the vapor to condense into water. This condensation may take place within a building or insulating material, unless remedial action is taken.

The remedy is given in the government's report. It says:

"The most positive, and least expensive, method of control so far experimented with at the Forest Products Laboratory is the use of vapor resistant barriers near the inner face of the wall and under ceiling joists under the attic."

New building materiala which follow the government's suggestion have been provided. A new cane fiber lath is vapor sealed on one side with coatings of asphalt and aluminum powder, the uncoated side having a texture to take plaster. The seal, in line with the government's findings, is placed in the warm side of the walls and ceilings where it resists vapor penetration to the cold nreas where condensation takes place. Although combining insulntion and resistance to vapor, the new product does not block the space between studs and permit walls to continue their normal "breathing."



Engineers have found:

1—Moisture which condenses in walls and top-floor ceilings comes from within the house, not from outside.

2—The simplest, surest way to prevent this condensation is by means of a properly located "vapor seal."

3—To be effective, this seal must be located on or near the warm side of the insulation itself or near the warm side of the wall.

EDITORIAL

IT'S IN THE AIR

Alfred P. Sloan, speaking in Detroit at the Cadillac, LaSalle banquet Tuesday, October 11, said:

"For the first time in many years I am encouraged on the long pull. The country is undergoing a change in mind. If the fall elections indicate things have got to be changed, it is sure to have an important effect. We will find a more practical and sympathetic attitude toward business."

This is a remarkable statement from a man who heads one of the largest corporations in America. It indicates clearly that a change of mind is absolutely necessary before we can expect a return of a normal prosperity which should have followed the 1932 depression some long years ago. It also indicates it is absolutely necessary that the vote of the country must be preponderantly Republican if we are going to have a return of prosperity. The proof is in the pudding. Government perpetually harrassing business has shown us exactly what the returns from that attitude are, and now the public is demanding a change. It's in the air. Everybody feels it everywhere. And it is about time. Boondoggling, experimenting, wasteful tax spending, and cruel injustices heaped one upon another have reaped their rewards.

It is fortunate indeed that we are realizing the fallacy of these beliefs while there is still time to correct our errors of judgment.

Whenever you get dissatisfied with conditions in the United States, just remember that our children are still playing without gas masks tied around their waists.

WRITTEN IN BLOOD

We see that the present governor wanted to debate Mr. Fitzgerald about the course of action he took during the first sit-down strike epidemic here in Michigan. You remember—the one that started this method of illegal seizure all over the United States. Well, his proposal gave us quite a bang. It sorta sounded like the naughty boy who knew he hadn't done what he oughter and then wanted to keep on talking about it in order to clear his conscience. Mr. Fitzgerald was right in snubbing the governor's grandiose gesture to debate this issue. The record has been written. And though the governor claims, not in blood, we differ with him, for we know of many heads that were bashed in and people hurt all over the country because he did not have the nerve to crack down on the first illegal squatters when they needed it and had it coming to them.

It's too late now, Mr. Murphy. Your ticket is up and by the looks of things you won't be around to man the helm for the people of the good state of Michigan much longer. Enough is enough.

Some of us believe that we aren't going to get any prison reform worthy the name until we induce a better class of criminals to patronize our jails.

PLAINLY SPEAKING

Many of the teachings and theories of Communism express brotherly love idealism so contrary to the practice of Communism that many people say, "There is nothing to fight. It's like striking at a ghost—it's there and it isn't." There is also the contention that talking about a thing merely advertises it. People are told Communism's ideals and they like them. They would like a state where true Christianity — true brotherly-love rules.

But what happens in the practice of Communism? Love turns to hate; freedom to slavery; leadership to imprisonment and death; "planned economy" to starvation. Want, slavery, cruelty, sorrow, these are the Communists' real donation to those who would prefer it to our democracy!

The investigation of the Dies Committee should be carefully studied and considered by everyone loving democracy. As Mr. Lippman so aptly put it—"Unless democracy is to commit suicide by consenting to its own destruction, it will have to find some formidable answer to those who come to it saying: 'I demand from you in the name of your principles the rights which I shall deny to you later in the name of my principles'."

The Smithsonian Institution says that the entire United States will be covered by glaciers a million years from now. That will be an excellent way to get rid of the national debt, if we can wait that long.

RED CORPUSCLES

"The promises men live by" are the heart blood of democracy. So let us look at some of our promises and how we keep them.

"To love, honor and obey — 'til death do us part" solemnly pledged in the sight of God is broken by 17 couples out of every 100. That's the approximate divorce rate in democratic America.

Next we have the promise of men in high office to balance the budget. What happens? You probably know the figures even better than the writer!

Then there are the promises in the daily exchange of business and service. The honorable discharge of a man's word sustains all business life. A moratorium here, another there, and that permanent moratorium-moral bankruptcy, are ever-increasing tolls upon our democracy and our national stability.

From laborers—to politicians—to statesmen—to judges—promises are increasingly made without moral substance and integrity. Many are made as "the easy way out" with no intention of keeping them at the time they are given.

How long can democracy survive if its heart blood has a bad case of anemia?

This is the first time in 103 years our state government has been directed from Washington. Vote Republican November 8th.

AROUND THE CORNER

Four years ago prosperity was "just around the corner." For the last two years little or no mention has been made of that corner. But in the last six months a few people have been wondering where "just around the corner" is.

A western newspaper now thinks it has found the location. It says: "With spending, lending, and taxes, the corner for most of us will be found along our return journey to common sense."

And what a corner it will be for some of us to round, especially those who still believe prosperity can be purchased by the government, instead of being paid for by individual labor and thrift.—By Frank B. Croig.

WHO WANTS WHEAT?

The farm plan is also in trouble about wheat. Unlike cotton it has not lost its foreign market, providing the price can be made cheap enough abroad. So, just because it is the cheapest way out, the government proposes to subsidize foreign wheat shipments, and pocket the loss. The foreigners will then buy the wheat cheaper than the price in the domestic market.

Something like 225,000 persons were reported missing in this country last year. Well, that's one way of evading the tax collector.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON OFF

By WILLIS BRINDLEY

Copyright.—WNU Service.

IT WAS spring.

The bobolinks were boboling; the boarding house keepers had begun to substitute rhubarb for prunes; corner dairy lunches featured, for fifteen cents a hunk, concoctions composed of twin slabs of cake, saccharinely plastered and topped with three halved strawberries; Bessie Button of the office force of the Ne Plus Ultra Washing Machine corporation had a new hat with flowers on it and had made a deposit on a spring suit.

But the heart of Bessie Button did not sing in harmony with the glad note of the bobolink; the breakfast rhubarb tasted sour; the synthetic shortcake held for her no gustatory charm, and the flowered hat, reflected in a dark-draped shop window, seemed to her a tawdry thing.

For this was Wednesday, and on Saturday there would be the annual picnic and dance of the Columbia Pleasure club at Fortuna park, and Bessie Button could not go.

True, nobody had asked her, but, equally true, plenty would, perhaps even Harvey Overland. For four days now she had kept other young men away to give Harvey Overland a free field, because, other things being equal, it is nicer to go to a picnic and dance in a wire-wheeled, balloon-tired business coupe alone with one young man than in a bumpy bus with many young men and their companions.

There have been cases, authentically verified cases, where paying tellers like Harvey Overland have actually—on the way home—suggested a new hat and suit—

"He just won't stand for it," Hattie Anderson broke in on Bessie's dream. "We went to see him, a committee, just after he saw that big order Joe Steele sent in, and he just wouldn't stand for it. We told him here was spring and all, and the other companies all give Saturday afternoon off, and he just smiled and shook his head, and then he made a big speech, all about his struggles to make the Ne Plus Ultra leader in the washing machine business, and how he had made a concession by giving half the force the afternoon off each Saturday and that ought to be enough and—oh, well, it's my afternoon off, and Peter Hummiger asked me."

"It's mine on."

"Maybe you can switch with somebody."

But Bessie Button shook her head. "Fat chance when the Columbia Pleasure club's annual is on. Anyway, I owe two Saturdays already."

She tackled her invoices then. Even in a cruel world one must work. Of course, if Harvey Overland didn't ask her, it wouldn't be so bad, but if he did—

She answered the ring of the telephone at her elbow with a sad good morning. Mr. Greer, general manager of the Ne Plus Ultra, appeared suddenly at her side. Mr. Greer did not approve of telephone conversations during office hours. Oh, she should bother!

"Oh, not very well," said Bessie Button into the receiver, and then, "Oh, I don't know—. You're quite a kidder, aren't you?— . . . well, you haven't tried so much lately— . . . well, I've picked one out— . . ."

Mr. Greer squirmed and coughed, but what he heard next was not the idle drone, but staccato, crescendo:

"Thank you, Mr. Overland, but it will be impossible for me to go with you on Saturday afternoon, because I can't get the afternoon off—Yes, lunch will be all right, but there is absolutely no chance for Saturday afternoon. Goo'-by."

Mr. Greer coughed, and this time she turned to him.

"Is it so very important?" asked Mr. Greer.

"Very," said Bessie Button, "here's that big invoice."

Mr. Greer took the big invoice and left with no further word. Miss Button, very angry, tackled another invoice, and a second and third, but as she worked she thought, not of invoices, but of Saturday afternoon off, and Mr. Greer. And it came over her finally that Mr. Greer was probably not exactly happy in the stand he had taken with reference to Saturday afternoon off. Not that she forgave him at all, but just the same, a man in his position—

"Going to the industrial exposition," Mr. Greer's voice sounded clear above the clack of typewriters. "Be there the rest of the day."

Bessie Button's forehead puckered, and then she smiled and slipped another invoice form into her typewriter.

It was the practice of Mr. Greer, whenever a Ne Plus Ultra machine was engaged in a public demonstration, to mingle incognito with the interested crowd that always stood before the display booth, and from chance remarks he frequently picked up selling pointers, or learned of small objections to the machine which could be overcome by a slight change in its design.

Upon this particular afternoon he was attracted by a single man, a young man, who stood on the fringe of the crowd, watching the machine from the vantage of his six feet two. He was a prosperous-looking youngster in a fawn-colored hat and spring overcoat, and Mr. Greer sidled up to him and engaged him in wileful conversation.

"Looks like quite a machine," ventured the incognito manager.

"It is," said the young man. "I know something about mechanics, and this really is a good machine. Good management, too—that man Greer's a wonder."

Mr. Greer looked around, and satisfying himself that he was among strangers, angled for a personal tribute.

"Do you know Greer? What kind of a man is he?"

"No, I don't know him personally, but I've heard a good deal about him. Fine man, big man in the business, progressive and honest, but—"

He paused.

"But what?"

"Well, just a little old-fashioned about some things. Takes a constitutional before breakfast, instead of playing golf, keeps half his force every Saturday afternoon—just little things like that. Well, I've got to be getting on."

Mr. Greer flushed. It had not been quite so pleasant as he had expected. He wondered if he were really getting a bit old-fashioned. Time, perhaps, to switch from the ready-mades to an avenue tailor. Maybe he had better try golf since everybody else was doing it, and he would be bound to make congenial acquaintances. It would mean, of course, that he would have to take Saturday afternoon off, and it would be hard to keep the force at work, even half of them, in the face of this example. But take it all in all—

He appeared at the office suddenly, just at closing time, and called the force into his office.

"I have decided to change my ruling regarding Saturday afternoon off. During the summer months, and perhaps also during the winter if it works out all right, we will close at noon on Saturday, provided only that all work is up to date at closing time."

* * *

It was spring.

The bobolinks were boboling.

Bessie Button, stuffed with synthetic shortcake, attired in a new spring suit, a flowered hat above her bobbed head, stood at the curb beside the office of the Ne Plus Ultra Washing Machine corporation. Mr. Greer, general manager of the Ne Plus Ultra, emerged from the office toting golf sticks in a new bag, and then stood beside her, craning up the street to see if his automobile was coming. Bessie Button craned likewise, and hers came first. It was a wire-wheeled, balloon-tired business coupe, and the young man who pulled up at the curb and climbed out wore a fawn-colored overcoat and fawn-colored hat, which latter he doffed as he assisted Miss Button into the car.

And then, for the first time, he seemed to notice Mr. Greer.

"Well, well, we meet again," he said heartily. "Taking up golf, I see. Great stuff when you have Saturday afternoons off."

He let her into low then and the car moved on smoothly, and Mr. Greer, on the curb, saw, through the rear windows of the coupe, the neatly clad shoulders of a young woman which quite evidently shook to the tempo of a delighted giggle.

CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR

The Detroit Times, which has always been a supporter of Frank Murphy, has broken away from him. In an editorial in its edition of September 15, it analyzed both candidates for governor and then comes the following conclusion:

"This newspaper believes, however, that he (Frank Murphy) faltered in the major crisis of his administration.

"That was the epidemic of illegal sitdown strikes which swept Michigan early in 1937. These outbreaks constituted a direct and wanton challenge to law and order. Failure promptly to accept the challenge cannot be condoned. It reveals in Frank Murphy's makeup a lack of the qualities essential to leadership as great as Michigan.

"Frank Fitzgerald was a level-headed governor. His administration was unspectacular. It was based on the common-sense theory that running the State of Michigan is like running a tremendous business. He ran it just that way—as efficiently and economically as possible.

"And Michigan voters approved his conduct as governor so highly, that in the election two years ago they gave him more votes than any previous Michigan governor ever had received, and this in the face of a crushing Roosevelt landslide.

"In these troubled times it is imperative that industrial peace prevail. A governor possessing equally the respect of labor and employers can do a great deal to maintain such peace.

"Frank D. Fitzgerald appears to hold in a higher degree than Governor Murphy the regard of workers, employers and farmers.

"For the good of Michigan as a whole, he should be elected governor next November."—Newberry News.

South Michigan marshal placed this notice in the local paper: "I have been instructed to enforce the law against chickens running at large and riding bicycles on the sidewalks."—Exchange.

IF WAR COMES

The immediate reaction to the four-power conference plan which averted war was of course a relief as of a great pressure removed from one's chest.

But every day, as more and more analyses are made of the situation new shocks come to each of us.

Probably the most outstanding is the statement to the effect that for the first time the national leaders and satesmen realized that they and theirs were no more protected than the man in the front lines from the enemy's guns, his poison gas and destruction. Faced with war, the real significance of modern war dawned on us all. The civilian population is as subject to attack as the army.

That very important statement should make us all think hard on the subject of war and if war comes to America.

We can no longer act smugly thoughtless about the situation. Have you, therefore, asked your congressman how he stands on the Industrial Mobilization Plan? How he intends to vote on the bill to take the profits out of war—the same bill which will conscript all civilian population 16 years old and over, into military dictation? Do you, knowing the part the civilian population played and its cooperation in the last war approve of civilian conscription? Do you, in other words, wish our congress to abdicate all its power to the executive branch and all your democratic rights (including your rights in a civil court) in case of war? Do you want to turn our democracy into a dictatorship in order to fight a dictatorship-country?

If you approve a bill to take the "profits out of war" will you demand that the bill which congress shall consider shall appertain to war "profits" alone? And that the bill for civilian conscription be an entirely separate bill?

A democratic candidate who refuses to forfeit convictions in opposition to the administration, but who wishes success at the polls, is in a disagreeably tight place. He doesn't know how voters feel in regard to presidential policies, and he doesn't want to be penalized by administration spokesmen for doing his duty. Constituents will resent Washington interference if they know what is best for them.

RECOVERY

Politics and Hitler command the headlines. Purge has become a familiar word both here and in Europe. At first glance it would appear that nothing else is going on.

But the real news of the day is not on the front pages. You must leaf through to the financial section. Here, not in big black type, but in small items is the important story. It is this: Business Is Getting Better.

This means more than anything else to America. It means that Americans who want to work may be getting jobs before long. It means that the small town merchant shortly will be selling more goods. It means that people will have more money to buy what the farmer has to sell.

And why is business getting better? There are dozens of answers offered to the question. But the best answer is that nobody knows. The richest nation in the world, populated by the most industrious people in the world, is getting back to normalcy of its own accord.

Even government economists admit that except for its psychological effect, the pump-priming billions have had nothing to do with business recovery. Six to eight months from now when the pump-priming billions do get in circulation, economists worry over their effect on a recovering patient.

Thus, it is not a case of planned recovery. All the control laws and all the regulatory laws failed to prevent the business skid in 1937. And they are not responsible for the uptrend now. America is just coming back regardless. — Legal Courier, Detroit.

The habit of "knocking", in an individual, is just as much evidence of lack of power as it is in an automobile. It's merely noise without results. Keep your mind free from envy and your speech free from backbiting, just as you keep your car free from carbon.—Grit.

WE ACCEPT A NEW THEORY

We recall many times when we have argued for splitting votes in a general election. That was years ago before we had the opportunity to witness the inner workings of these same parties in primaries and in general elections. Our theory was based on the contention that the county offices and the city government offices played no particular political part in the major scheme of things, and therefore the men elected to these offices could be chosen on ability alone. The state government, too, was included in this list of mine, for I believed that even these men had no need to concern themselves so much with policy as with the job at hand. But, as we said before, we have changed this theory, and here is the reason why.

VOTE A STRAIGHT TICKET. The man who goes around telling you not to, must be doing so for a purpose, because he knows that the success of either major political party depends entirely upon the cogs in its machine which go to make up its whole organization. Naturally the men who are running for township office, for city office, or for state or national posts—all of them are out working to get votes for their party. It is the votes these men draw to the polls that are added together and make the vast totals in any election. They are the men who deserve your support, even if their jobs may seem unimportant. If you are a Republican or a Democrat, it should then be your absolute duty to support your whole party ticket. You cannot be either a good Republican or a good Democrat unless you do vote a straight ticket.

ALL YOUR CURIOSITY satisfied by Your Mileage Merchant... Ask him exactly how you're sure of fast winter starting and extreme oil economy by changing now to WINTER OIL-PLATING

IS OIL-PLATING just a different name? ... No. OIL-PLATING is what Conoco Germ Processed oil does! The out-and-out difference is this: OIL-PLATING will stay firmly attached—plated—clear to the topmost point in your engine, while any plain mineral oil drains clear down the crankcase at every stop.

Exactly where is your gain? Well, in starting up again—next day or next month—the coldest OIL-PLATED engine is always oiled in advance... prelubricated before any oil down in the crankcase could ever stir. OIL-PLATING thus keeps every engine part constantly slippy. The starter speeds... the battery lives and so does the engine, free of fierce starting friction.

But is there any oil saving? Why?... Because less engine wear puts more miles between quarts. And OIL-PLATING itself never passes out during the use of Germ Processed oil. Only the Germ Process, patented, creates OIL-PLATING, the sensible reason for you to switch to Your Mileage Merchant today.

C. S. WEBSTER HEAD COMMERCE GROUP

CHOSEN PRESIDENT AT ANNUAL MEETING THURSDAY

O. P. North Named Vice-President; Will Bellinger, Clarence Wood Chosen as Directors

Clair S. Webster was eleeted president uf the Charlevoix Board of Commerce at the annual meeting last Thursday night. He suceeeds Leo W. Carey.

Oseur P. North was chosen vice-president and directors named for three years were Will Bellinger, to suceeed himself, and Clarence N. Wood, succeeding O. P. North. Other directors are Harold Hallett, William Fessenden, E. J. Edwards and Clarence B. Meggison.

Following the election, a general discussion of subjects pertinent to the organization's uctivities was held. Mayor Robert Bridge asked cooperation in settling the north side bathing bench proposition, citing difficulties the city council confronted following closing of the Lake Charlevoix beuch in front of the Pere Marquette depot by present owners of The Inn hotel. Action to obtnin this site through porchuse or lease will be taken at once, otherwise the city council will probably utilize municipully-owner water frontuge adjoining the 9th hole of the Charlevoix Golf Club course for bathing bench development as a means of satisfying the desires and promises mude the north side summer coluny.

City Superintendent Don F. Herrick spoke briefly. He told the gathering Charlevoix was one of the most beantiful recreation spots he hnd ever seen and the finest he hnd ever had the privilege of living in. He urged Charlevoixans to a greater degree of community boosting.

Mr. Webster, who will head the organization's efforts during the ensuing year, pledged his efforts to continuing the flne work now in progress.

KIWANIS CONCLUDED CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS

"White Elephant" Sale Raised Nice Sum for Club's Benevolences

Saturday night's auction sale brought to a close another successful "White Elephant" sale sponsored by the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club to raise funds for its benevolent activities.

Over two hundred dollars was derived from the sale. This sum defrays the expense of parties for the children during the Halloween season and activities during the Christmas season.

The Kiwanis officers and committee members in charge of the event extend their gratitude to the public for the fine cooperation and support given them.

COUNTY GIVEN FUNDS FOR ITS SNOW REMOVAL

The atate highway department this week sent vouchers totalling $200,000 to Harold D. Smith, state budget director, for payment to 41 northern Michigan counties to assist them in snow removal activities.

Charlevoix county was allotted $4,178.08.

MORE HUNT AREAS OPENED THIS YEAR

DEER HUNTERS TO HAVE ADDITIONAL TERRITORY

Peaine Township on Beaver Island Opeo to Hunters — St. James Township Romains Closed

Additional hunting ground will be available to deer stalkers this fall through the opening of certain areas previously forbidden land within the boundaries of game refuges and the opening of most of Beaver Island.

At the same time, bear hunters will be barred from previously open territory — on Keweenaw peninsula, north of Portage canal.

Two game refuges—Molasses River and Lunden—have been reduced in size, the boundaries of both being shrunk and land on the outside which was inside the old boundaries being thrown open to hunting.

All of the Gladwin game refuge has been opened to deer hunting, while the Iosco refoge has been abolished.

In each instance, increase of game in the areas prompted the boundary changes and reduction of refuge territory, which were upproved by the state conservation commission at its meeting this month on the recommendation of the game division.

All of Beaver Island except St. James township also will be open to deer hunters for the first time in several years. St. James township, which includes all of the islands in the Beaver Island group lying around the north end, was kept closed in response to petitions of local residents who declared the presence of the deer as a tourist attraction was more valuable than their presence as game. The Beaver Island opening order was given by the conservation commission following investigations by the game division which disclosed that the number of deer on the island had increased sufficiently to warrant hunting.

As in the case of the ban for St. James township on Beaver Island, local sentiment explains the reason for giving protection to bear in the northern part of the Kewcenaw peninsula. The bear are regarded as an important attraction for tourists.

"TURKEY SHOOT" IS SCHEDULED SUNDAY

Many local sportsmen are planning to get their "shooting eye" in trim for the deer season at the annual American Legion turkey shoot scheduled for Sunday, November 6.

The Legion members are setting up two ranges at Mt. McSauby, one for high-powered rifles and one for .22-ealiher rifles. Sportsmen using high-powered rifles are requested to bring their own guns.

The event proved a very popular one last year and even a larger attendance of both men and women is expected next Sunday.

DEER FAR FROM BEING MUTE CREATURES

Contrary to the belief of many casual hunters deer are not mute creatures. They have a number of different sounds which they use for different occasions. They whistle, snort, bleat and squeak.

HARBOR IS VICTOR OVER CHARLEVOIX

SCORED 6 TO 0 VICTORY HERE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Rayders Out-Played Throughout Contest—Close Season Against Gaylord Here This Week

Harbor Springs converted one of several scoring opportunities into a touchdown in the final period to defeat Charlevoix's Red Rayders 6 to 0 at south side athletic field Saturday afternoon.

It was the Rayders' fourth defeat in five starts and landed them in the cellar position in the northern Michigan "Little Eight" class C conference.

The contest was close as the score indicates. Neither team hnd an offense, but Harbor's was enough better to put Charlevoix in the position of being out-played throughout the contest. Harbor carried the game into Charlevoix territory for the most purt and scored after a 60-yard drive which sturted late in the third period and ended with a touchdown soon after the fourth opened. They were goal-ward bound in the final moments and probably the final whistle alone stupped another tally.

The touchdown drive started after a Charlevoix punt gave Harbor the ball on their own 40. Shepard, King and Bera alternated to Charlevoix's 21-yard line at the close of the third period. Starting the fourth quarter, Sheperd went to the Charlevoix 19, Bera to the 10, Sheperd to the 3 in two plays and Hanna plunged over. The kick for extra point was blocked. The goal ended the scoring.

Charlevoix's sixth and final contest is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at south side athletic field. Gaylord, with a team that has broken even in competition so far this season, will fornish the opposition.

NEXT TUESDAY IS GENERAL ELECTION

TEN PARTIES HAVE CANDIDATES ON BALLOT

Three Amendments, One Referendum, City Hall Proposal Come Beforo Charlevoix Voters

The November general elcction, elimaxing one of the most intensive campaigns between the Republican and Democratic political parties in Michigan, comes next Tuesday, November 8th.

Into the hands of voters of Michigan is placed the choice of continuing the present Democratic administration headed by Gov. Frank Murphy or a return to the Republican ranks under the banner of Ex-Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald. The first choice could he summed up as approving the "New Deal" as represented by Murphy, who has defended his policies in a most active campaign. The second choice, jodging from cumpaign attacks against Murphy, would end an era of "wild spending," weak labor policies which rtsulted in an epidemic of sit-down strikes, and otherwise unsatisfactory administration of Michigan governmental affairs through return to the Republican fold.

The 1938 hallot lists ten political parties, one more than in 1936, on a ballot approximately 22x27 inches in size. In addition to the Republican, Democratic parties, there are the Socialist, Socialist Labor, American, Commonwealth, Protestant United, Square Deal, Constitutional Democrats and American-Labor parties with incomplete slates. Another ballot, nearly as large, contains three amendments to the State Constitution and one referendum. Charlevoix voters will be handed a third ballot containing a special proposal to bond the city for $36,000 for the construction of a city hall and fire stution.

As far as party issues are concerned, Charlevoix voters will likely confine their interest to the Republican and Democratic candidutes and, unless precedent fails, will cast a decided Republican majority.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Kan Usher

The unseasonal warm weather of the past week has provided the customary fall stories of flowers blooming, the appearance of snakes, frogs, etc., and Charlevoix has been no exception in this regard. Grant Crandall last week picked a mess of garden peas, the second crop. Lee Sneathen reports hollyhocks in bloom at his farm residence in Hayes township and Mrs. Arthur Wexstaff picked a bunch of violets last Sunday near Pine Point. It has been truly wonderful weather—almost too good to believe. Warm, sunny days—here's to many more of them!

Wonder how many people saw the heavens light up brilliantly around 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening? This writer did. Was raking leaves in the back yard when all of a sudden the sky became brilliantly lighted. To the eastward a star burst into a bright white light, appeared to explode in many fragments of various colors which drifted off into space and disappeared. It was a beautiful sight and the thought of it makes one wonder what there is out there in space, anyway.

Next Tuesday Charlevoix taxpayers will have an opportunity to provide another progressive step in city advancement. We refer to the special ballot to bond for $36,000 to finance a sorely-needed city hall which may now be had with the federal government paying 45% of the cost. We might venture to say that all civic-minded citizens will vote "Yes."

It's practically all over except for the shouting.

Which is to say that political observers here figure that the average Michigan voter has made up his or her mind about preferred nominees for public office and that the huh-duh of excitement between now and November 8 won't change many votes.

Heavy registrations throughout the state point to an unusual interest in the ballot outcome. This, in itself, is a healthy sign for democratic government. Watch for a record vote next week.

IS MICHIGAN HEADED for BANKRUPTCY?

LET'S CONSIDER THE FACTS

(1) State payrolls increased more than $9,000,000 in 18 months — the greatest boost of tax-supported wages in Michigan history. Lack of building space at Lansing for Murphy's job army has even forced several agencies to move to Detroit.

(2) Steadify mounting deficit in the state treasury. On January 1, 1937, the treasury had a cash bafance of $8,775,000. On June 30, 1938 — 18 months later, the officially admitted deficit was $8,741,487 — making a red ink total on June 30, of $17,000,000 UPWARD. And this does not include, in any way, the millions appropriated by the legislature at the special session in August for welfare needs. TODAY the Murphy deficit is somewhere between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000, and mounting every day!

What are YOU going to do about it? Old Age pensions have been reduced because tax money has been squandered! Wouldn't it be better for the unemployed to have adequate state funds for their needs, and what is more important, honest-to-goodness jobs in industry and business?

Restore Sound Government to Michigan! Restore business confidence by the American way! Michigan workers are not satisfied with only the Dole, they are entitled to real jobs.

USED STUFFED PHEASANT FOOL HUNTERS

Farmer Gets "Kick" as Motorists Take Pot-Shot at Dummy Bird

A farmer living near Hastings who believes that his name had better be withheld reports that he had 47 laughs on hunters this pheasant season.

Though a hunter himself and in full sympathy with fellow hunters who come out from the cities and towns to the farm lands, the Barry county farmer also has a sense of humor and indulged it generously with a stuffed pheasant. He shot the pheasant himself a year ago. At the start of this season he placed the stuffed bird in a prominent position near a building on his place.

Hunters coming along in an automobile and sighting what appeared to be an easy shot, would jam on their brakes, jump out and blaze away. The farmer counted 47 cars which stopped.

After a few days virtually all of the stuffing was knocked out of the stuffed pheasant.

The Fords Tell Their Plans for 1939

IF WE KNEW anything better we could do for the country than make good motnr cars, we would do it.

By every one doing his best in the job he thinks most useful, this country is going tn regain its momentum. We have tried to do our best in our job.

When business was suddenly halted in its recovery more than a year ago, we determined that we should keep going anyway, if not at full-volume motor car production, then at getting ready for greater motor car values that would help future production.

Henry and Edsel Ford, on the occasion of the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Ford Motor Company, June 16, 1938

EXPANDING FOR THE FUTURE

We began to build 34 million dollars' worth of new plants and equipment. We felt that if we could not employ all our men building motor cars, we would employ as many as we could building better production facilities.

We were told, of course, that this was no time for expansion, that a wiser business policy would be to "hold everything"—which means, stop everything. But no one ever got anywhere standing still.

Besides, we are not defeatists. We do not believe this country has seen its best days. We believe this country is yet in the infancy of its growth. We believe that every atom of faith invested in our Country and our People will be amply justified by the future. We believe America is just beginning. Never yet have our People seen real Prosperity. Never yet have we seen adequate Production. But we shall see it! That is the assurance in which we have built.

Business is not just coming back. It will have to be brought back. That is now becoming well understood in this country; for that reason 1939 will be a co-operative year. Manufacturers, sellers and buyers will co-operate to bring back the business that is waiting to be brought back.

This construction program is almost completed. It has increased activity and payrolls in a number of related industries. It has given us better facilities for building better cars and trucks, and eventually our new tractor which is being perfected.

THIS MEANS MORE VALUE

The current program has provided a new tire plant, which will turn out a part of our tire requirements . . . a new tool and die plant that will help us cut the cost of dies . . . and a steel-press plant that will enable us to make more of our own automobile bodies. These are in addition to the plants we already had for producing glass, iron, steel, plastics, and many other things.

We don't supply all our own needs, of course, and never expect to. The Ford engine is one thing that no one's hand touches but ours. Of nearly everything else we use we build some quantity ourselves, to find, if possible, better and more economical ways of doing it. The experience and knowledge we gain are freely shared with our suppliers, and with other industries.

We take no profit on anything we make for ourselves and sell to ourselves. Every operation, from the Ford ships which first bring iron ore to the Rouge, is figured at accurate cost. The only profit is on the finished result — the car or truck as it comes off the line. Some years, there is no profit for us. But we see to it that our customers always profit. A basic article of our business creed is that no sale is economically constructive unless it profits the buyer as much as or more than the seller.

Our new plants have helped us build more value into all our cars for 1939. That means more profit on the purchase to the purchaser.

We have not cut quality to reduce costs.

We simply will not build anything inferior.

NEW TESTING EQUIPMENT

While we were putting up new plants to produce cars, we constructed new equipment to test them. The first weather tunnel of its kind ever built for automobile research went into operation at our laboratories this year.

It makes any kind of weather to order. The weather it delivers every day would take months to find in Nature. Our cars are weather-tested to give you good service in any climate anywhere.

In other tests, every part of the car is punished unmercifully. Then our engineers tear it down to see if they can find abnormal wear or any sign of weakness.

The money we spend on tests saves you money on repairs. And your family car is safer and more dependable when we put it in your hands.

THE NEW CARS

We have two new Ford cars for 1939—better cars and better looking—but we also have an entirely new car.

It's called the Mercury 8. It fits into our line between the De Luxe Ford and the Lincoln-Zephyr. It is larger than the Ford, with 116-inch wheelbase, hydraulic brakes, and a new 95-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine.

We know that our 1939 cars are cars of good quality. We think they're fine values in their price classes.

With new cars, new plants, new equipment, the whole Ford organization is geared to go forward.

ROY RANGER BUILDS MARINE REPAIR SHOP

New Facilities for Boat Work Included in Improvement Program

Roy Ranger, long identified with marine activities here, has started an extensive program of improvements on his property on the south shore of Round lake.

A marine repair shop, a 2-story structure 22½x45 feet, is being built. The plans include a modern repair shop on the second floor and extension of the present marine railway into the interior of the building. A new and larger car will be built and future plans call for a second marine railway to handle outside loading and unloading of boats. At the rear of the shop a 2-stall garage is being built. Both buildings have concrete floors.

The old machine shop at the water front is to be torn down and the space utilized for boat storage. Other buildings on the property will also be removed.

NORTHERN CREAMERY INSTALLS ELECTRIC COOLER

First of Two New Modern Units In Use at Charlevoix Plant

A Nelson electric refrigeration unit, eliminating almost entirely the necessity of using natural ice, has been installed at the local branch of the Northern Creamery Co.

A large storage box has been set up in the old cooling room. The compressor unit is of sufficient capacity to handle another box of equal size which will be installed in the spring to handle the seasonal increase in business.

The improvement is a step toward modernization of the local plant in addition to providing better working conditions and more uniform refrigeration.

STATE FACES SERIOUS PROBLEMS WITH DEER

Will Plan Legislative Proposals at Commission Meeting Friday

Legislative matters, including proposals for solving the deer problem, will come before the state conservation commission Friday at Lansing, Conservation Director P. J. Hoffmaster announced today.

The question of what to do about deer destroying farm crops and facing starvation during the winter, long has been before the commission. This year special permits were issued to farmers to shoot any kind of deer which threatened crops.

The action brought storms of protests from sportsmen's associations, but conservation officials countered with proposals for reduction of the herd now numbering about 1,100,000. That would mean killing does and fawns.

Each year about 10,000 deer starve to death chiefly in the upper peninsula, but the herd continues to increase and it practically is impossible to keep the animals from eating farm crops.

The Michigan United Conservation Clubs is sponsoring a campaign to gain support for legislation that will permit the conservation commission not only to fix the seasons, but also the bag limit.

Club members say that the legislature should delegate the control it now has over seasons and limits to the conservation commission which in turn, could change seasons or limits, thereby eliminating the necessity for special permits and reducing the herd where thinning is needed most.

The commission is scheduled to consider resubmission to the legislature of the water bill, defeated by two votes in 1937 by the senate. The bill authorized the stream control commission to designate navigable streams for which the conservation department would revise rules and regulations.

The department now only has authority over fishing and movement of fish and ordinarily cannot contest action of a county board of supervisors regarding a stream.

The commission also is expected to study proposals for a bounty on bobcats in the upper peninsula, to pass on its budget and to consider proposals for closing certain waters to commercial fishing.

TRAPPING SEASON OPEN NOVEMBER 1

Most of the above species which may be both hunted and trapped are taken by trapping rather than by hunting.

The deadline by which time all hunters are required to make their reports to the game division is February 15. Information tabulated from the report cards is assembled by the game division to give an accurate summary of hunting and game conditions in the state, upon which proper game management practices may be based. The same law, which was enacted by the last state legislature, also applies to deer and bear hunters, and to all trappers.

MUSKEGON MEN ARE SEEKING FRAGMENTS OF INDIAN POTTERY

A comparative study of the designs and markings on the Hopewell and Indian pottery of Michigan is being undertaken by Richard Freye and H. D. Groesbeck of Muskegon.

Fragments from all sections of both upper and lower peninsulas are needed. Any collector having a few fragments to spare that show distinct rim or surface markings may greatly aid this study by contributing them for comparison.

Reports of this study when completed will be mailed to each collector who contributes material for examination. Whenever possible give full information including township and county where found, whether a surface find or from mounds or village sites, etc., and whether its location would seem to indicate Hopewell or Indian culture.

Make sure that fragments are carefully wrapped and that package is marked FRAGILE. Address pottery and correspondence to H. D. Groesbeck, care Y. M. C. A., Muskegon, Michigan.

U. S. SPENDS RECORD SUM IN FOUR MONTHS

Government Cost Nears Three Billion Since July 1st

Government cost taxpayers approximately $3,000,000,000 during the first four months of this fiscal year to establish a new record for new deal spending.

Latest treasury statistics report $2,934,000,000 spent as of October 28, with two more business days of the fourth month to be heard from.

The nearest peacetime approach to that figure in a comparable fiscal year period was in 1935 although last year a big one, too. Here are the spending figures for comparable periods during the Roosevelt administration:

1933—$1,389,000,000.
1934—$2,141,000,000.
1935—$2,569,000,000.
1936—$2,292,000,000.
1937—$2,515,000,000.

A strong tide of business upturn and reemployment, most spectacularly evident in Michigan's automobile industry, somewhat offsets unfavorable aspects of the heavy spending program. But the gross treasury deficit now exceeds $1,126,000,000 and there is small reason to expect that the year-end figure on June 30, 1939, will fall much below the $4,000,000,000 deficit forecast by President Roosevelt.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schroeder are the parents of a baby daughter, born Wednesday.

It should be of interest to the taxpayers of the state to know that Governor Murphy, while mayor of Detroit from September 23, 1930, to May 1, 1933, increased the city's indebtedness $33,565,595. Take this and the record of spending he made while in the Philippine Islands shows that his spending spree of state money is nothing new. In other words, he does not seem to know the worth of a dollar or care as long as it comes out of the taxpayers' pocket.—Advertiser, Saranac, Mich.

Beachcombers Cling to Cities' Fringes and Beg

Living without working is accomplished with no greater ease in the tropics than it is at home. If anyone gets the idea that he can transplant himself to the tropics and thereby escape all the worries and responsibilities of civilized life he is permitting the South Sea Islands adventure writers to delude him.

Here in Puerto Rico human beings work just as hard as they do at home, says a bulletin of the government of Porto Rico. Almost everything is done very much as it is at home and when the American loses his job he has to scramble just as hard as the next one to get hold of another rope. Food is grown in Puerto Rico by persons experienced in the production of food and sale thereof.

The idea that a Northerner can go to the tropics and live forever by foraging in the jungles is pure and unadulterated bunk. Even the beachcombers cling to the fringes of the cities and go about keeping fed and gunned-up by begging handouts where and when they can.

They are nothing more nor less than tramps and in actual life the romantic aura surrounding their lives is exactly equal to that of the gentry congregating around the sizzling can of jungle stew under process of preparation in the railroad yards nearest your home.

Northerners have been known to go "native" in the tropics, but there is little fun in it. To go back into the hills or into the jungle to subsist in a thatched hut on the bananas to be grown in a poorly cleared acre of land may excite the imagination of the adventure-loving but home-staying country boy.

The jungle dweller will be warmer in winter than his counterpart, the lonely trapper or hermit of the north woods, but he exists on an animal plane nevertheless.

Canals Are Old

Canals are nearly as old as human history. The Assyrians, Egyptians and Chinese built them. Leonardo da Vinci invented the canal lock in the Fifteenth century.

New York City is excited over the arrival in that city of the only giant panda in America. But one more freak shouldn't make such a difference in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn S. See and niece, Miss Jeanne Zelley, have returned from a vacation motor trip of several weeks through the west. They visited Mr. See's father, Charles See, and brothers, Lou and Chester, in Oregon, also relatives in California and other points enroute. Glenn's stories of fishing for salmon and tuna are rather hard on the average fellow's blood pressure.

Mrs. O. A. Solomon was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening when her children gathered to help celebrate her birthday anniversary. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Solomon and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Solomon of Traverse City, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Soblesky of Petoskey, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Withers and Miss Doris Solomon. A large birthday cake was served with ice cream. The occasion was a very enjoyable one.

The Misses Ruth Ann Bedford and Helen Gallagher entertained a group of Charlevoix friends at their Petoskey residence Sunday evening at a "kid's party," at which the guests were dressed in costumes of children under the age of twelve years. Those attending were the Misses Laurel Phillips, Jean Graves, Mildred LaBlanc, Roberta Bedford, Frances Chvatil and Jean Stelter, and Dale McCann, Grover Geneit Jr., Junior Supernaw, Bernie Foster, Robert Withers, Edward Heise Jr. and Marshall O'Neill. The evening was spent at games, followed by refreshments.

FALL TROUT PLANTING IS NEARLY COMPLETED

Five Million Brook, Five Million Brown and Rainbows Released

Within about a week, the annual fall job of replenishing the lakes and streams of the state with millions of fish will be completed.

The fish division of the department of conservation whose task this is and which has been working at full clip for the last two months has planted about 80 per cent of the fish which will be put in this fall, with the exception of perch. The planting of perch is not usually undertaken until December.

The number of trout planted this year will probably total about the same as last year. Approximately 5,000,000 brook, 3,000,000 brown and 1,780,000 rainbows were stocked in the fall of 1937.

SPECIAL SEASON FOR ARCHERS IS NOW OPEN

Bow and Arrow Hunters Have 15 Days in Iosco, Newaygo Counties

Two hundred archer-sportsmen began to stalk through Iosco and Newaygo counties Tuesday, opening a special 15-day hunting season.

Last year 184 archers killed only three deer. This year, William Van Vorst of Lowell, who has the distinction of killing the first deer by bow and arrow in the first season last year, predicted the kill will total "at least a dozen."

Hunters, who will not be permitted to hunt with guns during the regular season, are using bows of not less than 50 pounds pull to increase chances of bringing down a buck and decrease the possibility of only wounding."

In 1927 the Curtis Publishing Company filed fourteen tax returns with federal state and local governments. It cost $850 to prepare them. In 1937 this company filed about 44,500 tax returns, the cost of preparing which was $21,000. In 1927 this company filed one tax return in Canada. In 1937 it filed one return there.—Saturday Evening Post.

ABOUT

Repaying A Loan

The first duty of any bank is to safeguard its deposits. Next, it should take care of the credit requirements of the community. Banks want to be of the greatest service to the greatest number of people.

That's why a loan should be paid when due because someone else may wish to employ the money. It's much like borrowing the family car. When used, it should be returned to the garage for other members of the household to enjoy if they need it.

Number 4

BECAUSE—These Bills give the State the right to LICENSE and INSPECT all religious and private homes caring for children and the aged.

BECAUSE—Relief work would be CENTRALIZED under STATE CONTROL and administered by a Board of five men who though appointed by the Governor would be RESPONSIBLE to NO ONE.

BECAUSE—These bills contemplate building a PERMANENT Welfare and Relief BUREAUCRACY.

BECAUSE—Under this Legislation the EXISTENCE of even legitimate private child-caring agencies would be JEOPARDIZED.

EDITORIAL

THE THREE BIG ISSUES

The big issues at stake in the November election so far as Michigan is concerned are three.

First—And probably the most important, is that the eyes of the nation are on Michigan and re-election of Governor Murphy will mean to them that Michigan people sanction his policies, which originate almost entirely with New Deal heads in Washington. Michigan led the nation to recovery under the last Republican administration and led it again into depression shortly after the sit-down strikes had been sanctioned by state and national authorities. It is the battle ground of New Deal policies. Approval would have a tremendous effect upon the rest of the nation.

Second — Re-election of Murphy means approval of his handling of illegal sit-down strikes and the entire labor situation, which of course includes his sympathetic attitude toward known communistic labor racketeers.

Third — Re-election of Murphy means approval of profligate extravagance and waste in state government such as this state has never witnessed before. It means approval of a policy of spending more than your income, taking up new activities of state government when there is no money in the treasury to pay for them, and plunging the state farther and farther into debt with no apparent or expressed concern over who is going to pay the bill.

After all it is you and I who foot this bill. Governor Murphy has always been a taxspender. We are the taxpayers. It is time to change the course of state government in Michigan. We join the throngs in shouting "Murphy for Ex-Governor" on November 8.—Gratiot County Herald.

OBSERVATIONS

With election only one week away, interest is centering largely in the contest for governor. With the names of the same rivals appearing on the November ballot this year, the result of the Fitzgerald-Murphy contest in 1936 offers the best basis for predicting the result next Tuesday.

Riding on the Roosevelt coattails, Governor Murphy defeated Governor Fitzgerald two years ago by approximately 49,000 votes. Murphy carried Wayne county by 119,000 which gave him his state victory.

Keen observers who keep their fingers on the political pulse recognize that Murphy is not as strong outstate as he was two years ago, and that he must improve his Wayne totals to offset Fitzgerald's outstate following, which bids fair to send him to the Detroit environs with a lead of 100,000. Two years ago Fitzgerald carried the state, outside Wayne, by 70,000.

Another significant fact is that two years ago Roosevelt carried Wayne county by 94,000 more votes than Murphy received. This is an "off year" with no hitchhiking on a ticket headed by the name of the president.

If some of the keenest political bigwigs in both parties gauge outstate sentiment correctly, Murphy will fall considerably below his outstate totals of two years ago. Farm votes have been lost through his attitude toward the sit-down strikes and other of the governor's policies. Without the "pull" of the Roosevelt name above his own on the November ballot, can Murphy increase his lead in Detroit sufficiently to offset the predicted Fitzgerald gains in the state at large? That will be the determining factor November 8, but from that point on you may write your own predictions.—Don F. Cochrane in his "Hartford Day Spring."

LIBERTY

"If disastrous war would sweep our commerce from the ocean another generation may renew it; if it exhaust our treasury further industry may replenish it; if it desolate and lay waste our fields, still under a new cultivation they will grow green again and ripen to future harvest. It were but a trifle even if the walls of yonder capitol were to crumble, if its lofty pillars should fall, and its gorgeous decorations be all covered by the dust of the valley. All these might be rebuilt. But who shall reconstruct the fabric of demolished government? Who shall rear again the well proportioned column of constitutional liberty? Who shall frame together the skillful architecture which unites natural sovereignty with state rights, individual security and public prosperity? No, if these columns fall they will be raised not again. Like the Coliseum and the Parthenon, they will be destined to a mournful, a melancholy immortality. Bitterer tears, however, will flow over them than were ever shed over the monuments of Rome or Grecian art, for they will be the remnants of a more glorious edifice than Greece or Rome ever saw, the Edifice of Constitutional Liberty."—Daniel Webster.

SMOKE SCREEN

We see by the papers that the so-called nonpartisan Michigan Unemployment Commission gave a ball in honor of Governor Frank Murphy at the Detroit Naval Armory.

The speakers were Frank Picard, Frank X. Martel, Homer Martin and Frank Murphy, all speaking in behalf of the Democratic ticket.

The political harangues got warmer and warmer for the cause, even to the point where black smoke rolled in. This was evidently a case where the fire preceded the smoke. It was discovered to be a smoking furnace, but it did afford an opportunity for some of the non-partisan employes to leave.

Tale Lights — The census bureau says the population of the United States is now 130,000,000 persons, 100,000,000 caring for themselves and 30,000,000 existing on the rest of us.—Hard-Hearted Hiram, Neb.

curb Halloween vandalism was a 100% success. Any Kiwanian who saw the happy expression on those little kids' faces as they marched behind the band in the parade to the theater Monday afternoon could feel fully repaid for every effort he put into the venture. And not only that, there wasn't a window soaped on Bridge street, the doorbells didn't ring, nor cloths lines get stolen. The little fellows masqueraded as ghosts, scurried around with jack-o-lanterns and the best of all—kept the pledges which admitted them to the Kiwanis party. Any discouragement resulting from the actions of the older group should be forgotten in view of the fact that the little kids, who are the most impressionable, kept their promises. The others will out-grow their prankishness the same as we oblers have done.

In 1936 we imported a governor. In 1937 we imported 20,876,569 pounds of fresh pork. Think this over. Vote Republican November 8th.

Bonnie Nickerson had a queer experience while hunting birds the other day. His dog flushed a partridge out of a willow thicket and just as Bonnie shot, wounding the bird, a large falcon hawk swooped down and lit near where the bird fell. Bonnie advanced to the spot and ont went the bird and the hawk, too. Bonnie this time shot the hawk. Never heard of a hawk being so bold as to expose himself to a hunter, particularly when there was shooting going on.

A loan of 61 cents a bushel on corn is qoite a shell-out for the federal huskers.

Well, the bird hunting season closed Monday night, and taken all-in-all, was the best in recent years. Partridge were more plentiful than they have been for some time. Barring winter sleet storms and unfavorable breeding conditions next spring, the 1939 fall season should provide hunting like the old days. Haven't talked to a hnnter who didn't see lots of birds, guaranteeing a big breeding stock for next year's crop. The rabbit situation is far different, however, and we're going to see strong agitation for a closed season. Cottontail and snowshoe rabbits are scarce anywhere one goes. Perhaps natnre will remedy this situation, but even so, a closed season for a year or two wouldn't do any harm.

Any way of earning an honest living is better than having no job at all.

Perhaps readers of this column have already made up their minds regarding how they intend to vote on the three constitutional amendments and referendum next Tuesday. In any ovent, an opinion ventured is nothing lost, right or wrong, and our advise to vote "No" on Nos. 1 and 2 and referendum proposal No. 4, is given after considerable thought and study. Proposal No. 1, if passed, would provide a 4-year term of office for county clerk, prosecuting attorney, sheriff, treasurer and register of deeds. There is no justifiable reason why voters should perpetuate these offices for any one or group of individuals for any longer than the present two-year term. Vote "No." Proposal No. 2 would provide non-partisan nomination and appointment of Supreme Court Justices for an 8-year term: This is just a scheme to take away from voters the right of selecting such officials by ballot and if approved would no doubt be extended to include circuit judges and other officials. Keep the privilege that is now yours.—Vote "No." Proposal No. 3 would guarantee that gasoline and motor vehicle license plate taxes paid by motorists be used for highways, roads and streets. There is no argument that such money should be spent just for highways and that alone. Vote "Yes" on this amendment. Proposal No. 4 is a referendum creating and designating the powers of a state department of public assistance which would absorb the many agencies now handling the administration of relief in Michigan. The proposal has its good and bad points, but the bad ones are predominant. It would be a good thing to centralize relief administration as a means of saving money—but not at the expense of relinquishing local control within our own county by sanctioning an all-powerful state commission whose actions would be beyond the reach of the vofer. Backers of the referendum argue that home rule would be maintained by the fact that a county commission of three, two appointed by the board of supervisors and one by the state commission, would maintain local voice in welfare matters. The referendum ballot you vote on Tuesday does not outline such a plan in so many words, nor does it guarantee that such a plan would be carried out in case the referendum is approved. There is too much left for a person's imagination and it is not safe to give approval to such a proposition. There should be changes in the present welfare set-up, but the present plan does not fill the bill. Our advise is to vote "No."

HOW TO VOTE

To vote a straight party ticket make a cross in the circle under the name of your party. Nothing further need be done. To vote for a candidate not on your party ticket, make a cross in the square before his name.

If two or more candidates are to be elected to the same office, and you desire to vote for candidates not on your party ticket, make a cross in the square before the names of the candidates for whom you desire to vote on the other ticket, and strike out an equal number of names on your party ticket, for that office.

If you do not desire to vote any party ticket, do not make a cross in the circle at the head of any ticket, but make a cross in the square before the name of each candidate for whom you desire to vote.

If you wish to vote for a candidate not on any ticket, write or place the name of such candidate on your ticket opposite the name of the office.

FAVORABLE WEATHER at harvest time has made it possible for Michigan apple growers to offer a crop of unusually fine quality as they prepare to celebrate Thirteenth Apple Week which begins Oct. 31 this year. They will [illegible] a market parade of McIntosh, Jonathan, Greenings and Northern [illegible] varieties far which Michigan is famous. LEADERS BACKING ROAD AMENDMENT

NATIONAL AND STATE SUPPORT BEING GIVEN

Cite Northern Michigan's Tourist Business Depends on Good Roads Guaranteed by Amendment

National and state leaders this week joined in urging Michigan voters to adopt Constitutional Amendment 3 — the Good Roads Amendment—on the November 8 election ballot.

At the Amendment 3 Boosters Luncheon in the world's automobile capital, the importance of the proposal to Michigan people was voiced by Karl Detzer, the noted author; Gar Wood, the sportsman; Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner; Clarence C. Carlton, vice-president of the Automotive Safety Foundation; Richard Harfst, general manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan; and Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

Meanwhile the Michigan Medical Society, with a membership of approximately 5,000 practising physicians, joined the list of many organizations endorsing the amendment. "Our doctors, who are so dependant on good roads to reach their patients, are anxious that nothing be done to cripple our great highway and street system," a resolution of the executive committee of the society's council said.

Carlton stressed the importance of the amendment to the wage earner, declared it was the only way to guarantee the use of motorists' taxes for roads and streets, and pointed out that good roads are a "necessary requirement of a good school system, particularly consolidated schools."

Van Wagoner said Michigan parents "shudder to think what would have happened to our schools had they not had a constitutional guarantee of the primary school funds," adding that "it is time for the motorist to shudder over his fate."

Detzer said the towns of the north country "will starve" without the tourist business routed over good roads. MacDonald expressed the hope that Michigan "whose economic well being is so closely tied to really adequate roads will give Amendment 3 a sweeping victory."

CHICAGO STOCK SHOW TO OPEN NEXT MONTH

Heading the schedule of events on Chicago's fall calendar is the International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show, which will be held there this year November 26 to December 3.

Stockmen and farmers from many states and Canada have already sent entries for live stock and crops they will exhibit this year in the competitions of this largest of the continent's live stock shows. Cash prizes will total over $100,000 in contests featuring 30 different breeds of horses, cattle, sheep, and swine.

RURAL ELECTRIC LINE TURNED ON OCTOBER 18

Top O' Michigan Cooperative Begins Service in District

George A. Long, official representative of the REA administration of Washington, threw a switch last Tuesday afternoon at the Top O' Michigan Rural Electric Company's substation on Boyne River, energizing for the first time the lines of the million dollar REA project bringing electric power to rural residents in nine counties in the northwestern part of the lower peninsula.

The project, still unfinished, will serve Charlevoix, Emmet, Antrim, Otsego, Crawford, Kalkaska and parts of Cheboygan, Montmorency and Grand Traverse counties.

At present grants of $702,000 have been made for the project but plans call for expenditure of an additional $300,000 to complete the work. The company was incorporated just a year ago although organization work had been in progress for nearly two years previous to October 1937. The line crews are now busy extending the transmission system to rural areas to be served by the company.

Officials included in the ceremonies at the company's substation were: C. G. Jensen, Petoskey, president of the Top O' Michigan REA project; Thomas Colter, project superintendent; Olaf Anderson, Washington field engineer of the Michigan project; Leon Miller, project attorney; B. C. Mellencamp, county agent and all the directors of the company. — Boyne Citizen.

REPORT MORE TELEPHONES INSTALLED

Point to Increase As Gauge to Upturn in Business

Better business as reflected by installation of telephones is reported by Verne H. Hutford, public utilities commission chief engineer.

Quarterly reports (July, August, September) show that there were 7,544 more telephones in operation October 1 than on July 1. The Michigan Bell Company, largest in the state with 763,533, gained 6,063. A total of 145 other companies with 98,553 units, gained 1,481.

Although Bell installations were 3,257 less for the first nine months of this year compared with the corresponding period of 1937, there was an increase of 4,336 during September.

Pontiac, with 11,691 stations, showed the biggest decrease outside Detroit with 934 for the nine months but an increase of 173 for September. All major cities served by Bell reported more phones for last month, but about half showed figures less for the nine months.

FARMERS ARE TAXED 34% OF THEIR CASH INCOME

National Consumers Tax Commission Releases State Statistics

The tax burden of the average Michigan farmer has reached a point at which it equals 37 per cent of his farm's cash income, according to results of a survey by the National Consumers Tax Commission.

The average income of each of Michigan's 196,517 farmers is $24.21 weekly, from which his burden of taxes — direct and hidden — drains $9.08, the report states.

Results of the survey were made public by Mrs. W. R. Alvord, Highland Park, Michigan's representative on the commission's national committee.

"In only 4 states of the 48 do farmers pay out a higher percentage of their farm income in taxes," Mrs. Alvord said. "Taxes in the United States as a whole have increased until they now equal 23.6 per cent of the entire national income. The greater percentage of these are hidden taxes, concealed in the purchase price of practically every commodity. They penalize the farmer as well as the urban consumer, and rob both of a full return on each dollar spent."

Units of the National Consumers Tax Commission, whose headquarters are in Chicago, are springing up in community after community throughout the country, Mrs. Alvord said. The commission is pledged to combat all taxes which penalize the consumer, she explained. An organization of aroused housewives, its purpose is "to aid the average homemaker and consumer in protecting his standard of living which is now seriously menaced by this continuous drain on his resources," she concluded.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Poliomyelitis Mortality Compared With Other Fatalities

Numerically, infantile paralysis is not a large problem in comparison with other infectious diseases. For the last three years for which data is available it has accounted for only about 800 deaths a year compared with 2,500 from scarlet fever; 5,000 from diphtheria; 4,300 from typhoid fever; 4,500 - 4,700 from whooping cough; 11,000 in syphilis; about 75,000 from tuberculosis and 28,000 to 36,000 from automobile accidents.

As to the number of cases, there are in round numbers about 10 paralytic cases per year per 100,000 population, although in many of these the localized weakness is transient.

From the spotty fashion in which cases appear it is believed that carriers are the most important means of spread. In spite of the general dread, parents should realize that the numerical chance of affliction is small. Reasonable precautions against needless human contacts during epidemic seasons are wise. For the present the prospect of a discovery of a vaccine that will be highly preventative and at the same time relatively harmless is small and chemical prophylaxis by means of local applications should be considered still in the trial stage.

Following infantile paralysis early and competent treatment is advisable in order to prevent deformities and to assist in regaining the muscle power. At the early stage an effected arm or leg should be mobilized for a certain period of time. Sensitiveness in the patient should be relieved as soon as possible in order to start muscle training. Hot wet packs and hot baths given two or three times a day help at this time. At the same time rest is essential and the patient should be moved as little as possible. No muscle activity should be allowed until the stage of sensitiveness is over and then proper muscle training can be started. Check-up should be made on gain or loss of muscle power at frequent intervals which should be carried on for years.

New License Plates to Stimulate Business

New 1939 license plates were placed on sale this year on October 27, 1938, by Leon D. Case, secretary of state, for the express purpose of stimulating the sale of new and used cars.

The new 1939 plates of black lettering on buff, may be purchased for either new or used motor vehicles. The only restriction is that on cars already licensed, the owner must surrender the old plates before purchasing new ones. Case point out, that the collection of the 1938 plates, when new ones are purchased is required by law, as the statute allows only one registration for each motor vehicle; also, the old plates might get into the hands of someone who would cause serious trouble for the original owner, as these 1938 plates are good on the highways until March 1st, 1939.

The 1938 plates may also be purchased for half price for cars that are going to be traded in or are not going to be operated after March 1st, 1939.

The Golden Text (John 3:31) is: "He that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Gen. 2:6): "But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 523): "The creations of matter arise from a mist or false claim, or from mystification, and not from the firmament, or understanding, which God erects between the true and false."

Valuable Blanket

Caro — James R. Blackmore was both thrilled and surprised—and who wouldn't be—when he shook $100 in gold coin out of a tattered old blanket recently. Blackmore was appraising an estate when he jerked the ragged covering from a bureau and the coins jingled to the floor.

For Cinderella's Coach

Vicksburg—Here's a pumpkin that might qualify, in size at least, for Cinderella's fairy coach. Harry Oswalt, local farmer, has produced a prize pumpkin weighing 73 pounds. He also grew a 69-pounder.

Two Birds With One Shot

Iron River—Killing two birds with one stone, or rather with one shot, is not impossible, as the Rev. Stafford Anderson demonstrated during partridge season here. While hunting on a woods road, he sighted a "pat" and fired. He bagged his prey, and also its mate, both with the same charge.

Jack and the Beanstalk

Cass City—Although perhaps not large enough to support the giant of the fairy tale, the beanstalk grown on the T. J. Heron farm and displayed here recently was no dwarf. This stalk measured five feet and eight inches in length, and carried 202 pods, most of them well filled.

Dog Barks, Man is Killed

North Branch — A dog's barking was a fateful occurance for James Haslick, 55. When the barking dog rushed at him, Haslick jumped aside. He was walking in the road at the time, and as he jumped, he was struck by a car and fatally injured.

Freaks in Flowers, Too

Climax — Two-headed calves are freaks in the animal world and so are two-faced dahlias freaks in the realm of flowers. Such a specimen was found by Mrs. Otis Selbee in her dahlia garden here. It was yellow in color, and had two complete faces on the one bloom.

Spring Gifts in Fall

Sparta—Two gifts, appropriate to spring, were brought to the Sentinel-Leader office here this fall. One was a spray of red raspberries and the other a flowering snowball, both picked from bushes in local gardens.

A total of 1,500 human lives and the destruction of more than 1,300,000 acres of standing timber were the toll of the United States' most disastrous forest fire, known as the Peshtigo fire, which occurred in Wisconsin in October, 1871.

gauntlet of petitions, it is reasonable to assume that this democratic system of initiative and referendum makes for popular government. Yet the fact that there are FOUR questions confronting each voter at the polls is somewhat of a handicap. Like the long ballot, the larger number of issues tends to confuse the average citizen, and therein lies a danger of general indifference and apathy.

The initiative amendments propose four-year terms for county officers, appointment of supreme courts justices by the governor upon recommendation of a non-partisan commission, and prohibit diversion of gasoline and vehicle license tax revenue. The referendum is on the state welfare reorganization act adopted by the 1937 legislature.

As the uninformed citizen tends to vote "no", thus playing safe" on issues about which he knows nothing, it is unlikely that all amendments will be approved next Tuesday. At this moment it seems probable that two will pass, two will fail.

216 Millions

From the office of the budget director comes a 20-page booklet, "Finances of the State Government," that contains interesting statistics about how our money has been spent.

Figures are notoriously dull, yet the spending of $216,063,490 by the state government during the past fiscal year ending last June 30, 1938, is news. This sum represents an increase of nearly $14,000,000 of which over $4,250,000 was an increase in taxes and approximately $4,330,000 in the state inheritance tax. The delinquent property tax also brought $1,000,000 more revenue.

The second source of increased revenue was due to a rise in income from liquor sale profits, licenses, etc., from about $11,500,000 to $22,750,000, much of which came about from a reduction of liquor stocks on hand.

Local Governments

In the maze of figures is one apparent trend: local governments are getting more and more aid from the state treasury.

A total of $96,279,000 was collected by the state and turned over to local governments—42 millions for schools, 25 millions for highways, 21 millions for social welfare (including workmen's compensation payments), nearly 2 millions for health and hospital services, nearly $100,000 for conservation and agricultural work, and nearly $5,000,000 general aid.

Where did the 212 millions come from?

Here is the budget director's accounting:

Sales tax—52 millions.
Gasoline tax—28 millions.
Auto weight tax—18 millions.
Specific taxes (inheritance, insurance, etc.)—21 millions.
Corporation tax—5 millions.
Delinquent property—4 millions.
Other taxes—2 millions.
Liquor control sales not apportioned to purchases—22 millions.
Liquor sale receipts apportioned to liquor purchases—25 millions.
State licenses, fees—11 millions.
Federal aid—17 millions.
Interest, penalties—2 millions.
Enterprises other than liquor control—5 millions.
Non-revenue receipts—2 millions.

All of which means that state government is BIG BUSINESS. The above figures prove the point!

Can Taxes Be Lowered?

How to satisfy the public's appetite for more and more governmental services and benefits and at the same time avoid increased taxes will be one of the legislature's problems in 1939.

Indirect, or "hidden" taxes, are paid by every citizen in Michigan often in the form of increased cost of living. If the public insists upon state benefits, it must be ready to pay the bill.

* USE, DON'T SPEND MONEY *
* By Hester Renwick Fraser *
* * * * * * * * * * * *

Consumers' Bureau, Michigan State Department of Agriculture,

Using money, instead of spending it, will make your dollar go farther.

The secret of using money, as compared to spending it, lies in your confidence in the article at the time it is purchased.

The consumer has a right to know what he is using his money for.

Oranges and grapefruits are advertised for sale according to size: large, medium, or small. That the consumers may know just what they are entitled to, I am going to define these terms as applied to oranges and grapefruit.

The sizes of oranges are determined by the number of oranges packed in a box. The number per box is plainly stamped on the box. Look for the number on a box.

Large oranges: 80, 100, 126, 150 to a box. There are four sizes designated as large oranges.

Medium oranges: 176, 200, 220 to a box. There are three sizes designated as medium oranges.

Small oranges: 252, 288, 344, 392 to a box. There are four sizes designated as small oranges.

Small oranges are apt to be most practical for orange juice. The larger sizes, or the first two sizes in the medium orange are useful when served in halves. Never buy old oranges mixed with new oranges. Old oranges should always be sold at a concession in price.

Grapefruit are packed and sold as oranges are:

Large grapefruit: 36, 46, 54 to a box. There are 3 sizes designated as large grapefruit.

Medium grapefruit: 64, 70, 80 to a box. There are 3 sizes designated as medium grapefruit.

Small grapefruit: 96, 100, 126, 150 to a box. There are 4 sizes designated as small grapefruit.

Use, rather than spend your money, by knowing what you are paying for and make your dollar go farther.

Rough Tug O' War

Dearborn—Although it looked like a tug o' war, what George W. Eveland was really trying to do was open a sticking back porch door. George lost, though, when the door handle came off and he fell backward over a railing 14 feet to the ground. Three ribs were broken.

Agriculture thrives only when farm products can be rushed to markets over good roads. Business prospers as these basic industries prosper.

On election day you will vote on Amendment No. 3, the Good Roads Amendment. Here's what a "yes" vote means to you: As a wage earner "yes" means more jobs; as a farmer "yes" means good farm-to-market roads; as a business man "yes" means more business, and as a taxpayer "yes" means a break on your property taxes. Charlevoix Needs a New CITY HALL and FIRE STATION!

After careful consideration, your City Council has voted to place before tax payers a proposal to bond for $36,000 to finance this needed improvement. A Federal grant of $29,000 is available for such a project if approved.

Charlevoix has never had centralized city offices. Various city officials are scattered about in rented office space. Such a policy is expensive and hinders the efficient performance of the officers' duties.

As a resort city, Charlevoix should maintain city offices in keeping with their surroundings.

The city has owned a site for the building for many years and now has an opportunity to obtain government assistance to erect a fine community building.

In addition to construction of a building designed to house all city offices, a fire station and quarters for the attendant, a much needed community room, etc., the cost estimates include complete equipment.

Such a building project is almost entirely one of labor, providing winter employment for many local workmen at top wages as required by PWA regulations. Local labor must be used by the successful contractor on these PWA projects. The only requirement for the men seeking employment to meet is that they register with the Michigan Unemployment Service at the City Superintendent's office in this city. They will be drawn from these rolls. They need not be on relief to obtain this work.

Bot that he is qualified, able, sincere and loyal no one can deny and the folk who know him best accord him many fine qualities.

REPORT MICHIGAN HAS MILLION DEER

ESTIMATES FOLLOW ANNUAL DEER CENSUS DRIVES

Upper Peninsula Has 300,000, Lower Peninsula 900,000 — Of This Number 150,000 Are Bucks

Although the 1938 deer season does not open until November 15, one of the most frequent inquiries being received by the department of conservation these days is: What are the prospects?

That, like the stock summer inquiry—Where can I catch some fish—is a question which conservation officers are cautious about answering, for the reason there is no means of guaranteeing any hunter a kill.

Nevertheless, information which the game division of the department of conservation has on hand bears directly on the question of how good are the chances for getting a buck this year.

Estimates made on the basis of deer census drives and reports from officers and from other sources indicate that Michigan now has more than a million deer including about 600,000 does, 450,000 fawns and 150,000 bucks. Estimates indicate slightly less than 300,000 deer in the upper peninsula and about 900,000 in the lower peninsula.

Although the record of kill is not believed exact in all cases, due partly to the fact that it was not until last year that hunters were required by law to report their kill, estimates of the number of bucks shot during the last three years are: 1935—30,000; 1936 — 31,000; 1937 — 40,000. The number of deer hunters licensed in 1937 was 157,349.

The number of deer in Michigan at the present time probably exceeds that of any other time in the history of the area, consequently hunting should be good in fact it may be better than it will be in the future since the feeding conditions which have played such an important part in building up a tremendous deer herd are becoming less instead of more suitable. Hunters' luck, however, influenced as it is by weather conditions is difficult to predict. Good tracking snow, rainy weather with quiet trailing or snappy crackling foot may spell the difference between success and failure for many hunters this year as it has many years in the past.

When you see how spoiled and swell-headed a little money can make some people, you begin to understand why Providence keeps most of us poor.

OLDSMOBILE INTRODUCE THREE MODELS

Two Sixes and Eight Comprise 1939 Series Now on Display

Three smart new Oldsmobiles for 1939—two Sixes and an Eight—all offering a fresh new note in modern streamline styling and much that is new in mechanical design, make their public debut today.

Among the high points of interest in the cars with which Oldsmobile starts its 42nd model year are:

1. Addition to the line of a brand new six cylinder car which brings Oldsmobile quality to the low price field.

2. Introduction on all models of the "Rhythmic Ride," a new perfection of roadability and riding comfort resulting from quadri-coil springing in combination with foor separate stabilizing factors built into the chassis.

3. Attainment of perfect steering geometry through a new hook-up employing a relay link with twin tie-rods of eqoal length, termed "dual center-control steering."

4. Introduction of Hundi-Shift as standard equipment—a replacement of the conventional gear shift lever by a short, horizontal manual shift arm on the steering column.

5. Continoation as an optional extra on all models of Oldsmobile's automatic safety transmission which provides important added advantages in performance, operating economy and ease of control.

The low priced six, known as the Series Sixty, is powered with a newly developed "Econo-Master" engine of 90 brake horsepower designed to provide top flight performance at minimum operating cost. A larger six developing 95 horsepower and with a wheelbase of 120 inches, is designated the Series Seventy, while the 110 horsepower straight eight on the same wheelbase has been named the Series Eighty.

Models now on display at the Auto Electric Service, local dealers.

DON'TS FOR HUNTERS WILL SAVE ACCIDENTS

Conservation Department Outlines Common Precautions

As part of department of conservation ecorts to reduce the number of hunting accidents, attention is called again to a few fundamental rules in the use of a gun in the woods.

Posters have been distributed thruout the state showing right and wrong ways to handle a gun. These are:

When removing a gun from an automobile pull it out butt first, not muzzle first;

When walking in the woods, do not carry your gun so that the muzzle is pointing at any other hunter;

When sitting down tu rest, do not leave guns on ground where your dogs may accidentally discharge one—place guns out of reach on stump;

GAYLORD WINNER OF SATURDAY TILT

DEFEATED RAYDERS 13 TO 6 IN FINAL CONTEST

Three Touchdowns Scored in Thrilling Fourth Quarter as Charlevoix Played Best of Season

Gaylord high schaol defeated Charlevoix's Red Rayders by a 13 to 6 count in the final game of the season here Saturday afternoon.

The contest was marked by the Rayder's best play of the current season, which also turned out to be the most disastraus in recent yenrs. The Rayders, plagued by injuries to seasoned players from the start and with an inexperienced line-up for the most part, won one out of six games.

Saturday's tilt was a thriller in the finnl moments, with three touchdowns in about five minutes of play. After being pushed all over the field, but manuging to stave off a score, Charlevoix surprised with a touchdown in the first minute of the fourth quarter.

The way for the touchdown was laid in the third period when Withers tossed a 30-yard pass to Carey on Gaylord's 10. The next pass over the goal line to Carey was interferred with and the penalty gave Charlevoix the ball on the Gaylord 3-yard strip. The quarter here ended and starting the fourth Withers scored on the third line play. Nowland's kick for extra point was wide.

The lead was quickly wiped out, however, for Gaylord was over Charlevoix's gonl in short order. On the first play after receiving Charlevoix's kick-off, Lovelace started around left end from his own 30-yard line, then reversed the field nnd romped 80 yards for the touchdown. Fesler hit the line for extra point and Gaylord led 7 to 6.

DEER SEASON TO OPEN ON TUESDAY

EXPECT ARMY OF 160,000 WILL TAKE TO WOODS

With Estimated Deer Population of 1,200,000, New Territory Open, Hunting Will Be Good

Michigan's rifle brigade will take up the pursuit of buck deer and bear in the lower and upper peninsulas next Tuesday, November 15.

Conservation department officials conservatively estimate the army of big game hunters will total 160,000. With the deer herds estimated at 1,200,000 nnimals it would not be surprising if the hunters register the largest kill of bucks in the last twenty years. Last year this ran around 45,000.

The hunting regulations remain the same with one buck limit and camp deer for parties of four or more. The same counties will be open as last year but some additional hunting territory has been added. About four-fifths of Beaver Island is open to deer hunting this year. It includes all land except St. James township.

TWO OF FOUR SPECIAL PROPOSALS CARRY

All Republican County Officers Returned to Office; Bradley Winner Over John Luecke for Congress; Bishop and Tibbits Beat Democratic Opponents

Michigan set the pace Tuesday for a return of the Republican party to a place of prominence and power in national politics.

Climaxing one of the most hectic off-year general election campaigns this country has experienced in many years, Michigan hit the New Deal the hardest as the Republican party chalked up a net gain of 8 seats in the Senate, 11 governorships and 70 seats in the House of Representatives. Republicans were leading or had won in Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Kansas, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Ohio, Minnesota and Michigan.

Fitzgerald Carries Ticket to Victory

Frank D. Fitzgerald led the Michigan return to Repnblican ranks with a sweeping victory over Democratic candidates far re-election to the State senate and house of representatives are victors by comfortable margins. Entire County Ticket Elected Charlevoix county preserved an unbroken precedent by remaining in the Republican fold. A decided gain in Republican votes over 1936 was registered, evidenced by the fact Democrats polled 2,669 in 1936, as compared to 1,875 for the top this year. Many precincts giving Democratic majorities two years ago returned to the Republican ranks.

FRANK D. FITZGERALD

Governor Frank Murphy, whose campaign for re-election had every support President Roosevelt and his administration could give, and whose selection or rejection by the voters was looked upon as an indication of public opinion regarding the New Deal.

With 3089 out of 3553 precincts reported, Fitzgerald was leading 708,750 to Murphy's 635,068 and Murphy had conceded defeat. Fitzgerald carried the entire Repuhlican state ticket to victory with him hy commanding majorities.

SHOT AT RANDOM

By Ken Usher

Read with deep disgust recently about the Georgia pre-primary election campaign where the candidates for congress showered relief clients with gifts of food all marked with the election propaganda of the candidate as a means of getting votes. Never thought such methods would be used in our neck of the woods but have come to find out that the guy who said "All's fair in war and politics" sure knew his business and it don't make any difference whether it's Michigan or Georgia when it comes to using such methods. Too had the Republican candidates haven't got a pile of groceries that us taxpayers paid for somewhere to hand out as a vote-getter. The public sure is a "sucker" in the hands of a smart politician.

We had our first snow hurry Tuesday and guess we hadn't ought to complain, for it was the first cold day after several weeks of the most delightful Indian summer weather northern Michigan has ever experienced. It was some change, though, from 70 in the shade to 35 and the B. V. D. crowd were shivering in sueh a manner that we'll bet they're into their "heavies" by this time. Seems awful funny to look around town and see flowers blooming on the 8th of November. Mrs. Emma Sutton, out Norwood way, said she was still picking green beans as late as Monday and was kinda upset beeause the darn things wouldn't ripen so she could get some seed. The beans will freeze now and she still won't have any seed. Also saw a lilac bush the other day on which the buds were popping out and pushing the leaves right off the stems. Sure was easy on the coal pile—all that fine weather—and believe it or not—didn't hear a single person complain.

And speaking about the weather, it sure is a corker what that change in temperature did to some of the fellas' necks around town. What with the deer season only 6 days away and

Need for Another Armistice

LANSING LETTER

By GENE ALLEMAN

Field Manager, Michigan Press Association

While victors were still celebrating the outcome of Tuesday's ballot tussle, the capitol city this week was reminded of the fact that less than 60 days remain until the state legislature convenes here.

Numerous are the serious problems.

Because Michigan's economic life is due to a combination of industrial, agricultural and recreational incomes, the legislature will he called upon to consider a wide variety of measures.

Social legislation will probably include a labor relations mediation act and a minimum wage-maximum hour act. The first will be a haby Wagner act with an emphasis on mediation of labor disturbances, while the second will apply to intra-state commerce, what the Fair Standards Labor act, otherwise known as the Wage-Hour Act, does to interstate commerce.

These two measures alone will mean days of serious deliberation in committees. Consequences will be far-reaching.

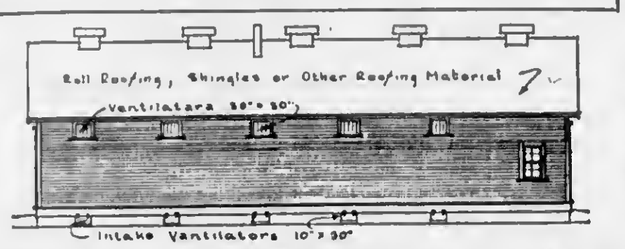
EXPERT TELLS HOW TO STORE ONIONS PROPERLY



Whether in June or January, the demand for onions knows no let-up. Many dishes, both humble and aristocratic, owe their tastefulness to this basic "flavor" food.

The grower who would meet this year 'round demand, however, harvests his onions only once a year and must somehow protect them successfully against changing temperatures if he is to get better prices when onions become less plentiful. Storage facilities become increasingly important as farmers recognize that it'a good business to hold the finest atock for late winter deliveries.

Onions must be well ripened when stored. Plenty of ventilation, coupled with a temperature of from 80 to 90 degrees, should be maintained in the storage house during curing time. The onions should be stored in crates in such a manner as to permit the free circulation of air around them.

The necessary movement of outside air through an onion storage house requires properly spaced ventilators both at the floor and ceiling levels so thst when the vent doors are open a current of air can continuously rise up and out.

Experts have a homely method of determining when onions are sufficientiy cured in storage. At this atage, they say, onions will "rattle like blocks of wood" when pourcd from one crate to another.

After the onions have been cured the temperature of the house should be reduced to about 36 to 40 degrees and held there.

To be able to cure and then hold proper temperatures, an onion storage should be constructed along lines suggested by the United States Department of Agriculture. Agricultural engineers state that in addition to adequate ventilation, insulation built into walls and ceiling is necessary to offset climatic temperature changes.

Insulating board is recommended as being the most practical and economical. However, one should take the precaution to select an insulation board that is weather-proofed, moisture resistant and protected from attack by dry rot and termites.

Experts estimate that for a stored crop of 1,500 bushels a house 16 by 36 feet in size will be needed. For a 10,000 bushel storage the house should be 32 by 72 feet.

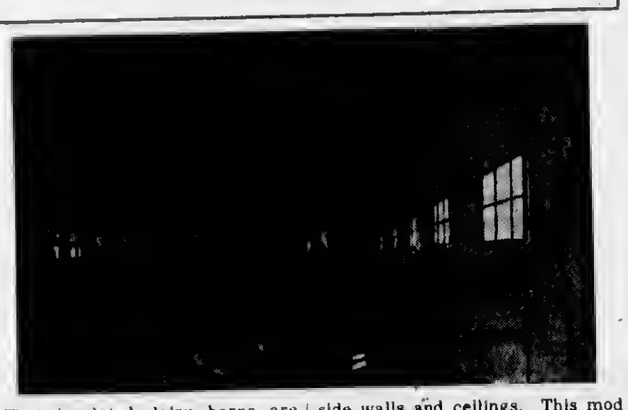
U. S. EXPERT URGES WARM DAIRY BARNS



That insulated dairy barns are essential for sustained milk production is indicated by findings of M. A. R. Kelley of tha United States Department of Agriculture, reported in tha technical bulletin, Relation of Stabla Environment to Milk Production, No. 591. Mr. Kelley says: "The decline in milk yleld was faster in the stables where inside temperatures fluctuatad with weather than in those whera temperatures were held nearly constant."

There are now over 40 million farm buildings, exclusive of farm homes, in the United States. Wlde structurally sound, every farmer realizes that most of these buildings are woefully deficient in regard to temperature control and regulation. The dairy barn illustrated was just such a heat-leaking and drafty structure until cane fibre insulation board was applied to tha side walls and ceilings. This modern structural insulation is highly efficient in heat-stop value. In tha winter it conserves the body heat of the cows and thus olfsets tha sharp fluctuations of weathar so common in the dairy sections of the United States.

These wida boords, with joints which meet on the framing members, also eliminata cracks and thus reduce drafts . . . an important factor according to Mr. Kelley, who says: "There was a direct ralationship between excessiva drafts and pneumonia. Risk of sickness appears to increase with the degree of exposure to drafts."

With modern insulating materials it is both simpla and economical for the farmer to "tighten-up" and insulata his dairy barn, and taka advantage of the savings which Mr. Kellay points the way to.

Home Extension Groups to Have Second Lesson on November 17th

Proof that Michigan homemakers enrolled in home economics extension groups find much to improve in storage facilities in their homes is seen in the fact that about three thousand pieces of equipment were either made at home or purchased last year by group members. Among others these included new shelves, shoe racks, hat racks, special hooks and rods to hang clothing on, book shelves, and many other things that help to make the best use of storage space.

The group members in Charlevoix county are going to discuss this subject at their second training meeting. Two leaders from each group will meet with Miss Helen Noyes, home management specialist from the Michigan State College, on Thursday, November 17, in the basement of the Boyne City Library at ten o'clock a. m. promptly.

Reports coming into the office indicate that in all cases great interest is being manifested in this project. In fact, present indications point to the largest number of groups ever to carry on extension work in this county. The first lesson has now been given and the leaders are unanimous in the statement that a greatly increased interest is evident.

4-H Club Leaders Hold Important Conference

The first 4-H club training meeting in the new winter program was held in the East Jordan high school last Wednesday night with a wonderful attendance of over 100 club leaders and members from all communities in the county.

Shortly after six o'clock a fine pot luck dinner was served by the girls in the East Jordan clothing club under the supervision of Mrs. Larsen and Mrs. Benson, 4-H club leaders. The girls contributed scalloped potatoes while the domestic science department prepared the meat loaf and cocoa. This, added to the sandwiches, salads, and desserts furnished by the various groups who attended, made a most enjoyable banquet.

After songs were enjoyed and a splendid talk on conservation was given by Mr. Welsh of the state department, two groups were formed. The girls and leaders interested in clothing met with Miss Boyle while the club members interested in handicraft activity met with A. G. Kettunen and O. F. Walker, district club leader. These 4-H club leaders discussed the requirements of the program and made many suggestions and recommendations, all of which will make the new winter club program most sucessful.

Later on this winter a second training meeting will be held at some point yet to be decided, probably on the west side of the county. These meetings do much to cement friendships and develop additional interest in this most important activity.

Addressed to Hunters

Statistics for the last quarter-century indicate that approximately 3,000 persons die each year in the United States as the result of accidentnl injuries by firearms. About half of these fatalities occur during the hunting season, from early October through January. Boys between the ages of 15 and 19, according to the records of n large insurance company, are the most frequent victims of shooting accidents.

Registrars of vital statistics are inclined to list, in the order of their importance, the following causes for hunting-field accidents; crawling thru fence carrying loaded gun; handling loaded gun by the muzzle; hit by stray bullet and falling on or dropping loaded gun.

Denth rates from gunshot wounds range as high as 7.6 per 100,000 for Nevada and nearly as high for several southern and western states where "gun-toting" is practised in and out of hunting season nnd where gentlemen ndhering to the old code of the frontier are prone to employ firearms to support an argument or resent an affront. The death rate ranges between .5 and .8 per 100,000 for three New England states—Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island — and two middle Atlantic states, New York and New Jersey. Here differences of opinion are more likely to be settled by the law courts and hunting is comparatively poor. Michigan is fairly well down in the list with a death rate of 1.8 per 100,000.

While the medical man is chiefly interested in the preservation of life, there is little he may do to reduce the annual death toll from firearms, other than to urge that adequate first aid be given to the victim and that his wounds receive expert attention as soon as possible. Restrictions on the sale of guns to, and the use by adolescents would undoubtedly save a number of lives each year —but this form of accident prevention must be left to legislative bodies and parental prohibitions.

The modern hunting rifle and type of bullet generally used has greatly reduced the risk of infection. Wounds are likely to be cleanly incised rather than contused. But if there is less danger of secondary hemorrhage there is greater danger from primary.

Every hunter is well advised to carry on his person at all times a first aid dressing package. This should contain a quantity of powder made up of four parts of boric acid to one part of salicylic acid; about an ounce of absorbent cotton; a piece of sterile gauze at least 40 inches square and a card containing a number of safety pins of various sizes.

The powder is lodged in the center of the cotton compress and is applied directly to the wound.

Bleeding should be controlled by elevating the wounded part, by extreme or excessive bending (as of the limb), by compressing with the fingers, by cotton plugs treated with antiseptics and by constrictive appliances. The last, like any form of tourniquet, must be placed between the wound and the heart and should never be allowed to remain longer than four to six hours lest stoppage of the circulation induce gangrene.
